ESTABLISHED 1907
R. W. WHILLANS - Editor and Manager

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, NOV. 9, 1916.

THE OBSERVER, Vegreville, hastens to "reassure" the Standard that J. S. McCallum, M. L. A., Mundare, is definitely in the field for re-nomination as candidate for the Liberal party in the next election. The Observer had nothing else to say in the way of its statement to put effect. The Standard made the same announcement at the same time as it's worthy contemporary of the C. N. R. But, by the way, why the "reassurance"? When did the Observer give out its assurance in the first instance, or is this just an instance of "going off at half cock" in an abortive attempt to "get one" on a contemporary? However, the Standard's point is gained and it's two to one that Observer Horton will see it.

o o o o o

THE STANDARD is glad that the Observer joins with it in deprecating any allegation of hostility which is said to exist in the southern part of the riding against the north, in other words, G. T. P. vs C. N. R. The Standard is also pleased to express what it believes to be the general feeling in this, the southwestern part, that there is a notable absence of that spirit.

o o o o o

THE STANDARD notes with satisfaction a move on the part of some of the leading ladies of the district which has for its aim the organization of the members of that sex for the purpose of mastering all the ins and outs of the exercise of the franchise. The extension to the fair sex of the franchise, on an equality with men, will, we take it, be for the purifying of politics and the elevation of the standard of character of representatives, generally. The movement on the part of the ladies should receive a generous boost from all those who desire our standard of politics raised, and goodness knows, Canada and the provinces need it.

o o o o o

WHEREVER she has gone throughout this part of the province Mrs. Davidson of Calgary, speaking on behalf of the Free Public Hospitals League, if she has not met with the largest of receptions, has met with a most cordial sympathy with the principles and objects of the movement. The dearth of skilled medical attendance in the districts of the settlers is bearing at some fatality mark upon the rising generations as well as upon those who have paid through time, sweat and even blood for the privilege of living in these circumstances. The fact that a person of weakened or shorter lease of life under the present system beyond adequate remuneration is under the present system beyond adequate remuneration is under the present system beyond adequate remuneration is ment be made in full and he also asked for an adjustment of taxes, claiming that his assessment was too high.

On motion of C. Plants the sec'y was given authority to make settlement with Mr. Moss.

J. W. Frasure appeared with a request for a grant to the Tofield Agricultural Society.

On motion of C. Plants a grant of $150.00 was passed.

W. F. Wood was heard with request to leave on Beaver Hills Park Blvd. He asked council for a compromise, stating that he was having the plan cancelled.

On motion of W. Thomson council expressed willingness to accept taxes for years in which said lands were in arrears, including 1916 taxes, on the basis of a $20.00 per acre assessment, plus any and all arrears to which the municipality has been put in connection with this land.

On motion of Coun. Plants the Band Address proposal in regard to settlement of taxes on their property was approved, subject to the approval of the Minister of Municipal affairs.

On motion of Coun. Ray, Brown District and Coun. Plants were instructed to go to Hastings Lake to see about buying land for a road from the bridge at Hastings Lake to Deville.

On motion of Coun. Plants council instructed a survey to be made of a diversion between sections 1 and 35 on correction line between Twps 50 and 51.

H. A. Kidney wrote asking if an estimate of value had been made on the overdrays done this year, stating that 82 rods of the land have been done and asking for a receipt for value of this work.

On motion of Coun. Plants Coun Cameron was instructed to communicate with Mr. Kidney with regard to work done on road on his place and ask him if he will donate this road to the municipality if municipality will have this road surveyed and registered.

On motion of Coun. Thomson the survey of road diversion on east side of Sec. 11 51 18, was ordered registered and steps authorized to be taken to secure possession of the right of way either by purchase or by other means.

Coun. Holmberg's report re Elliott and Pitsonne was accepted.

The secretary was instructed to straighten out the list of cheques paid out in 1914 to W. Mitchell.

P. F. Ingram was allowed an account of $24.25 for conveying W. Grigg's child and its mother to the isolation hospital at Edmonton, in a case of diphtheria.

Current accounts were passed.

The next appointed Monday, November 20, for calling a meeting of the electors of the municipality for discussion of municipal affairs.

Council then adjourned to meet on Nov. 20.

New Homestead and Pre-emption Map

There has just been issued by the Department of the Interior a new edition of the "Land and Pre-emption" map which gives useful and interesting information, corrected to a recent date, with regard to the land situation and the pre-emption and purchased homestead areas throughout the three Western provinces.

Figures in green show at a glance the number of the quarter-sections in each township that are still available for homestead entry, also the area within which quarter-sections may be pre-empted. Boundaries of Dominion Land Agencies and the location of Forestry and Indian Reserves are also clearly shown. All townships which have been surveyed are set out in a distinctive buff coloring.

Copies of the publication may be procured free of charge upon application to the Railway Lands Branch of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

Mrs. William Anderson met with an unfortunate accident several days ago, when leaving her home some ten miles north of Tofield to come to town. Just as she was getting into the buggy, Mrs. Anderson was thrown violently on the hard frozen ground, sustaining a fracture of the facial bones, nasal bones and shake up generally. The accident is particularly unfortunate as Mrs. Anderson is not only an industrious woman, and well thought of, but is the main stay of the family, as Mr. Anderson has been blind for about seven years.

Wedding bells have been ringing out both their merry chimes in our vicinity this week, word having come from Edmonton that Olaf Saxel and Miss Frida Anderson were married at that city last Thursday. Their friends were not taken into their confidence and it was not until they sighted at the Ribstein station on Friday morning that the news became known. The young couple expect to be in this neighborhood for several weeks, when they will take up their residence on the groom's homestead near St. Paul de Metis. Their friends here wish them prosperity and happiness in their wedded life.

F. A. Moss is building a feed and pump house on his farm preparatory to erecting a power wind mill.

Chas. H. Blackburn left last Thursday morning for a trip to the States. He will visit relatives in Kansas City, Olathe and Pennsylvania before returning.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holloway (who have been residing at the Black farm) have left for the past three months with their small son, left on Wednesday morning for Calgary.

Hiram Lanning has been the popular day in these parts for the past two weeks. Cars of oats, and in a few instances some wheat, have been loaded by Messrs. Erickson, Berg, Blackburn, Anderson, Diamond Person.

The cold snell it at descended upon us last Thursday forced many to quit the Self Denial Auction Sale which is to take place on the 1st. inst. However, the best touch of winter was not of long duration and it is again Sunny Alberta's boast.

Help the Red Cross. Co-operate with it in the Self Denial Auction Sale which is to take place on the 1st. inst.

A young lady in public service in town the other day appealed to the Standard for advice as to what course for an ingrowing toe nail. Some of our readers might suggest remedy. She wouldn't accept it, we suppose.

A Good Book to Have

It would perhaps be teh much to say that the Agricultural War Book, issued for free distribution by the Federal Department of Agriculture, is the most complete book ever published in Canada entirely devoted to the subject of which it mainly treats. Yet in variety it certainly is. Besides the general matter brought together by the editor, the Commissioner of Agriculture, some seventy agricultural and education experts have contributed to its 250 pages, including the Federal Ministers of Agriculture and Finance, the Live Stock Commissioner, and Dairy Commissioner for the Dominion, heads and sub-chiefs of various departments and divisions, federal and provincial, and professors at the Ontario and other agricultural colleges.

While there are statistics of the world's as well as of Canada's production, past and present, for purposes of comparison, and two or three years preceding, the book is a long way from being confined to the figures. On the contrary it contains pages upon pages of textual information, instruction and sound advice appertaining to its title — "Production and Thrift." Not alone would the farmer and breeder be the better for his study but every home holder, every citizen would profit by following its council, which, in a general sense is embodied in the motto that appears on the front cover, namely:

IN WAR TIME.
Produce more and save more.
Make your labour efficient.
Save material from waste.
Spend your money wisely.

Enthusiastic Start-Off to Canadian Patriotic Fund Campaign

Large Crowd Splendid meeting Hearty Support Forecasted Tofield District Will Measure Up Expectations

Monday last will be a day which will long be remembered by those in town on that day. Tofield and district will do its part in support of the Canadian Patriotic Fund. The local executive had made arrangements for the first gun of the campaign on behalf of the Fund to be fired at a big mass meeting in the Variety Theatre on Monday evening, and right well were these arrangements carried out.

Through the courtesy and willing co-operation of the officers of the 218th Battalion (Irish Guards), Edmonton, the 218th Battalion Band were on hand to give military band concerts in the afternoon and evening. Accompanied by the Officer Commanding of the battalion, Lieut-Col J. K. Cornwall, and by Major Hanly, the contingent arrived from the capital at 10:30 a. m. were met at the depot by the local executive and Mayor McCauley and several of the town councillors.

The ladies of Lakeview Rebekah Lodge will serve tea from 2 to 6 p. m. on Saturday at the Red Cross Self Denial Sale in Jamieson's old stand.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, NOV. 23, 1916.

DURING the next ten days every man and every woman in Tofield and district may expect to be canvassed for his or her subscription to the "the three first hardships." It was mentioned the other night at the public meeting that only one man in three in the district last year subscribed to the Canadian Patriotic Fund. It was also pointed out by one of the speakers that if it were not for the British army and navy German hordes and leeches would be getting their work in Canada, that in that case the bottom of the market for all kinds of exportable produce would not exist and that, instead of getting anything like present prices, we would be in a much different position financially. Hence all the more reason for those at home to come through with liberal cash subscriptions to help in keeping the wolf from the door of the dependents of our soldiers.

If this country were now in the hands of the enemy you can bet quite safely that each and every one would have to dig down into his purse to provide the wages of War. Why are we not doing it now? Because we are living under the protection of the British flag and under British institutions. That's why. Some people never miss the water till the well runs dry. Some people are actuated from SELF. The true citizen is he who loves his neighbor as himself. That's how manhood and citizenship is going to be measured up in the days to come

RISKY RUBBISH HEAPS
Many Serious Fires Traceable to Such Accumulations

More fires originate in rubbish heaps than from any other source. To permit rubbish to remain in the building not only invites a fire to visit your home or place of business, and render your family temporarily homeless, or cripple your business at a time when you can least afford it, but also endangers the lives of your neighbors. Conservative fire authorities in describing an average of $33,000,000 in property value in Canada each year, five reason the death of 181 persons in one year. The home is built to protect our loved ones, and we want to do everything to insure absolute protection to those who live in it. That rubbish heap in the attic, storeroom or basement is a menace to your household, because there is always a possibility of fire starting in it, and it may start when least suspected. Consider what might happen, and then, without delay, eliminate the menace of the rubbish heap.

LINCOLN'S EXAMPLE

London Daily Mail: Whatever measures are taken against the enemy we have to think not only of punishment but also of prevention. Abraham Lincoln, the leader and humane President of the United States, and one of the noblest figures among all the men who fell a victim to the assassin's revenge in a similar cause, said, if the nation can by the officer to discharge his duty in a particular way, it must protect him with all its strength and not root content with, and even punish, those who should be strongly sentenced. When cases like that of Captain Fryatt's arose in the Civil War, he issued his order on July 26, 1863: "It is therefore ordered that for every soldier of the United States killed in violation of the laws of war a rebel soldier shall be executed." The result was remarkable. The Confederate Government ceased offending. Reprisals in this case meant humanity. And no threat to execute the offenders after the war would have had the slightest effect.

WOMEN CLEVER ON FARMS

Competition Displays Skill Of New Laborers At Many Tasks

The war has driven patriotic English women to take up farm work so as to relieve men needed at the front. Nearly four thousand persons included a hundred women and girls in a farm "field day" competition on Sir Thomas Acland's estate at Killerton, Devonshire. The events included ploughing, rolling, harrowing, drilling, mowing, reaping and harnessing horses.

A fifteen year old girl, Miss Smith, of Woodbury, Salterton, won the two brothers at the front, was chief horsewoman. She had charge of the reaping and driving farm horses, first for reaping and driving farm horses, first for reaping machine and second for binding. The spectators were especially struck by the way in which the women answers tackled the long rounds. Seven sheep, some of which were heavier than the competitors. The judges said the women's time was more superior to many male farm hands.

LARKS INTT CANNON

Army Birds Amid Roar of British Guns Here

After describing one of the bombardments a correspondent wrote: "All White, tan, overhead, amid all the clamour and shock, in the darkness and no less as night paled to day, the larks sang. They now began again sound the song be audible, but when once there was a lull between the salvos the roaring of the nearer guns, above all the more distant himself. It came down clear and very beautiful by contrast. Nor was the lark the only bird that was awake, for close by us, somewhere in the dark, a quail kept consistently urging me—or the gunners in such hearts? For all to the night the shimmering in the sky told us where the beautiful French guns were busy. On the left the Pagion of Monchy-le-Preux was like a volcano in constant eruption.

...PLUNGE ON LONG BRITISH FRONT

Around St. Eloi Every Crater is Fought Over Desperately—Further No Notice Taken

A despatch from British Headquarters in France says:—In one part of the front the British explosion of a mine is followed by furious fighting round the crater, which lasts for days, the opposing armies following desperately with a fluctuating success. In another part, unobserved, a tunnel is driven after weeks, perhaps, of the most elusive struggle, after which both sides settle down in their new positions, the difference in which is only perceptible in a large scale map. In other parts great mines are reported to be blown in the enemy's lines, but nothing appears to follow

In the northern section of the British line, that rests on the mud of Flanders mining is often an uncertain business, and has occasionally to be carried out with little help from both. A lobe is made, and a man inserts himself and tunnels into it and by usually little his way forward, passing the earth back through the lobe, which he dislodges with his head.

If, while so engaged, he happens to kick his way into a nest of mud or mines to start death to himself and the men behind him. So far the most sudden ground to tap the mud is to strike a stream or lake. While mining into the narrow warren and drawn the men are tightly cramped into it that they cannot even make a struggle for life. So pick of the fighting men proceed that of those mine-shaft "thick men," who, toiling to suffocating darkness through the earth, know they live to lie at the mercy at any moment of an accident that neither skill nor courage can avert.

Further south, where the earth is more accommodating, within a few hundred yards of the enemy's lines mining can be set, but as the enemy's lines are approached the ground quite soon to be overtaxed to dull the sound of the pick. If there happens to be a German mine shaft in the neighborhood your presence is sure to be suspected and a counter shows in the bowels of the earth ensue, with no happy workers.

It is in this section that mining seems to be conducted without serious danger on either side. Yet explosions of no account there are frequent, and at times a mine is sprung that neither side can account for. There is no grabbing at air in the dark, and the sound of the report goes in an airless world. Mining takes a photograph of the hole, the enemy clears up the mess and builds a new parapet in the hours of darkness. Then, in a day or two, he goes a bit of your trench, and the process, reversed, is repeated.

Very different are the appalling struggles for the lakes of quaking slime which remain further south after an explosion. When the mine is of great depth a black fountain of mud and water, is flung a hundred feet into the air, and a great part of the labyrinthine system of saps, trenches, tapes, and patterned that the ship falls back into the caldron, from which explosion it is impossible if a man falls wounded into it. This is particularly the character of the craters at St. Eloi, which have been for weeks the scenes of such desperate encounters with Canadians and Germans as conquerors.

LOST GERMAN COLONIES

The Spectator—Theoretically, we have no desire to annex Germany's colonies, but as a matter of fact they will have to be taken from her. Our colonies will not be safe while she is going to allow—shall blame to them!—the restoration of South West Africa or of East Africa in the hands of such good neighbors as the Germans of the French, again, are not likely to want to give back the Cameroon. In a word, the German flag will cease to fly in Africa. The Australians will see to it that it ceases to fly also in New Guinea and in the Pacific generally. Again, if any one imagines that Japan will be content to hand back to Germany the islands she is labouring under a very strange delusion. Finally, though the British people want no territory for themselves, Germany must hand over each portions of her Fleet as remain intact after the war, and with that Fleet the island of Heligoland.

It is the Canadian Patriotic Fund that is behind the volunteer. The married volunteer has the assurance of the Fund that it will not see his dependents in want and guarantees to them an amount according to schedule. If the Fund did not exist the married man could not go and our voluntary system would peter out. That would be just what our enemies in the Germans, would like. Therefore the duty of those who remain at home is plain. Keep the Fund going with a bulging money chest.

INDIA'S PRINCES LOYAL

Returned Viceroy Says the Native Rulers Don't Trouble

Returning to England Lord Hardinge was asked about the attitude of the ruling chiefs. "Nothing," he said, "could possibly exceed the loyalty of the Indian princes and chiefs, who have shown themselves ready to make great sacrifices for the sake of the Empire. They have contributed enormous sums of money and large numbers of imperial service troops employed both abroad and in India, where in some cases they are fulfilling the services of British regulars.

"Most of the princes and chiefs of rural themselves for service with the British colors and many of them are now fighting. There hasn't been the slightest disturbance or doubt on the score of absolute patriotism on the part of princes and chiefs whom I regard as pillars of the State. No doubt there was a good deal of perturbation on the tiltural of India during the ravages of the famine in Indian waters but the people of India now realize the immunity they enjoy from the predominance of British sea power."

"Of course there is a certain amount though comparatively small, of disaffection and disloyalty in India among a population of over 300,000,000, comprising so many varieties of race and sect. But the overwhelming degree of political education and development in India would be detrimental to any general movement of a revolutionary character. The Indian Government has consistently shown a desire to treat down autocracy, but a plan to set up an oligarchy I wish to state most emphatically is that the gateway to the heart of the Indian mind, such as it is, are not the intellectuals of India, they are in the hands among the half-educated. The Hindu part, and not because of the poor of that name, which printed abroad and introduced recently is frankly anarchistic."

GREAT MAN'S TRAVAIL

Kitchener Never Satisfied With His Own Great Work

Lord Derby in his tribute in the House of Lords to the memory of his friend Lord Kitchener told of an interview he had had with Kitchener late in 1915. Kitchener asked him what he was doing. Lord Derby said I am so tired, that I feel there is still much to be done.

The words recall the tremendous nature of the responsibility laid upon Kitchener at the beginning. Next to the British fleet to him all hopes and all the Empire looked and in the whole world there is no more man could without a tremor feel such a burden.

The test of us were mostly by standards and all of us critics. Kitchener had to do things. He had to do things where a mistake might alter the history of the country of the people of the whole world of the fortunes of all mankind. A general of Kitchener's strong mind was never free. What am I doing wrong? will my weakness but in a great man's travail.

NEXT Monday being nomination day for candidates for election to the offices of [illegible] Tofield municipality, and since [illegible] there is much speculation as to who will be the candidates, and [illegible] their fitness for the positions they seek, it is only natural that [illegible] should be careful in the selection of candidates.

In municipal matters [illegible] apart from the political [illegible] and [illegible] Tofield, which [illegible] and since the [illegible] is purely a business one, [illegible] should be chosen, namely, those who can give the most time to the duties of the office, and who have had some experience in municipal affairs. It is hardly necessary to point out that a man who has had no experience whatever in municipal affairs should be very careful [illegible] to get experience at the [illegible] of the ratepayers.

The new school board will have to deal with the problem of providing a new school building. In this matter extreme caution should be exercised. GREAT MAN'S TRAVAIL

Kitchener Never Satisfied With His Own Great Work

Lord Derby in his tribute in the House of Lords to the memory of his friend, Lord Kitchener, told of an interview he had with Kitchener late in 1914. Kitchener asked him what he was doing wrong "I am doing all I can," said he, "but I feel there is still something left undone."

The words recall the tremendous nature of the responsibility laid upon Kitchener at the beginning. Next to the British Fleet he was all England and all the Empire looked—and indeed, was—to the world. What more also was waiting. Something had caused Cyrano his memorable quarrel with his nose, and all the critics and all the critics Kitchener had to do things. He had to do things where a defeat might after the history of his country of his people of the whole world of the fortunes of all mankind. Front of him came a strong man's soul—the cry "What are we doing wrong?" not in weakness, but in a great man's travail.

WHEN CANNON SWELLED

Experiences of Gunners While Protecting Infantry Rushes

A British gunner writes from the front as follows: "At last, the day dawned and after an early cup of tea, we started to shoot a few more impertinences of British metal into the enemy's country. We had been firing for about an hour, every gun and howitzer in the line proved a ceaseless stream of lyddite upon the poor Wipers, waiting for our infantry attack to fix, our guns stripped to the waist, with sweat running down us and covered in oil and dirt we do second record firing itself owing to the terrific noise and concussion, smart-ing eyes where the lachrymatory gas had penetrated under our masks, smoked faces due to lack of sleep, but, withal, a look of satisfaction on every face.

"We got the signal to pause for a minute, as the infantry is going over the top. The London Territory Division Scots, Rifle Brigade, etc., with fixed bayonets, and rifles slung, advance, and in exactly 20 minutes from the time of starting had penetrated the enemy's fourth line of trenches. As they got nearer the German lines the fire increased and one threw up their hands, but on the Territory went to the next trench, though not without bestowing a kick on the inside part of the neighbors' anatomy, leaving them for those who followed. The artillery barrage was now a longer range, and worked like demons as our range gradually crept up and the fuses were lengthened accordingly, for we knew our men were going on rapidly. We set up a shout when we knew they had passed the fourth line of trenches.

"Then the fun started. Touched such a mad note of living that we were told to be poured down the muzzles of the guns in cool time. All fell to, one the other and was—dim; and, the start of the breech ripped out, we had to force the breech open, after each shell with a stave of wood. At length the guns became so hot that one could hardly stand near them, let alone touch them. The steel, of course, expanded under the heat, and stopped the gun from sliding back into its proper place after the recoil. Two of the guns in our battery were thus completely rendered useless for the day till they cooled down a bit."

May Check Baggage Right Through

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has just completed an extension of its arrangement whereby baggage can be checked through direct to residences or hotels in certain cities

In Western Canada the arrangement now applies to baggage destined to Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Regina, Moose Jaw, Calgary, Edmonton, Vancouver and Victoria. In Eastern Canada the arrangements appear to Hamilton, Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto. In addition to the Canada cities shown, there are a large number of cities in the United States in which the arrangement is in effect

Ocean steamship passengers travelling through New York had the arrangement very convenient, for they have a special delivery check attached to their baggage, which takes it through to the Steamship Wharf and they attend to it there instead of having to claim it at the railway station.

In all Canadian cities the charge for special delivery of one trunk is 25c, except Vancouver and Victoria where it is 50c. These charges, of course, only apply to the portion of the cities where usual minimum transfer rates are in effect When baggage is checked to outlying districts of the City, it may be subject to additional charges on arrival. Standard rate, however covers a large portion of every city

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, DEC. 7, 1916.

EVENTS have transpired quickly in Britain during the past few days. The new Government critics has been the hitting, and on the whole, well timed and true, yet lacking that initiative which is necessary in coping with an aggressive and resolute enemy. The change should make for the better progress in the efforts of the Allies towards bringing to be in the end of just and righteous peace.

NEXT Monday is Election day. Municipal councils of every class, urban and rural, have before them financial problems which, should the activities of the best men be lacking, may run over to solve their intricacies. The time has gone by for an indifferent attitude on the part of the average citizen. To that indifferent attitude in the past much of the present day embarrassment is to be laid. The job of transacting the business of the public with that same care and economy as is used and should be used in his own is mediæval one in many respects. It has to be done however, and every elector should get out and make his bid but do good and faithful work.

GRAND DUKE IS STILL REAL SOUL OF RUSSIA

His Moral Force Gave Russia Time To Grow Strong—Suggested His Own "Retirement"

It is hard to realize, even as the Czar's cousin, that the Grand Duke Nicholas is really the Grand Duke Nicholas. He is the same tall and broad-shouldered man, the same Duke himself. The chief of war and generalissimo. There has been no change in the outward appearance of the man who has come to be regarded as the real soul of the Russian resistance to the Teutonic invasion. The movement, originating in the Duma, was supported from the "Right" by the members of the Russian Conservative party, and from the "Left" by the Constitutional Democrats, practically all uniting to defend and maintain the constitutional future of the empire.

Czar Was Distrusted

When the first reverses happened the nation began to look around for an excuse to escape a showing of blood and iron, and when it was said that the Japanese war [illegible] the Czar himself was distrusted in Russia as he is still thought to be in England. [illegible] was the name of the Czar's brother, who was supposed to be the real power behind the throne. Then rumors ran that the Czar was [illegible] and practically acquiescing to defeat and [illegible] to surrender Russia with the empire.

Town and Rural Municipal Elections

The municipal elections last Monday resulted in the choice of candidates P. E. Ingram, J. G. Hudson, M. W. Ferguson and H. N. Whillans as representatives of the burgesses at the council board with W. A. Swift as mayor by acclamation, for the next year. C. Hammond and R. W. Prescott will serve out their two year terms which does not expire until the end of 1917. A. J. H. McCauley and Asa A. Bixby were elected to fill the vacancies on the School Board.

During the day was no undue activity to indicate that there was a municipal election on. The main fetich did not have a look in as to what is about all there was elected as there are strong rumors and no one of them was strong enough to invite votes.

It was somewhat different in rural municipal circles. Here there was a stiff scrap on and a healthy interest among the candidates for office. Naturally, the best council, particularly in rural circles has an abundance of critics and in Dominion municipality, as has been usual, there have been a diversity of candidates who desire to be councillors in the belief that they have the which rurals municipalities as well as those of other ilk seems to fall heir to. But, as the returns divided in some of the wards be municipal officers were partners compelled to realize that their fondest hopes were about to be dashed to the ground. Reprint with hope, however, they would argue that no sooner could get only so many votes at this or that poll and that they would still win out. But, elections are like horse races, and very uncertain. Its not always safe to bet even on a mare (?) winner. However, the results, as reported, are as follows:—

Candidate	Tofield	Kinsman's	Hay L.	W'df's	Min'h	Dev'lle	Total
Cameron	10	10	30	15	18

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, DEC. 14, 1916.

WELL, the municipal elections are over for another year. while those elected are to be congratulated upon their success in them of the confidence of the citizens, on the other hand it is perhaps doubtful if they feel any sense of great elation, if they realize the extent of the responsibility they are assuming, the guidance of the municipal ship through the present troublous seas of financial stress. If all property owners would pay their taxes it would be plain and easy sailing, but, when too many of them neglect or fail to come through, difficulties arise. Expense must be cut to a minimum. That is plain. And loyal support should be given to council in its endeavor to pull the municipality thru until more buoyant times come around as they surely will.

THE recent cold spell is not without its good points, in a direct. The winter season is already considerably advanced and up to the present it has been ideal, so far as weather is concerned. Horses and beef cattle have been running out and no hay to speak of has been made into the farmer's supply of fodder. Farmers and stockmen have been well pleased. Experience of past winters reminds us of many seasons when the feeding period commenced as early as four and five weeks ago.

o o o o o

EDMONTON is to be congratulated on the outcome of its municipal elections. Mayor Henry has been of the city well during the term just expiring and the people have decided wisely in forcing to stay horse in the middle of the stream, particularly when they were faced with the proposition which they were up against.

MIDDY IN SEA FIGHT THOUGHT OF MOTHER

Boyish Ideas Reigns With Desire None of Blaming Destroyers and Big Guns Showing Up

A midshipman of 16 who was in the battle of Jutland Reef, writes to his mother as follows, says the London Times. As you no doubt have read the weather was very misty with a head sea from a destroyer viewpoint. It was very exciting and once we were in it I quite enjoyed it but the waiting before wasn't very nice. The first action I was in a latter part I was in because of the ship and I viewed the action through a periscope in the fore top. The noise was deafening and I had lost my ear protectors, but I was too excited to notice the noise.

The battle cruisers were firing just in front. A destroyer on our starboard beam had its funnel blown off and started to blaze away. It was a desperate sight. Then a big ship close to us blew up suddenly and started to sink. I got a fine view of her. There were lots of men hanging from the plates and rails in the water. A destroyer stood by to pick them up. Huge splashes came from further shells fallen into the water fairly near. Some used a main range and the Commander [illegible] Admiral [illegible] Captain [illegible] Lieutenant [illegible] Midshipman [illegible] Sub-Lieutenant [illegible] Engineer [illegible] Surgeon [illegible] Assistant Surgeon [illegible] Clerks [illegible] Marines [illegible] Bandmaster [illegible] Chief Boatswain's Mate [illegible] Chief Gunner [illegible] Chief Engineer [illegible] Chief Carpenter [illegible] Chief Armourer [illegible] Chief Shipwright [illegible] Chief Yeoman of Signals [illegible] Chief Master-at-Arms [illegible] Chief Petty Officer [illegible] Chief Stoker [illegible] Chief Cook [illegible] Chief Steward [illegible] Chief Barber [illegible] Chief Tailor [illegible] Chief Shoemaker [illegible] Chief Painter [illegible] Chief Plumber [illegible] Chief Blacksmith [illegible] Chief Coppersmith [illegible] Chief Boilermaker [illegible] Chief Electrician [illegible] Chief Wireless Operator [illegible] Chief Signalman [illegible] Chief Gunner's Mate [illegible] Chief Torpedo Gunner's Mate [illegible] Chief Armourer's Mate [illegible] Chief Carpenter's Mate [illegible] Chief Shipwright's Mate [illegible] Chief Yeoman of Signals' Mate [illegible] Chief Master-at-Arms' Mate [illegible] Chief Petty Officer's Mate [illegible] Chief Stoker's Mate [illegible] Chief Cook's Mate [illegible] Chief Steward's Mate [illegible] Chief Barber's Mate [illegible] Chief Tailor's Mate [illegible] Chief Shoemaker's Mate [illegible] Chief Painter's Mate [illegible] Chief Plumber's Mate [illegible] Chief Blacksmith's Mate [illegible] Chief Coppersmith's Mate [illegible] Chief Boilermaker's Mate [illegible] Chief Electrician's Mate [illegible] Chief Wireless Operator's Mate [illegible] Chief Signalman's Mate

WE are just on the eve of another War Christmas, the third of our experience in the present world cataclysm. To many bereaved homes and anxious homes it will be hard to feel the Old Christmas Spirit with its message of Peace. It will seem to be like crying, "Peace, Peace when there is no Peace." Yet, we must remember the struggle of our brave sons at the front who are striving to bring about a World Peace based upon Truth and Righteousness, Civil and Religious Liberty. It is our duty to put on a brave front. We owe it to the younger generation and we owe it to our valiant soldier boys to make this Christmas season a season of Good Cheer all round. Are we not all engaged in a just and holy cause!

PRESIDENT WILSON has suddenly jumped into the limelight by his notes to belligerent nations suggesting the holding of a conference to end the present war. He does not actually propose peace nor does he offer mediation but he suggests that "an early occasion be sought to call out from the belligerent nations an avowal of their respective views re the terms upon which the war might be concluded, etc."

THE president's action comes as a distinct surprise to official Washington, entente nation diplomats and neutrals. While entirely disconnected from the recent overtures of the central powers, much interest is created as to the probable result of the president's action. Events within the next week will doubtless have large effect as to the duration of the war. Certain it is, however, that the Allies will, while holding the best upon for Peace, be there in full fighting out for proper reparation from the Arch-criminals who brought on this world catastrophe.

It is the Canadian Patriotic Fund that is behind the toboggans. The married volunteer has the assurance of the Fund that it will not see his dependents in want and a guarantee to them an amount according to need. If the Fund were not there the married men could not go and our voluntary system would fail. The world's best must volunteer now. If not, the Germans would win. Therefore the duty of those who remain at home is plain. Keep the Fund going with a lodging money chest.

PREFERRED THE RUSSIANS

The Austrian girls of the districts we're Russians are held prisoners have been giving offence by preferring the prisoners to their own countrymen. The Austrian Church and press were quite upset about the matter, but the girls continued to fall in love with the big, handsome Russians. It was found that secret meetings and kissing passed between girls and Russians in out-of-the-way places, and little trinkets were discovered whereby delicacies were smuggled into the camps. At last the Government took up the matter and arranged that no strong a guard should be kept that no woman could possibly get near the prisoners. The captains of the Russian camps at Wenns declared that the prisoners never escaped the women. He expressed disgust at the girls' conduct, which was both unpatriotic and immodest. However the fate of the young men is held well under guard, and even a letter or a donkey sent from outside is immediately destroyed.

Close Motorist's Nose

To those who object to the old method of thoroughly greasing their hands in order to make subsequent cleaning easy after an overhauling job of their automobile, it is recommended that a solution composed of four parts of alcohol, three parts of glycerine and three parts of water be used instead. This should be well rubbed in and the hands permitted to dry before work is commenced.

ARMY'S RECORD MAIL

Fifteen million letters travel every week to and from the British Troops fighting front in France and elsewhere. This is the biggest continental mailing that the British post office has ever had to deal with. It works out at something more than five letters per week per man of the whole fighting force scattered over the world. Before the troops in Salonika had been there a month, where nothing is known but mutton are despatched weekly in the front and five million received, in addition 750,000 parcels are sent. Three special trains leave London daily with army mail only. It takes three days for letters to reach them in Africa or France and four days for much soldiers in trenches. At each post are the other side members of army mails service are on the spot to see that the mails are put into the supply vans. The trains then leave for the railhead where they are dispatched to the rattling point by motor van. Postal orderlies carry them forward by the transport to the billets and trenches.

FLAME-BELTED HORIZON

Guessers See Contrasts Between British and Germans

An English gunner names sums from France as follows: "Two guns, a major, my bed been firing for quite half an hour at the gunners over there, with nuts, oh, etc. flying in their faces owing to the terrific strain the guns have subjected to. But as soon as there was a lull, the guns were started out again. The word round which we were attacking was a ruined job but the idea was to keep large numbers of enemy troops engaged while our support troops were advancing. We understand our others and when the others had a firm hold on the villages they had captured, we withdrew to our old positions.

"The wounded came down the road — most of them who were able to walk—most of them with a fervor to their fortunate lot, and were in good cheerful. The German prisoners I saw looked as if they had had a terrible time of it. One of them picked up a cigar from a tab and started and he!

"During the 'great push' the most difficult peak of all in pushing back the enemy was the clearing of villages held by baby boot! But we don't mind, as long as we are giving the Germans a hot time. I should have mentioned that, towards the close of the day, some of the advance on numerous were the German dead, both in the trenches and outside, they asked for a short truce to bury their dead. This was granted and for more than one hour the guns were silent. The captain of the Russian camp at Wenns declared that the prisoners never escaped the women. He expressed disgust at the girls' conduct, which was both unpatriotic and immodest. However the fate of the young men is held well under guard, and even a letter or a donkey sent from outside is immediately destroyed.

SERVANT AT OXFORD

Britain Aids Refugee Yeotlie to Get Education

England which had long been a sanctuary for more than half a million of refugees from every part of the world opened her doors to thousands of wounded Belgian soldiers, and now she is rescuing Serbia's intellectuals.

Over 1,000 young Serbians arriving in their country for learning the occupation and many of them made arrangements to study at either Oxford or Cambridge. They pick up the English language with marvelous rapidity and will have no difficulty in following the lectures delivered in that tongue in this country, thanks to the wonderful gift for languages which they have in common with other races.

There is plenty of room for them, of course, at both of the famous seats of learning, owing to the great number of English students who are in the front. It was the intention of the British government to bring over very large number of Serbian boys and girls to be educated in England at the expense of the State. Some of them were brought to London to attend public schools and lodged with English families. Many of the boys are refugees from the dreadful fight through Albania and a large number lost their parents during that terrible time.

President of Portugal

SENOR BERNARDINO MACHADO

President of the Portuguese Republic, who heartily answered the Allied cause from the outset of the war, and proved his deaths to continue the century-old friendship of England with his country by preparing to take an active part in the conflict long before the seizure of German ships resulted in a declaration of war.

"Every munition striker ought to be treated as a deserter," said Archibald Whitehorn at St. Pancras Westminster.

FARMERS & SPORTSMEN

Ammunition's Conqueror Has Had the Unpleasant Feeling

How it feels to dodge shells in the air is graphically described by General Lieut. McCubbins, the young officer, who brought down the redoubtable German Zep. immediately. In a letter to his father in Cape Town. He says: "I will never shoot at birds again. I know how feeling as I have been shot at myself. When I heard the first shell whistling by, I lay down and then you can see a mile of distance, then you hear the shrapnel whistling by. It is not at all healthy. It is my job as pilot to dodge the shells and they take precautions. I've been to other your course every few seconds, so otherwise you must get killed.

"I had just turned the machine the other day and looking back saw a shell burst just where I would have been if I had gone straight on. An-other one came for the anti-aircraft guns is quite a nice little shop as long as he does not come too near."

FOUND DIAMONDS IN SEA

Mine-sweepers Did Excellent Fishing With Rod Results

An extraordinary story of diamonds found floating in the North Sea when mine-sweepers were clearing from the war-lanes, is told by Captain Tom Bates, Walter John Lewis (Stewart, of South Shields), and Thomas Hamilton Landels, of Grimsby, were charged with being in the possession of one ounce of uncut rough polished and unpolished diamonds, value about $500, supposed to have been stolen. Detective Inspector Gerrard said that he saw the men in Bow Street Police Court and took them into custody. He asked them to account for the diamonds, and Gleeson said he found them floating in the North Sea. At the police station he made a full statement, in the course of which he said: "About five or six miles out we was engaged sweeping for mines when we saw a parcel floating in the water. I got a boat hook and picked it up and took it on board. No one saw me.

"I took it to my bunk and opened it, and found it contained brilliants, afterwards coming to the conclusion that they were paste stones. We have no orders to report anything of the kind. I threw the parcel away and said When I got seven days' leave I tried to sell them to a friend of mine. He had not enough money to give me and told me to come to Amsterdam. I don't. I took them to Messrs. Ras and Gleeson, and they rang up the police. There was nothing on the parcel to tell us it contained gems.

The other three said all we have is what we found. Gleeson asked him to go with him to sell them. Both men declared good characters from the naval officer of their ship. They were remanded.

BREWERS AND DRUGS

Head of Guinness Says The Month Tonnage Occupied

Some revelations regarding the manner in which British shipping is being utilized for the brewing industry are made by Sir Edward Cecil Guinness, the Colonel Guinness Company, in the important speech which he delivered on behalf of the material which fills the brewers' dray and the brewery and distillery. Then it will have to be brought back again and distributed to the consumer.

"In addition to this, six thousand men are permanently employed in filling casks, and thirty-six thousand tons of coal have to be sent every week to these breweries and distillers. Taken in the aggregate the consumers represent by that trade are on a gigantic scale. If we are to prosecute our armies in the field, we shall before very long have to choose between bread and beer."

Tofield Schools Report

The work of the term was badly deserved by the fire which destroyed the school building early in October. But, since the establishment in the present quarters the teachers have done all possible to make up for lost time, and to adjust the work in the usual course. And now with a minimum supply of equipment everything is moving along harmoniously. At the same time The S hool Board is doing all possible to maintain a standard of efficiency and comfort both for the teachers and pupils.

Next week the report of the attendance for the term, the total enrolment, my classification and arrangement of classes will be published

It might be noted here, especially by those parents who contemplate sending children to school for the first time, that owing to the large enrolment in the two lower rooms it will probably be impossible to start a beginners class at Easter of next year. So parents are advised to start their children in the beginning of the year if they intend them to attend at all next term. The minimum age is six years, but children within two or three months of that age may be admitted, and this will be the only new class starting during the balance of the school year.

The number of "dates" is exceptionally large. In this connection the teachers respectfully ask the support of the parents to promote punctuality, as this is one part, and an important part, of the pupils disciplinary training.

The results obtained by the pupils are satisfactory. They have been ranked in three divisions. Those obtaining an average of over 80%, are in first division (with honors) those between 65 and 79, second division and those between 50 and 64 third division. Those below 50 are not classified. The results are as follows:-

Mr Angus Campbell announces the marriage of his daughter, Myrtle Irene, to J. Leroy Fleming on Thursday, December the 22nd 1916, at his residence Strathmore farm, near Kingman.

On Thursday last the wedding took place at the home of the bride's father, Angus Campbell, of Myrtle Irene to J. Leroy Fleming, farmer, of Kingman. Rev. A. Stewart of Tofield officiating. After the wedding supper the newly weds left for their honeymoon for Banff and other Alberta points. On their return Mr and Mrs Fleming will take up their residence on the groom's farm.

A box social was held last Friday night in Farmington school, the proceeds of which are to go to an organ fund for the school. An interesting and amusing program was carried out and a general good time spent by a crowded house. The proceeds amounted to $24.00.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Ede recently celebrated the twentieth anniversary of their wedding when they entertained a large number of friends and neighbors.

Angus Campbell is recently in receipt of an interesting souvenir from the battle scarred fields of France. Fred Ide who worked for Mr Campbell a couple of years ago and who enlisted with the 151st, lately wrote his employer and enclosed a bit of a German shell which had exploded close to him as he was coming out of the trenches Ide is attached to a machine gun section.

Rev. R. Whillans Passes Beyond

Reverend Robert Whillans retired Presbyterian clergyman, passed peacefully away to his rest at 11 p.m. last Friday, December 22. The shock sustained by him in the fall ten days previous was too much for his final constitution and during last week he lapsed into a state of coma from which he did not recover.

The deceased was born January 3rd, 1842, near what was then called Brigtown, now Ottawa, of Scotch parentage. He was brought up on the farm and received his elementary education at the Grammar school in Brigtown. Graduating at the University he first took a Normal course at Toronto and Toronto school for several years after he took his Arts Course at Montreal and later his Divinity course also a Montreal. For almost a quarter of a century he was pastor of the Merivale, Bell's Corners and Westboro Presbyterian congregations in Wrigmat Tshp, near Ottawa and here all his family were born. Subsequently he took charge of the Presbyterian mission at Brigton, Quebec, and in 1902 he moved to Alberta, settling near Tofield. For a couple of years he had charge of the local mission field for his district, and for the past twelve years he has been on the retired list owing to aggravated throat trouble. For many years he was an active figure annually at the meetings of the General Assembly of Canada. His first wife, Ellen Holcsta, predeceased him by ten years. He leaves, beside a sorrowing widow, a family of five sons and five daughters, as follows: William Moore, private in the 202nd O. S. Battalion, now in England; Henry Alexander, physician, now with No. 5 base hospital at Salonika on the Mediterranean; Caroline Grimmond nurse of Victoria, B. C.; Robt. S. of the Tofield Standard, publisher; Mary L. Wright, of Pinecroun, B. C.; Mrs. Geo. Cushion, Charles G., of Toronto; Mrs. H. Martin, Tofield; Alan D., now in Toronto; and Thomas Wardlaw, trooper in the Canadian Divisional Cavalry, 1st Can. Contingent in France since early in 1915.

Surviving him also are three brothers John A. Whillans of Calgary; Rev. George Whillans of Georgetown, Ont., and Thomas Whillans of Ottawa. Several nieces are also resident in Ottawa.

The funeral took place on Monday afternoon last, service being held in St. Andrews Presbyterian church. A simple service was held at the cemetery, with Pastor Hall, Rev. A. Stewart on the platform, and Rev. W. Leversedge of Holy Trinity, Ogilvie and Leitch and Rev. T. Wilson of the Methodist congregation, all of whom were fellow workers with the deceased in the Tofield Ministerial Association. All were touchingly referred to in addresses with Rev. Mr. Wilson during recent years and who had been a great regard and affection held for him. The service was most impressive and will long be remembered. Interment was made in the family plot in Tofieldmount cemetery.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, DEC. 28, 1916.

WITH this issue the Standard completes the Calendar year and 1916 will have become past history before next issue is due. It has been perhaps in most momentous year in mortal history. The struggle of the nations has been at its height, but has yet to reach its climax. Democracy has been put to a severe trial but shows signs of vindication of itself by a glorious victory over autocracy. That Peace is desired by the arch criminals who brought on this horrible world-catastrophe and that overtures have been proposed by them, even though their terms are not such as can be acceptable to the democracy, is a healthy indication that we are approaching the last lap of the race. While the enforced Allies deeply abhor war with all its attendant miseries it must be remembered that they did not enter it voluntarily, they did not desire it, but having been forced to put up a fight for the insurance to the world of popular government with its free and independent institutions they cannot lay down their arms until that for which they are struggling has been won and the future peace of the world guaranteed, or, they are defeated in the struggle for it, just and righteous cause. Let us hope that 1917 will see the dawn of a new era, an era of Peace and Good Will amongst the men of all nations.

It is the Canadian Patriotic Fund that is taking ... the volunteers. The married volunteer has the assurance of the Fund that it will not see his dependents in want and guarantees to them an amount according to schedule. If the Fund fail not exist the married man the one basis in a workshop may be serving the nation as usefully as the man in the trenches. Every man should be doing the work which represents his most efficient service to his country.

The war is touching us or should be touching us, go as lenient ... as we are its effects, those who have faith in Canadian manhood hope and believe that the nation will emerge from this experience a stronger and better people. If the ... ing of National Service in this ... rightly grasped and properly ... ested if the Government's call for information is responded to in the right spirit, the coming year will be the banner year in Canada's history.

Train Crew Held Blameless

The inquest on the bodies of ... Werdick, section foreman, and ... churchuk and N. Matropuk, ... section men killed last Tuesday ... the afternoon by Calvary ... Kirk left on a jury composed of Jas. Kroger, W. C. Swift, J. Noland, H. K. Adams, J. W. Somers and R. N. Wheatley.

Residence and Office in Rural ... Dunlop, D. Tofield ... members of the engine crew. The jury brought in a verdict as follows:

That having heard the evidence in this case we find that running the mixed ... to their death ... December 26, 1916, at 8.30 a.m., near Lindbrook station on the C. N. R. while ... was just getting to their work, by being run down by engine 304. We also find that no blame is attachable to the train crew. We recommend that all engines be equipped with strong headlights than the oil lights used on this engine and also that a portable telephone be included in the equipment of section foreman.

National Service

There are many ways of serving the nation besides going to the front. The man on the farm and the man in the workshop may be serving the nation as usefully as the man in the trenches. Every man should be doing the work which represents his most efficient service to his country.

The war is touching us or should be touching us, go as lenient ... as we are its effects, those who have faith in Canadian manhood hope and believe that the nation will emerge from this experience a stronger and better people. If the ... ing of National Service in this ... rightly grasped and properly ... ested if the Government's call for information is responded to in the right spirit, the coming year will be the banner year in Canada's history.

PREFERRED THE RUSSIANS

The Austrian girls of the districts where Russians are held prisoners have been giving offence by preferring the society of the Russian prisoners. The Austrian Citizen's account of one quite upset about the matter, but the girls continued to fall in love with the big handsome Russians. It was found that secret meetings and letters passed between girls and the Russian prisoners, and all kinds of little tricks were discovered whereby dainties were smuggled into the camps. At last the Government took up the matter and arranged that no strong a guard should be kept that no woman could possibly get near the prisoners. The chagrin of the Russian camp at Wenzo declared that the prisoners never encouraged the women. He assured the Austrian the girls' conduct which was both compromising and immodest. However, the matter has been closed and all kinds of little tricks which represents his most efficient service to his country.

TRENCH SLANG

The following are a few of the nicknames ... Tommy Atkins has bestowed upon German armaments and death dealing machines:

"Minnie" ... extremely objectionable young lady. A whizz-bang, or German trench mortar.

Oil Cans ... projectile favored by "Minnie" ... sped like an oil can. Stand 2 feet by 1 foot, and exceedingly full of "dust."

Toffee ... Aerial torpedoes another of "Minnie's" objectionable companions.

Whizz-bangs ... A small high explosive shell which comes at lightning speed, and explodes immediately.

Rattler ... The shell that comes whizzing over to get the range ... usually ... responds.

Jack-in-the-box ... The anti-aircraft gun.

Hilt of the jeweled sword presented to King Albert of Belgium by the City of Paris. The sword is valued at 50,000 francs and is studded with the big handsome Russians. It was found that secret meetings and letters passed between girls and the Russian prisoners, and all kinds of little tricks were discovered whereby dainties were smuggled into the camps. At last the Government took up the matter and arranged that no strong a guard should be kept that no woman could possibly get near the prisoners. The chagrin of the Russian camp at Wenzo declared that the prisoners never encouraged the women. He assured the Austrian the girls' conduct which was both compromising and immodest. However, the matter has been closed and all kinds of little tricks which represents his most efficient service to his country.

Although a notice of the marriage of Miss Bertha Hill, of this vicinity, and Mr. Leonard Hay, of Wetaskiwin, previously appeared in the Standard, we take this opportunity of extending to the happy couple the best wishes of a host of friends. (In passing we might make mention of the glaring omission in above referred to notice of your correspondent to actually state that a marriage had been solemnized on Wednesday, the 13th inst. From the foot that mention was made of a sumptuous wedding supper being served, your readers were led to suppose that a wedding had taken place, but it was presumption only, as said correspondent is unknown to us, we merely take up this point to get the joke on somebody.)

At all events Mr. and Mrs. Hay were duly married and returned on Monday from their honeymoon trip and have gone to housekeeping in Byley. May prosperity and happiness be theirs through a long wedded life.

Well, it would seem that December, 1916, is going to make a record for itself. We wonder whose fellows are who spoke of an open winter? Perhaps it will come yet, though.

Those of us here who did not get our grain threshed till this month have no one to blame but ourselves. We could easily clubbed together and bought a good mill and thus have had our grain sold or shipped before the drop. We tried to let great some of them in the project look killed.

The young ladies who have been attending college in Edmonton are home for the holidays and look as though college life agreed with them.

By the death of George H Hale of the Orillia, Ontario, Packet, on Dec 13, an old friend as I a highly accomplished journalist passed to his reward. His influence, and it was very great in Orillia and the surrounding country, was ever exerted for temperance, righteousness, and everything honorable in journalism. If another editor attacked him in abusive language, he replied courteously, never returning abuse for abuse. He was a true follower of the Master, an able writer, a lover of British connection, and his influence for good will abide forever. When he and his brother, William, started the Packet in 1870, Orillia was a small, drunken village; it is now a clean enterprising town of eight thousand. No small measure of this is due to George H. Hale. He did not wait for prohibition to to refuse liquor advertisements, but nailed his colors to the mast at the outset. To cease out no in these days was not to court popularity, and as the brothers had very little capital, meant much more than that. But principle was their guiding star of the Packet, and to day it is a successful paper, and its influence is great. More power to it and all others like it.

A concert and sale of goods by the Ladies' Aid was held in the school-house here on the evening of the 20th. The attendance was not large, but the receipts were. We are informed that $160 00 is the sum. This goes to the Presbyterian Church budget and the Patriotic Fnd.

1917 Town Council Meets.

The 1917 Town Council met in its first regular session last Tuesday night, all being present except ing Councillors o'cct Ingram and Ferguson.

Upon being sworn into office the new mayor and coun-illors took seats.

The first order of business transacted was the striking of committees for the year. Mayor Swift and Coun. Pincott, being appointed a special committee for that purpose, retired and brought in the following rep ort which was adopted:—

Public Works – Ingram, Hammond and Ferguson

Hylaws, License & Police — Whillans, Ingram & Ferguson.

Fire, Water & Light — Pincott, Whillans and Hannan.

Finance— Hannan, Ingram and Pincott.

Health & Relief— Ferguson Hammond and Whillans

Property – Hammond, Pincott and Hannan."

FLEMING CAMPBELL

A quiet wedding took place on Thursday, Dec 21st, last at 2 p.m. at the home of the bride's father, Strathmore farm, when Myrtle Irene, daughter of Angus Campbell, became the bride of J. LeRoy, son of Mr and Mrs. James Fleming, Glen Blaine, N S.

The bride, who was given away by her father entered the parlor to the strains of Lohengrin a wedding march played by Miss Mary Dempsey and wore her going away suit of navy blue serge with hat to match and was the groom's gift of a set of furs She was attended by her sister, Miss Grace Campbell who was attired in a charming gown of Copenhagen mousseline-silk and wearing the groom's gift of a monogram locket. The groom was attended by Mr. Herman Lawson of Tofield whose gift from the groom was a pair of monogram cuff links. After the ceremony Miss Dumphy rendered some pleasing selections on the piano after which a dainty supper was served The happy couple then left on the 7.20 train for Medicine Hat and other southern points before returning to take up their residence on the groom's farm near Ferguson.

No service will be held in Holy Trinity church next Sunday, Rev. W. Lewerenge will be in Viking on that day.

A delightful house party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs A. C Lellow on Monday (New Yrs) night at which a large number of young people were present.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, JAN. 5, 1917.

HAVE you filled out your National Service card?

National service duty does not lie that each and every man should fill the circle that his duty best merits. The registration of the nation's man power is an necessary step. All can assist by honestly filling out your card and turning it in.

It has been authoritatively stated that the last resource of the voluntary system is being faced. Will you be a slacker at this critical moment?

Many jobs at all times. Some are ill posed at this time to attract the National Service shirker lightly. Are you? Is the ideal of patriotism which is supposed to course through your veins nothing but water?

What is to follow this first step of the National Service Board? This is opposition which we have asked not to say. But the Board have a way of coming home in hand there can be no doubt. That is [illegible] to divide public opinion on the question. Will you do it? Which are you?

The whole question summed up is: [illegible] whether you are willing to contribute your services in its war problem in this great national crisis or not. Are you an asset and in any way which your ability may let you? Now, are you a patriot, or, are you not?

In a national crisis a man's first duty is to the state. Do you realize this?

Fair criticism is all right. There is no doubt that there have been big blunders on the part of [illegible] officials in the past. But no obstacle should be put in the way of the government in its endeavor to put into effect such a scheme as the class selection of our resources in men power. We must get the most out of every resource in order to bring this war to a successful and speedy close. Will you do your part?

SAFETY FIRST

The Wall Street Journal says: "There seems to be a large number of people in the country who have only now discovered that there is a world war in progress. They have forgotten, or have never known, the causes of the war, and the principles vital to freedom and humanity which are involved. They talk loosely of an impossible neutrality between right and wrong. They propose settlements which offer compensation to the criminal at the expense of his ravaged victim. They have a coldly horror of death and their actuating motive is the discomfort which the spectacle of slaughter and sacrifice inflicts upon them.

It was bitterly but not truly said after the recent election that the motto of the United States should be not "E Pluribus Unum" but "Safety First." But it is to be admitted that we have all too many citizens who think in terms of "fifty fifty," and prefer to split the difference with Almighty God. Their idea of a settlement involving basic moral principles is to emulate heaven and hell and placate criminal and victim with the issue of a mongrel common stock."

A Tofielder was asked the other day if the Alberta Prohibition law was working out well in this portion of the province. He answered: "Well, the bootleggers upon our streets had become practically a thing of the past. Isolated cases of intoxication resulting from the importation of liquors happened from time to time, but were few and far between. As a matter of fact there had not been one case before the the police court as a result of liquor since the law went into effect.

It is expected, judging from the issue of despatches received, that the Holy Land will see heavy fighting in the near future. British forces in the latest region, it is declared, are preparing for a drive through Palestine.

The object of this move is undoubtedly an effort to join up the British and Russian forces which are operated in Asia Minor, with the aim of cutting across the Bagdad railway.

In District Orders No. 8, issued Jan 16, by Brig. Gen. Cruikshank, all soldiers are warned that they are liable to arrest and fine or imprisonment for wearing the military uniform.

Premier Borden, in replying to the delegation of Prohibitionists at Ottawa last week, said that if the present laws were availed of, they could effectively deal with the situation. Where any province decided against the importation of liquor all customs entries of it would be refused. As far as the manufacture was concerned, the provinces could limit to foreign exports.

The Rust Epidemic Responsible for Scarcity of Seed Grain

In order to assure a heavy grain harvest for Canada in 1917, the Dominion Experimental Farms recommends that farmers exercise especial care in the selection of the right kind of seed grain for sowing the spring wheat crop.

It is expected that the grain rust epidemic of the past season in the West will be causing grave concern to many farmers and to where to turn to obtain superior seed.

Grain from a crops damaged by rust is frequently of poor quality, and not fit for use as seed, unless special precautions are taken. This is not because there is much danger that this seed will again produce a rusted crop, but because the grain is shrunken and immature; such seed is known to yield poor and feeble crops.

The safest seed to use is the best grade procurable from rust-free crops, providing, of course, that the the germination is normal. The value of this class of seed may not, however, be universally possible, since frost and hail caused considerable damage, where rust was not prevalent in the West, and very little seed remains over from the harvest of 1915.

Thus, perforce, Western farmers at least will have to sow much of the grain damaged by rust, where such grain must be used, it should carefully and thoroughly fanned and treated, until only the best and most mature remain. The use of seed prepared in this way is known to ensure a more promising yield than the ordinary treatment of unscreened grain. Experiments have shown that, where heavy seeds are used, grains to the extent of five bushels per acre may result.

Farmers should take these precautions to enable them to make up for the considerable losses of the past season. Early sowing, the use of early maturing varieties, and sowing rather more per acre, these are well known precautions to be taken against damage from rust.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA THURSDAY, JAN 18 1917.

WHY did Germany go to war? She had a great mercantile navy and was rapidly extending her trade in all parts of the world. She had a million square miles of territory in Africa and colonies aggregating 100,000 square miles. The markets of the United Kingdom were as open to her as those of Canada. She was open to make commercial unions with various countries whereby she could have secured legitimate outlets for trade. She could have secured her place in the sun by ordinary peaceful means. Why then, did Germany go to war?

The answer has been given in the pages of Germany thousands of times since the war began. Germany over all! Instead of legitimate enjoyment of trade her policy has been conquest and domination. As a natural sequel to the Prussianising of Germany there was developed throughout the empire the true spirit of jingoism — the love of war for its own sake, for the glory which it is supposed to win.

It is no wonder, therefore, that the German leaders find it difficult to discuss peace with their enemies. They have to explain away to their people why the foreign trade of Germany has been shut off for two years and a half, why the German debt has grown to colossal proportions, why millions of homes have been desolated, why Germany has fallen so low in the civilized world. They are forced to cling to their conquered territory as an excuse for the war, and to repeat the fable that Germany was attacked without provocation, or her legitimate expansion checked. They cannot offer reasonable terms to the allies without admitting that they were wrong, and they converted Europe into a hell on earth the shadow of an excuse.

PREFERENCE should be given to ex-soldiers in the matter of various odd jobs or situations which are in the hands of public bodies, private corporations, or, even business houses for a patriotic duty which faces all who have stayed at home. Those ellgibles who have stayed at home in the face of a national call to arms must be prepared at any time to give up their comfortable sits to make way for one who has done his bit and who is qualified to take up the duties to be shouldered. Local authorities of whatever status will be derelict in their duties if they wilfully or negligently fail to properly respond to the above mentioned need.

THAT lands now in the hands of speculators and withheld from production on that account may be needed for settlement purposes for the returned soldiers by the government is a statement emanating from Ottawa as an aftermath of the conference lately held in the Capital between federal and provincial representatives for the discussion of lands settlement by our returned heroes. It may be in line to say that in close vicinity of Tofield lands formerly held by speculators and now forfeited to the municipality for non payment of taxes and which is available for farming purposes might well be considered in the reckoning. Being close to home supplies and to markets various of our subdivision areas might very well be purchased by the government as suitable lands for farming by capable returned soldiers.

HIGH-GEARED BICYCLES

The great failing of many a bicycle rider is found in the fascination of a high gear. The extra exertion of the high gear is the reason with the speed of the spinning wheels is so much reduced transportation. The rider is tired so long as conditions are favorable, but the judgment on the matter in question has such a wide radius, that far too many folk tire themselves out before they reach it's limit. Whenever one feels the high gear needs real effort to keep the pedals swinging, when the sway of the body has to be brought into operation, change down the gear, but do not race your feet on the lower ratio to keep the speed, or fatigue will so surely overtake you as if you kept to the big gear. The muscling applies with the low gear when hills have to be climbed, keep the ratio of pedaling steady, and you will then have found the seamless success of the three-speed hub.

BEST HOUSE PLANTS FOR GROWTH IN WEST

Experience of Calgary Flower lover to Get Forth in Detail—Varieties and Handling

R. B. Kerrison of Calgary, Alberta, writes of spring work in flower plants as follows: The spring is a good time to repot our ferns. A good mixture of soil comprises three parts of fibrous loam, one part of sand, leaf soil and well dried cow manure. Sift through a sieve, mix well together. Use clean pots with good drainage. Water once thoroughly after repotting and then water sparingly for a time until the roots have started into the new soil.

Most people in the winter buy flowering plants in bloom or just coming into bloom, but when spring sets in they begin to start propagating cuttings of various kinds, or buying plants that have just started. With plenty of fresh air, sunshine, they get quick growth, and the cuttings soon develop into nice plants.

Many Varieties

Some of the flowering plants grown here are geraniums, cyclamen, begonias, chrysanthemums, petunias, stevias, impatiens, primulas, lobelias, heliotropes, and a host of others. Of these they bloom nearly all the year around. The new improved variety, Gerania, is a very strong grower and blooms much freer than the old sorts. F. and can be had in several color. The Chinese primula is still a favorite. The colors are very striking, especially the deep red. Cyclamens, one of the forerunners of winter flowering plants. They bloom freely for a long period.

Calceolarias and Primula obconica in the pretty round shapes will grow well in a shady, cool spot. Keep tuberous rooted begonias in a warm, moist place. Water sparingly at the root. Use watering in moderation.

Other plants that have been carried through the winter in good condition for the spring planting are fuchsias, heliotrope, coleus, which grows quickly, and the ever popular Boston fern.

Cuttings for Geraniums

Geraniums are the most useful plants of all I know. They can be used in so many ways — as pot plants, for window boxes, flower beds, etc. A few good varieties worth growing are S. A. Nutt, double scarlet, Universe, single scarlet, A. Rozain, double scarlet, Beaute Portevine, double pink; Mme. Landry, single pink, Mrs. E. G. Hill, single pink; Wonder, single scarlet. Fiderich cuttings make the best plants for summer flowering.

Do not pot cuttings too far from the glass. Plants that have been carried through the winter in good condition for the most part, with the exception of all that are left in the cellar, usually look pretty well. They should have been kept on the dry side in the winter time, as with lack of air and sunshine they make all sappy growth. The best thing now is to cut them back and let them break again. They can easily be rooted in a mixture of sand and soil.

DESTROYING SHADE TREES

Complaints are being made to the civic authorities of the vandalism of local companies whose extensions of wires necessitate the removal, in whole or in part, of trees on civic property, says the Ottawa Citizen. It is alleged that trees on residential streets are being virtually destroyed in many cases by wire stringing crews and that when permits are made the answer usually given is that this or that tree has been removed because of the trees has been served.

There is no prosperity on the part of the property of the corporation. No private corporation or individual has the right to injure such trees unless by special permit from the engineer's department and under the supervision of an official from that department. It can be the case strongly impressed upon householders and others that every mutilation of trees under other circumstances is a step into of the city regulations, and the perpetrators thereof are liable to the penalties prescribed for such offences. The need is to so that concerns the health comfort and beauty of the community. The demand for the retention of tree lawns is a popular one with the citizens and it is to be hoped that it will be promptly applied wherever necessary.

Mental Grasshoppers

Many of us mentally fritter away much of our time and energy by constantly thinking every thing but the particular thing we are doing, to do or start something else to return to a book out or so to finish what we left. We jump mentally, physically or both from one idea to another and back again all day long in most cases this habit can be corrected. It is nothing more than a thoughtlessness and it should be corrected for such it is. Many of us who are not really careless but have a tendency to distract ourselves. They are nothing more than grasshoppers.

Hens Get With Oats

While it is best at all times to have good, sharp grit constantly before the fowls, it is especially important that grit be supplied when feeding whole oats so that the husks of the oats, which are very tough and indigestible, may be ground up readily. With plenty of sharp grit there is no danger attending oat feeding, although the safest rule is to first soak the oats for an hour in water so that they may become more softened.

FALLEN TIMBER PROBLEM

In the Rocky Mountain Forest Reserve have killed large areas of mature spruce, and as these contain many thousands of acres of mature timber, the problem of its utilization is a serious one. Many of the dead trees are still sound, and could be used for lumber, but the cost of getting them out is too great to allow of their being cut under present conditions. Many of the trees are also badly checked by frost, and large numbers have been destroyed by insects.

The Dominion Forestry Branch has been making a study of the problem, and has published a bulletin on the subject, which may be obtained free on application to the Director of Forestry, Ottawa.

Why Frost Tires Over

Numerous explanations are offered for the fact that frost tires a horse more quickly than the road does. The fact is that frost tires a horse's feet about as much as it does a man's. Besides, the horse is not only jarred by every step, but he is compelled to exert himself to keep his balance. Frost is very slippery, and the horse is constantly trying to prevent himself from falling. Frost is also very cold to the horse's feet, and the animal is constantly trying to get them warm. All these things combine to make frost very tiring to the horse.

Kask's Mill Burned

John Kask's Grist and Planing mill was totally destroyed by fire at midnight last Saturday. While the blaze was noticed in its inception by the building being an old one and entirely of frame full an hour prey to fire and before the brigade could be got there, was a seething mass of flames. Fortunately there was little wind and the building was isolated. Mr. Kask and his brother in-law had recently enlarged the building and installed the planing plant of O. Billington's which they had purchased from the latter. Everything was a total loss. There was no insurance.

Tofieldites, both of town and district, will be pleased to learn that Mr. Kask and his partner, Mr. Walters, have already decided to replace their destroyed building and plant with a much better and modern building and equipment to more readily and effectively render a service to the community which service has become more and more in demand since Mr. Kask took over the business from his predecessors. We wish Messrs Kask and Walters much success in their enterprise.

Drunkeness Has Practically Disappeared

A statement has been compiled by Chief Inspector Forster of the convictions under the Alberta Liquor Act during the first six months of its operation. The total convictions recorded between July 1st and December 31st, 1916, were 414. Thirty-one of these convictions were under the Act were sent to prison for various terms. The convictions covered all parts of the province and are the result largely of the work of provincial officers and city police forces.

The assistance given by the R N W. M. P towards the enforcement of the Old Liquor Ordinance, in the past, has not been given towards the enforcing of The Liquor Act.

A classification of the convictions is as follows:

1916	Convictions	Fined	Gaol	Suspended Sentence.	Fines.
July	86	57	7	2	$1530.00
August	91	47	6	1	2013.00
September	73	70	-	3	4314.00
October	69	54	13	2	2985.00
November	50	33	5	1	1547.00
December	94	90	3	1	3089.00
	413	378	31	9	$16 469.00

For the same period of 1915, under The Liquor License Ordinance, the convictions were as follows:

1915	Convictions	Fines	Gaol
July	26	$1492 50	-
August	49	4107 00	6 mos. 5 days
September	33	2113 00	22 mos.
October	46	3121 00	-
November	69	4967 00	3 mos.
December	52	3979 14	31 mos.
	275	$19 880 64

A comparison between the two statements would go to show that considerable money has been put into the enforcement of the new Act. The comparative smallness of the amount of money collected in fines is due to the provision of The Liquor Act making a $50.00 fine the minimum for a first conviction. The fine is too small and is not a deterrent where the crime of bootlegging is followed for the purpose of gain. Second convictions have been obtained in a number of cases. A third conviction means a substantial term in gaol

The above figures do not take into account those convictions for drunkenness under municipal by-laws or the criminal code. Reports and records from the various centres of population by the province show that drunkenness as a police court crime has practically disappeared

Kingman

Under the auspices of the Kingman U F A a basket social was held in the school house on the evening of Friday, Jan 19 which proved to be quite a success. It was decided to prevale funds to send delegates to the annual U F A convention. The farmers of the constituency were well represented at the Kingman district turned out en masse. The local talent was at its best and caused quite a agatt of enthusiasm by the manner in which they sang, and from the expression on every countenance, it was manifest that all had a most enjoyable time. The amount of the baskets was the last item on the program and R Stirrett, who evidently knows a no more in the art of auctioning off baskets, was chosen for that honor. The proceeds of the sale amounted to $16.00.

The members of Kingman local U F A met Jan 19 to appoint delegates to attend the annual provincial convention, which is being held in Edmonton this week. Frank S. Stirrett occupied the chair. O Skilnes, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting which were adopted. Under the head of unfinished business the proposal to erect a U. F A. hall at Kingman which had come up previously, was discussed. Mr. Thompson promised the site for a nice Mr. O. B. Skilnes and Mr. Soames was appointed director. It was decided to continue the meetings and to submit a plan of the building and price of material at next meeting

The delegate to convention was then appointed. R. Stirrett was nominated but declined to act, as unfinished business the proposal to erect a U. F A hall at Kingman which had come up previously, was discussed. Mr. Thompson promised the site for a nice Mr. O. B. Skilnes and Mr. Soames was appointed director. It was decided to continue the meetings and to submit a plan of the building and price of material at next meeting

The delegate to convention was then appointed. R. Stirrett was nominated but declined to act, as he would ship in $30 for a starter. A lively discussion ensued and the meeting was enlivened over the debate at the next meeting on "Reciprocity. A few, however of the more conservative members were not so sanguine as to the successful carrying out of the scheme but they were over ruled by the more radical element, those claiming that there were always doubting Thomases in the

TALKING about "National Service" if down at Ottawa they would quit this seemingly eternal game of politics and apply the National Service idea where it would do a lot of good, viz: recommendering the best brains of both parties for the le ad handling of the national crisis, it would only be carrying the "National Service" idea into proper effect and be an example to the entire public which would be a distinct gain. Great Britain, New Zealand and Australia have already lined up in this fashion with excellent results. Then politics become a secondary consideration and the national good the first and only aim

The Government let it be understood that whenever a returned soldier could be placed in position he would, and at was not right. But, more you mention it a great service would be done for those men by close inquiry into the question for instance of the men employed as guards day night in sole or out- or as cleaners and s forth, in the Government Buildings At the present time how many returned soldiers and, if very few, why not more in place of them, please now there Soldiers can surely do such work

FARM FOR PROFIT

Farmers, What About Your Side Lines?

A farmer writes: The farm without a side line is not practically speaking, good farming. The man who has nothing to sell but "just wheat" may make good money for a time but if he thinks he is selling wheat alone he is losing. He is also selling the farm, unless he is purchasing some other line of business at the same time. Every time a load of wheat is sold off the farm, unless he is purchasing some other line of business at the same time, the farm is depleted to that extent. Every bushel of wheat sold off the farm, unless there is a corresponding purchase of some other line of business, takes away from the farm its fertility. Every load of hay sold off the farm, unless there is a corresponding purchase of some other line of business, takes away from the farm its fertility. Every steer, every hog, every sheep, every horse, every cow, every calf, every colt, every chicken, every turkey, every duck, every goose, every pound of butter, every dozen of eggs, every pound of cheese, every pound of wool, every pound of honey, every pound of anything else that is produced on the farm, unless there is a corresponding purchase of some other line of business, takes away from the farm its fertility. Every bushel of potatoes, every bushel of turnips, every bushel of carrots, every bushel of beets, every bushel of anything else that is produced on the farm, unless there is a corresponding purchase of some other line of business, takes away from the farm its fertility. Every bushel of grain, every pound

After Joyous Charge They Dug In Like Cavalry Fashion

The first British action since 1916 in Belgium described by a trooper as follows: We charged in a field in the town [illegible] and went on [illegible] through a [illegible] full of [illegible] and Huns. Of course, we were [illegible] but [illegible] all the way, so our fire was very hot. At last after going a quarter of a mile, we got to the top of the hill, driving them before us. Here we had to [illegible] and we had a field of fire, and we could see Huns [illegible] and a battery about [illegible] field.

We dismounted a few [illegible]. Then it got dark and we had to retire about [illegible] to get our horses. We had to [illegible] to fix the road. This we did all right, the Huns making a feeble charge as we did it. I was among at the time a message and I [illegible] and found it [illegible] with my revolver and [illegible] dozen. North Cooking Lake To Hold Box Social

The ladies of North Cooking Lake are endeavoring by means of a box social to raise money with which to purchase an organ for church and school purposes at North Cooking Lake. For the consideration of the sale of tickets of admission to the box social, one of the members of the committee has donated a silk quilt of her own make which will be drawn for amongst the holders of tickets for the social, each of the tickets being numbered for that purpose. The tickets are on sale at 15c each.

The date of the box social is to be announced later. A programme is being prepared for the social which will be both attractive and amusing. The committee in charge are as follows: Mr. F. B. Sullivan, Mr. McIntosh, Mrs. Sewabury, Mrs. Danner and the Misses Bailey.

Farmers dance Friday night at the Variety.

Owing to the extreme cold last week the general and Ladies Hockey Match were postponed.

Local and Personal

Don't forget about the SCHOOL CONCERT on the 16th inst.

The Ketchemont Theatre will be held next Sunday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mr. Wm. Lee.

John Murray returned from several months visit to the U. S. last Saturday evening.

Walter Bellamy will shortly take over the local agency of the Continental Creamery.

Miss Mildred Sherlock has taken charge of the public school at Farrington, beginning her duties at the first of the month.

No 1 G. T. P. express from Wainwright last Sunday was delayed several hours owing to severe weather in the province to the east.

Miss Hall of the Public School Teaching staff was unable to attend to her duties at the school last week for a few days owing to having a severe cold.

Mrs. P. Lee had the pleasure of entertaining her father, Mr. Dendon of Lethbridge district, immediately after the U. F. A. convention to which he was a delegate.

Mrs. Wm. Thomson returned last Saturday morning from a several weeks visit to Vancouver. The first thing she said when she got off the train was that she was glad to be back. She didn't like the rain and damp weather there.

The attention of our readers is called to the Announcement of Thos. Whitmore in this issue, who is soon retiring from business for the duration of the war. It seems times is too late get that photo graph taken. Don't let it be so in your case.

Bounty grain is equal largely from smutty seed. It is not necessary to use smutty seed. The means are at hand to effectively eliminate this destructive agent. In this issue is an announcement by a live wire on the question. Get one. By all means, get rid of the smut and the weed seeds.

Red Cross

The Tofield Red Cross beg to thank Woodlawn S. D. for the remittance of $16 00 on behalf of the Red Cross.

The Red Cross will hold a dance in Variety Theatre on February 23rd at which the tickets will be $1.50 per couple. Proceeds of dances will be in attendance.

W. A. Steinke and family left last week for Red Deer where Mr Steinke has taken over the public inspectorate.

Mrs. John L. Gray and her brother, Wm Marta who lives in the vicinity of Youngstown Alta. left last week on a months trip to Swan Pass, Montana, to visit relatives and friends.

THE ARTHUR LESLIE CONCERT CO will appear at the Variety Theatre, Tofield, on Wednesday February 14th in an entertainment of music and mirth This company renders a program to please all, such as vocal solos, popular and classical Orchestra selection, Instrumental solos duets and Arthur Leslie, the tiniest dancer in the world will entertain you in his comic singing and dancing and keep the house in a roar of laughter. A guaranteed attraction. Do not miss it. 25c, 50c, 75c.

Farmers, if you wish to sell, buy, or even exchange Seed Grain, don't fail to attend the Seed Fair at the Town Hall, Feb. 15th. If you find it inconvenient to come to town on that date leave your exhibits with Mr R. W. Pincott anytime before that date and they will be taken to the Hall for the exhibition.

The Band will be at the rink for the Carnival on February 9th.

U. S. On Verge of War With Diplomatic Relations Severed Situation is Tense

Because of her determination to pursue her threatened campaign of ruthlessness upon the high seas and of her intimation to the U. S. to this effect Germany last week brought her relations with the latter to the point of severance. The intimation to the U. S. that they might send only one ship to Britain per week and that the vessel must be painted with certain colors, fly certain flags, etc., and must sail at one point only, via Falmouth, and must sail a certain prescribed course, was too much for the dignity and honor of the noble republic and on Saturday morning the President severed diplomatic relations, gave Bernstoff his passports and recalled his consular to Germany.

The president's action was hailed with expressions of vigorous support from all sections of the republic. Wilson has played a dignified waiting game to the last degree of patience. Unable at the last to extend further the diplomatic struggle he took the only course consistent with the dignity and honor of a great nation. To the end the United States, through its president has ecdeavored to pursue a policy of strict neutrality, but, Teutons, unwrapped in their mantle of super self conceit, thought to further increase strife the nations of American citizens, evidently thinking that their flimsy excuses might fall like seed upon fallow ground. Uncle Sam's reply was short and crisp to the [illegible] that there was "Nuthing Doing," and Bernstoff quickly got the w[illegible] kaye.

The United States Government is now only awaiting the perpetration of the overt act by the Hun, a declare hostilities. Not that she wants to. Indeed she is hoping that [illegible] will not occur.

The basket social at Woodlawn on the 31st ult in the interests of the Canadian Patriotic Fund was a decided success. The sum of $54.25 was realized from the sale of tickets and the lucky winner of the Splated cuff was Ron. Graham Tofield. $14.75 was realized from the sale of baskets and $24 00 from private subscriptions. Mr. Chas. Splated was in town and remitted the aggregate amount, $43.00 to the treasurer of the C. P. F. at Camrose in which constituency his township is situated. Credit must be given, he says, to Mr. and Mrs Frank Ray who worked assiduously for the success of the undertaking. and Mr and Mrs. Chas. Plants. Mr. R. F. Widgeon, Mrs. Ingram. Miss A Splated and others.

Heard Over the Rural Telephone

Saturday, Feb. 3: "Well I [illegible] Sam has got into the war. I am glad of it for now it will be over soon." (The lady in question evidently has great faith in Uncle Sam.)

IT has been as we expected, the petitions against the removal of the R. N. W. M. P. from the rural sections of the province have been of no avail, the policy of the authorities having been a well settled and defined one. The provincial force which is being organized is to have a chief drawn from the R. N. W. M. P. and the province is to be organized into districts with a subchief over each and will undoubtedly be an effective agency in seeing that the provincial laws are observed. Too much time ... R. N. W. JOIN THE ROYAL NAVY

Let not the Navy, now of all times be hampered by lack of men. The first urgent appeal to Canadians to join the Royal Navy was made three months ago. The need is greater to-day than it was then. Previous sea experience is not necessary to join this most attractive and essential branch of the service.

Men of British parentage, between the ages of eighteen and thirty-eight years may join today and leave immediately for overseas service.

A Good Investment.

The new War Savings Certificates which have been created by the Government to encourage thrift and economy and to give everyone an opportunity to assist in financing our war expenditure ... can be had at every bank, and money order post office in Canada. The $25 certificate sells for $21.50 the $50 for $43 and the $100 for $86.

As an investment these certificates offer many attractive features chief of which are the absolute security and the excellent interest returns. For every $21.50 lent to the Government now, $25 will be returned at the end of three years.

There are two other features which are especially interesting to small investors. First, the certificates may be surrendered at any time, if the buyer should need his money; and second, each certificate is registered at Ottawa in the owner's name, if lost or stolen it is therefore valueless to anyone else.

But while they are ... it from an investment standpoint, the certificates do ... appeal ... to patriotic citizens. ... the important ... is ... person hopeful ... to the ... of his ability and places ... of the deposited certificates means ... purchasing these ... a feel that ... in feeding, equipping ... and ... loaning our Canadian soldiers, who are so nobly doing their part.

Victorias Victorious

Local Ladies' Hockey Team Put Up Stiff Game

The Wanderers (Ladies) hockey team of Tofield and the Victorias, Edmonton, engaged in a sharp contest of hockey skill on Tofield ice last Saturday evening. That the Tofield septette took their visitors down in a score of 2-0 is considering their preliminary and superficial [illegible] the ice sparks will indeed be flying. The game was well played throughout, and only the stonewall defence of the Victorias saved them from having several goals chalked against them.

The Tofield lady's hockey team journeyed to Camrose last Saturday for a friendly game with the puck-chasers of the neighboring town. They brought back a goose-egg. Their best marking up goals against them. We hear that they are swearing vengeance against their opponents when they visit Tofield, which will be in the near future.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank the many friends who so kindly assisted us in the sickness and death of our darling Baby.

Also for the beautiful floral offerings.

Remember the Red Cross dance at Variety Theatre on Friday, Feb 23rd. Tickets $1.50 per couple.

It is actually raining today. Truly, the longest one here in this western country the less he knows about the weather. No longer can we say that it never rains in the winter.

A meeting of farmers of the Tofield district will be held at 1.30 p. m. on Saturday, Feb. 24th, in Tofield Town Hall for the purpose of re-organization of the Tofield Local U. F. A. All farmers in the district are urgently requested to be present at the meeting. In co-operation is strength which latter cannot be attained otherwise.

North Cooking Lake To Hold Box Social

The Basket Social announced last week in the basement by the Ladies of North Cooking Lake at which a draw for a silk quilt will be made by the admission ticket holders, has been set for Thursday, March 8. The committee have an interesting program in preparation and wish it understood that a free dance will be held after the Concert and Social. The tickets for admission to the event are 15 cents each and each ticket holder is entitled to a draw for the silk quilt.

The Council adjourned to meet at the call of the Reeve.

Use of Printer's Ink

Standard readers will notice that advertisers of auction sales find it good business to use the publicity columns of the Standard. The job-printing department of the Standard, hand-in-hand with the publicity of the newspaper itself afford the advertiser the best possible means to bring seller and buyer together. Judicious use of printer's ink is the key to tremendous success. It pays everybody concerned, the seller the buyer and last but not least, the printer. The latter is the man who does the trick. Mouth: Use Procter's Ink. Get your printing done at the Standard. We give you quick, careful and honest service.

Annual Session Alexandra County L. O. L.

Alexandra County, L. O. L. met in County Session at Edgerton, Alta., on Wednesday, the 14th for the transaction of business and the election of officers for the ensuing year.

The meeting was well attended, delegates being present from practically all the lodges in the county. Bro. W. J. Gilbert, C. M., was present as were the other respective officers. Much business was gone through and reports showed the Order to be in good condition and a lively interest maintained in the questions of the day.

Election of officers followed. County Master Gilbert left the chair after requesting Past C. M. Bro. Geo. Dixon, to conduct the election. The officers elected are as follows:

A. H. Gilbert	C. M.
J. A. Kett	D. C. M.
H. A. Cook	Chap.
Chas. A. Rogers	Rec. Sec.
W. Jas. Gilbert, Jr.	Fin. Sec.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA THURSDAY, FEB 22, 1917.

APROPOS of the fact that Tofield is this year to have a new school built, the views of others and the experience of other districts is of interest. The Standard has expressed the view that when the plans of our new school building are completed that two objects should be kept well in mind, viz: the securing of the greatest margin of safety and the provision of assembly facilities whereby meetings of a public nature may be held in suitable quarters at a minimum of cost.

In last Saturday's Edmonton Journal an observer came along with the query, "How long will it be before we recognize the fact that it is not good business to tie up large sums of money in school buildings to be used for something under eight hours each day, and at the same time suffer great inconvenience from lack of suitable halls to serve as social centres for the community? Yet, we all share in the cost of building and keeping up the schools. . . . 'Some day,' he goes on to say, he 'hopes to see assembly halls in the schools in active service every night in the week, and until that day comes, the school buildings of which we are all so proud will not be fulfilling the purpose for which school buildings should be erected, which is to afford the highest possible education to the greatest number of people.'

It is sincerely to be hoped that our local board will have the above points actively in mind when having the plans for the new building made, for in so doing the community a service which will be of permanent and untold benefit.

SOME excellent legislation is promised by the provincial government at the present session. That providing for rural credits is one which has been a long felt want by the farmers of Alberta. Rural hospitals, too, another dire necessity, appear to be in the realm of possibility. Evidently, the government has its ear to the ground and senses the needs of the public from over the far flung prairies. It is to be hoped that the legislation which is being asked for by the cities of Calgary and Edmonton with regard to provision for quicker results in collection of delinquent taxes will be extended to municipalities of lesser status, viz all urban and rural municipalities. There is too much expense and too long delay under the present system. A system should be devised and put into practical form which would enable municipalities to realize in a much shorter space of time delinquent taxes while the amounts yet are small and upon a basis of absolute security upon the lands upon which the taxes have been levied. Such a system would provide a means for profitable investment on the part of those who have small sums of money who they could thus put to good use, both for themselves and municipality, for the benefit of the municipalities in which the lands may be situate.

Fred M Hoffer and son Horace are visiting this week in Calgary where Fred is attending the session of the I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge of Alberta, as the representative of the Lodge here.

Messrs Kerr and Walters have their new building erected and grain crushing plant installed and are again busy on the job. Farmers do not have to wait long for here their work attended to.

The heavy gale last Friday morning blocked a chimney on the residence occupied by F. H. Rowe and unloosed the remains of the dwelling to such an extent as one unit of repairs could be effected.

Night damage was done the roof when the bricks came tumbling down.

"You bet! I want one. Here's all the money except 1 cent, I owe no one it." So said one of the customers the other day at the Auction mart, a most useful place for farmers, stockmen and poultry men to dispose of their surplus stock at the disposal of its readers at the reduced only low price of 10 cents.

It is the Canadian Patriotic Fund that is behind the scenes. The married Architect has the assurance of the Fund that it will not see his dependents in want and guarantees to them an amount according to schedule. If the Fund did not exist the married man could not go and our voluntary system would peter out. That would be just what our enemies, for the Germans, would like. Therefore the duty of those who remain at home is plain. Keep the Fund going with a helping money closet.

Recruiting for Canadian Engineers

There is still a further call for men for the Canadian Personal Engineers. Those who have been waiting to avail themselves of an opportunity to continue in their own trade can now join the regular Corps. Civil Engineers, Surveyors, Architects, Lumbermen, Loggers, Draughtsmen, Railwaymen, Trackmen, Bridgemen, Construction men, and tradesmen of all kinds such as Plumbers, Blacksmiths, Harness makers, Carpenters, Electricians, Miners etc., are all qualified for the Canadian Engineers and by joining this unit they can carry on their part in the Great War by working at their own trades. The training of the Engineer also gives a man a great amount of experience in his own line of business which will be of great value to him in after years, he will get new ideas and be a valuable man in his own and by working at his own trade he will help the boys in the trenches win the war. When the great "drive" is on he will be needed to keep the great fighting machine in good repair and running smoothly. It cannot be be repeated too often that in mobilizing the man-power of the country it is a matter of the first importance that every man's services be utilized in the line in which he is most efficient so that all men who want to do their "bit" and have a trade of any kind should get in touch with the Engineers' Recruiting Office.

Tofield Hockey Boys Play Great Game

If the Tofield Juniors keep on with the improvement shown in the last couple of weeks they will be an aggregation of real hockey players. The way they showed up against the Camrose septette last Friday night was some class. For a bunch of "kids" we use the term with all respect for they are but youngsters yet, they put up a game that was every bit worth the money.

Starting off at a pace they plunked in two goals into their visitors' nets almost before their opponents got their bearings. Both teams then got down to hard work and the play at times was fast and furious. Kirk, Weatherill, McMullen and Glendoe did splendid work, showing speed, fearlessness and good judgement. At half time the score was 4—1 and by agreement the game was continued for a further ten minutes, five each way, for a decision. Uncommon play on the part of both teams was put up in this period but a score was made by neither team, the result being declared a draw. It was a cracking game and greatly enjoyed by a fair crowd.

It would be unfair not to mention little Otis Mahaffey. The smallest and lightest fellow on the ice, yet he mixed in freely with boys twice his weight and size and did good work. He stood in goal stopped some very hot ones and H. McKiernan helped the boys out a little.

A. J. H. McCrory was a business visitor to the Capital on Tuesday, returning yesterday morning.

Fred Mahaffey returned last Friday night from Calgary where he had been in attendance at Grand Lodge I. O. O. F.

Mrs. J. L. Gray returned last Friday night from a visit to friends and relatives in Montana. She was accompanied by her baby daughter.

CAN ANYBODY BEAT THIS?

M. C. Hammond informs the Standard that February 21st, 1917 saw the successful hatching out of a batch of chickens, 100 success, but from a setting of eggs placed with his first broody hens some weeks ago. The chicks are all apparently healthy and doing well. This is about an equal to the year as the hatching out of young chicks has ever been reported here.

Red Cross

The Red Cross Dance at Variety Theatre last Friday evening proved to be a drawing card for as large a throng as ever crowed that hall for the purpose of social enjoyment, there being upwards of one hundred couples present. The Pincott Orchestra furnished the music in their well known excellent style. The proceeds amount to the sum of $94.70.

The Red Cross is also holding a draw for a gold watch which has been donated to the organization by Mrs. Mrs. J. H. Tofield.

The annual meeting of the Tofield Red Cross Auxiliary will be held in the Angus-on Church on Tuesday, March 6th at 2:30 p. m. All members are requested to be present and each asked to bring a new member.

The Red Cross wish to thank all those who helped in anyway to make the dance the success it proved to be.

The Red Cross Committee have selected a character play in four acts, entitled "The Minister's Bride" to be presented in the near future for that worthy cause.

I. G. Whigan is going to have a new residence built on his farm near Burch Station early this season.

Mr. George Golding is planning to build a commodious and convenient residence on his farm two miles west of the Capitol on Twenty-three, return ing yesterday morning.

Miss Mabel Kirkham returned last Friday night from Calgary where she had been in attendance at Grand Lodge I. O. O. F.

Mrs. A. McMullen writing home from the Old Country says he is to be here in Tofield. Recently he says he had a visit from John Ford and while talking things took the old town in Canada.

ERRATA: In the Tofield Conservative Auction Sale Announcement the term "2 Shorthorn Heifers" should read "Eight Shorthorn Heifers." These are yearlings and should bring good prices as they are of stock which is in great demand.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA THURSDAY, MAR. 1. 1917.

AT no time in many years has the importance and the necessity of the home garden been so great as this year. Make this a garden year.

LOANS at six per cent are guaranteed by the provincial government to the live stock industry through the province. This is the provision of one of the items of legislation being introduced by the govt at the session now sitting. The act provides that five farmers, by uniting in making application for loans and making joint lien notes, will each be entitled to a loan of not more than $500 which extended over a five year term, with interest payable once yearly.

This, as stated by the Minister of Agriculture, is undoubtedly one of the most effective pieces of legislation to make successful farmers of the homesteaders of Alberta that has yet been introduced. This session promises to be the most memorable in the respect of the legislative sessions yet held since the province was established.

WHAT has happened to our Local Branch of The Public Free Hospitals League? It seems to us that the present moment is the time for them to justify their existence. Surely a reminder to the Member for the Vegreville Constituency, setting forth our interest and desire for speedy action would be very much in order.

SUBSCRIBERS to the Canadian Patriotic Fund will be favored with a visit from the collector some time very soon. Here is hoping they all have the cash and a warm smile ready for Him.

WHY not a School Garden! There is lots in plenty. A Town Team to break them up and the Boys and Girls might be encouraged by a few prizes to enter the ranks of the great army of Producers.

JOIN THE ROYAL NAVY

Let not the Navy, now of all times be hampered by lack of men. The first urgent appeal to Canadians to join the Royal Navy was made three months ago. The need is greater today than it was then. Previous sea experience is not necessary to join this most attractive and essential branch of the service.

Men of British parentage, between the ages of eighteen and thirty-eight years may join today and leave immediately for overseas service.

Correspondence

Tofield, Alberta,
Feb. 26th, 1917.

To the Editor
Tofield Standard.

Dear Sir:

As your paper is published in the interest of Tofield and district, I beg for a little space for the benefit of the taxpayers of Lakeshore School District.

In the assessment of the Financial Statements of Cornhill R. M. No. 487, it will be seen that the uncollected school taxes amount to $9215.00 in the region of the municipality. On the Auditors Report of the different school districts it shows that over $2000 of the above amount is owing the Lakeshore S. D.

I have inspected the Assessment and Tax Roll and can only find $107.16 due to the municipality on Dec. 31st 1916. Since that date there has been about $20 paid into the office. Another sum of $80 would have been paid in if the school board and the municipality had been able to settle up accounts with different ratepayers, leaving a balance of about $70 unaccounted for so far as Lakeshore is concerned.

I do not know if other school boards have been inquiring into the question of uncollected taxes or not, but if they have, perhaps we could get together and find some solution to this taxing condition of affairs.

As a school trustee I think it is my duty to give the ratepayers this information which can be verified by inspection of the Tax Roll at the Sec. Treas's office at Tofield.

Thanking you for the favor of publishing the above information I remain,

Yours truly,
W. J. Borchett.

"You bet" I want one. Its worth the money even if I never have to use it." No said one of our subscribers the other day of the Veterinarian, a most useful book for farmers, stockmen and poultry raisers, which the Standard is placing at the disposal of its readers at the reduced only low price of 60 cents.

It is the Canadian Patriotic Fund that is behind the volunteers. The married volunteer has the assurance of the Fund that it will not see his dependents in want and guarantees to them an amount according to schedule. If the Fund did not exist the married man could not go and our voluntary system would never out. That would be just what our enemies, the Germans, would like. Therefore the duty of those who remain at home is plain. Keep the Fund going with a bulging money chest.

Military Hospital Lantern Slides

An Ontario minister the other day borrowed from the Military Hospitals Commission a set of lantern slides. These slides show what goes on at the hospitals and sanatoria. That is, they show something of how our injured soldiers are getting treatment and health and how they are to support themselves after service-inflicted injuries may be. The minister exhibited the slides at three country churches under his charge. In returning the set he writes:

"My recording steward, who is also the post master and chairman of the local recruiting league, says that they should be shown in every community. They meet the unrest in many families who have feared that the maimed who return will be forced to sell lead pencils or such like.

"What I should have done was to ask for them for a longer period and put them on in every available church in the district. A man with a war-prepared lecture and a few local slides could render a valuable service to the country, both allaying the unrest above referred to and in removing the prejudice in some females from which recruits might be secured."

Private Sandy Logan is reported as seriously ill in France.

Accompanying Mrs. Herndon on her visit to her sister Mrs. R. Van Buskirk, at Lacombe the past week, were her sons Ray and Ralph. Miss A. Hoggard is still visiting her aunt, Mrs Van Buskirk at Lacombe.

Vacuum Washing Machine - Efficiency - Superiority.
This machine differs entirely from the majority of family washing machines on the market. Instead of the clothes being pulled and twisted through the water, the hot suds are forced through the clothes by the "powerful" vacuum cups. The vacuum cups are perfectly smooth, both inside and outside, and the slightest loose and clothing can be washed without the slightest injury. The construction of this machine is such that it will run [illegible] easily when washing by hand, the [illegible] other machine will do. We invite [illegible] to take one of these machines out for 2 WEEKS ON FREE TRIAL. The machine is ABSOLUTELY GUARANTEED by the makers, FOR 5 YEARS.

Tom Herndon Gets Surprise of his Young Life

I am a resident of practice in ... and ... to the desire ... friends on the occasion of their ... leaving ... This is an event ... I should be. Again on the other hand it is not unfrequently ... that the beginner is ... an appointment for some ... act is checked in the making and ... a broken word of praise for ... are often ... left unsaid. This is ... act it should be. In any event ... Tom Herndon got the surprise ... on the last Tuesday afternoon ... when prepossessing men dressed ... in navy delivering mail along ... in Route No 2.

Arrived at R. P. Blackburn's ... at last, he was busily engaged ... cutting in the mist when Mrs. ... Blackburn called to him from ... scene that there was a long ... car was for him. Fearing some ... untoward news possibly from ... relatives was sent at Lacombe ... he tied up his horses and hastened ... station. As he stepped to the ... phone to call up Central the ... of a smile from opened and a boy ... of gaiety, the patrons along the R ... M. D. line burst into the room and ... gave him the merry ha, ha. Then ... with blooming customary grace ... Mrs. Blackburn on behalf of the ... gathering, presented Mr Attorney ... of Herndon with an address and a ... purse of money as a testimony of ... their appreciation of his pastoral ... and services as mail carrier of the ... route. "Tom" he said to the Standard "I'm could have blown me away with a feather After the presentation, coffee and many kinds of delicacies cake were served and the ice had to tear home I say. The address, which was ... signed and with purse of over $25.00, was as follows:

A number of the patrons of Rural Route No. Three feeling appreciative of Mr. Herndon's faithful service to us through summer's heat and winter's cold temperature, the latter are desirous of expressing such appreciation in a substantial way. A mutual consultation from such has represented on ... seems would make up a fair-sized purse to be presented to our carrier. A minimum sum of fifty cents has been suggested, though at a amount may be given.

... committee consisting of Messrs James P Flaxton, I H. Olson, R P Blackburn, and Miss Mabel Francis has the matter in charge

Purse to be presented, March 1st 1917, at R P Blackburn's.

Mr Herndon has specifically instructed the Standard to express his deep appreciation for the kind ly and tangible manner which the patrons along his route have thus given expression to their appreciation of his services. He will never forget it, as long as he lives.

French-Canadian Soldier Had a Hard Experience

Fred Lafrance, an Ottawa French-Canadian and one of the fortunate who escaped ... the wholesale murder of ... Fred a letter to a friend in an interesting one. It was dated from an English hospital. In part he said:

"I am away from Flanders and getting in England in hospital. I am not feeling very well tonight but I am glad to be away from the battlefield. I tell you mother we had a pretty hard time and rough fighting. We made attacks on the fortress three times. The first time we went over the parapet we had to take a big village. Courcelette. We had some Sacre fighting to do to take it but we took it all right and have lots killed, but I was left out of our battalion. We took 900 Germans prisoners. They certainly put their hands up and got down on their knees crying, 'Don't shoot Canadians.'

"When the battalion was relieved at 4 o'clock in the morning, I was lying in a shell hole and could not get out until five hours after the battalion was gone back. I was under shell fire high explosive and shells were burst all around me and my nerves ... I tell you I thought I was going to be killed, but I was ... with myself and I was praying to God to protect me, so then the Germans stopped shelling with their big guns. Then I sat down a while and I stood and dragged myself in the mud for about 600 yards. Now that the battle I found a little bottle to give me some. I took it and my nerves ... I had to ... I got back to the battalion."

QUEEN SCOTCH SAW MILL

Canadian Battalion-soldiers Amazed at Mississippi Outfit

A Canadian lumberjack describes the mills used in Scotland by the 104th Forestry Battalion. The Canadian mills in use are semi-portable ones, cutting from 20 to 30 thousand feet B M per day. A Scotch mill, with a capacity of from 5 to 8 thousand feet B M per day, is utilized on some properties. These Scotch mills are a source of amazing interest to the Canadian lumberjack. The saw runs on top of the log, and the mill is driven by a fly wheel. The log is fed to the saw on a platform which lies on rollers. These rollers are forced to turn by a man turning a crank, and the platform is pushed forward, thus running the log to be forward against the saw. Some mills

Pte. Sandy Logan Dies In France

Private Sandy Logan, one of Tofield's valiant soldier boys at the front, succumbed to an attack of nephritis at number thirty casualty clearing station in France on Tuesday, March 6th. Sandy had been for some months "doing his bit" in the trenches and for this he many friends at home are distinctly proud of him. They sincerely share with his bereaved parents and the members of the family the sorrow which has befallen them. Ever a busy boy he was the mainstay of his invalid father and mother and when her brother James was returned from England as physically unfit to go to the front Sandy nobly responded to the call of Country and Empire and took his brother's place as the family's representative in the battle line. He was 25 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs Robert Logan, old timers in the Edmonton district, and was born at Edmonton. Had he lived till Tuesday of this week he would have celebrated another anniversary of his natal day. Tofield is proud of him, and profoundly mourns his loss. He died that we who remain and our posterity might further enjoy the privileges of freedom and quality for which our fore-fathers fought and bled and died.

She must have Food—for her Armies in the Field for her Workers in the Factory—in the Munition plant - in the Shipyard - in the Mine.

THERE'S DANGER IN SIGHT—BUT YOU CAN HELP

DO YOU KNOW— that the rapidly rising price of food stuffs forms that the World's reserve supply is getting small?

DO YOU KNOW— that a world-wide famine can only be averted by increasing this supply?

DO YOU KNOW— that a "food famine" would be a worse disaster to the Empire and her Allies than reverses in the Field?

YOU CAN— help thwart Germany's desperate submarine threat on the high seas.

YOU CAN— do this by helping to make every bit of land in Canada produce—the very last pound of food stuffs of which it is capable.

AND REMEMBER— that no man can say that he has fully done his part who having land—be it garden patch, or farm, or ranch—fails to make it produce food to its utmost capacity.

SCIENCE AND THE WAR
Canada Will Need to Use All Experts Which Peace Comes
Addressing the Empire Club of Toronto, Prof. McLennan, head of the department of the University of Toronto, and member of one of the Provincial Research Boards, urged the necessity of scientific energy in war purposes. After pointing out how science is to be used in war, he said the result would be very large. He added that the scientists have their eyes on the development of the natural resources of Canada, which industry of Canada might be made to extend the import business. It is to be advocated the [illegible] out of the natural fertilizers found in Britain, Canada, and the United States, and other native power to make the [illegible] and manufacturers of the city to co-operate with the [illegible] of which [illegible] to further the [illegible] of science both in the war and in the business life of the nation.

WHILE perhaps it is early to talk about seeding, yet, with the empire crisis which is now upon us and the pressing need for a maximum effort in food stuffs production, it is particularly apropos to state that the next eight weeks will see prodigious efforts put into effect throughout the length and breadth of the country, the results of which, in crops to be harvested, will mean everything to the Empire and its Allies in the stupendous struggle to be won in the coming autumn, of which the close is not yet in sight. Naturally general attention will be fixed upon the farmer. Fortunate it is that the government feels in a position to assure the farmers a sufficiency of labor to take them over the great spring campaign upon the fields. But town people should not lose sight of the fact that they too can render much assistance in the crisis by putting a maximum of effort in their gardens and, if possible, on vacant lots. In our town there is the greatest of opportunities in this respect. Let us take advantage of these and do our part.

WHILE thus speaking about National Service the Standard would call the attention of its readers to the fact that Hon. Dr. Rutherford, Director of National Service in Alberta, will speak on this important subject next Monday night in Variety Theatre. The building should be crowded to the very doors and the farming community should be well represented. We, as an Empire, are strictly up against it, and we must buckle to with vigor and enthusiasm. Let us all hear the message of Dr. Rutherford.

THE humble spud is coming in for a large amount of attention just now. The Observer last week had a timely article on the subject and quite appropriately emphasized a point which is only too often overlooked, viz. the need of the production of a uniform article. The production by a community of a potato of uniform color and quality assists greatly in marketing and a uniform article brings a better price. The Agricultural Society is taking up the work along various lines. This would be another line in which it would be doing the community and every one of its people a good turn.

Incidentely every home should this year ought to have its pet potato patch. The health of spuds this winter on the local market has been a lesson which all may take to heart.

BRITISH PERSISTENCE

Four Months of Patient Preparation For a Battle

A French account of how British spades war is welcomed. The Matin of Paris says: "One soldier brought from the German trenches to the Aisne. For four months they mobilized preliminary operations with this object. They have carried out a great number of aerial reconnaissances destined to ascertain exactly the nature of the obstacles accumulated by the enemy and his effectives. By the expansion of numerous mines they have been enabled to seize important points d'appui in the German first line.

By the recent raids over the whole front, notable in the regions of Beaucourt, Arras, La Bassee, and Armentieres—in one day they carried out no fewer than sixteen between Ypres and Neuve Chapelle—they felt their way so as to profit later by the moment when the enemy, overwhelmed by heavy artillery fire, rely on the first line enemy troops, but on his depots in the rear, and his communications."

INTEREST PAYABLE HALF-YEARLY, 1st MARCH, 1st SEPTEMBER.

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD.

ISSUE PRICE 96.

A FULL HALF-YEAR'S INTEREST WILL BE PAID ON 1st SEPTEMBER, 1917.
THE PROCEEDS OF THE LOAN WILL BE USED FOR WAR EXPENDITURE ONLY.

THE MINISTER OF FINANCE offers herewith, on behalf of the Government, the above-named Bonds for subscription at 96, payable as follows:—

10 per cent	on application;
30 "	"	16th April, 1917.
30 "	"	15th May, 1917.
26 "	"	15th June, 1917.

It is optional to any of the above instalments to pay the whole or any part of the amount of the subscription in advance of the dates fixed. Interest on all payments made in advance of the dates fixed will be allowed at the rate of four per cent per annum.

Payments are to be made to a chartered bank for credit of the Minister of Finance. Failure to pay any instalment when due will render previous payments liable to forfeiture and the allotment to cancellation.

Subscriptions, accompanied by a deposit of ten per cent of the amount subscribed, must be forwarded through the medium of a chartered bank. Any branch in Canada of any chartered bank will receive subscriptions and issue provisional receipts.

The loan is authorized under Act of the Parliament of Canada and both principal and interest will be a charge upon the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Forms of application may be obtained from any branch in Canada of any chartered bank and at the office of any Assistant Receiver General in Canada.

Subscriptions must be for even hundreds of dollars.

In case of partial allotments the surplus deposit will be applied towards payment of the amount due on the April instalment.

Scrip certificates, non-negotiable or payable to bearer in accordance with the choice of the applicant, for registered or bearer bonds will be issued after allotment in exchange for the provisional receipts.

When the scrip certificates have been paid in full and payment endorsed thereon by the bank receiving the moneys, they may be exchanged for bonds, when prepared, with coupons attached payable to bearer or registered as to principal, or for fully registered bonds when prepared, without coupons, in accordance with the application.

Delivery of scrip certificates and of bonds will be made through the chartered bank.

The bonds will be exempt from taxes (including any succession duty) and the provisions of legislation enacted by the Parliament of Canada.

The bonds, with coupons attached, in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000 and registered bonds without coupons in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $50,000 and $100,000 will be issued on the 15th March, 1917.

The bonds will be paid at maturity at par at the office of the Minister of Finance and Receiver General at Ottawa, or at the office of the Assistant Receiver General at Halifax, St. John, Charlottetown, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary or Victoria, or at the Agency of the Bank of Montreal New York City.

Interest on the fully registered bonds will be paid by cheque, which will be remitted by post. Interest on bonds with coupons will be paid on surrender of coupons. Both cheques and coupons at the option of the holder, will be payable free of exchange at any branch in Canada of any chartered bank, or at the Agency of the Bank of Montreal, New York City.

Subject to the payment of twenty-five cents for each new bond issued of bearer or fully registered bonds without coupons with interest, and to convert into bonds of the denomination of $1,000 with coupons and holders of bonds with coupons will have the right to convert into fully registered bonds of authorized denominations without coupons at any time on application to the Minister of Finance.

The books of the loan will be kept at the Department of Finance, Ottawa.

Application will be made in due course for the listing of the loan on the Montreal and Toronto Stock Exchanges.

Recognized bond and stock brokers having offices and carrying on business in Canada will be allowed a commission of three-eighths of one per cent on allotments made in respect of applications bearing their stamp, provided, however, that no commission will be allowed in respect of the amount taken as a loan or paid for by the surrender of bonds issued under the War Loan prospectus of 22nd November, 1915, or in respect of the amount of any allotment paid for by surrender of five per cent debenture stock maturing 1st October, 1919. No commission will be allowed in respect of applications on forms which have not been printed by the King's Printer.

SUBSCRIPTION LISTS WILL CLOSE ON OR BEFORE THE 23rd OF MARCH, 1917.

Maximum Production National Necessity

The business men's luncheon on Monday at which the Rev Canon served a hamburger dinner to a large gathering and at which Hon Dr Rutherford, Director of National Service in Alberta, gave an address, was a success in more ways than one. It was a success for the ladies of the Red Cross Auxiliary who served from the National Service point of view and it was a success in that a sentient move was made towards the formation of a Canadian Club.

Hon. Dr Rutherford speaking about National Service, said that there was no service to be compared to that given by our boys at the front. The National Service Commission was taking up the problem of placing the returned soldiers back in civil life and in the problem it was expected that N. R. Leagues would be organized in every constituency and that co-operation of all municipal authorities and others would be enlisted. The departments of Agriculture of the Dominion and of the province were co-operating. The whole movement was also designed to make us all see that the real duty of the nation of the fact that we are at war. We do not realize that for the successful prosecution of the war we must practice Thrift and Economy and that while men, munitions and money are all necessary it is our part to see that production is made the maximum possible. It is to Western Canada that the Empire looks for a great wheat production. It is the closest field of production to Great Britain and Lee Allies. Every available acre should be put into wheat. The great submarine menace makes it necessary, on account of decreased vessels tonnage, that the lines of transportation should be as short as possible. It is important that we use our best efforts to raise the best possible crop this year.

Regarding farm labor Dr. Rutherford told of how Dominion and provincial departments are assisting the U. S. for labor to help the farmers get their seeding done. It was expected that 3,000 would be secured for Alberta alone. As to harvesting it was hoped that cities, towns and villages would organize and help the farmers and the latter off as quickly as possible. While the Allies are not actually home the finish of starvation it must be emphasized that their people and the boys at the front have to be fed. This was a fact that should equally as important as serving with the colors. In order to accomplish this every energy must be directed to an increased production of foodstuffs.

Speaking about the National Service cards Dr Rutherford said that if the presentation of the 24 questions included on the cards to every male over 16 years had brought to the people's attention the seriousness of what we are engaged in, only, it would have accomplished its purpose. But it has [illegible] on Page 4]

Keep up the Food Supply and Help Make Victory Sure

"I AM assured that my people will respond to every call necessary to the success of our cause—with the same indomitable ardour and devotion that have filled me with pride and gratitude since the war began."
His Majesty KING GEORGE

OUR soldiers must be fed; the people at home must be fed. And—in spite of Germany's murderous campaign to cut off the Allies' Food supply, by sinking every ship on the High Seas—an ample and unfailing flow of food to England and France must be maintained.

This is National Service—
Not to the Farmer only—
But to YOU—to everybody—
This appeal is directed

WE must unite as a Nation to SERVE and PRODUCE. Men, women and children, the young, the middle aged and the old—all can help in the Great Army of Production.

Vacuum Washing Machine - Efficiency - Superiority.

This machine differs radically from the majority of family washing machines on the market. Instead of the clothes being pulled and twisted through the water, the hot suds are forced through the clothes by the powerful vacuum cups. The vacuum cups are perfectly smooth, both inside and outside, and the slimiest linen and clothing can be washed without the slightest injury. The construction of this machine is such that it will run just as easily when washing as when the tub is empty. No other machine will do this. We invite you to take one of these machines out for 2 WEEKS ON FREE TRIAL. The machine is ABSOLUTELY GUARANTEED by the makers, FOR 5 YEARS.

THE startling revelation which has taken place in Russia during the past two weeks is the severest body blow yet dealt to the Huns. A despondency is sure to overtake officialdom in that country. Prodicrman influence has been strong in Russia. The revolution removes this sinister influence in one fell stroke. It hastens the ultimate triumph of Democracy over absolutism and militarism.

Friday Afternoon School Concerts

The pupils of the Ruth School in Tofield some months ago instituted the practice of holding a concert in the school on every Friday afternoon from the close of school and this practice has proved one that one might term a regular feature of the school programme of each week. We hear much of from the pupils and judging from report it is a very enjoyable affair. The practice is encouraged by the teaching staff and indeed the Standard thinks it should be commended by all who are interested in the school. Every effort is made by the children to make the [illegible] entertaining [illegible] and to [illegible] a high standard of the [illegible] reading. But even more important than this the fact that each pupil must train the young people to appear before an audience.

Among the items and programme that have been presented recently are such as the following. Items rendered by pupils given by one of the members of the staff on some educational topic. Geographical or spelling contests, and songs from History acted by pupils. The latter brings to the pupils the purposes of the lives of people as lived in past centuries. Since the School Concert adds both interest and value to the progress of studies to a more marked degree than that found in the school of a generation ago.

Hon Dr Rutherford, Director of National Service, was the guest of R. N. Whillans last Monday evening.

Logan

A large number of young folk a round here attended the dance in Tofield on the 16th. They report having an enjoyable time

Mrs. C. Roberge is in Edmonton with her niece, Mrs. A. Hibbeson, whose husband is recovering from a serious operation.

The school board are finding it a great difficulty to procure a school teacher for Logan on account of the shortage of teachers all over Alberta.

Mr Seward is erecting a granary on his farm 8 miles north of Tofield

Mr. A Roberge is now living on his own farm and seems to be to the best of health considering the butching. He is putting up a new barn and hopes to have it ready for use shortly.

The farmers in this district are now preparing for the spring work. A large increase in the acreage will be under cultivation.

Mr. G. A. Trout expects to have a considerable bit of land broken up this spring. Mr. C. Moon will be doing the work with his steam outfit.

The Church of England are now holding services in the Logan school house every second Sunday. Rev. W. Leversedge being the minister.

Mr C. C. Roberge lost a valuable mare last week, it dying of swamp fever

The Hoss Creek and Summer schools have been lucky in procuring their last year teachers again

Correspondence

Tofield, Alta.,
March 13th 1917

To the Editor,
Tofield Standard.
Sir:

In answering Mr Francis' article of the 5th inst. I would like to mention that in my letter of Feb. 20 there was a slight omission, under no part of the printed matter of the second paragraph, which should read, owing to the Lakesiders. R. D.

Mr Francis states, that of those ratepayers who fulfil the conditions of Sec. 14 of sup. R. Amendment to the Rural Municipality Act, they could have done their duty. I do not point out that the Board of K. Lakesiders does not provide school districts with a copy of the R. M. Act as a guide or authority as to what they are to conduct their business, although I understand that Sec. 21a, clause 3, of the Assessment Ordinance, is practically the same thing. The trustees have done that, which is not the whole of their duties.

It have been imposed on Lakesiders R. D. and for any reason whatever are unable to be collected, why should they be classed as an asset. Could not a column be inserted in the Assessor Report showing such cases. As to suggestion as being an gauge of the indebtedness of either R. D.'s or R. D.'s each. Mr Francis would find out that it makes all the difference in the world when the school treasurer or you to the council for money, whether he gets it or not.

Mr. Francis, in last paragraph, as I understand it, to off the matter that I referred to, which is the debt of the Lazyacres to the R. M. and not the debt of the R. M. to the R. D.

In conclusion let me say I wish for no prolonged argument on this subject, but if Mr Francis will not state that I can meet him at the R. M. office, I will be pleased to do so, and if he can convince me by the records there that I am wrong in any of the facts I have referred to, he will be prepared to make a public apology for the same, but I am entitled to take backwater until I am proved to be in the wrong.

Yours truly
W J Barnhett.

Ed Cookson passed the ranks of the Benedicts on Tuesday at noon his bride being Miss Della Ingram, daughter of Mrs. Mary Ingram Woodlawn district. The ceremony which was performed by Rev. W. Laverock took place at the home of the bride's mother at 2 o'clock p.m. in the presence of a few family relatives and friends. After a dainty wedding supper was served invited guests began to arrive for the evening dance which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The newly-weds take up housekeeping immediately upon the groom's farm just south west of town. A host of friends with whom the standard heartily joins extend to them their best wishes for health, wealth and prosperity and a long happy married life.

WAR LOAN

DOMINION OF CANADA

Issue of $150,000,000 5% Bonds Maturing 1st March, 1937

Payable at par at Ottawa, Halifax, St John, Charlottetown, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Edmonton, Victoria and at the Agency of the Bank of Montreal, New York City.

INTEREST PAYABLE HALF-YEARLY, 1st MARCH, 1st SEPTEMBER.

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD.

ISSUE PRICE 98.

A FULL HALF-YEAR'S INTEREST WILL BE PAID ON 1st SEPTEMBER, 1917.

THE PROCEEDS OF THE LOAN WILL BE USED FOR WAR PURPOSES ONLY.

THE MINISTER OF FINANCE offers herewith, under the authority of the Government the above-named Bonds for Subscription at 98, payable as follows:—

10	per cent	on application;
30	"	16th April, 1917;
30	"	15th May, 1917;
28	"	15th June, 1917.

The total allotment of bonds of this issue will be limited to one hundred million dollars, exclusive of the amount of any paid for by the surrender of bonds the equivalent of such under the terms of the War Loan prospectus of 22nd November, 1915.

The instalments may be paid in full on the 16th day of April 1917, or on any subsequent date thereto, with discount at the rate of four per cent per annum. Payments are to be made to a chartered bank for the credit of the Minister of Finance. Failure to pay any instalment when due will render previous payments liable to forfeiture, and the allotment to cancellation.

Subscriptions must be accompanied by a deposit of ten per cent of the amount subscribed, must be forwarded through the medium of a chartered bank. Any branch in Canada of any chartered bank will receive subscriptions and issue provisional receipts.

The loan is authorized under Act of the Parliament of Canada, and both principal and interest will be a charge upon the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Letters of application must be addressed from any branch in Canada of any chartered bank and at the office of the Assistant Receiver General in Canada.

Subscriptions must be for even hundreds of dollars.

In case of partial allotment the surplus deposit will be applied towards payment of the amount due on the April instalment.

Scrip certificates non-negotiable or payable to bearer in accordance with the choice of the applicant for registered or bearer bonds will be issued after allotment in exchange for the provisional receipts.

When the scrip certificates have been paid in full and payment endorsed thereon by the bank receiving the money they may be exchanged for bonds when prepared with coupons attached payable to bearer or registered as to principal or for fully registered bonds, when prepared, without coupons, in accordance with the application.

Bonds of any denominations and of bonds will be made through the chartered banks.

The loan will be exempt from taxes—including any income tax imposed in pursuance of legislation enacted by the Parliament of Canada.

The bonds with coupons will be issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1000, $5000, fully registered bonds without coupons will be issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000 or any multiple of $1,000.

The bonds will be paid at maturity at par at the office of the Minister of Finance and Receiver General at Ottawa, or at the office of the Assistant Receiver General at Halifax, St John, Charlottetown, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary or Victoria, or at the Agency of the Bank of Montreal New York City.

The interest on the fully registered bonds will be paid by cheque, which will be remitted by post. Interest on bonds with coupons will be paid on surrender of coupons. Both cheques and coupons at the option of the holder, will be payable free of exchange at any branch in Canada of any chartered bank, or at the Agency of the Bank of Montreal, New York City.

Subject to the payment of twenty-five cents for each new bond issued, fully registered bonds without coupons will have the right to convert into bonds of the denominations of $1000 with coupons, and holders of bonds with coupons will have the right to convert into fully registered bonds of authorized denominations without coupons at any time on application to the Minister of Finance.

The books of the loan will be kept at the Department of Finance, Ottawa.

Applications will be made in due course for the listing of the issue on the Montreal and Toronto Stock Exchanges.

Registered bond and stock holders having offices and carrying on business in Canada will be allowed a commission of three eighths of one per cent on allotments made on special application being made through their stamp, provided, however, that no such commission will be allowed in respect of the amount of any allotment paid for by the surrender of bonds issued under the War Loan prospectus of 22nd November 1915, or in respect of the amount of any allotment paid for by surrender of one per cent debenture stock maturing 1st October, 1919. No commission will be allowed in respect of applications on forms which have not been printed by the King's Printer.

SUBSCRIPTION LISTS WILL CLOSE ON OR BEFORE THE 23rd OF MARCH, 1917.

Ab. Sinclair Moves To Wainwright

A. D. Sinclair, station master at Tofield, has been changed to Wainwright where he will occupy a similar position. The change comes by way of a promotion in the service and, the Standard is glad to say, is well merited. Mr. Sinclair has served the interests of the public at Tofield in a manner which has been appreciated and word of his removal comes as a loss. Jim Ingram, express dept. also is being switched to Wainwright.

The draw for the Red Cross Watch will take place Saturday night April 7th at the Variety Theatre, between shows.

A conference will be held in Edmonton along the G. T. P. from Edmonton to Wainwright takes place tonight in Tofield.

Serve Save Produce

EVERY ONE CAN do something for his country

Some can bear arms
Some can produce food
Some can make munitions
Some can give money

It is the privilege of all to help.

YOU CAN SERVE by Fighting—Working—Saving—Giving

This is NATIONAL SERVICE

Are YOU doing your part?

ALL EYES turn now to the Canadian Farmer, for he can render the Empire SPECIAL SERVICE in this sternest year of the war.

But—our farms are badly undermanned—25,000 men are needed on the land.

With insufficient help, the Man on the Land fights an uphill fight to meet the pressing need for Food.

CITY and TOWN can help.

Municipal Councils, Churches and Schools, and other organizations, both of men and women, can render National Service by directing all available labour to the Land.

Farmers themselves can exchange labour. School boys can assist.

Were you raised on a farm? Can you drive a team? Can you handle fork or hoe? If you can't fight, you can produce. Spend the Summer working on the Farm.

Let every man, woman and child in the Dominion who has access to Land, no matter how small the plot, make it produce Food in 1917.

Master Clifford Lee was indisposed the first of last week. He was unable to attend school.

The Ketchamut Service will be held next Sunday 3 p.m. at the home of Mr. B. F. Wilkinson.

Miss Hall, of the Tofield teaching staff and Mrs. C. H. Rowe were visitors to the city last week end.

Pte. Jimmie Rowland has again been admitted to hospital in Edmonton still troubled with the wound in his head which he received some time ago.

L. Crevoling is holding an auction on Wednesday, April 4, particulars of which will be found in this issue and on posters which are being liberally distributed throughout the district.

Rev. T. F. Lund of Holden will exchange work with Rev. T. A. Brown on Sunday and will preach Missionary Sermons at Ross Creek, Lakesiders and Tofield

The Standard is informed that a young man about town last week purchased a pair of big shoes. Although the articles in question appeared to be big enough the fact remains that they were too small.

Stockmen of Alberta are anticipating with interest the Edmonton Spring Horse Show, Cattle Sale, and Fat Show which is the big feature in store circles each Spring. Entries for cattle sale closed on March 14th, and for the horses, sheep, swine and fat stock on March 21st, with promise of a fine showing in every line. The show opens on April 3rd continuing through the week until the week of the 7th. The sale of pure bred bulls, one hundred and twenty-five in number, will take place on Thursday, April 5th, commencing at 9 o'clock in the morning. The sale attracts stock men from far and near, and breeders who desire to dispose of or purchase bulls find a satisfactory market at the Edmonton Spring Show.

Out off town visitors will find many entertaining features at the Horse Show, in addition to the purely competitive features. The saddle and jumping classes provide entertainment for those to whom sport appeals, the carriage classes provide much of the spectacular, it soon thrill the pony competitions furnish the amusing features.

The Push Ball tournament, first of its kind in Western Canada promises great interest. The R. N. W. M. P. will play the game on horseback, and the huge ball, six feet in diameter is already requisitioned for purposes of practice. In addition to this, picked teams from many of the business houses of the city will play off during the week. The Monsters will also present many other pleasing features, and all told Horse Show visitors will find much of interest in the event of April 3rd 7th.

Excursion rates have been arranged on all lines of railway, the Horse Show thus providing a timely opportunity for a visit to the city before needing commence.

Stuart Hall was a visitor to the Capital this week.

Emil J. Rude was a visitor to town the first of the week.

Miss Lally Campbell spent several days in the Capital last week.

W. and Miss Mabel Vaughn left for Flat Lake on Monday morning.

The Tofield I.O.D.E. Canteen Board will shortly stage "The Minister's Bride" for the benefit of the Canteen.

The St. Andrews Ladies' Aid will hold their regular meet at the home of Mrs. Morris Mohaffey at 2 p.m.

W. Forman says he has started to get ready for going on to his ranch. One of the first things he did was to purchase for dinner a fat turkey gobbler. He's back to him on his ranch.

A rumor has reached the Standard that Pte. Archie Pruden is joining the ranks of the benedicts soon. Some of the little Melton smiles in France are capturing our boys.

Mrs. Hugh Mitchell returned home from Edmonton last Friday after having undergone an operation and treatment in hospital for our trouble. She is much improved and well on the way to complete recovery, a fact which is pleasing to her many friends.

W. M. Dobell of Quebec a member of the Military Hospitals Commission, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Rosborough on Tuesday. He continued his journey east across the continent on Wednesday morning. On his way west a short time ago Mr. Dobell gave a lucid and interesting description of the work of the Military Hospitals Commission to a meeting of citizens of Tofield, showing how the disabled returned soldiers are taken care of and given vocational training to fit them to re-enter civil life.

COOKSON - INGRAM

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Mary Ingram at 2.30 p.m., Tuesday March 20th, when her daughter, Olive Isabel was united in the bonds of holy wedlock to Edmund Cookson. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. Laverock. The bride was given away by her brother W. J. Ingram. Miss Minnie Ingram was bridesmaid while W. A. Webb acted as best man.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white georgette crepe, trimmed with pearls and wore a wreath of orange blossoms. Only the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties were present. After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding dinner was served and all the guests joined in wishing the young couple much happiness and success.

Among those present were: Mr. and J. W. Cookson, Mr. and Mrs. Tines. Cookson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. McGinnis, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bray, Mr. and Mrs. Wildman, Mrs. Webb, Mrs. Morris, Mr. Walker, Miss H. Watt and Miss I. Ingram, Edmonton.

FARMERS—and all business men who are more or less associated with them are commencing much on the backwardness of the spring season. As yet we have not had many spring-planted showing across the prairie. We have seen sixteen springs in Alberta and none have been entirely like the others, but we have always seen a fairly good seeding time and the subsequent harvest and there have been no failures. All the same, we are all anxious now to see the seasonable change and seeding operations in full swing.

SYMPATHIZERS with the Alberta Liquor Act will be pleased with the announcement from Edmonton that the government proposes to accede to the general request that Clause 53 of the Act limiting the quantity of liquor to be kept in any private house to one quart of spirits and two gallons of malt liquor is to be so amended as to be perfectly clear in its meaning. The government has done well to see that this change has been effected.

DEAN HOWES of Alberta University the other night at a meeting in Edmonton laid particular stress upon a subject to which the Standard referred in a previous issue, viz the necessity of standardizing the potato crop in the province and of striving for uniformity in quality and grade. Much benefit would accrue to the producers in better prices if efforts were directed towards this end. The movement must begin in the communities. To it let one a started.

At the weekly meeting of the Y. P. S. held last Friday in the Methodist church it was decided that ice cream in connection with the meetings would be held monthly. The program for the evening was highly interesting consisting of impromptu speeches, songs and reading. Rev Mr. Benson contributed largely to the fun by his laughable talk. It is expected that in the near future some of the University staff will be secured to give a lecture. The next evening the Society will meet in the same church and the program will be announced.

Three Owen Soldier Boys of Cooking Lake

The three Owen boys, of Cooking Lake, have given a good account of themselves at the front, and the district is justly proud of them and the part they have played on the western battle line.

In the accompanying picture, Hector, the youngest boy, is in the middle. He has been wounded twice during the Somme campaign, and returned home again last month. He is only 18 years old, and spent four months in the trenches.

The two brothers on either side of Hector are twins. Yarworth Owen, on the left, was wounded during the Somme advance, on Sept 28th last, and died three days later. He was 17.

Cecil Owen, on the right, is still on active service in the transport section of a Highland unit. He, too, served in the hard fought Somme campaign in which the Canadians did so well, but escaped being wounded. He is also only 17 years of age.

Serve Save Produce

EVERY ONE CAN do something for his country

Some can bear arms
Some can produce food
Some can make munitions
Some can give money

It is the privilege of all to help.

YOU CAN SERVE by Fighting—Working—Saving—Giving

This is NATIONAL SERVICE

Are YOU doing your part?

ALL EYES turn now to the Canadian Farmer, for he can render the Empire SPECIAL SERVICE in this sternest year of the war.

But—our farms are badly undermanned—25,000 men are needed on the land.

With insufficient help, the Man on the Land fights an uphill fight to meet the pressing need for Food.

CITY and TOWN can help.

Municipal Councils, Churches and Schools, and other organizations, both of men and women, can render National Service by directing all available labour to the Land.

Farmers themselves can exchange labour. School boys can assist.

Were you raised on a farm? Can you drive a team? Can you handle fork or hoe? If you can't fight, you can produce. Spend the Summer working on the Farm.

Let every man, woman and child in the Dominion who has access to Land, no matter how small the plot, make it produce Food in 1917.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA THURSDAY, APRIL 5, 1917.

DOMINION and Provincial government have begun campaigns of education which have for their aim the attacking of the High Cost of Living by means of increased production of foodstuffs. Not only is this a direct blow at H. C. of L. but it means increased surplus of all kinds of foodstuffs to be released for export overseas to wage-ridden countries in Europe. Our experience locally during the past winter with scarcity of potatoes and other vegetables is valuable in that it should teach us that in this bonniest province of Alberta we surely should raise at home at least the vegetables to stock our larders for the winter. What an anomaly it is for Albertans, each with ample rear-yard spaces, to be buying spuds, onions, carrots, etc., and suffering privations because of a dearth of these articles on our markets. There are even many farmers who buy butter at town stores. The natural result is that Alberta has to import many commodities which can be and are being produced in large quantities from her own soil. If all who can would cultivate their rear lots into productive gardens a great step would be taken towards the bringing down of the High Cost of Living and no incidently a greater surplus would be released for export to where it is so much needed.

"WITH a profound sense of the solemn and even tragical character of the step I am taking and of the grave responsibilities which it involves, but in unhesitating obeyance to what I deem it my constitutional duty, I advise that the congress declare the recent course of the imperial government to be in fact nothing less than war against the government and people of the United States; that it formally accept the status of a belligerent which has thus been thrust upon it and that it take immediate steps not only to put the country on a more thorough state of defense, but also to exert all its power and employ all its resources to bring the government of the German empire to terms and end the war."—President Wilson to U. S. congress.

To Lorne Kendall

who died "somewhere in France" while "Doing his duty"

He has gone across the river
Where no pain or sorrow comes,
From all anguish now delivered,
He has gone from his loved ones.

Oh, we miss our son and brother,
Miss him more than tongue can tell,
But we trust he's with the Father,
Then we know all will be well.

He had gone to render service
To his country and his king;
Left his home and friends and kindred,
Did the brave and manly thing

When the call to duty sounded
In the place he called his home,
He at once to it responded,
Parted from the friends he'd known

While on duty he was stricken
With pneumonia "out in France",
For a while the life fire flickered,
Then went out . . . away in France.

Through his death our hearts are broken,
But we trust we'll meet again
When the cards of life are broken
In that land so free of pain.

Till that time we must be patient,
Do our duty as he's done,
Then at last after the waiting,
We will meet with our loved one.

By a "Friend."

War Loan Greatly Over Subscribed

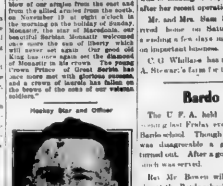
OTTAWA, March 29. The Minister of Finance announced in the Dominion House to-night that subscriptions to the extent of $150,000,000 to the government's first Victory Loan had been received. The loan was floated at 5 per cent. and the subscriptions were opened on April 4. The minister expressed himself as very well pleased with the success of the loan, which, he considered, showed the confidence of the people in the country.

Sir Thomas White, in moving the first reading of the bill, said that the amount was more than sufficient to cover the expenditure for the current year. He thought that the success of the loan showed that Canada, at the present time, could borrow on her own war financing among her own people. That was not to be within our power to be self-sustaining financially. If the people of Canada will continue to economize we shall find, the war will the greater part of its debt held by Canadians. The world recognize a very strong position which we should strive to our utmost to obtain.

SERBIAN RHAPSODY

A special edition of the official Serbian newspaper Srpski Narod, announced the resignation of Monastir in these words: "Beneath the formidable blow of our armies from the east and from the allied armies from the north, on November 19 at eight o'clock in the morning on the holiday of Sunday, Monastir, the star of Macedonia, our beautiful Serbian Monastir welcomed once more the sun of liberty which will never set again. Our splendid army, which has just liberated Monastir in this event. Ten young crown Prince of Great Serbia has once more met with glorious success, and a crown of laurels has fallen on the brows of the sons of our valiant soldiers."

Hockey Star and Officer



Better known as Howard one of the three famous hockey brothers and the bigger of the famous "Dynamite Twins," this powerful athlete became captain in the 231th Overseas Battalion, Brothers Howard and Harry Cleghorn, the latter also well known hockey districts. He was a famous player in the N.H.A. for years.

KING AS PRESIDENT

Glimpse of Novel Imperial Constitution For British Peoples

In a study of "The Problems of Empire," Lionel Curtis deals with the preliminaries of a constitution for the British Commonwealth of Nations. After he proceeds to call the commonwealth. Mr. Curtis would provide a great central Imperial parliament, in which all the colonies, and, to a certain extent, the dependencies of the British Empire would be represented, and would give this parliament power to arrange all matters involving the foreign policy of the Empire. The position of the King-Emperor in the scheme suggested would be that of "hereditary president."

After considering various proposals, and dismissing them as impracticable, Mr. Curtis arrives at the conclusion that there should be one British parliament as at present, with power in control of the domestic affairs of the British Isles and the other, or "Imperial parliament," for the foreign affairs of the Empire. The colonies are to be fully represented in this second or "Imperial parliament," and every colony is to furnish a minister, with or without a portfolio, to its cabinet. Each colony would continue to make its own parliament at home for the management of its domestic affairs, as at present. Mr. Curtis further proposes that the dependencies of the British Empire—such as British India—should be represented in the Imperial parliament.

4,000 ACRES OF HORSORS

Unendurable Sights and Sounds But Quick Recovery

Urging never-ceasing attack, a British correspondent writes from France: It is not only the burning shell and fear of attack that the enemy has to endure. The sights of the battlefield weaken men's fibre even more than the sounds. A German soldier wrote as follows: "Trenches quite fallen in. . . . Dead and buried were to be seen in masses in and out of the trenches. . . . By night men were lying near piled over on the top of the other. On the way to our 6th Company, which we found after a search of more than a half hours, there were lying a number of corpses and men buried by shells and men who had not been properly buried. We saw terrible sights."

I have left out the worst passages, but this is enough to hint what the enemy's soldiers have to endure, and the new battlefield reveals scores of such spectacles. A number of men have not been able to endure it. Almost all speak of men, not officers, are glad to be prisoners. But this alleged German demoralization is physical, and the body recovers. When we realize the enemy recovers quickly

Private, Guest of General

The new armies have destroyed many old traditions, and the passing of such a one is seen years the Yorkshire Evening Post in the announcement that Pte Albert Hill, V.C., of Denton, is staying at Aldershaw as the guest of Brigadier-General R. J. Kentish. Pte Hill was decorated by the King at Buckingham Palace and in the evening met the brigadier general, who commanded the brigade when Hill won the V.C., and was the guest of the general at the Oxford Music Hall and occupied a box. A few days Hill was the guest of the general at Aldershot, and an officer and gentleman invested in Denton, where they were met by troops, a regimental band, and there was a civic reception.

"Damaged Goods" To Appear At The Variety

"DAMAGED GOODS," a film feature of seven reels, a soothing indictment of society conditions, widely predominant, will be shown at Variety Theatre, Tofield, on Thursday, April 12. We sincerely know whom to begin in writing up the naturalist this production or instating the bacilla to society in general from its production. Having seen it, we can is, "All who can, should see it." Vice ain't its accompanying diseases is rampant in society today. Society in general seeks to hide this condition, professional men have taken no active part in the work of prevention, in fact practically nothing has been done in any fashion to stamp out loathsome disease or its indiscriminate increase. "DAMAGED GOODS" is a play, it is true, but the facts are portrayed in such a manner that all who see it, particularly parents, and young men and women, cannot be other wise than most forcibly impressed with the responsibilities which they owe to themselves and their sons and daughters. It is neglect of these things which is criminal. The child demands to be well born. By all means let all who can see "DAMAGED GOODS." The production is being brought to Tofield under the auspices of the Tofield Ministerial Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Dodds, Sr., of Edmonton, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dodds.

The Tofield Senior Girl's Branch of the Women's Auxiliary, of the M. E. C. C. will meet at the home of Mrs. Lovesavage on Tuesday April 10th, at 4.30 p. m.

Billy Word has succeeded in getting the plan of Beaver Hills Park subdivision finally cancelled after lengthy litigation. Frank will soon now have a job turning over the old sod which has been strangest to farming methods for a few years.

THE PLOW OUR HOPE

This was One of the Significant Phrases Recently Used by the Prime Minister of Great Britain

There is Only One Way to Reduce the

HIGH COST OF LIVING

That is to

INCREASE PRODUCTION

Everyone cannot OPERATE A FARM, but every GARDEN that is cultivated this year will increase the Food Supply.

EVERY MAN YOU SET will mean children, and more MORE FOOD. These will mean INCREASED PROSPERITY IN CANADA. This now is THE WAY IN WHICH YOU CAN HELP.

THIS SHOULD BE CANADA'S GREATEST YEAR OF NATIONAL SERVICE

The appeal comes to everyone. Whether you live in a City, Town or Village or on a Farm. No matter how small your garden patch is, it will help.

The Alberta Department of Agriculture is at your service in this work. If you want information or assistance, write to the Department, or write to the nearest School of Agriculture or Demonstration Farm and your request will have immediate attention.

TEST ALL THE SEEDS YOU SOW

We will do this for you if you send in samples of the seed.

FARM HELP. If you require farm help, write to one of the following:—

Agent of Department of Agriculture, Board of Trade Building, Lethbridge.
Agent of Department of Agriculture, Dairy Commissioner's Office, Calgary.
Agent of Department of Agriculture, Office of Publicity Commissioner, Edmonton.

Let this year be one of

THE GREATEST EFFORT OF ALBERTA

We shall be pleased to mail you bulletins upon "Vegetable Gardening," "Poultry Raising" or any other agricultural endeavor, as well as to give assistance through the officials of the Department.

Special Easter Services Among The Churches

Methodist

Special Easter Service was held in the Methodist church last Sunday. The choir rendered two anthems, "Hosannas," and "Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord," solos by Mrs. Ward and P. McMullen.

The pastor preached on the last verse of the 15th Chapter, of Corinthians:—"Therefore be steadfast, immovable always abounding in the work of the Lord."

The doctrine of immortality was argued out very logically and boldly in this chapter by St. Paul, not apply to satisfy the speculative mind of the hearer in Corinth, but to make the church more alive in Christian life and service. This was the line of thought, and the speaker used as an illustration of Christian steadfastness the British holding their position in the Battle of the Marne Every speaker on National Service has emphasized that the greatest service to the nation is rendered by the boys at the front, who are fighting for her liberty and her ideals, so the Work of the Lord, is to engage most strenuously in the best way to establish His rule in the hearts and lives of men.

Roman Catholic

Rev. Father Kwiin of Edmonton conducted special Easter mass for the Tofield Catholic Congregation last Sunday, morning and evening, in the building recently occupied by R. A. Palmer. Catholic services are held regularly on the second Sunday of each month.

Presbyterian

The Sunday School and regular services at St Andrews church were largely attended on Easter Sunday, in the evening the church was filled to its capacity. At the morning service, in addition to an Anthem by the choir, Mr. John Murray sang a solo. In the evening, besides an Anthem, Mr. and Mrs. Pinder sang a duet and Mr Newbiggaing a solo. Rev Mr. Stevenson and the pastor gave brief Easter Messages.

The Communion Service will be held next Sunday 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Rickner.

Anglican

Easter was observed at Holy Trinity by two Celebrations of Holy Communion, one at 8.30 and one at 11 a. m. A special service for children at 10 a. m. a pleasing feature of which was the offering of the boxes containing the results of the Children's Lenten Self Denial for Missionary work in the District of Kangra, India. Evening Service was at 7.30 and the music at all the Services was of an appropriate character.

Easter Service was held at Logan School on Sunday Afternoon at 3 p. m. when the Rev. W. Lovesedge addressed his remarks to the children on the Theme of the Easter Message. There was a very good turn out, and a very hearty Service.

Serve Save Produce

EVERY ONE CAN do something for his country

Some can bear arms
Some can produce food
Some can make munitions
Some can give money

It is the privilege of all to help.

YOU CAN SERVE by Fighting—Working—Saving—Giving

This is NATIONAL SERVICE

Are YOU doing your part?

ALL EYES turn now to the Canadian Farmer, for he can render the Empire SPECIAL SERVICE in this sternest year of the war.

But—our farms are badly undermanned—25,000 men are needed on the land.

With insufficient help, the Man on the Land fights an uphill fight to meet the pressing need for Food.

CITY and TOWN can help.

Municipal Councils, Churches and Schools, and other organizations, both of men and women, can render National Service by directing all available labour to the Land.

Farmers themselves can exchange labour. School boys can assist.

Were you raised on a farm? Can you drive a team? Can you handle fork or hoe? If you can't fight, you can produce. Spend the Summer working on the Farm.

Let every man, woman and child in the Dominion who has access to Land, no matter how small the plot, make it produce Food in 1917.

A delighted man was L. L. Crawling on Wednesday of last week with the results of his auction sale. Rising prices offered ran high, five cows bringing him $565. Advertised widely by the district circulation of the Standard, it drew a large crowd who brought with it a lively demand for live stock. Even "Shorty" Carter, the auctioneer left impelled to state that it was the best sale he had cried of the season.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, APRIL 12 1917.

NOT many weeks will pass until warm weather will be upon us. Indeed the agricultural section of the community is not impatient with the prolonged cold season. With them urban populations will be in full sympathy. But centres of population, no matter how large or how small have problems of their own to contend with. Not the least of these is the matter of sanitation and health. With the passing of the winter comes the special need of unsightliness of street, lane and back-yard conditions looms up prominently. With the coming of warm weather comes the certain appearance of the common house fly, the carrier of filth and disease and propagator of dangerous epidemics such as infantile paralysis, etc Tofield has in the past suffered little from epidemic and this has largely been due to careful and persistent attention to the maintenance of sanitary conditions throughout town. The early removal of all materials from public and private properties which tend to make breeding places for flies accompanied with proper disinfecting will contribute very largely to the continuance of the excellent health conditions which we have enjoyed in the past.

GOOD progress has been made on the side of the Allies during the past week. The United States has definitely taken sides against the Huns and already has made good use of her gun powder upon the high seas. Chile, Brazil and other South American governments are falling in line. Upon the western front fierce engagements in the air and on land have taken place with fortune strongly favoring the Allies. Indeed it looks as though a spring drive had commenced and as though the German lines were beginning to break. We can well be assured that pressure will not be allowed to let up and the enemy will be given no breaking space.

Tofield Seed Grain High in Germination

Germination tests received by the Secretary of the Agricultural Society of the seed grain shown at the Seed Fair from the Seed Laboratory show that there is considerable grain especially oats in the district which does not show a good per cent of germination. It would therefore be advisable for farmers to thoroughly test their seed before sowing as some of the best looking grain tested the poorest.

The result of the test in as full ows exhibitor's names being in the order in which prizes were awarded.

Canadian Club Organized

The Tofield Canadian Club was provisionally organized last Tuesday night, about a dozen charter members being present. The constitution and by-laws were submitted by the special committee and, with a slight modification, adopted. Annual membership fee was set at one dollar. Committee to select membership and arrange details for the inaugural luncheon were appointed. Speakers from outside points for this meeting the date of which will be announced later.

Alex Leonie was the lucky winner of the draw for the Red Cross Watch last Saturday at the Varsity. The Red Cross realized the sum of $51.50 on the draw.

J. B. McCallum, M. L. A., of this constituency, was a visitor in town to day, renewing many old acquaintances.

His First Railway Journey

A Saskatchewan citizen, 60 years of age had his first ride on a railway train the other day when he went from Lobret on the Grand Trunk Pacific to Regina for some necessary hospital attention. This was a highly successful farmer who had been brought to the Western country years ago and had grown up and remained on the land. It was over thirty five years since he had been to Regina and the wh le development of that City with its street cars, electric lights and such stuff, was beyond his experience. A neighbor reports seeing him at the station waiting for his great adventure, expectation in his eyes, the prospects of a field day He knew of trains, of course for he had often helped ship cattle and by train, even out of late years the Grand Trunk Pacific has run almost to his gate, but his life has been so much out of touch with the world that he could say no-day. Just what interest he for between the start of his early days and the modern days of a train with passenger in his story could be gleaned

Interesting Newsy Letters From Our Soldier Boys

Privates Ernie Rogers and A. McMullen relate interesting experiences in Old Country. Charlie Rowland writes from firing line. Standard readers are given pleasure of reading of the experiences of Our Soldier Boys by the recipients of their letters

Writing to his father recently from the Old Country, Ernie Rogers says:

Well, here I am in Glasgow. It scarcely seems possible but it is true. Right of the hand eyes are here including Bruce We left London last night and arrived here at 8 o'clock this morning The Scotch Express is the fastest train in England We have not seen much of the city yet. We may go over to Edinburgh to-morrow and we will likely go back to London on Monday. We will go back in day light and see the country. There was snow nearly all the way last week Essie yet altho' he was over to one but. They look o k.

Some of the boys are breaking noses to harness today. We see lots of aeroplanes. One looped the loop this morning close to our camp Yesterday there was a Zeppelin raid. Search lights search the sky all night The French got one near Paris at 8500 ft elevation. It fell in flames

This is a nice looking country queer old houses. Saw an old church yesterday over 800 years old. It is still in use. Big ones are taken down. You should see the key hole in the door. The key is as big as my hand.

Percy Rowe and I walked out yesterday and saw above church. Just across the road opposite, we got our supper 2 eggs with bread & butter, 2 boiled eggs each, 3 tarts, all for one shilling We thought that was cheap. This is a great old country—the Mother of us all. Hope you are all well

"Dad"

"Dad," A. McMullen, writing to his wife and family under date of Mch 18th, last writes a newsy letter parts of which are of interest to his many friends. He says in part: "Since writing my last we have moved camp and are down the Thames from London . . . We came thro' the north end of London and it looked like 'some city.' Every one was waving flags and bands. We are now in the 13th Can Construction Batt. and the whole 211th Batt's in B. Co. We are in with the 218th Batt. Jim, Bruce and Ernie Rogers are here Stew George but have not seen Ernie yet altho' he was over to one but. They look o k.

Pte. Charlie Rowland, writing Somewhere in France" to his mother, under date of March 1st, says: "The snow is all gone and it is getting warm again but is sure was muddy some places, halfway up to your knees That was in the trenches, but it is getting dry again. . . I suppose there will be something doing out here this spring. They sure give it to the Germans all the time. I think it will be over this year but you never can tell. I am sending a cigar so I write. My bed mate got a box tonight. That accounts for it. Not often we get such luxuries out here. I saw an aeroplane come down the other day. It sure was some sight. It was some hit with a big gun. It must have been over a mile in the air when it was hit. It came down tumbling over and over."

Lady Octogenarian Knits Socks for Soldiers

A fine example of perseverance in patriotic industry for younger folk has been set by an esteemed and respected lady in the community who has passed the age mark of four score years. We speak of Mrs A. W. Yeger who since last November has knit 94 pairs of socks for the soldiers. Not a native Canadian, yet this kindly old lady has quietly and unobtrusively persevered in her patriotic endeavor with great success. She is surely "Doing her bit" for her adopted King and Country. We are proud of her.

Women's Institute

An unusually interesting meeting of the Women's Institute was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. C. Dadds. House cleaning was the general subject to be discussed and it was admirably handled. Mrs. Mahaffey read a paper on "Floor Cleaning". Mrs. Billingham on "Window cleaning". Mrs. Fields on "Wall-cleaning". Mrs. Thomson on "The Pantry" and Mrs. Kellner on "Cleaning Carpets and Linoleums." Mrs. Hunt contributed an interesting report of the Women's Institute Convention recently held at Calgary which she attended as delegate from the local Branch.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Jardine on the 2nd Tuesday in May. The subject will be "Gardening, vegetable flowers, educational value of the school garden." "Lawns, how to prepare and maintain."

THE PLOW OUR HOPE

This was One of the Significant Phrases Recently Used by the Prime Minister of Great Britain

There Is Only One Way to Reduce the
HIGH COST OF LIVING
That is to
INCREASE PRODUCTION

Everyone cannot OPERATE A FARM, but every GARDEN that is cultivated this year will increase the Food Supply.

EVERY MAN YOU SET will mean more children, and your MORE HOME. These will mean INCREASED VITALITY IN CANADA. This may be THE WAY IN WHICH YOU CAN HELP.

THIS SHOULD BE CANADA'S GREATEST YEAR OF NATIONAL SERVICE

The appeal comes to everyone. Whether you live in a City, Town or Village or on a Farm. No matter how small your garden patch is, it will help.

The Alberta Department of Agriculture is at your service in this work. If you want information or assistance, write to the Department, or write to the nearest School of Agriculture or Demonstration Farm and your request will have immediate attention.

TEST ALL THE SEEDS YOU SOW

We will do this for you if you send in samples of the seed.

FARM HELP. If you require farm help, write to one of the following:—

Agent of Department of Agriculture, Board of Trade Building, Lethbridge.
Agent of Department of Agriculture, Dairy Commissioner's Office, Calgary.
Agent of Department of Agriculture, Office of Publicity Commissioner, Edmonton.

Let this year be one of
THE GREATEST EFFORT OF ALBERTA

We shall be pleased to mail you bulletins upon "Vegetable Gardening," "Poultry Raising" or any other agricultural endeavor, as well as to give assistance through the officials of the Department.

Dope Fiend Enters Somers' Drug Store Monday Night

On arriving at his store Tuesday morning of this week J W. Somers, druggist, found unmistakable signs that his dispensary had been surreptitiously entered during the night, the marauder entering by the rear window. That his mission was for the purpose of securing drugs was proved by the fact that a quantity of opiates had been taken and no other articles touched. On the dispensing counter a prescription blank bore evidence of having a quantity of the drug spilled upon it as the person proceeded to fold it up into a small parcel Burned matches of a peculiar make gave a clew to the possible miscreant. The matter is in the hands of the provincial police.

Customer—"I wish I had as good a head of hair as you. I have tried everything to remedy my baldness but without result."

Barber—"Have you ever tried rubbing your head with snow?"

Customer—"Certainly not! That seems ridiculous."

Barber—Why ridiculous? My brother is a watchmaker, and he tells me that sleet makes the hair seeing."

Serve Save Produce

EVERY ONE CAN do something for his country

Some can bear arms
Some can produce food
Some can make munitions
Some can give money

It is the privilege of all to help.

YOU CAN SERVE by Fighting—Working—Saving—Giving

This is NATIONAL SERVICE
Are YOU doing your part?

ALL EYES turn now to the Canadian Farmer, for he can render the Empire SPECIAL SERVICE in this sternest year of the war.

But—our farms are badly undermanned—25,000 men are needed on the land.

With insufficient help, the Man on the Land fights an uphill fight to meet the pressing need for Food.

CITY and TOWN can help.

Municipal Councils, Churches and Schools, and other organizations, both of men and women, can render National Service by directing all available labour to the Land.

Farmers themselves can exchange labour. School boys can assist.

Were you raised on a farm? Can you drive a team? Can you handle fork or hoe? If you can't fight, you can produce. Spend the Summer working on the Farm.

Let every man, woman and child in the Dominion who has access to Land, no matter how small the plot, make it produce Food in 1917.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA THURSDAY, APRIL 10, 1917.

John Tomkinson Vegreville, the road Inspector for constituency, H. E. Foles of Bashaw, Inspector, and J. St. McCallum of Hanlan, the acting member are all of the opinion of candidates for the Liberal nomination of the constituency to be held at Vegreville on the 20th inst. at which the party candidate will be chosen.

Speaking for the west side of the railroad particularly of the territory of which Tofield is the center of population it is natural that Mr. McCallum who has been the local representative of the constituency for the present term of legislature will have the strong support for such honor.

The poem reproduced below was the occasion in which Trooper McCretton on the battle fields of the I. Known best his life the boys were asked France last year by Trooper Cur between the contending armies, or Bob Anderson a local mate of bringing in the wounded. The Trooper T. Ward Williams, escapes tells the story vividly of some Wardle and in a recent letter home of the "hour spells" which our after one of our long spells." On brave here have to go through.

"OLD MAC"

Trooper A. K. MacKinnon, "Canan Lock gn Brath."
Died of wounds.

You had the heart of a Colt, old Mac,
With your real old Highland pace,
And you could not brook to bide in peace
When the call to others came.
So you were one of the first to list
And you laughed at shell and bomb,
Knowing the dangers we had to face
When they sent us down on the Somme.

Now, well I mind, when another fell,
And your Mess brought forth for him.
Our empty saddles are filling fast,
And we now ride grim and trim
Yet you would have written a line, I'm sure.
Had Fate but made deverer
That you keep riding the roads of France,
And turned thumbs down for me.

You had the readiest laugh, old Mac,
That echoed our lightest joys,
So whether in camp or estaminet
You could be "one of the boys."
They'll miss your voice from the troop for long,
And from out of the squadron too;
They'll be lonesome ghosts on the ride to night—
Do they ride as fast as you?

I often think, as a soldier will
As soldiers have always thought —
Of the vanished ones who came with us,
Rode with us, would, and fought.
So I see "Slim" Gayer on the ride with you
And a dozen more bucks beside.
(They wouldn't be officers, over the crest,
When you travelled the Great Divide.)

There were neither of us with stripes, old Mac,
Oh well! it is cause for shame!
We were happy enough to be doing our bit
And playing our part in the game
It is not for you that our sorrow flows,
Since you no help require
But a poor old mother is broken, I know,
In a village of old Cantyre

I know you were Scotch to the core, old Mac,
But your heart loved ever best
The spruce bread and the places wide,
Where men think big in the West.
So Canada claimed you too at heart,
And there's honor in this assure,
That your name with Canada's First and died
As one of Canada's own.

W. G. Montgomery Returns

W. G. Montgomery who last year left farming at Rose Creek to spend some time in the U. S., returned last Friday. Like all the others who have spent some time in this part of creation and later for some reason or another left, have departed to other fields, he felt the irresistible pull of Alberta upon all those who have been her sons by adoption for a season, and was glad to pull his freight back to the sunny province of the Double Ion. He spent the major portion of his time since leaving here near Allsay, 100 miles south of Portland, Oregon.

Mr. Montgomery stated to the Standard that there is a healthy flow of emmigration from that portion of the U. S. to Alberta. The train on which he came north was crowded to capacity with settlers looking for Alberta and he could scarcely get a seat. He will assist the young people on their farm at Rose Creek this summer.

Miss Letourneau Injured

When one dog made a dash for another on 4th Ave. E. last Saturday morning the animal caught Miss Olive Letourneau off her guard knocking her to the sidewalk with such violence that she was rendered unconscious from the shock. She was taken to Dr. Tofield's where for some time she lay before coming to. Later she was removed to her home. She was sufficiently improved to go to Ryley Monday morning to attempt teaching her public school class, but was given a week's vacation by the board to recuperate.

D. Francis & Sons Purchase A Fine Clydesdale Stallion

D. Francis and Sons last week purchased the pure bred Clydesdale Stallion, Drumbolene Knight, an Alberta born six-year-old, from A. L. Dolar of High River at the Calgary Horse Show. This young stud is a direct grandson of the highest priced Scottish Clyde, Baron Buchlyvie, which sold for the small sum of $47,500. Drumbolene Knight won 3rd place at Calgary in a class of 23 and is the first Alberta born two-year-old to win a prize in the same class. D. Francis & Sons are going in for better class horse raising and are to be congratulated on securing such a splendid sire for their ranch.

Rev. Hugh Dobson, B. D. of Regina, social service secretary in the west for the Methodist church, delivered last night in the Methodist church here, a very instructive and interesting lecture on the work of the League.

Bewick Bros who have the contract with the town for the pulling of the casing from well No. 3, applied to council last week for the elimination of Clause No 2 of the contract which calls for the payment to the town of the cost of the casing they may fail to pull. When applying the maximum drawing power the string might pull apart and this, they feel, would create a condition which would be unfair to them if the lower section of pipe could not be salvaged. At a special session of council held at the mayor's office last Friday morning council agreed to the elimination of the clause.

Help Shorten the War

JOIN THE ROYAL NAVY

Let not the Navy, now of all times be hampered by lack of men. The first urgent appeal to Canadians to join the Royal Navy was made three months ago. The need is greater today than it was then. Previous sea experience is not necessary to join this most attractive and essential branch of the service.

Men of British parentage, between the ages of eighteen and thirty-eight years may join today and leave immediately for overseas service.

At last Spring is here, can it be true? The farmers like the go jokes, now getting to work on the land. Mr. A. Roberge has started discing and preparing the ground for seeding. He estimated just four 75 acres of wheat under cultivation.

On account of the long and severe winter many farmers have been left short of hay.

L. Hopper has sold his grey draught horse, a thing of no small value.

G. A. Trent has installed a new roller feed grinder on his farm.

C. Moss has completed the section of his new garage for his automobile. He is now preparing to erect a new barn to accommodate his growing herd of stock.

Mesdames C. and W. Roberge paid the Tofield picture show a visit last Saturday.

We suppose the Local Improvement Committee has not travelled over the main road in this district lately. Otherwise he would have had some very bad and dangerous spots in the road repaired.

Miss Nina Wood returned home from Bashaw last Saturday.

H. G. Thannell of the Viking News paid Tofield a business visit last Monday night. The concern of which Mr. Thannell is the official head, is it is reported, seeking to establish a chain of country weeklies along the line after the manner of Mr. Eastley on the C. P. R. south of the G. T. P.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Mitchell, Tofield, April 10, 1917, a daughter.

Don't Blame the Town

If you want to live in the kind of a town,

Like the kind of a town you like,

You needn't dig your clothes in a grip

And start on a long, long hike,

You will only find what you left behind,

For there's nothing that's really new

It's a knock at yourself, when you knock your town.

It isn't the town, it's you.

Real towns are made by men not afraid

Lest somebody else gets ahead;

When everyone works and nobody shirks

You can raise a town from the dead.

And if while you make your personal stake,

Your neighbor can make one too;

Your town will be what you want it to be.

It isn't the town, it's you.

Mrs. J. G. Power, Hanna.

AN OLD-TIME SALE BILL

A Queer Lot of Property Listed for Sale at Auction Seventy-one Years Ago

Just such a Sale as auctioneers used to hold in the old days, when a sale meant more than a mere business transaction, is described in the following bill, which was found in an old trunk belonging to the late Mr. Thomas Hall, of Bath, England. The bill was printed in 1846, and was on a small sheet, 7 inches in size. We give it in the spelling on the bill, which was evidently the author's own. The auctioneer mentioned must have been a character in his way:

PUBLIC SALE

Interesting Newsy Letters From Our Soldier Boys

Writing to Her Mr. Bowen on day date of Feb 18. Percy Bowen who is one of our Tofield boys with the 211th in the Old Country, says "I have been requesting for [illegible] write you ever since we landed, but have not missed the opportunity until now. We had a very pleasant ten voyage across, with no exciting experience, only the usual sea sickness that could be expected of 6,000 land lubbers. We landed last not all well as we had some cases of diphtheria, mumps and various other sicknesses. We are now in quarantine until March 3rd. This was the first time in my life that I was in a so-called [illegible] because that is practically what it was for we were not allowed out only on such occasions as were necessary. Meals and [illegible] were brought in to our [illegible] confinement and as soon as one case was through with there would be another I have had the best of health. Did not have any of those complaints but there was one thing that I do complain and that was a hungry stomach on more days than one. On more than one occasion our rations were rather small.

We had a very cold snap, the coldest here, they say, in the last [illegible] Unfortunately at the same time we had a shortage of coal and we would be delighted when bed time would come so as to get to bed and get warm. Marvellous to say, we all seemed without any sickness resulting therefrom. Sad to Montgomery was the only one of Tofield boys who had any signs of sickness and his case of mumps was a very light.

We changed camps recently, going to [illegible] from Witley to Purbeck, now being about 11 miles from London. We are aeroplanes flying around all day and at night the search lights are very interesting. The 218th are now with us. I met Geo. Bruce and Ernest Rogers. The first night we arrived they came around. We were sure glad to see them and they to see us. Have had time yet to see London but we are living in hope to see this wonderful place. Sorry to hear of the death of Rev. R. Whillans and Mr. James Mainville. Hope everything is going along well at Tofield.

R. F. Bowen.

In another letter received this week from Pte. A Mc'Millen by Mrs. McMillen the writer evidently takes up the thread of Percy Bowen's letter and says that he and Percy are on a 4 days leave in London. (Mrs Cheel.) He says: We will go back down the Thames 16 miles. We have certainly seen some of London today. Buckingham Palace where the Royalty lives, London Tower, London Bridge, saw the Guards at Buckingham Palace at 10 o'clock. We had the good luck to see the King riding by in an automobile. Saw the place where Lloyd George lives, also Balfour and 3 or 4 other notables. We are going to try and beg a big debate in the House of Lords or Parliament Buildings if we can get in. We saw also St. Paul's Cathedral and the Bank of England. At the London Tower we saw the Crown Jewels of all the heads of England, saw the very spot where Mary, Queen of Scots and other women and notables, were beheaded. Geo. that London Tower is some place. We also saw Old Bailey, the court where all the criminals are tried.

Well after we see more we will tell you more. This is a town of a life time. We have all been clean [illegible] and I am in A2 class, or as good as the best. Rod Montgomery can't go across. He and 50 other boys are going to be sent to school for awhile. He hated to go. I felt sorry for him, he is such a good hearted kid. John Morton is attending school learning trench building and engineering and will join us before we go.

John Letourneau, Johnny Lee and Harold Turner went to see the country and for the trips.

We are stopping at a Y. M. C. A. hut in London and beds and meals only cost half as much as at other places. The Y. M. C. A. is doing a noble work.

Pte. A. E. Musson of the 196th Battalion, at one time a member of the Merchants Bank at Tofield writing to Rev. W. Leversedge from the Old Country, says that he is in fine shape and he had recently returned from having an enjoy able holiday at Nottingham. He expected, at the time of writing, to be sent across the channel in the early date. He maintains a keen interest in Tofield and would be glad to have news from here at any time.

Mrs. John McDonald this week received a welcome letter from her son Bert who is in England with a machine gun section of the 6th Can. Batt'n. He says "Just a line to let you know that I am o.k. and in the best of health. I guess by the time you receive this I will be in France. Haven't heard from John lately, don't know whether he is in England or not. There is supposed to be something doing over here soon. We are going to give old Fritz h—l this summer and I think it will be over this year." Speaking of the scarcity of goods, he says, "They are as scarce as old maids' children. If I saw one I would be ashamed to look it in the face."

Inquiring about his dad, Smoky says: "How is dad getting on? I bet he is some busy sand man. Did he let his beard grow this winter? If he saw one of the farmers over here he would throw a fit. I was up in Scotland last week. Was in Glascow and Edinburgh. The latter is some nice place. Don't like Scotland however, too many hills and rocks like around Sudbury. Like Canada much better. I saw Mr. Rigby who used to be in Tofield over here a short time ago. Regards to all.

Bert.

NOTICE

NOTICE TO CREDITORS AND CLAIMANTS

In the Estate of George Newton Walker, late of Tofield, in the Province of Alberta, Farmer deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN pursuant to the Trustee Act that Judge Crawford that all persons having claims against the Estate of the late George Newton Walker who died to or about the month of October, A. D. 1916, are required to send to Vedie Walker of Tofield, aforesaid, Administratrix, on or before the 3rd day of June, 1917, a full statement of their claims and of any securities held by them duly verified, and that after that date the Administratrix will proceed to distribute the assets of the deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which notice has been filed with the said Administratrix, or of which she shall have had notice at the time of such distribution.

DATED at Tofield, Alberta, this 2nd day of April, A. D. 1917.

Game Act Amended

No More Useless Slaughter of Ducks

At the recent session of the legislature the Game Act was amended, and now provides for a close season on antelope until the first of October 1925.

It also provides that wild geese shall receive the same protection as [illegible] the open season being from the first of September, for both ducks and geese until the 15th of December, with a bag limit of 30 ducks per day or 200 for the season.

The clause relating to the killing of White winged Scoter, (commonly called Black ducks) south of Tofield 50, has been repealed. These birds will now receive the same protection as all other species of ducks.

The shooting of swans and cranes is now prohibited at all times.

All shore birds are now protected, and there is no open season therefor, except for Black bellied Plover, Wilson snipe, American Golden plover, Greater Yellow legs and Yellow Legs the open season for these birds being the same as for ducks and geese, i. e. from Sept. 1st to December 15th.

The shooting of prairie chicken (sharp-tailed grouse, pinnated grouse or partridge) (Bob white quail) is prohibited until the first day of October 1918.

It will also be of interest to our readers to know that a Treaty has been entered into by the Dominion of Canada, and the United States for the protection of migratory birds. It provides that there shall be no shooting of migratory game birds or insectivorous birds during the spring migration. It specially provides that swans and cranes shall be protected at all seasons of the year, for at least ten years also that no shore bird other than those specified above shall be hunted or shot at, at any time.

Percy Swain In Hospital - Broken Arm

In Tempestuous Voyage Was Washed Almost Overboard

An Intensely Interesting Letter from Patriotic Tofield Soldier Boy

EF Through the kindness of his sister, Mrs. Wallington Glenn, we are enabled this week to give our readers the pleasure of enjoying the chronicled experiences and impressions of a popular Tofield soldier boy abroad. Ed.

"Arrived in Liverpool a few days ago, and am now in hospital here with a broken arm and badly sprained knee. It makes me mad as I am so impatient to be with the boys again. I may be pinned up here 2 months, its very aggravating. The first few days out of Halifax the winds were very strong and the sea running mountains high. It looked at times as if we must be engulfed, with the rails almost touching the water as she rolled from side to side. Great combers continually breaking over her. It was one of them that injured me, catching me unaware and sweeping me across the deck with a suddenness well nigh unbelievable with the above result. Both legs and my left arm badly went overboard so guess I can count myself lucky to be here at all.

The precautions taken against submarine attack were absolutely complete. I had loads of boys (about 2000) left at 6 a. m. with worship with us all the way across. Boat drill was held every day, and no man from the top officer down was allowed to take off his life belt from the time he turned out in the morning till he went to bed at night, not even, for meals and when we reached the word place for them we were not allowed to undress or even to take our shoes off. A strong guard of us patroled the deck in turns watching for the mischief maker. A 6 in. gun was mounted on the stern of our boat with plenty of ammunition handy. About 2 days before reaching Liverpool four submarine chasers took us in charge, darting here and there all around us like a hob on legs. Oh! they say they are so quick. They are small affairs driven by gasoline and travel about 46 miles an hour. They are built specially for chasing submarines. At night one of them placed a light on its stern and our boat had to follow it. Nobody was allowed to smoke or light a match on deck as soon as it became dusk and all port holes and windows on board were heavily curtained.

A submarine was spotted some distance ahead of us one day and our boat turned around and put full steam ahead for about 12 miles to get out of her way.

We were 7 days on the train arriving at Halifax the following Saturday after leaving Edmonton and I wasn't very sorry either as it was getting somewhat monotonous. Quite a number of Americans were with us. I love to talk with them; they are so interesting. Proudly.

We were wrecked close to Montreal, three cars and the engine dished, but fortunately did not quite turn over so none of us were hurt, although all the windows on one side of our I was in were smashed to bits, by bumping against an engine that was standing on another line. A train load of boys ahead of us were not so fortunate, six cars rolling down an embankment, but did not hear the number of injured.

My admiration for that married man with us is great. Besides my chum Walker, I have another who has left a wife and five small kids behind. I asked him why he signed up and he said. "As my children grow up and read the history of this awful war they'll say to their dad, 'Well, Pappy, dad has let us.' I think their sacrifice is immense, putting to shame any eligible single young fellow who refuses to do his part in this struggle for freedom.

It is interesting to talk with the wounded boys here, the nineteen-ers escapes from death with the shells flying thick around them and the mud in worst of all to contend with.

One of our waiters on board was on the Battle of Jutland. I had quite a talk with him. He told me the British tried to pick up some of the German sailors struggling in the water but their officers wouldn't have it so, and shot their own men rather than see them saved.

This is a public school trained if to a temporary hospital of 2500 beds and it asked the Pte. if he should be fit for duty again and he told me I should be in time to help the boys finish the murdering Hun. Gee! I only hope I'll have the pleasure of helping to build a railroad into that filthy hung. He was a barrister old bugger that was in fining up my arm talk about causing unnecessary pain, well I should say he did. On the boat they had no splints and the ships ca pentar fixed up a temporary one for me and on arrival here it had to be done properly of course. They bandaged my bare arm with a whole lot of rubber plaster on board and the Dr. here says myself it ra if he were skinning a rabbit. I sure though he was taking my skin off with it.

There was a number of accidents on board owing to the rough weather. One fellow was thrown against an iron post and smashed his nose to a pulp.

I can't stick the Old Country system of fire meals a day any more. It seems we are eating all the time here, and yet we have only one decent Canadian meal the whole day and that in the midday meal when they give us roast meat, vegetables and pudding, tea for tea or coffee with it. I don't like that a little bit.

At 6 a. m. we have eggs, bread and butter and tea. At 9 a. m. mush and milk but no sugar with it. At 12 noon, a decent meal at last with bread and butter and jam. At 7 p. m. cocoa and bread and butter. Give me Sgt-of Canadian meals in preference to such a string as that.

Please excuse bad writing, but it is tiring to write at all.

We are glad to get your letter as I feel like a stranger in a strange land. Alberta is the home to me I am so used at being at home, tied up but since lying in bed I am more than ever proud of the fact of having enlisted as I am among that residents in Canada have not also what England has suffered through this war, as impossible to realize it until one gets a real glimpse of it at the front is, in the hospitals. The men in this hospital are in the advanced state of recovery. Some are minus nearly all their limbs. One poor fellow is so badly wounded with shrapnel that his entire body is scrubbed in bandages. Another has a shrapnel wound on the shoulder almost as [illegible]

Rural Council Meet In Special Session

A special meeting of Cornhill Rural Municipal council was held in the secretary's office last Friday, called by the reeve at the request of John Percie, Dep Min. of Municipal affairs to discuss the handling affairs of the municipality and methods of performing road work.

Mr. Percie was unable to be present and was represented by one of the departments inspectors, A. L. Sutter.

After discussing methods of collection of arrears of taxes the Council adjourned for a few hours, during which time Mr. Sutter conducted a meeting of ratepayers from the Council chamber. Mr. Sutter explained the law relating to the collection of arrears of taxes and the methods of performing road work. He also suggested that each municipality have a map of the district showing every quarter section which is in arrears of taxes so that he might know exactly what is going through his district, the prospects for collecting.

It was suggested that the secretary write the Hydraulic Dept. of the Dept. of Interior, Ottawa, regarding the [illegible] of Beaver Lake also to write the Dept. Public Works, Edmonton, re drags for road work.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Sutter for his suggestions and council adjourned to meet at the call of the reeve.

Mayor Bugh spent a couple of days at the Capital the early part of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos Rogers are on a visit to the Capital.

Mr. and Mrs. Warwick went to Edmonton on Monday night to spend a couple of days.

Mrs. J. W. Cockson, accompanied by Miss Helen McCauley, is on a visit to Edmonton going up Monday evening.

Dr. Hopgood senior, went to Edmonton last Monday night for hospital treatment on the eye [illegible] was accompanied by his daughter in law.

Ford drivers and drivers of all cars in general are warned by the experience the other day of a [illegible] prominent gentleman that the road leading straight east from town is not a passable one for automobiles. Better go round.

Jos. Bowick made a trip to Edmonton this week. In his gas old Scotch (brogue) he said as he went down to the depot that it was about time he was taking a train ride. It would be the first time in three years.

In spite of an extremely indifferent spring Geo. McLaughlin is selling his large stock of Ford Cars. Fords, you know, are less subject to winter conditions than many other makes so far as their operating qualities are concerned.

Ross Creek

E. G. Hallberg, one of Ross Creek's enterprising farmers, has turned his Ford motor car to additional advantage on his farm, either than for vehicular purposes only. He has attached to the crankshaft at the front of the car a drive pulley and is working as it is grain grinder. On Wednesday of this week Mr. Hallberg plans to operate his wood sawing outfit with the same power.

Ross Creek primary for election of delegates to the Liberal Convention at Vegreville was held last Saturday. Of the three [illegible] were for Trimble and 2 for McCall [illegible] Lyseniuk [illegible] their presence known and felt.

Ross Creek does not intend to be [illegible] in [illegible] effort as to [illegible] a location at the [illegible] Hallberg on the [illegible] Meadows, Hallberg, Gardner, Lyseniuk, Johnson, Van Buskirk, Ralph, Davies, Malcolm and Lappen each [illegible] Ross Road. Several new members are expected to join at next meeting.

The Circle will meet every two weeks, first and second Saturdays of each month.

TOFIELD, ALBERTA THURSDAY, MAY 3, 1917

JOS. S. McCALLUM of Minburn, the sitting member for this constituency, received the nomination as candidate of the Liberal party in the riding at the convention, regularly called at Vegreville on Thursday afternoon of last week. While it is true that a section of the delegation, viz that supporting the prospective candidatures of H. L. Fuhrer of Bathgate and Ryley, and John Tomblin of Vegreville, balked the convention shortly after the first vote revealed the fact that the numerical strength of the McCallum supporters far outnumbered the aggregate support of the other two prospective candidates combined, the last ballot proving that the results of the convention were gone really in the hand of Mr. McCallum's supporters from the first. It is regrettable that the split, if it can be so called, occurred. It would seem that it would have been better spent on the part of some to have accepted the situation when the majority had expressed its voice. The fact that the vote clearly expressed support for Mr McCallum, signed up immediately prior to the close of the convention, came from all parts of the constituency, even from Bathgate and Vegreville, and both end-sections of the C. N. R. and the G. T. P., within the riding, to say nothing of intermediate and inland polling divisions, was strikingly significant. This being so, there should be a healthy reason for bowing to the will of the majority. It would seem that the sitting member enjoys a confidence throughout the riding which would indicate that the choice of himself as candidate and future representative of the people is a popular one.

o o o o o

WHAT A BLESSING it is that amongst the heavy lists of casulties which have been steadily arriving from the front that there have been so few of our Tofield boys named. Some indeed have made the supreme sacrifice. Those we mourn. Others have been laid aside by honorable wounds. We must bring ourselves to realize that up to the present the major portion of our boys have not been yet sent into the danger zone proper. Soon, too soon, this will be their lot and we must prepare to receive shocking news, if need be, with fortitude. When the hour will come, as indeed it probably will, that worst fears are realized, let us think of the sorrowing relatives and be ready with a helping hand and sympathizing word.

o o o o o

MAY 11 IS ARBOR DAY. By resolution of council passed last Monday evening, the Mayor was authorized to proclaim the day as our Civic CLEAN UP DAY. The Red Cross Auxiliary here is also making this day their Red Cross Junk Day. Tofield should assume a radically different aspect as a result of the combined efforts of the citizens to clean up the town and the Red Cross should reap a handsome benefit from the collection and sale of all rags, bottles, rubbers, papers, magazines, etc.

Letters from Our Boys in Khaki

Pte A. Norris Writes Inspiringly from France

Douglas House Learning to Fly

In a letter dated March 27, to his sister, Mrs. Robt. Lewis, A. Norris writes most cheeringly as part as follows:

Your letter of [illegible] I am glad to hear from everyone. You people in Canada don't realize how much of pleasure any Canadian soldier to hear from home. It is a blessing to hear everybody. I'm known as well. Here we for us than it is for you. We have every minute night or day, names of all kinds to make us think of our boys in Canada. If we could tell you of this war, tell it in any way we like, it would only give you a small idea of what it is like.

However, I am at present attached to 2nd Canadian Forestry party, working in a saw mill getting out material for the making of sand dug outs and at close range to the front line trenches, so close that Fritz shelled us pretty lively the other day. We have been lucky so far.

You must try to content yourselves by thinking that there are millions who are here to take the same chances, who have relatives, strangers and friends. We are here to do our bit and will do our best to make good directly or indirectly. If we can win this war it is then that Canada can be proud of her action. The Canadians have certainly built up a great name for themselves over here.

You asked me if we were allowed to wear leather gloves. You should have seen some of the mitts we were wearing last winter. We made them ourselves out of old socks, blanket, canvas and old pants. The patterns were all kinds, as was the sewing; also it did not make any difference if the mitts were both exactly alike. But, they answered the purpose of any kind razed mitt at the time. If you were here you would wonder how we ever got anything at all when you see the millions of soldiers, acting all ways, and transports in such apparent confusion.

It made me lick watery when you spoke of having whitefish for your dinner. I have heard whitefish and they had a good whitefish flavor.

After writing the above I thought I would go and look up Sandy before I then. I found his battalion not far away. On inquiring I was referred to his platoon sergeant who told me that Sandy left out of the ranks the last time they were going to the trench and he was immediately sent to the hospital. He lived only one day and passed away to the Great beyond ..... he courageous. This happens to everyone of us. It is God's will. Try and look at it in that light. Sandy was a man well liked by all his comrades I could see during the short conversation I had with them. Different ones expressed their sorrow and sympathy.

Newsy Notes from Amisk Creek

Although your correspondent is a little late in throwing up the news of the arrival of a small daughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Patterson, yet we have reasons baleful we are still in order.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Vegetin are rejoicing over the advent of a young daughter who arrived Sunday, April 29th.

Lefler's breaking outfit rolled into the O. C. Blackburn place on Friday last, preparatory to doing some plowing for A. Brotman.

There will be services in English conducted by Rev. Horsetein, of Ryley, in the Amisk Creek Lutheran church on Sunday, May 13.

Spring work in this vicinity began in earnest on the last day of April, which may really be said to be the first day of this year that could be called springlike.

A number from this live town is mainly went in to Tofield on Friday night to hear the home talent play. They report an exceedingly clever performance, with a laugh for every minute.

Here are a few of the comments we've heard:

"But Mrs. Adams' name I like her surnames, 'Abou Ben', led all the rest. Her name's history was so natural as I like it most perfect."

"That Banker Bore was the best amateur comedian ever seen on any stage."

"That Mr. Newlywed was a close second to him and that angry lady who wouldn't go miles to hear him sing "My Irish Molly," and "Mother Macree" is at only for reunion, strategems and spoils."

"That Mr. Pincott had a difficult role to maintain and that his acting of the part of hen-pecked Jos. Crabbs was both clever and intelligible; That the minister made love like a person looked the Apollo, and convinced his audience that he was indeed the well-meaning young preacher; That the last act was worth the price of admission itself; That everybody did better than mere amateurs and that much credit is due Mrs. Pincott for her able management as stage director."

And say! didn't you nearly laugh yourself sick over the antics of those nasty goat chin whiskers?

We understand a hilarious crowd of Byplayers [illegible] difficult to maintain the straight and narrow road on Sunday afternoon and came to grief on the north road along the Blackburn farm. One of the pinays skinned too close to the ditch there and the result was a tipped up carriage in the mud. A friendly farmer with his team came to the rescue and the amateurs proceeded once more.

The Ladies Aid met with Mrs. Paul Flaxton on Wednesday afternoon of this week. The ladies are busy making plans for their annual picnic to be held sometime in [illegible]

Red Cross Notes

Hun Chum regular meeting was held Tuesday, May 1st, in the Anglican Church and considerable business transacted.

Jack Dee was called on Friday May 11 at which time forms will be distributed to the ladies and the papers rags bottles, rubbers and old iron. Everyone having any of this to give to the Red Cross may communicate with Jack Dee before Friday May 11 and same will be collected.

Mrs. Cummings is convalescing from the effects of a severe attack of tonsilitis.

Miss Lee of Edmonton is at present visiting her brother Mr. Lee.

Mrs. Ed. Kellett, Tofield.

I noticed some comments on the following suggestion in the district news of home life. I thought it would be a good thing to have it published in the Standard. I have no experience and am not writing for the benefit of the Red Cross ladies, which was suggested, but for the benefit of any home who would like to have a pretty dress in a week or two's time. Of course, there dilutions are simple and quickly done.

PREPARATION OF SOLUTIONS

A dressmaker's solution of soap (ordinarily the correct strength) is made by dissolving one pound of soap in one gallon of water. Boil until dissolved. Keep in a covered jar.

CONTAINERS FOR SOLUTIONS

An ordinary tin measure with a handle is good for partly filling with the solution. A wash-tub, or any other pail, or, in fact, anything that holds the right amount of the solution will do. Add to the solution the right amount of water to fill the container. Stir the solution well and then add the garment to be cleaned. Leave it in the solution for a few minutes, then rub it gently between the hands. Rinse in clear water and hang out to dry.

Mr. McPherson made a visit to Tofield on Monday last.

Mrs. Ed. Kellett, Tofield.

Piano Tuner Coming

Mr Gavin Spence was in town last week arranging appointments for his tuner who will be here next week. Anyone interested please call at the Standard Office No. 24

Returning from Germany after a depressing visit there a special newspaper writer

HIDE HUN DEATH-ROLL

Ignorance of German Women Is Very Carefully Maintained

In an article explaining the attitude of the German women to the war Mr. D. Thomas Curtin, a special correspondent in Berlin, says: "Is the truth of the war concealed from the German women? A good deal is concealed. I was visiting one day. The eldest son, who was just back from the Somme (two-fire suffering from slight wounds), was telling me of the London illustrated papers which had been brought into Germany by way of the Hague. In this photograph there was a picture of a long procession of German prisoners escorted by the English.

The daughter of the house, a well-read girl of nineteen, blazed up at the sight of this photograph and showed it to her mother, who was equally surprised. 'Why,' she broke in excitedly, 'those are not Germans! Those are Russians!' Both ladies were greatly relieved.

The women had never heard it said and were dumbfounded. When you come to think of it, there is no reason why there is a reference to loss of prisoners in any newspaper published in Germany. Of course, they attempt just as they conceal the real death roll.

"CHUR INVINCIBLE"

Self-Sacrifice of One English Family Shown in Letter from France

An English correspondent writes: I must arrange by ferry to the picture which I have been drawing, and which the Censor does not object to. I am sending it to you. In London you will see something of the kind, but nowhere else. Before the war, six was a large family. Now it is rare. Before the war, six children in the young parishioners, and the roll of honor in the church porch is a thing to be proud of indeed.

The case of the Hunts, all eight boys sat and sang lustily in the village church. Harry, Bert, Jack, and who was rowing from H. M. Warper to the Isle of Jersey. Harry Tuffs—an agent from office—Arthur Lucas, a young man who was down in the Mediterranean, and Gerald Tuffs, with the Grand Fleet; plus the lads active I Before the war rippers, they were the "ultimate of Those" limitations and the boundary of the wild adventures. Two other lads from the local butcher's shop, who was the Judas's army, and the son of the captain's gig of H.M.S. Hampshire.

ALIEN TRADERS ACTIVE

Insidious Attempts to Capture Trade in London

The call is on all the local groups of married men in England, and is issued with an appeal to the sense of duty and patriotism of the people. In London Mr. Walter Long, M.P., for Bristol, and that London was inundated with aliens of the worst type, who were preyed on by our own wives, have gone to the front.

"Here in twenty and thirty aliens call for every day business premises. They are ready to pay any rent. Their keen eyes detect at once the nationalities are 'doing' or 'doing' Many of them are willing to open a small clothing business in the West End. Others are in a position to make a clothing business in the East End. Others are in a position to make a clothing business in the West End. Others are in a position to make a clothing business in the West End. Others are in a position to make a clothing business in the West End.

A CALL TO SLACKERS.

(Toronto "Globe")

BRITAIN'S solemn call for increased food production makes it clear that men are needed in the fields at once as urgently as on the trenches. This places a lot of husky young men in an embarrassing position. They are too proud to fight and too pretty to farm and yet they doubtless consider themselves very precious to their country.

o o o o o

THE SLACKERS' RETREAT CUT OFF.

(Toronto "Globe")

SMALL SPIRITED young men, fit for military duty but unwilling to either fight or work for Canada, who have been swelling by thousands the exodus from this country to the United States, now find themselves in a very peculiar and thoroughly ridiculous position. The controversy among our Allies to the south of us, as to the best way to raise the half-million men who are to make up the first army that will go into training, may end in selection by conscription, and if it does so, the Canadian "slackers" are as likely to be chosen as any other people in their respective neighborhoods. Naturally considering their temperaments, many of them, if they must fight, would prefer to fight for their own country, and it is still open to them to do so.

The moral for young Canadians and their family circles is that they should not shirk the risk their friends and neighbors are taking, and that they should allow themselves to be raised to higher levels by the part played by Canadian soldiers at the Vimy Ridge capture, which will for all time be one of the famous battlefields won by efforts never surpassed in the history of military heroism. The best way to bring the war to an early and satisfactory end is to enlist in ever-increasing numbers, and thus show the Germans that there can be to this war only one sort of conclusion

AT LAST the frogs are with us, singing their happy spring song, sure indicators that spring season has finally set in. It is good to hear the pool frogs orchestra once more. None the less appreciative of the fine soothing weather are the farmers who have with one accord rushed upon the fields with their instruments of warfare against the threatened world famine of food stuffs. In every direction the field are assuming the dark color of freshly upturned rich soil as plowing proceeds. It is a regular carnival of work. This is the farmers' hey day for being busy. It has been a long winter season. We have had an abundance of moisture stored up in the soil. Seeding of wheat is being rushed. With almost stampede market prices, aside from the patriotic impulse of producing a maximum of quantity, the farmer has every incentive to till every possible acre of ground. This he will do being hindered only by the handicap of shortness of the season and scarcity of labor.

Pte. Robert Logan, An appreciation

WHEN I saw him first he seemed little more than a boy, quiet and rather shy for his age but willing and eager to be of service and showing traits of sound healthy common sense, and an ability to think for himself, the sort of boy in whom one instinctively places reliance.

Later on, after his enlistment I saw him at drill, and whilst not quick he was thorough and evidently determined to make himself a good soldier. His officer spoke of him as a quiet unassuming lad and one who was likely to be a reliable. His military training while deepening his manliness left him unspoiled, and he remained to the end the same loyal, loving son, to whom home was the dearest spot on earth. And now his unselfish life has been crowned by an equally unselfish death, his life freely given for his country. "Greater love hath no man this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. Boys' and Girls' Stock Feeding Clubs.

W. F. Stevens, Live Stock Commissioner for the Province of Alberta, working through the Alberta Provincial Swine Breeders' Association, has organized a stock feeding Competition for children over eight and under seventeen years of age. No entry fee is charged, object being simply to foster an interest in Live Stock amongst young folks. If the experiment this year proves a success, it is the intention to broaden the scheme next year, and include poultry, sheep, etc.

The Alberta Provincial Swine Breeders' Association are donating prizes for this Competition, and the Edmonton Exhibition Association are giving, free of charge, the services of their office staff.

The Competitors are required to select a young pig—between eight and twelve weeks old — and feed and care for the animal without assistance during the summer months. The animals will then be judged at the time of the Sheep and Swine sale in Edmonton, November 2nd, when liberal prizes will be given to the Competitors whose pigs show the best evidence of care and attention, and the best average gain. The prizes range from $15 down to $2.

A number of school districts have already taken this proposition up, and have sent in the names of pupils desirous of entering the competition.

We would like to see this District well represented — it means good publicity. An enthusiastic interest on the part of our boys and girls in this industry — which means so much to the farmers particularly at the present time, — should also result.

The Secretary of the Alberta Provincial Swine Breeders' Association, W. J. Stark of Edmonton, will be glad to forward copies of the rules governing the competition, and would be particularly pleased to get in touch with teachers who would undertake to organize such a club amongst the pupils of their schools.

Canadian Woods Best for Building

"Canadian Woods for Structural Timbers" is the title of a bulletin (No. 60) just issued by the Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior. This bulletin shows as the results of hundreds of tests that several of our native woods are cheaper and better, as structural timbers, than woods which Canadians have been importing for some years. This is gratifying and satisfactory as regards both home and foreign trade in timber. It means much to Canada in war time, as the development of our resources enables us to carry on the campaign effectively. Citizens who are interested may receive a copy of this bulletin free upon application to the Director of Forestry, Ottawa.

Co-Operative Wool Sales

The Alberta Provincial Sheep Breeders' Association, which for the past two years has held such successful sales of wool, is now making preparations for the 1917 sale.

This co-operative method of selling wool is encouraged by the Live Stock Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa who send out, each year, expert graders to sell and grade the wool. The Edmonton Exhibition Association provides a building where the wool is received and graded. These services are rendered free of charge.

Wool may be shipped to the Secretary, W. J. Stark immediately after the close of the Edmonton Exhibition (July 16th), and will be received any time during the balance of the month of July. The Dominion Government Graders then sort and grade the wool, and leaders are called for. The wool will be sold on or about August 6th. Arrangements have been made with the banks, whereby an advance of twenty cents per pound is made to the owner of the wool, on receipt of the warehouse receipt; this is done to help out the small sheep raisers, who need the money, and in no would otherwise be tempted to sell direct to buyers at a lower price.

In order that the members of the Association may receive the full market value of their wool in case there should seem to be a disposition on the part of the buyers who come West to keep down the price, the Dominion Government has provided a warehouse facilities in the East and if it is deemed wise, the wool will be consigned to this eastern warehouse, where it may be inspected by eastern buyers, and where it will be sold under Government supervision.

May 11 is Arbor Day. By resolutions of council, passed last Monday evening, he was notified, and to pass into the hands of the Civic Clean Up Day. The Red Cross Auxiliary here is also making this day their Red Cross Junk Day. Tofield should assume a radically different aspect on this date as a result of the help of citizens of the town in cleaning up their properties and the Red Cross should reap a handsome benefit from the collection and sale of rags, bottles, tins, medicine bottles, rubbers, papers, magazines, etc.

Dear Sir:-

In common with a considerable number of our citizens I have heard various reports as to whether or not dependents of persons enlisted in the "C.E.F." from this district have received their regular allowances from the Alberta Patriotic Fund subsequent to the date when the person with respect to whom the said allowances would otherwise have been payable, had desert ed from the said Forces. As a subscriber to the Fund I shall appreciate a statement of the facts by an officer of the Local Branch.

Thanking you for your valuable space I am,

Yours truly,

A submarine net is made of wire rope, about as thick as a lead pencil, and the meshes are of great size—about ten or fifteen feet square. The net has floats on top that keep it long up and down like the float of a fish line, and on the bottom are weights that keep the whole net up in a perpendicular position. The submarine's chief challenge is to find out depths on account of two-purpose—the best being about 100 feet deep.
Under these conditions the submarine runs on the surface, and surrenders, becomes the property of the enemy, and its crew are made prisoners. If it does not take such action it will find that things will happen. The enemy will wait quite for submarine until it has a fresh chance to act, and it starts mooring, the enemy will close in and destroy it with depth bombs, but perhaps the surface commanders get a chance to ram the net and so carry it down deep into the water, which will explain when it tangles on the roof of the submarine.—From the World's Work.

THE SIFTON GOVERNMENT TO BE RETURNED.

It is not likely that the Sifton government will have [illegible] this constituency. J. S. McCallum the [illegible] was the choice of the Liberal convention, at Vegreville on April 26th. Since then an Independent convention has been held, and M. R. Gordon of Ryley has been chosen to oppose Mr. McCallum. Whether the Conservatives intend to fire a gun in the scrap is not known [illegible] at this writing, but it is understood unofficially that they are not considering the proposition very seriously. However, Mr. McCallum seems to be the one bright spot in the [illegible] at present.

PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT STANDS HIGH.

If progressive legislation is the key to political success, the provincial Government should certainly stand high in the estimation of every fair-minded man in Alberta. A review of the legislation of the past three or four years, shows that not only has the Government been responsive to public opinion, but in the case of outstanding legislation has been in the lead.

LEGISLATE FOR FARMERS.

The Government has been charged with legislating too freely in the interests of the farmers, and while there is no doubt that the farmers of Alberta have been more successful [illegible] their request for legislation than those of any other Province, the Government has been solicitous for the interests of all classes, and when assisting the farmers has been assisting the country at large.

Every man is a part of his town. The town embraces [illegible] opportunities, and in some measures at least takes on the character of the man. So loyalty to one's town in no more than loyalty to one's self, and this loyalty is in the line of all good shiped human nature. Therefore it is right to say that the man who does not stand up for his town in in some way [illegible] is disliked. There is something wrong about him. His townsmen will pass this judgment upon him, and the chances are that while he may add to the discomfort of others he will not escape making himself unhappy.

THE NAVAL HERO

When daylight fades and darkness creeps
Over the wide and shuddering seas,
Wreathed in mists, like wandering ghosts,
The silent greyhounds guard the coasts
While England sleeps

What can the landsman know of the deeps,
The long, long watch in the frenzied dark night,
Sleepless vigil of bloodshot eyes,
The firm, set jaw of the man who dies
While England sleeps

The loud wind moans and the dark clouds leaps
Over the waste of the foam-flecked waves,
Thunder roars from the throats of steel
In deadly throws the doomed ships reel,
While England sleeps

When the white arm of the pale dawn creeps,
On the rim of the horizon sea,
No sign remained of the battle fought,
The hero's dead, the victory bought
While England sleeps

POULTRY NOTES

(By Plymouth Rock.)

Poultry breeders should be getting ready for the season's hatch. That is, those who have not already made a start. The early bird gathers the worms, and the early pullet lays the winter eggs. I do not recommend incubators to people who hatch no more than four or five broods in a season, because the operations do not justify the outlay. These small breeders will do well to search their neighborhood for broody hens, who as the larger operator will do better to invest in an incubator.

Incubators have disappointed many people, probably because they imagined they could at once put a start until the machine presto! Then with a chicken for every egg. But the truth is that in order to obtain a good hatch one needs to provide and maintain favorable conditions as regards temperature, moisture, etc., from the beginning, and to do that it is necessary to have some practice and to keep one's eyes open. The incubator should be placed where the air is fresh, but out of all draughts, in an even temperature and free from vibration. The fertile eggs, containing the germinal germs, should be selected for artificial incubation. Stale eggs containing weakly germs, or those which have been sent by mail and had a shaking up, will stand a much better chance under a hen.

I have been asked questions about incubators such as "Do they pay?" "Do they hatch as well as hens?" "Are the chickens as strong" and so forth.

First of all, let me say I have never known any incubator hatch as well as a good hen. Nature will fall her own in this respect, though as a substitute a well built incubator commands our respect. It will hatch eggs at any time and instead of the usual baker's dozen it will cover 50 or 100 or even 100 eggs, according to the capacity and the price you pay for it.

Those who have plenty of eggs will do well to set eggs laid that day. Absolutely fresh eggs will produce the strongest chicks and they will hatch out 24 hours sooner than eggs that have been kept. All eggs intended for hatching should be laid out up and turned on to the opposite end every day for the best results. All eggs set in a machine should be allowed to rest at least 24 hours before being placed under the hen or in the incubator.

Sifton Government Should Carry This Constituency By a Handsome Majority

UP-TO-DATE LEGISLATION APPEALS TO THE ELECTORS OF THIS DISTRICT

A VOTE FOR JOS. S. McCALLUM MEANS THAT THE GOVERNMENT THAT TOOK ITS LIFE IN ITS HANDS AND WORKED AGAINST UNJUST CRITICISM TO GIVE YOU AD-EQUATE LEGISLATION WILL BE RETURNED.

The election is only one week away, and the time is here when every person, male and female, of the full age of 21 years, who has lived in the province one year, and in the constituency three months, and is a British subject must decide who is to represent them in the next legislature.

There are at present two candidates in the field for the honor of representing the Vegreville Electoral District, J. S. McCallum, of Mondare, the present member, and M. R. Gordon, of Ryley, the people's candidate. With all due respect to Mr. Gordon, whom we deem an honorable man, and perhaps well qualified to hold this position, we would ask our readers to support Mr. McCallum at the polls next Thursday. The fidelity of electing an Independent candidate must be apparent to every one who has a knowledge of how the affairs of the province are carried on. It would simply mean electing a man with no organization behind him, one who would be by himself alone, one among fifty-eight. The helplessness of the situation must be plain to the electors. While on the other hand we have J. S. McCallum, experienced member, alive to the needs of his constituents, an almost uncanny knowledge of hitting what is needed without the usual pleading by the people. Coupled with his ability to deliver the goods whenever the opportunity presents itself, and where the public funds can be wisely and judiciously expended Where the money will realize on investment and bring sure returns to the residents. In the matter of building of roads, Mr. McCallum has been openly criticized by friend and foe alike. His district has been compared with others. We might state here for the benefit of our readers that there is only a certain sum allowed for the building of roads. In some of the neighboring constituencies the roads leading to towns are much in advance of this constituency. The reason is quite plain to the thinking man. Mr. McCallum has about twice as many towns of equal size, who want roads east, west, north and south built into them. There is all the egress along the C.N.R. and the G.T.P. hollering for good roads, and Mr. McCallum is endeavoring to supply the wants with a share very inadequate for the needs. He had made many efforts for a larger grant to be made for a road leading out of Vegreville and one between Holden and Tofield. Whether he will be allowed to do this remains to be seen. The government has the money and will spend it willingly in building these roads, but the shortage of labor and the abnormal wages demanded by even unskilled labor makes any extension practically impossible. Thus placing the representative in a position that is indeed impossible, and one that makes criticism pure impudence. In the matter of telephones it is commonly known that this province is very far ahead of any other in this line, considering the population. The electors would like more telephones. There are many farmers without this luxury; and still there are many he would like to know why the province has a debt of $89,000,000. We might say that $9,000,000 of this money was expended in the construction of a telephone system. Revenue in relation of a telephone system to that is only a small fraction of the interest, but the cost of the system. Now Mr. Elector, you are getting a little a straight talk now, and what's more you know it. Vagaries, such as gentlemen in power's that be, is at your command if them. Skilled linemen and constructors are something that can be found in this province. They were among the first to drop their tools and join the colors. The government understands fully how badly the rural line is needed, but cannot build it just as it would badly they would like to do. In his speech at a public meeting in Vegreville last Tuesday night, Mr. McCallum stated that the government was really anxious to extend the telephone system, but the present condition did not warrant any expenditure along the line. While the constituents are clamoring the privileges of a precinct-level kindly bear in mind the extreme gravity of the situation that public men are placed in at the present time.

There are other things that make the return of the Liberal government a desirable thing, that is, the able legislation of the past four years or we might say since the province was formed. Acts that are not only sound and valid, but Acts that do more to build up a live distributing province than are to be found on the statute books of any other province.

A short glance at a few of them, chiefly the Live Stock Encouragement Act, or the famous Cow Bill, where it is provided that any five or more persons engaged in practical farming in the province may jointly apply to the live stock commissioner for a loan not to exceed $500 each for the purpose of buying cows and heifers. The borrowers then buy the kind of stock they wish for their farm with the approval of the live stock commissioner. The idea of this Act is to promote cattle raising in this province to such an extent that it will be known as the greatest cattle raising territory in the Dominion, if not the world. It will also have a tendency, as the government intends it shall, to build up a better class of stock. There are many interesting features to this Act that would make a interesting reading for the farmers of this community.

Then there is the Liquor Act. While the Act was a piece of direct legislation, in so far as it was framed and voted on by the people, who endorsed it with an overwhelming majority, it was nevertheless passed and made law by the legislature without any red tape. Since this Act has been passed several important amendments have been made that not only strengthen the Act, but a much to insure its popularity among the people.

The much talked of Homer Act comes in for a share of the discussion. This Act gives a wife a life interest in the interest of her husband in the home. This Act provides that a man cannot sell, exchange, barter, give away, mortgage, or sell any of his household property with out the consent of his wife, who has an equal share

Marketing Farm Produce

By Mrs. M. Beath, Headingly, Manitoba

The city woman likes to get fresh and good country produce at a little cheaper than the price asked by the storekeeper who is called upon to supply her wants, and consumer must get together and understand the situation thoroughly, so efforts in this line will be successful.

A town near New York made the other day a rule to help the people together and which reads as follows:—"Resolved—That the Board of Commerce, Merchants' Association and Citizens' Committee of this town and country, with the co-operation of the organized farmers of the county, do hereby agree to be bought in all sorts of farm produce, and that we will not be satisfied until we find the products of the farm, garden and orchard of the highest quality that can be produced in this county, and that we will not buy any canned goods, and that we will not buy any produce that is not fresh and of the highest quality."

"Well, I thought I'd like to answer myself with a bit of advice from my experience. So I sent over to the canister and sellotaped it. The Hungarian can't read the label so her son will help him and his wife, and she has a little smile under and how pert and friendly I could, I may have done a good turn."

"Huh!" says Hatchet-laughing a bit, "I'm not so sure about that. I'm not so sure about that. I'm not so sure about that.

J. S. McCALLUM ASSURED RE-ELECTION BY LARGE MAJORITY.

According to those in touch with affairs all over the province, the Conservative party will not have a representative in this electoral district. Whatever the constituency may look by right to Joe McCallum. It was thus given three times and has during the last few weeks of the campaign Joe should be returned by a handsome majority. He is ex-thousand easily secured wherever he goes. Now is the confidence of the people misplaced. He will without doubt on his return to office, work as untiringly in the interests of his constituents as before. His interests are closely bound up with that of the farmers and he depends on the rural vote for his election. The rural vote is predominant and as he has many hundreds supporters in the northern towns and district, Joe is practically assured of election by a large majority.

SHOULD NOT CRITICIZE.

During the last two weeks a little criticism of a rather unkind nature has been leveled at J. S. McCallum regarding roads and telephones, etc. The people should know that they are denied the luxury of a telephone through no fault of Mr. McCallum's. Material cannot be bought at any price and skilled labor is at a premium. With conditions thus as it is hardly possible to contemplate any serious construction work for some time to come, or at least till the war is over.

A VOTE FOR SIFTON.

The government that took its life in its hands to face the elevator combine and the implement trust, is the kind of a government that the farmers of Alberta want, and it will be returned without doubt. You can help it along by casting a vote for Jos. S. McCallum on June 7.

Lightning Rods

Is your home protected? If not, can you afford to take the chance of destruction? The matter of lightning rods should be a personal one with you. You may have been spared up to this time, but give it a moments thought and see whether it has not been through your good fortune rather than your good management.

You have no assurance that lightning will continue to spare you. It has visited your neighbors. Your turn may come next. If it should visit your home it may mean destruction of property. It may mean building again or to some extent of your funds.

You are afraid of the expense only. Is it a matter for you to decide. Face the issue squarely and ask yourself the question whether you are playing the part you should in neglecting to protect your home and family against lightning fire which may destroy it.

We can get the Dodd System of lightning rods put up now. It is a reasonable system. The guarantee to put its effective is unquestionable.

Come and see us. We will demonstrate and also give you reasonable prices.

SQUIRREL FOOD

A BUNCH OF NONSENSE BY A. KNUT

If you would like a sample of what the other place may be like try a hundred mile trip on an auto over these Tofield roads. Try it shortly after a rain storm.

We hear of a party that motored from Edmonton last week over the bad roads and didn't have to change gear. They came all the way on low.

Some people like to be a nuisance. Others buy motorcycles.

Sung the following with great feeling to the tune of Comin' Thro' the Rye:

If a body trust a body
And fail to get prompt pay;
Must a body ask a body
Please remit to-day?

What furniture can give such a flavor to a room as a tender woman's foot?

One whiff of onion will do more to kill love than a pound of cloves.

It's funny how a woman will go through most anything for a man and then ditch him because he eats peas with his knife or picks his teeth with a fork.

Some men are born handsome and upright but they usually get those qualifications from the society editor who writes the wedding up.

Even the whispered call to duty can be heard by the deaf man if the salary is large enough.

Life is just one good wash after another.

Radium is now worth $2,400,000 an ounce. Get in your winter supply yet?

When a woman starts to argue there is two things that a man should do. One is to shut up and the other keep very still.

To adulterate sauerkraut with encheuse is almost as bad as rubber oysters in a boarding house stew.

Trying to guess who is calling when they lose rings provides some people with lots of excitement.

The ladies are wondering if the ballots used at provincial elections will match their dresses.

SMATTER WITH FATHER?

Why not a "Father's Day"? It seems to us that Dad should come in for a share of the blessings that are bestowed. What's the matter with "God Bless Our Dad"? Father get up early, lights the fire, boils an egg, and wipes the dew off the lawn with his boots while mother is sleeping. He makes the weekly hand out to the butcher, the milkman and the baker, and his little pile is sadly demolished before he has a home an hour to pay day. If there is a noise at night, Dad is tacked in the dark and made to go downstairs and find the burglar and kill him. Mother darns the socks, but Dad bought the socks in the first place, and the needles and the yarn afterwards. Mother does up the fruit; Dad bought it all, and jar and sugar cost like the mischief. "What is Home Without a Father?" Ten chances to one it is a boarding house, father is under a slab, and the landlady is the widow.

The press all over the country have been hollering, why not a fathers' day. Well, why not?

Mrs. Rorer—the world renowned authority on cooking—says:

"It is excellent—in fact I am afraid it has quite spoiled me for any other"

AMISK NOTES

Ralph Olson returned from his trip to Grand Prairie on Sunday. His Dakota cousins accompanied him for a short visit before leaving for their home.

Miss Lita Blackburn, who has been spending the past year and a half in the States, returned home last Friday. She was accompanied by her uncle O. C. Thurber, of Saint Francis, Kansas who will spend the summer in Alberta.

Miss Alma Eriksson entertained the girls of the Fireside club on Thursday afternoon. Thimbles and a dainty lunch at the tea hour made the afternoon pass pleasantly.

When is that challenge from the Honeysuckles to the Merry Marrons to be made good? Let's see a game on either home or Tofield grounds or at an early date-girls.

Farmers in this vicinity are on the last stretch of grain seeding. A number finished last week and in most cases this week will see the completion of spring work.

The Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs. Robt. Blackburn on Wednesday afternoon, June 6th. A full attendance is desired, as there is a quilt to be quilted and plans for the annual picnic to be discussed.

P. Moline took Messrs. Berg, Eriksson, Plaister and Harry Haroldson on a motor trip to Ean[illegible] and vicinity on Sunday.

While flying around the country, political fish to fry, independent candidate M. R. Gordon got stuck in the mud on the road north of the Blackburn farm on Friday last in his new Saxon, a broken axle necessitated leaving the car there for several days until repairs could be made.

Agriculturists were too busy Victoria day to attend the gayeties in Ryley on that day, but the few who went from this community report a good time. The basketball game between Bardo and Ryley showed Ryley far in the lead that Bardo saw her finish from the start. A score of 14 to 4 in Ryley's favor was reported by referee Marx.

Candidate Winds up Campaign With Flourish. Jos. S. McCallum Addressed Tofield Audience. Chas. Stewart Also Present.

A public meeting was held in the Variety Theatre last Friday night, in the interests of J. S. McCallum and the Sifton government. The theatre was packed to capacity, and the crowd was orderly. The meeting was addressed by J. S. McCallum and Chas. Stewart, Minister of Public Works. Mr. McCallum didn't wear the crowd out with any long winded speech pleading for the support on any personal ideas. He simply stated the position of the Sifton government in asking for the support of the people on past performances. Giving his hearers the understanding that government stood for up-to-date legislature, and that the men in power were the ones who could give it. He scored the opposition rather strongly for the futile attempts to attack him before a free-thinking audience on his road building. Also the proposition that they put forth to better road conditions. The opposition presented a speaker in the shape of John Frances. He was pretty well loaded up with extracts from the Edmonton Journal, and gave a good speech, and it is certain, if not too bad that his bright ideas and talents should be wasted in knocking a government that he has absolutely no quarrel with. The Hon. Chas. Stewart, who travelled a good many miles by train and auto in order to be present followed Mr. Francis. His speech will linger in the minds of the people long after politics, as far as this campaign is concerned, is forgotten. Clearly and lucidly he explained the stand taken by the present government. He did not mind opposition, he said, in fact he welcomed it. But the idea of getting out false and extravagant statements about lavish expenditure in order to take the people's mind away from the issues at stake was starting to rub his fur the wrong

Mr. Stewart has acted as Premier on many occasions, and has the provincial headiness at his finger ends. The way he hammered down opposition gave the free thinking voter a chance to wonder why there was an election. Mr. Stewart strongly resented the tactics used by the opposition especially by the workers and followers of M. R. Gordon Independent candidate. Especially where they had accused Jos. McCallum of neglecting roads and telephones. As Minister of Public Works, Mr. Stewart was able to refute these statements, which he did to the satisfaction of To fielders.

During the meeting Mrs. R. W. Pincott pleased the audience with a violin solo, that the crowd very enthusiastically encored. A. Hungerford sang a solo. R.W. Pincott accompanied them on the piano.

Independents Hold Forth In the Variety Theatre

A large crowd from Ryley and Tofield as well as neighboring points gathered at the Variety to hear the facts as stated by the Independents. Dr. Goodwin, made famous by his eutempore efforts at Bardo last week lead off the fireworks for M. R. Gordon. He plea to the better manhood and womanhood of the electors was duly noted. He was followed by Jos. Rogers who took exception to the mode of attack made by the leisize plan for the enlightment of the electors. R. W. Pincott took fifteen minutes of the crowd's time asking that they support the Sifton Government, as independence set forth by the opposition should not be tolerated. It was then that the people sat back to listen to Mr Gordon himself. Many Tofielders have had the privilege of listening to him, and know him to be a fine speaker. He gave a good talk and put his proposition straight to the audience. It is unfortunate that he should tone up with any idea of defeating the Sifton government through Independent moves of this nature. The crowd gave him a good hard at the conclusion of his address. Mr Wilson, who took good care to address himself as such to the crowd arose and started to tell the good people what he thought of the present government. He made a very able attempt to convince his hearers that he was not for any such corrupt practices. With regard to the statement by Mr Wilson that a member of the Local legislature had received the sum of $10,000 for his work in connection with the patriotic Fund, it is well to remember that all salaries in connection with the Fund are paid by the government and even supposing that the statement to be true, a fact that even Mr Wilson doubts, the money will have been paid out of the government funds and not out of the monies contributed to the patriotic fund.

GORDON MEETING AT BARDO SCHOOL

Dr. Goodwin, A. Wilson, and Others Discuss Independence.

M. R. Gordon posted notices that he would speak at the Bardo schoolhouse last Saturday. A large crowd gathered to hear him from every corner of the Constituency. When the meeting was called to order it was found that A. Mr. Wilson and Dr. Goodwin, of Vegreville, would assist the crowd in the meeting. Dr. Goodwin, [illegible] opened the meeting with a few speech. Showing the reasons why Mr. Gordon was to be the Doc. doesn't pretend to be a speaker, but his brief remarks put the audience in good humor, which wanted expectantly to hear Dr. Goodwin. If they expected Dr. Goodwin to speak on the political matters they were very much disappointed. He gave a very [illegible] of what an M.L.A. and Minister of Education ought to be, but nothing that could be heared as an argument against the present government. He harped very strongly on what he thought the people had to put up with. He was followed by R. W. Pincott, of Tofield, who asked for something on politics from the speakers, as he was only an auctioneer, and he wished to be enlightened. He took exception to a few remarks made by Dr. Goodwin and remarked on the way the government was criticized regardless, roads and telephones. Also that what was the use of knocking and abusing and then not showing people something to put in its place. He was very strong [illegible] elect Mr. Gordon, but on what basis was he going to better conditions he did not allow. It was a fact that they claimed existed. Mr. Wilson then took the floor and what he thought would be a very [illegible] enlightening address. With emphasis on the word [illegible] outlined to the audience what lavish expenditures were made [illegible] attention to the large salary, declaring that he might serve the people for nothing. Then he asked his hearers to bear in mind what an awful lot of money Mr. Gordon was going to spend [illegible] that he ought to spend some time for patriotic purposes. Miss Bardo on the last [illegible] was then keeping up an awful dishonest government, he asked the people to vote for Mr. Gordon. The Advertiser is glad to coincide with the speaker here that Mr. Gordon is an honest fearless man with the people's interest at heart. [illegible] all about [illegible] it seemed to [illegible] Pincott [illegible] it was a little [illegible] Mr Wilson's [illegible] idea that they didn't know anything better than to think that a member had the right to disgrace a demonstration farm, or could have any say in the matter at all. The meeting broke up when the audience started [illegible] speaker questions.

One soon Postal authorities here are busy extending the system, and there is already established there a money order office, so the ensuing business in postal matters, eggs, butter, cards, stamps, and so forth, will be quite considerable. The cost of living is high, and the wages are high, but I think that there are many who could extend the limit of their purchases, if they only knew where to work bigger results.

In a country where the success of so many people depends on the yield of grain, it is natural that the question of how much will be grown next year should be a subject of interest. Last year's crop was a record one, and the total acreage under crop in the three provinces was 26,000,000 acres. Of this area 17,000,000 acres were under wheat. The prices amounting to $400 per acre for land in the districts around Regina and Saskatoon, and as high as $600 per acre in the Dauphin district of Manitoba, are sufficient evidence of the value of the land. These fairs are held in the principal towns throughout the three provinces, the Saskatchewan Live Stock Board, for instance, holding fairs during the month of September at Regina, Saskatoon, Prince Albert, Moose Jaw, Yorkton, and Battleford. The pigs will be judged by the Canada Standard, and only those will be eligible for entry which have been slaughtered at the packing establishments of the Association. The Association pays transportation charges on pigs to and from the fairs, and in case the exhibitors cannot attend personally, a responsible person will look after its feeding, and it is carried off at the close of the fair to the best possible advantage. The same annual carnival is also held in Regina and Saskatoon, but on a smaller scale, these different agricultural centres holding their fairs at both places.

"It's some less Josh helping you on the farm?"

"No," replied Farmer Corntossel in a manner that showed he was serious, "but it begins to look now as if I was a little Josh."

"Now do you think you can get satisfied on $30 a week?"

"I'll undertake to get satisfied on $30 a week if you'll undertake to get it regularly."

Dairying in the West

Development of This Industry Making Great Strides

Until the last two or three years the attitude of the eastern dairy farmer toward the "baby" dairy industry of the western provinces was one of benevolent interest. The eastern farmer had long been taught to regard the prairie provinces as great grain growing districts, that might gradually turn to beef cattle, but as a dairy farming would not find much encouragement. In Manitoba, and British Columbia, he regarded conditions as better than that of good rain fall, and the prices of land at the time the eastern butter trade was "the coast" as a thing of the past. Bristol Columbia dairymen are doing a splendid business in supplying the Yukon with butter annually reduced on a time when a should be increased by reason of the increased demand for butter was plainly apparent, but hundreds of acres of land, especially in the Saskatoon and Edmonton districts, remained in their primitive state of wild pasture and camping grounds. are turned into blackened ruins.

No camp fire should be left this way, but should it so happen that extra push or water or spades of sand are not at hand to extinguish it, it should be set except among fields or grass. Even in a long spell of dry weather a burning lighted cigarette or matches need be feared, as there is chargeable only to the careless.

Thrift in Forest Fires

Sportsmen Can Help in Preventing Waste from Fire Losses

There are estimated to be 10,000 forest fires in Canada every year on all sides and descriptions. Hundreds are the human losses, and the damage runs into many millions of dollars, not counting damage to soil, to the value of watersheds areas and many other factors.

"Thrift in forest fires" is a new movement which the Canadian Forestry Association has started among the guides, and rangers and woodsmen of Canada with a view to cutting down the country's number of fires in 1917. As is well known, the present-day causes of forest losses are largely those of man, as lumbermen, campers, hunters and fishermen. Thoughtlessness in respect to camp fires, the throwing away of lighted tobacco, matches, etc., are caused some of the worst conflagrations in history. During the months of May and June, before the fire season is well under way this year, thousands of outdoors men are being asked by the co-operation of the newspaper publishers of Canada to make 1917 a year of thrift in the forest. Not only is Canada's reasonable supply of timber seriously

Swine Raising of Juniors

Plan Adopted in Saskatchewan to Stimulate Interest

Announcement has been made that the swine exhibition to be held at the winter fairs this year, at Regina and Saskatoon are to be open to boys and girls of Saskatchewan and Manitoba ranging in age from 15 to 18 years between January 1, 1917, and January 1, 1902. This is a step in the right direction, and it is to be hoped that anything like a success will attend the efforts of the large scale. The prizes amounting to $400 are to be divided equally between Regina and Saskatoon, and are given by the Swine Breeders' Association of Saskatchewan. These fairs are held annually in connection with the Saskatchewan Live Stock Board, the one at Regina having been held on October 25 to November 30, and that at Saskatoon from November 1 to November 7. The pigs will be judged by the Canada Standard, and only those will be eligible for entry which have been slaughtered at the packing establishments of the Association. The Association pays transportation charges on pigs to and from the fairs, and in case the exhibitors cannot attend personally, a responsible person will look after its feeding, and it is carried off at the close of the fair to the best possible advantage. The same annual carnival is also held in Regina and Saskatoon, but on a smaller scale, these different agricultural centres holding their fairs at both places.

A Wager Not Yet Won

Charles Lenox Day considers that there was a sporting chance when he is betting $1 that Rupert proposed to Dorothy Vernon while riding on the London Chronicle, an old sporting book preserved at Brooks's club contains an entry showing that Lord Rupert and Miss Vernon were married on the understanding that Rupert should not ride a race. Perhaps it changed his mind.

A Problem for Germans

Whether Germans are aware of it or not, they are themselves the chief worst sort of victims of the foreign national policy of plunder which stems from German militarism and Prussian Junkerdom, writes Frederic Harrison in the London Nation.

Germany has been for years past a country of starvation wages. Even in the best times the workers in general have been underfed, and the standard of comfort among them has been deplorably low. The war has only intensified the misery. Germany has been for years past a country of starvation wages. The lady was trying to persuade the old colored man that he was getting too old to run a race. "Why, Uncle Ephraim," she said, "you're seventy-five if you're a day. You ought to be ashamed of yourself to think of running a race at your age." "Yes, ma'am," replied Uncle Ephraim, "I knows I'se old, but I'se got to run. I'se de only candidate on de Republican ticket."

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or tough corns, any corn, can painlessly be lifted right out with the fingers if you apply upon the corn a few drops of freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.
Just little cost one can get a small bottle of freezone at any drug store, which will positively cut away corn or callus without pain or soreness. But this simple drug does it: Immediately after applying it, you feel no pain whatever, not even when applying it or afterwards.
This announcement will prove a delight to readers in this vicinity, as it hasn't any irreasone will have to suffer with a sore corn when a few cents will buy enough freezone to wholesale drug house.

Germans Abuse Prisoners

Tommies Who Escaped From Prison Camp Tell Pitiable Story of Their Treatment

Three British soldiers who have just succeeded in escaping from a German prison camp a few miles back of the firing line, tell a pitiable story of their treatment by the enemy. They derived from them a great deal of sickness in the camp and the privations they endured.

"If we showed the slightest disposition to go sick," said one of the men to the correspondent of the Associated Press today, "we were beaten with butt ends, whips or struck with the butt end of the rifle.

Although this soldier had been in several hands only three months he had dropped in weight from 182 pounds to 130. He was a living skeleton. His feet had been frozen and were dangerous for lack of treatment. The men had neither overcoats nor blankets during the coldest weather of the winter. When they received a parcel from home their luxuries. These the Germans took away from them immediately. They also stripped the rubber lining from their coats and boots and gave them their regimental badges for the use of the Germans.

One of their duties during the winter was to chop a hole in the ice of the river and bring water for the prisoners. For food the prisoners received daily a quarter loaf of bread, one plate of thin soup and about every second day a cup of weak coffee substitute. On a few occasions they had a bit of meat about the size of a lump of sugar. Recently the men were compelled to work on one of the front that they came under shellfire from the British guns. This was an exceptional instance, however, they said. The French prisoners were better treated than the English. It was customary to hear this story in view of the sleek appearance of the German prisoners in English Lands, all well, well nourished, paid for their labor and permitted to buy comforts at the canteens under the same conditions as the Tommies.

Woman Does Her Bit
There Has Never Been a Shortage of Women for National Service Work
The general cause of her fellow countrymen was that of Milton "Nothing lovelier can be found in woman than to study household good," company's points of the figures of the ruschd goddess "girls" and boy "Mary, fairy, Lillian" seemed not far removed from the sweet creatures Western have come enlisted new kingdom. In those war days the question put to the millions of women is "What can you do for your country?" The domestic asset holds her place of first importance duties as she performs are vital and essential to the nation. But there are others. We now learn actually that Nature has never been a shortage of women for national service. That is a very remarkable conclusion, but here is testimony to that effect from a woman who proved to be described as "the gentle sex" have risen to the emergency.—London Daily Telegraph.

Cultivate More Land
The Dominion government will appeal to the farmers of Canada to cultivate a much greater land field by increasing the size of their farms, and Hon. Sir Thomas White, minister of finance, will ask parliament for a vote of $100,000,000 to be used for the purpose of advancing money to farmers who desire to purchase more land. Under the scheme it is proposed that the Canadian government will guarantee loans to the extent of 50 per cent of the value of the land, the loans to be secured by first mortgages on the property. The money will be loaned at 5 per cent interest, and the farmer will be required to repay the principal in twenty annual instalments. The scheme is similar to that which has been in operation in Australia for some years, and which has been the means of settling thousands of people on the land.

Germans Want Canada

Le Soleil, a Quebec newspaper, translates from the Rhenish West Zeitung the following suggestion. "Why does not Germany declare to claim Canada as an indemnity for war, as this would permit the German Americans to shake the dust off the United States from off their feet and pass across the line to Canada, where they would live under the folds of the German flag!"

Importance of the Industry Not Yet Properly Appreciated in Canada
During the past two years Canada has been importing large quantities of butter from Australia and New Zealand. The United States, the West Indies and Newfoundland have also been drawn on still and will continue to be drawn on for the same purpose.
The total value of milk and cream products consumed annually in Canada is over $100,000,000.
In Ontario the area of which is only equal to one corner of the province of Manitoba producers over 100,000,000 pounds of cheese and 140,000,000 pounds of butter annually. In parts of Switzerland as many as 200 dairy cows are maintained per square mile.
The average yield of milk per cow is still very low in Canada and must really be increased 40 or 50 per cent. The farmers of Western Canada have not yet learned how important it is to keep the cows in good condition.

[illegible] Mr. McKenzie, leader of the [illegible] opposition, a little more [illegible] Alta conservative than our Independent [illegible] Independent friend. He advocates the [illegible] reduction of the annual expenditure of [illegible] $5,000.00 on trunk roads in each constituency throughout the province. Thereby increasing the money spent on roads alone in the province to [illegible] between two and one half millions. Such a time to make a statement of that nature, when the people themselves who put up the money have retrenchment, and the opposition get up at another meeting and criticize the administration for saddling the province with a debt of $29,000,000.

Now I do not mind that [illegible] but the present [illegible] consider [illegible] necessary to saddle the [illegible] with this much debt [illegible] opposite how?

Today is the first chance for the women of Alberta to cast a vote in a Parliamentary election. No doubt they have spent considerable time studying the provincial needs [illegible] and will be able to cast an [illegible] vote. But where intelligent vote on June 7th, and how in relation does The eyes of all Canada will be [illegible] friend intend to turned upon the ladies of [illegible] Alberta. The question is [illegible] a govern- will they turn out the [illegible] p of sound Government that gave them [illegible] with a pass the right to vote? It is [illegible] that many, who hardly possible. That the [illegible] are taking the situation [illegible] heart and soul is quite evident. [illegible] people, and what every meeting finds an equal [illegible] to contribute number of the fair sex scat- [illegible] ideas as that if tered among the breadwinners [illegible] a spell would of the province to listen to [illegible] assailed, the issues of the day discussed [illegible] by his lonesome, by the different candidates [illegible] organization of any and their supporters. It is [illegible] true in this constituency that the women are keenly alive to their privileges and intend to exercise them to the fullest.

While the election in this constituency will be hotly contested today, there is no doubt as to the outcome. The Sifton government will receive the support of the electors. The government that has given us legislation that makes other provinces turn envious eyes on us is something that should be given consideration.

LAKE SERVICE.

Announcement has just been made by the Canadian Government Railways that the service this year, as passenger cars according to with the Canadian Northern Company. The latter has steamships of the Northern Navigation Company the Canadian Pacific and Hamonds on the Georgian Bay will run special boat trains between Winnipeg and Port William, and the Grand Trunk Pacific system will run corresponding special trains between Sarnia and Fort William.

COAL AND DELCO ELECTRIC PLANT

A model of simplicity, consisting of an engine, generator, and switchboard, combined in a compact direct-connected unit, together with a sixteen cell, thirty two volt storage battery. Electricity is stored up in the battery by means of the generating unit. Wires lead from the light and power connections to this storage battery, from which electric current is used as desired for light and power.

When it becomes necessary to recharge the battery, the engine is started by merely pressing down on the starting lever, located on the switchboard. This mechanically cranks the engine just as the automobile engine is cranked by an electric self-starter. The engine after running on its own power on a few seconds. It can then be left to itself, as when the battery is completely charged, the Delco-Light engine stops automatically.

Delco-Light is air cooled. The constant speed at which the engine runs and the comparatively small area to be cooled makes this system practical. This means there is no water to carry, no danger from freezing and fewer parts required.

Actual service under trying conditions proves the reliability of Delco-Light. It has been thoroughly tried and tested in every possible way, both in the shop and in practical service on the farm and in the home. Nothing has been left to chance.

The Delco Electric Light makes it easy for the children to study their school lessons and to read in the evening. In fact, it encourages reading and study on the part of the entire family. It is also a big factor in protecting your building from fire as baby's where coal oil or gasoline is used for light. The cheerfulness of pure, clean, bright electric light as compared with dim, smells coal oil lamps is apparent the moment electric lights are installed. Consider what Delco Light will do for you, and then ask yourself if you are not interested in learning more about Delco-Light.

WERE YOU EVER!

Were you ever kept awake at night by the howling or barking of a dog? Not very pleasant is it? If you know how it sounds, keep your dog locked up at night. Put him in your barn or out-shed at night so that his music will not make your Christian neighbors say things which should be left unsaid. Keep him up so that your yard will not be filled with tin cans and brick bats aimed at the poor innocent cast creature. He is only mourning for his friend who has strayed into a sausage factory. Lock him up, my friend. The deed will add a star to your heavenly crown.

CORRESPONDENCE

Tofield, May 19th, 1917

Hon. Sec'y. N.A.C.P.F.

Dear Sir,

I have been informed by three business men of this town, That they have been told by the wife of a holder at present residing here that she has been told by the secretary of the N. A. C. P. F. that the only way to secure prompt payment of her allowance from the fund is for her to move into Edmonton and become a resident there, for the duration of the war. I shall be glad to know from you if this policy is being followed by the Edmonton office.

Thanking you in anticipation

I am yours sincerely

Re Requisting Dependents to Reside in Edmonton

Dear Sir,—Replying to your letter of the 19th inst., I have to say that the writer feels satisfied that although you wrote this letter you were very loathe to believe what you were writing. Knowing the writer and Mr. Blue as you do, I am sure that statements such as mentioned by you in the letter will not be credited by yourself.

I should be very pleased if you would obtain the name of the soldier's wife who made these statements. It would also be of assistance to us if you would mail me one of the names of the business men who have repeated these statements to you. Nothing could be more detrimental to the best interests of the Patriotic Fund or earning on of the work, to endeavor to attract people from their place of residence with a view to getting them to come to Edmonton, and I can not believe it possible that any one that I am associated with would ever hint at such a procedure. I would be pleased if you would grant me the information asked for in this letter, when I will endeavor to have the matter cleared up to the satisfaction of the business men of Tofield. - Yours very truly,

S. H. SMITH,

Asst. Secretary.

Katherine Stinson Will Fly At Edmonton Fair This Year

Those who saw Miss Katherine Stinson fly at the Edmonton exhibition last year, will be glad to know that she has again been secured for this summer's exhibition July 9th to 14th. Miss Stinson has just concluded a very successful tour of Japan and China, and is booked for months ahead for exhibition work in the United States, which has always been interested in aviation, but is doubly so now that it has entered the great war on the side of the allies. Miss Stinson has a warm spot in her heart for Canada, however, and the exhibition management is glad to be able to announce to the public that they have contracted with her to give flights again this year.

Miss Stinson has for some time conducted a school of aviation at San Antonio, Texas, and many of her graduate pupils have done good work for the cause of the allies in France and Belgium. She is but twenty years of age.

RED CROSS DANCE.

What looks like the premier social event of the season will be pulled off Friday, June 8th, and will take the form of a Red Cross dance. Refreshments will be served by the ladies, and music by Pincott's orchestra. The music will start at 9.00 o'clock sharp, and if you are late you will be missing something. The admission will be gent's $1.50, and the entire proceeds will go to swell the Red Cross Fund. Help the Red Cross and at the same time enjoy yourself by having the time of your life. Next week we will publish the programme. Watch for posters.

Farmers Buy Machinery

According to a prominent farm implement dealer in the district, the purchasing power of the farmers is better than it has been for many years. In the course of a conversation of this character, he said that about one-third of the farmers in his district had already purchased their implements for the season's work, and that another one-third would do so within a few weeks. He stated that the farmers were in a position to buy, and that they were buying. He also stated that the farmers were buying the best implements that they could get, and that they were not asking for cheap machinery. An Atom a Small World

In a paper containing the functions of the minute electrical charges in the chemical combination of atoms, delivered by Professor William Albert Noyes of the University of Illinois, before the National Academy at Washington, he said if he drew a red ball about one of the atoms in the middle of a chalkboard he could draw another ball around it that would touch it completely, and another to surround both of them, and so on until he had a model of the atom that would be visible to the audience. Around the innermost small ball he would draw a number of balls, each one touching the one within it and the one without it. The diameter of the innermost ball would be about one-fifth of an inch. SMOKE CLEARED AWAY.

The smoke of the battle has now cleared away revealing the erect and well-proportioned form of Jos McCallum victor on a stern and hard fought field. The contest was brief, but intense, yet withal, it was fought with clean weapons and Joe is to be congratulated on the straightforward, consistent way that he conducted his campaign. It is our conviction that the constituency has done credit to itself by its choice, and while we are not the seventh son of a seventh son, we venture to predict that the representative for this constituency will fill the same important part in the legislature as heretofore, Mr. McCallum is not to be measured by ordinary rules. H possesses the inherent capacity of a administration and his abilities shall make way for themselves in the legislature, and that way should lead to cabinet rank.

Now that the strife is over, we believe that our member is to be relied upon, irrespective of class, creed or party, to truly represent the best interests of the people and worthily uphold the name of the Sifton government.

RETURN OF SIFTON GOVERNMENT.

The return of the Sifton government to power by a substantial majority cannot be interpreted otherwise than as a recognition by the people of this province that public affairs can be safely entrusted to the administration under which the province has so well prospered in the past seven years.

No election was ever won more surely on the good record of the government.

The legislature established the precedent in the interests of economy its been the plank on which the government placed full reliance for support.

No attempt was made to dodge the real issues, it was said everywhere that all questions would be given a fair solution.

"I TOLD YOU SO."

The election caused much excitement here in town and crowds gathered at the nearest telephones to hear the returns. When it was known that Mundre had rolled up a majority of 200 and Tofield had responded with a majority of 145 for Jos. McCallum It was about as exciting as a deaf and dumb convention. Several could be heard repeating the proverbial "I told you so."

EXPERIENCED LEGISLATORS.

With a strong array of experienced legislators on the government side of the house and with an opposition stronger than ever, there is no reason to doubt that the province will continue under safe and progressive administration.

DOES AGAIN.

Many of our readers heartily approve of our recent comments on howling dogs who sit under your window and bay at nothing most of the night. One citizen expressed himself in rather strong terms, and threatened dire destruction on all canines who came within gunshot of his residence. So, those among you who own dogs that possess a doggish voice second to Caruso, and who like to let the next town know what it sounds like, especially during the hours when the neighborhood is pounding its ear, kindly beg it to cut out the chin music, or there may be a succession of sad funerals.

NO RIPPING HERE.

Every once in awhile someone intimates that we ought to "rip someone up the back," saying that they can strive it and cannot see why we don't do it. Friends we are not in the ripping business. If you have a grouch in a man, take him out in the back yard and slap his nose. All we ask is that you let us have an account of the proceedings so that we may tell our readers exactly what happened.

Money makes Money

and your money will work while you sleep if loaned at good interest, and you can find none safer and more satisfactory borrowers by placing a money-to-loan ad. in our Classified Want columns. A first insertion is as safe as a bank and the interest is twice as big.

KATHERINE STINSON TO FLY.

Those who saw Miss Katherine Stinson fly at the Edmonton exhibition last year, will be glad to know that she has again been secured for the summer's exhibition July 9th to 14th. Miss Stinson has just concluded a very successful tour of Japan and China, and is booked for months ahead for exhibition work in the United States, which has always been interested in aviation, but is doubly so now that it has entered the great war on the side of the allies. Miss Stinson has a warm spot in her heart for Canada, however, and the exhibition management is glad to be able to announce to the public that they have contracted with her to give flights again this year.

Miss Stinson has for some time conducted a school of aviation at San Antonio, Texas, and many of her graduate pupils have done good work for the cause of the allies in France and Belgium. She is but twenty years of age

COME AND SEE OUR DELCO ELECTRIC PLANT

A model of simplicity, with few parts to organize and control. Low cost electric current, together with convenient, thirty two volt storage battery. Electricity is put up in the battery by one of the generators most convenient to the gas engine. When the lights are turned on the battery begins to run storage batteries from which electric current is used as desired for light and power.

When it becomes necessary to recharge the battery, the engine is started by merely pressing down on the starting lever, located on the switch board. This mechanically cranks the engine just as the automobile engine is cranked by an electric self-starter.

The engine starts running on its own power in a few seconds. It can then be left to itself, as when the battery is completely charged, the Delco-Light engine stops automatically.

Delco-Light is air cooled. The constant speed at which the engine runs and the comparatively small area to be cooled makes this system practical. This means there is no water to carry, no danger from freezing and fewer parts required.

Actual service under trying conditions proves the reliability of Delco Light. It has been thoroughly tried and tested in every possible way, both as the shop built in practical service on the farm and in the home. Nothing has been left to chance.

The Delco Electric Light makes it easy for the children to study their school lessons and to read in the evening. In fact, it encourages reading and study on the part of the entire family. It is also a big factor in protecting your building from fire. A table where coal oil or gasoline is used for light. The cheerfulness of pure, clean, bright electric light as compared with dim, smells coal oil lamps is appreciated the moment electric lights are installed.

Consider what Delco-Light will do for you, and then ask yourself if you are not interested in learning more about Delco Light.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Mrs. Quinn's Experience Ought to Help You Over the Critical Period.

Lowell, Mass.—"For the last three years I have been troubled with the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness at that time. I was in a very nervous condition, with headaches and pain, a good deal of the time so I was unfit to do my work. A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and it has helped me in every way, so I am not nearly so nervous, no headaches or pains. I shall always tell my friends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best remedy any such woman can take."—Mrs. Margaret Quinn, Rear 250 Merrimon St., Lowell, Mass.

Other warning symptoms are a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness, lassitude, and dizziness.

If you need special advice, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

An Historic Speech

Unified Parliament of the Empire Not Favored

"The speech of General Smuts was one of the finest and most statesmanlike utterances I have ever had the privilege of hearing," said Sir Robert Borden, Premier of Canada, on his return to Ottawa from the Imperial Conference in London. "He made a powerful appeal for the unification of the Empire, and I am sure that his speech will have a profound effect throughout the Dominions. Personally, I am not in favor of the proposal to be described by General Smuts as the ideal one. It is impossible to-day to establish a parliament of the Empire. It will be years before the necessary conditions can exist for the establishment of such a parliament. What is already begun, in the way of co-operation between the Dominions, is the finest assurance of the future unity of the Empire."—London Daily Telegraph.

Pain for Minard's and Take no Other

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. A Harrowing Tale

"No Powder for a Pig of an Englishman"

In a speech at the Canard steamship dinner and the terrible interruption that followed, Mr. Winston Churchill dealt with other matters, as treated by the British Press, but not with Queen, and Queen Alexandra, or the Royal Family, or the most harrowing of the Press Bureau's many stories. Mr. Churchill actually as if obliged on the spur of the moment to tell a story of his boyhood. Both he and his brother, the late Lord Randolph, were fond of pigs, and when Winston was at Harrow he had a pig which he used to feed himself. He was very proud of it, and used to take it for walks. One day he met a friend, who asked him what he was doing with the pig. He replied that he was going to enter it for the pigs' competition at the local show. His friend laughed at the idea, and said that the pig was sure to be beaten. Winston replied that he was confident that his pig would win, as he had been feeding it on Pain Extractor. His friend said that he had never heard of such a thing, and that he would bet him a sovereign that the pig would not win. Winston accepted the bet, and the pig was entered for the competition. When the day arrived Winston was very confident, but his friend was very much amused when he saw the pig. He said: "Why, you haven't got a chance. That pig is a mere skeleton, and you have been feeding it on Pain Extractor!" Winston replied: "Yes, I have been feeding it on Pain Extractor, but you have been feeding your pig on Pain Extractor and Pain Killer, and I'll bet you a sovereign that my pig will beat yours." The bet was taken, and the day arrived for the show. Winston's pig was led into the ring, and the judge, on seeing it, said: "No powder for a pig of an Englishman." Drawn then, you cease, disgust" and his dog dragged from view.

On European Battlefields

The Proper Place to Defend the United States

Some questions may be raised by Americans who have not yet come to love the full gravity of the war as to whether the government should not have allowed any more talk about peace for foreign service. To that may be seen in the full speeches and current issues of Belgium, Poland, Serbia and Rumania. Wherever the German has been put down he has left behind him a trail of hate as well as of ruin. Wherever he has been the power of the Turks and the Tartars has been paralyzed. Wherever that power has been broken the lesson must be that nations cannot be permitted to live among the countries. The place to defend the United States from aggression is not within the United States but on European battlefields. It is not against the military power of any citizen either to be called upon to defend his country abroad. To do so would be to repudiate the first principle of the moral obligation of all citizens to defend their country overseas.

Miller's Worm Powders are a valuable medicine for worm-infested children. When directions are followed there is nothing of an injurious nature in these powders.

Zouaves of France

Though the Zouaves, who covered themselves with glory in the Crimean campaign, have been a component part of the French army for nearly a century, they have traditionally been recruited from the ranks of the Algerian war the French Government has always had a number of the many wandering tribesmen of Northern Africa under its colors and can, therefore, call upon them for service in the field at short notice. Their uniform has undergone many changes, but the present one is the most picturesque of all. It consists of a short red jacket, with blue facings, a blue sash, and a white turban. The baggy trousers are of blue cloth, and the gaiters are of white linen. Each battalion of Zouaves has a distinctive color of its own, which is worn by the men in the form of a tuft on the fez. The Zouaves are splendid fighting men, and have always been in the forefront of battle. They suffer from diseases peculiar to their native country, and are, therefore, kept apart from the rest of the army. Each battalion has its own canteen and cook-house, and the men live entirely by themselves.

Pills for Nervous Trouble—"Some time ago I was troubled with nervousness, and was induced to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I found it to be a most excellent remedy, and I can highly recommend it to any one suffering from nervousness. I think that any person who thinks that any proprietary medicines are worthless should refer to the results of a recent investigation by the Department of Agriculture, which finds that the analysis of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food shows that it contains the very ingredients which are known to the medical profession as nerve tonics and restoratives, and which are prescribed by physicians daily for nervous troubles. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is sold by all dealers, or by E. T. Bates & Co., Toronto.

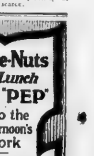
PAIN? NOT A BIT!
LIFT YOUR CORNS
OR CALLUSES OFF
No burning! Apply few drops then just lift them away with fingers.

This new drug is an ether compound discovered by a Cincinnati genius. It is called freezone, and can now be obtained at any drug store. It dries up the corn or callus, but shrivels the skin around it. Never blisters and never stings! Just ask for freezone at any drug store. A tiny bottle will cost but a few cents, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn or callus from one's feet. Not even painful calluses on bottom of foot, tender corns between the toes, burns, blisters or soreness is touched by freezone, so why not get rid of your troubles right off now?



Not a twinge of pain, not even irritation, and you can shrivel every single corn, hard corn, soft corn or callus right off your toes without one bit of soreness.

The Buckeyer—That's an adding machine, Miss Multitrax.

The Stenographer—Sure! I see how it works. If you want to add one hundred and seven you touch one button and then count ten times, but how you get to the number six button and that's the answer. How clever!

The Perfect Woman

She is 60, Mother of Five Children, Religious, Athletic and Learned

"Mr. Prince Woman" has just been elected by a majority of 129 a deputy of teachers from the girls' schools throughout the United States as the result of their united efforts.

The perfect woman is not pretty, married, and is the mother of five children. She is happy with her station, living in a terraced flat in Bloomsbury, and has a cook-housekeeper companion, and has a gun for freedom. She is a Radical woman, and tries to fulfil her duty to her country. She likes walks, tinkering, chickens, and plays games. She is also a linguist and does a mean car. She is prominent in many branches of social life, and is interested in everything and everything she is not. She has some knowledge about the law, knows how to invest money, can run a typewriter. She is a great reader; every day she reads some serious book in the train, a daily paper and a novel. She speaks three languages besides her own, then reads foreign books. She is fond of gardening and loves flowers, cruelty—wood carving, metal work—and needlework—embroidery.

PERFECT HEALTH DUE TO THE BLOOD

No Girl or Woman Need be Constantly Ailing and Miserable

Nature intended every girl and woman should be bright, cheerful, active and healthy. Yet too many of them find their lives a burden, suffering—nearly always because their blood is to blame. All those unnecessary pills and women with colorless faces, sallow complexions and tireless eyes, are in this condition. Instead of being rosy-cheeked with rich, red blood in their veins to keep them well, they are pale, sickly, weak, and they suffer from distressing ailments peculiar to their sex. Dark rings under their eyes, thin, pimply complexion, and because of the slightest exertion, and they are often troubled with headaches. These are only a few of the miseries so many girls and women have to endure. Girls and women from the ages of fifteen to forty-five years are especially a generous supply of new, rich, red blood is necessary. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved so successful in creating red, good blood as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Thousands and thousands of girls and women in their declining years have found that they owed their health and strength to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Here is one among thousands: Miss Jessie Cameron, Lyndhurst, Ont., says: "I was pale, my lips, gums and nails were bloodless, and I suffered almost daily from headaches, dizziness and a tired feeling.

The Germans and The Hohenzollerns

The theory that it is the Kaiser and Hohenzollern who are to blame for Germany's present madness and that the German people are guiltless has never seemed very reasonable to me, but now it seems enough to make a sane man stand by, get rid of it. Hohenzollerism they could have managed with.

But the Hohenzollerns are there, because, in Germany going back to the world in a truly national aspiration. They like them to remain there as proud as it; they wish to keep so. That is the fact.

The war will not end through the overthrow of the imperial form of government by the German people. It will end only by a defeat of the German people or by their victory. And victory is still possible to the Germans unless their hearts give in to the gutter — speedily as possible with every ounce of energy.

MEN AT THE DIRECTING CENTRE OF BRITAIN'S VAST FIGHTING MACHINE

IN TOUCH WITH WAR OPERATIONS ON ALL FRONTS

The Seven Men Who Compose the British War Cabinet and Under Whose Guidance the War Operations on the Wide Flung Battle Front are Planned and Put Into Effect

Just now, in England, there is a group known as the War Cabinet, which matter—seven men who are more important to every man, woman and child in the United Kingdom than anybody else.

They are the seven who direct the war.

These seven men who matters are Premier Lloyd George, David Lloyd George the money minister, Andrew Bonar Law, the labor minister, Arthur Henderson the two cabinet ministers, Lord Curzon and Lord Milner, and two talking chiefs, Sir John Jellicoe and Sir William Robertson.

They sit on a plain room, behind a dingy front, in one of the shortest and greyest little streets in England. In a room on Downing Street, the brain of the British war machine is constantly at work.

There is the war brain of the Russian troops on the battlefield, there is the war brain of France, and there is the brain of Italy's mountain fighters of Italy in Rome, the chief of the army and navy. But now war direction brain is respected and symbolized as more important than all.

Lloyd George presides, and he, with Bonar Law, Arthur Henderson, and Lord Curzon sometimes Lord Milner, are the war cabinet. The other two who make the seven are Admiral Sir John Jellicoe of the navy and General Sir William Robertson of the army. General Jellicoe is the first sea lord and naval head of the admiralty, and General Robertson is the chief of the imperial general staff and of the army.

The great war brain is well supplied with servants which help it in its thinking machines all over Europe. It is a busy device. Its nerves are the borders of the Tigris and the Euphrates, and the nerves in England are nothing close to the ocean or at Bilbao in Spain.

The seven sit nearly every day to consider the war problems of the world. Each of them are able to call in the men who are the heads of the various departments connected with fighting the war. Each can send for or obtain if the British war cabinet has to consult with a man in some other country. He becomes worth knowing, or if the country he lives in is worth while the cabinet can get him permanently if it need be. Such is the power of the British war cabinet.

Let us take a man and see how it works. Suppose Norgham, Ont., he ought to know the war. Suppose he is in Ottawa something on his side.

Immigration Still Steady

A total of 75,391 immigrants were admitted to Canada during the fiscal year 1916-17. Of the number 61,309 came from the United States, 8,482 from Great Britain and 2,933 from continental Europe.

The fiscal year ended March 31st, 1917. According to figures issued by the Commissioner of Immigration at Winnipeg, a total of 75,845 immigrants, including settlers and farm laborers, entered the country from the United States during the first 9 months.

Records show that they carried $2,344,539 in cash.

During the same period 2,216 homestead entries have been made by immigrants.

Manitoba secured 344 of these, Saskatchewan 720 and Alberta 1,061.

Prussianized Germans

The American Declares the German Must Be Punished Through Its People

C B Pye, of Portland, Oregon, wrote the following to the Telegram of that city. Much is being said about the president's statement that we are not warring upon the German people but upon the German government.

We do not desire needlessly to offend our neighbors, but today we are at life and death grips with the German government. We are not anxious to think of Germany as the enemy of Kant and Goethe and Schiller, but we no longer can. Since the Franco-Prussian war of nearly a half century ago Germany has been the thoroughly Prussianized that to-day it is the land of Bernhardi and the kaiser, particularly the kaiser. Less than a month ago I heard a young German army officer, home on furlough, boastfully, that if occasioned to do so by the kaiser he would run his sword through Germany if there are an Hoffman trifle among them.

The contingency, therefore, that ought to right along with the rest of the world is the allies. It is no mistake on the present generation of Germans that all arrogance proceeds from them, sanctimony, gentleness, and unhappiness are not German traits. Never have there been more unhappy people than these. These noble traits are looked upon with contempt and loathing by the Prussianized Germans.

"ALL IN TOGETHER"

It seems to be a quite prevalent notion that conscription is a simple and easy way of getting the reinforcements needed for the army, and that is all there is to it. That idea may be profitably dismissed at once. [illegible] does [illegible] other [illegible] it is of getting recruits, and it is best reasons that can be given for getting [illegible] long [illegible] possible loss of time. But it involves a good deal more than that. It is a complete reversal of the national [illegible] policy, the adoption of the principle of individual liberty and the adoption of the principle of compulsory service. And is this principle to be applied only to the unemployed thousand men needed in the trenches? Are the rest of us to be left free to do as we please, or to do nothing if we please? If there should be compulsory recruiting for the army, why not for the carrying on of war work, and the production of food supplies—which the Director of National Service tells us are quite as important in their places as the holding of the line in France? Is the industrial slacker to be left to loaf while the lives of better men are conscripted? Let us have compulsory service as it seems to be necessary, but for the sake of decent consistency, as well as the sake of the country and the cause with which it stands, let it be compulsion only for the few and exemption for the many.—Edmonton Bulletin.

WHEAT SOWN IN CANADA.

The census and statistics office has issued a preliminary estimate of the areas sown to grain crops this spring with a report of their condition on May 31. The reports from the prairie provinces state that the spring there is very backward and seeding is consequently late. At the end of May severe frosts cut down the growing wheat plant; but rapid recovery was anticipated.

It is estimated that the total area sown to wheat for 1917 is 13,450,250 acres as compared with 14,897,000 acres the area harvested in 1916. Thus, the area sown this year, whilst nearly 10 per cent less than the area sown for 1916 is about four per cent more than the area harvested for 1916.

The decrease in the area sown to wheat this year is partly due to the curtailment of the seeding season by the lateness of the spring and efforts were therefore apparently directed towards an increase in the areas sown to other crops. For oats the acreage sown is 11,781,900 acres as compared with 11,-[illegible],300, the acreage sown last year. Barley 1,954,100 acres, as against 1,287,700

HOW TO CARE FOR BABY.

"How to Take Care of Baby During Hot Weather" is the title of a most instructive little book now being issued by the Edmonton Health Department.

It can be obtained by calling at the health office in the city hall and mothers will find it worth their while to secure a copy.

It contains a great deal of most useful information on how to feed the baby during the summer months, its clothing, sleeping, bathing, and general handling.

"A Baby Primer" is another handy little publication for mothers. It is illustrated and depicts points which are of special significance in the treatment of children.

This booklet can also be obtained at the health department.

John Deere Harvesting MACHINERY

The John Deere-Dain Mower cuts satisfactorily after nine years of constant use.

It has only three gears, so arranged that they hold each other in mesh, even after they start to wear. No power is lost in transmission from axle to knife. mower runs smoothly and cuts steadily.

The John Deere Sulky Rake has a lever of absolute control. The teeth can be set for transportation, to gather only clean hay, leaving trash and stubble undisturbed.

The John Deere-Dain Mower cuts clean other hot places can be kept in alignment and knives centered in the guards. 21 point clutch insures cutting not necessary to back up.

John Deere Sulky Rake Frame with strong truss rod does not sag in centre—axles arched, give wheels correct pitch to keep them running true. Rake head turns on axle. Wheels remain in proper position when raker is dumping. Wear is reduced.

We also handle the Frost & Wood mower and rake.

Few People Know This

Large doses of pills for the liver are usually inefficient as small doses.

The big dose purges its way through the system fruit, but does not cleanse thoroughly.

The small dose (if right) acts gently on the liver, and gives it just the slight help it needs to do its own work, and do it well.

Take one pill regularly, until you know you are all right.

EVERYTHING READY FOR THE BIG DAY

All We Need is Good Weather—Bring the Folks in to Town and Enjoy Yourself.

Everything is in readiness for the big celebration and sports day The committees have done their work, and it is up to the crowds to come and enjoy themselves. There will be every kind of sport and games invented by man on the bill-of-fare. And it won't cost you a red cent. The keys of the town are yours, walk in and enjoy you sell. The big automobile parade, the school drills, the brass band, ball games, basketball, foot race, freak games, tug-o'-war, novelty race, where the slowest horse wins, in fact anything that your heart desires will be yours for the asking. Special mention should be made of the automobile parade, as the committee in charge of this intend to make it something that the natives will talk about for the next decade. It will probably be an annual affair in this town, and every auto owner should spruce up his juice buggy and enter this one. Every school within ten miles of the town are talking of entering the banner parade. The school exercises should be worth seeing. Don't forget to see the freak game between "Shorts" Carter's pine tigers and J. G. Nidden's collection of ball players. It will be a five-inning kawin-test, and both teams are out to win those ice cream cones that the committee are putting up for a prize. The junior ball team will take on the pride of Bardo, so you will have a chance to see the kids in action. Bardo, Shorts, Ross Creek and Dodds will take part in a grand baseball tournament. Shonts, Bardo and Tofield basketeers will play basketball. Then there will be the relay race, open to boys 17 and under. This should be interesting as there are a lot of speedy boys in the neighborhood. In the evening the picture show will be going at top speed and Manager Bellamy promises something good in the line of pictures. After the show the Red Cross will take over the hall and will stage one of their delightful dances. Pincott's orchestra will furnish the music and the proceeds will be turned over to the Red Cross. Any time during the day the Red Cross will be on hand with all kinds of eats and something to drink. Following is the program for the day:

All we need is good weather.

The parade will start from the station at 10.30 sharp. All schools intending to take part should be at the station not later than 10.00 am. The banners and automobiles will be judged.

From 12 to 1 o'clock the school drills will be judged and prizes awarded.

At 1 o'clock the sports start and the first ball game will be played

There will be five teams competing in the relay race.

The ball games and basketball will be pulled off as fast as the committee can get the teams on the field. There will be no delays.

The freak game starts promptly at 4 p. m.

The Kitties band will provide music.

The Red Cross and the eating houses will see that you get plenty of eats and red lemonade.

Picture show and dance in the evening.

GAS WILL OPEN DOOR TO WEALTH

Tofield Will Take Step to Industrial Greatness When Franchise is Granted and Work Starts.

Tofield is one more to take its place in the ball of industrial fame. Gas, a medium of transportation to that enviable spot, is the reason. And according to those that know, Tofield has plenty of gas. Just what it will do for the town is not known at present but should half of Mr. Clarke's predictions come true Tofield will be able to offer everything in the way of cheap power, heat and fuel to the manufacturer. Mr. Clarke has large gas and oil interests in the eastern part of the province and has made a good deal to the town council whereby with gas at a reasonable rate, he will, if a franchise is granted him drill 12 gas wells and will keep on drilling until the full benefits of the gas rights is tested As a good flow has been struck, it is his intention to pipe the gas to the different parts of the town. The householder will have a chance to heat and light his house far cheaper than heretofore and will have all the conveniences of a home installed with gas fixtures. Tofield was gassed once before, but while the effort did not prove a great success it proved that gas in unknown quantities was struck in the Tofield gas field. Mr. Clarke asserts that with proper drilling methods the field can be tapped and made subject to the wishes. It is possible that land values will take a jump and Tofield property will be looked to by those that have holdings at present. It is also probable that conditions will be a trifle more unusual than during the last gas excitement, as this time the ratepayers are in favor of the scheme work will be started immediately.

HEN PARTY.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. R. W. Pincott, gave a delightful party to a number of ladies, in honor of the school teachers, who are leaving soon for the summer holidays. Several games of whist was played, after which refreshments were served and Mr. and Mrs. Pincott entertained with music. All enjoyed a most pleasant evening.

ROSS CREEK HELP RED CROSS FUND

Red Cross Fund $43.85 Richer and Everybody Had a Good Time At the Dance.

Ross Creek seems intent on doing their bit in helping to swell the Red Cross fund. A pleasant evening was spent at the Ross Creek schoolhouse last Friday, when the ladies of the district arranged a nice concert and dance Pte. McPherson was present and related his experiences at the front. The evening was licensed by local selectmen by Mrs. E. R. Hallberg and Miss L. Rudd The ladies sang a chorus just before the dance started three handkerchiefs made by Miss Rudd were raffled off and realized $7.20 Mrs. O. Boresdall held the lucky number The ladies also provided an ice cream and lemonade stand which was well patronized. The dance broke up about 4.30 A. M. everybody going home tired but satisfied with their nights fun. The Red Cross is $43.85 richer as a result

Honeysuckles Win.

The Honeysuckles certainly turned the tables in great style last Saturday, when they trimmed their country cousins, the Shonts Merry Maroons, to the tune of 16-6. It was a good, fast game, although the going was heavy and the grounds in bad shape owing to the recent rains, and the girls did a lot of slipping and falling. But about two hundred loyal rooters got plenty of chances to root as the game was full of bright spots. The first period gave Tofield a lead, as the score stood 8-2 In the last period Shonts made a desperate attempt to even things up, and the way the forwards went at it, made things look very uncomfortable, but Velma Kirk, Tofield's new forward, shot three goals in succession in the last few minutes of play and put the game beyond peradventure. The game was clean throughout, the girls playing rough play, and sticking to the business of running the game. The Honeysuckles have but three stride, and some good game should be staged this summer. Tofield and Bardo have proposed to play here on Sports Day. Basketball fans will have a chance to see a number Saturday night's game was a fluke or not. Following is the line-up

Shonts Alma Erickson, Lena Anderson, guards; Ida Varma, captain; Mary Bruha, centre, Agnes Bruha, Inger Broeke, forwards.

Tofield: Inez McMullen, Beatrice Scott (captain), guards; Nola Hannan, Mildred Grinvold, centre, Velma Kirk, Edith Herb, forwards.

BARDO ORGANIZED.

A Red Cross society was organized at Bardo station on June 6th, officers were elected for the year. The next meeting will be held June 6th. The society includes Bardo, Farmington and Ketchamat districts. All those who feels interested in this new society are asked to attend the next meeting.

CORNHILL R. M. MEET IN COUNCIL

Pay Up Your Arrears and Enjoy Privileges of Working Out Current Taxes.

The Cornhill Municipality met in council to discuss finances, and means of collecting taxes. It was decided that if the ratepayers would pay arrears in cash before the government grant had been expended they will be allowed 1 per cent of the whole of the arrears in their own locality, and in addition to work out their own statutory taxes. If this is not taken advantage of by the 15th day of July, the regular method of collecting taxes will be put in force by the council

The following tax warrants were issued: 31 and 32-50-19, and 6-51-20 with a span of 18 feet.

A delegation visited the road running through the H. E. Wallace farm. R. W. Ablett objected to the way Mr. Williams fenced the road allowance and turned the road through his farm. Mr. Ablett's objection was not upheld by the council, they believing that there is no ground for a kick.

All settlers in the vicinity of townships 50-20 and 52-21, in the range line between sections 12 and 17, will be allowed to work out $50.00, more or less, of current taxes on this portion of the road.

PEACE RIVER STANDARD.

The Peace River Standard the latest luminary on the literary horizon arrived this week from the land of the midnight sun. It is published by Tofield's own Inger Brocke, formerly editor of the Tofield Standard. Mr. Brocke, formerly editor of the Bulletin and of the Calgary Herald staff, is a hustler, and together with the advertiser commented on this very subject, a meeting was called by the boosters but nothing out of ordinary was done. It would seem as you watch the countless days that something of this order is very much needed. Those old nature wars can fully gauge the amount of fun that children can have on a properly regulated playground, and through the A. S. of mothers or by watching the play ground there own wits something that we are all ready to go in.

DIED OF WOUNDS

Just as we go to press we hear that Pte. Gerald Pembroke Plants, son of Charles Plants, has been officially reported died of wounds.

LECTURE-RECITAL WAS A SUCCESS

Kenneth H. Lott Gave Entertaining and Instructive Recital - Musical Numbers Add to Program.

Ryley will celebrate Dominion Day on Wednesday, July 4th. The usual ball games, Basketball, foot races, horse races, athletic events, etc., will be the order of the day. Ryley has always made their celebration also a little better every year and this year will be no exception. The local committees in charge are planning everything on the line of a good time, and the surrounding towns and district are invited to make next Wednesday a red letter day in Ryley There will be a dance in the evening at Scouts hall. For further particulars write the secretary of the sports committee.

SCHOOL IS OUT.

The children have begun their long summer vacation. Some will go to the farm and others who are old enough will accept summer schools. However, there will be many Tofield children who will hardly have a holiday in the sense of the word. They will not find it possible to leave home and enjoy themselves at any of the popular summer resorts or watering place, but will be content in banging their heels on the various street corners, happy in the fact that they are free from the teacher's eyes for at least two months. Tofield is fortunate in having a large tast ground. On this ground is a baseball diamond a tennis court and race track. Those who are fond of outdoor sports will be able to while away a few hours at any of the pastimes A good game of ball will be pulled off this afternoon by the school bell or thoughts of honest work will do much towards the health of a boy or girl The exercise and fast get ands all of these games that make the boys and girls of Canada what they are. A league will be formed between Tofield, Bardo and Ryley and that after that date the Executive will proceed to distribute the assets of the defeated among the partners entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims on which notice has been served.

DATED at the City of Edmonton, in the Province of Alberta, this 22nd day of June A.D. 1917.

RYLEY WILL CELEBRATE JULY 4

Ryley Will Celebrate Confederation on July 4th. Everything to be Pulled Off in Good Style.

Kenneth H. Lott was billed to speak under the auspices of the Red Cross on Friday night, and something unusual was promised the public. Only a small crowd gathered to hear the lecture-recital on "The Sports of the West," and they heartily enjoyed every minute of it. Those who stayed away can certainly figure that they missed a treat. Mr. Lott is a splendid talker and pictures the sports of the west in a way that makes one wish he was there. He would be glad to entertain at any evening that may suit the parties. Miss Lott rendered in a very pleasing manner several selections. Mr. Mc. Wright gave a recitation, and Mr. H. H. Rowland sang, and accompanied by Mrs. R. W. Pincott, helped to make the entertainment pleasant

READ THE ADS.

Reader when you are preparing to come to town to do some trading just pick up your home paper, glance at the advertising columns and see who wants trade. We guarantee they will save you money. The man who advertises certainly has inducements to offer you or he wouldn't ask you to call and see him before buying.

DON'T SUBSIDIZE.

From Ottawa comes news that a tax will be imposed on all incomes in excess of $3,000 per year. That is justified as a war measure and as a means of raising revenue. But it is not the expropriation of excess war profits. The tax will fall equally upon the man who has made no money out of the war. The demand for the conscription of the profiteer's spoils is not to be side-stepped that way.

NO TIME TO MINCE WORDS.

The views expressed by Captain Burnham are an exact echo of the views of a majority of the Canadian people This is no time for mincing words on the subject which lies close to the heart of every lover of fair play. If Canada is to be placed at last on an efficient war footing, it must be done on the principle of a perfect cube. It is outraging fair play to conscript manhood without conscripting excess profits and placing food prices under strict control.

NEW STOCK FOR PROVINCE.

William Gilbert, of Sunny Brook farm, Sunny Plain, has just returned from the east with some fine animals to add to his splendid herd of prize winners which has made the Sunny Brook farm famous at the fairs of Western Canada. The champion Tamworth boar of America will now head the herd on this famous Alberta farm. Mr. Gilbert brought back with him the Tamworth boar which was champion at Toronto and United States fairs, some first prize winners in both boars and sows, as well as good Oxford and Shropshire sheep. He has also in quarantine at the U. S. boundary a brother and two sisters of the famous world's champion. Berkshire boar, Laurel Champion. Sunny Brook is now one of the largest pure-bred pig farm in Canada and visitors are always welcome.

Mr. Gilbert will be prepared to supply a large number of high class registered swine and sheep and so help much in the building up of these profitable branches of mixed farming in Alberta.

RED CROSS DAY.

The Alberta Red Cross Society has requested that July 2nd next, on which date Dominion Day celebrations will be held, be observed as Red Cross Day throughout the province. It is requested that all monies raised on that day, either through ordinary holiday celebrations or through special efforts on the part of various societies and districts, should beturned over for the use of the Red Cross. All sections of the community are urged to cooperate in a great Red Cross effort.

It is desired by the Society that the interest and sympathy of every man woman and child should be united on behalf of the Red Cross.

Thousands of dollars are needed to successfully carry on the work; it is therefore suggested that July 2nd, Jubilee Confederation Day, be a day devoted to Red Cross giving— such a day as shall create a noble precedent for generosity and remain forever a proud tradition in the history of the province.

Helping Mother.

My dreams for mother are coming true.

At every opportunity I spend a day down home in the country. I like to do this. The rush of my work out of town my nerves rest at times I get away from true balance. Out o doors brings peace.

Much time I get back I have a big surprise awaiting me Last year Dad was father's tractor that was dragging three sets of plows doing the work of four men and three times that many horses.

This year brought the biggest surprise of all—electricity. The old farm is getting to be the place I wished it to be before I left old dreams are coming true

City conveniences have never become common place to me electric lights — electric power sanitary plumbing electric vacuum cleaners electric irons electric washing machines, etc

Since leaving the farm for the city with all of the conveniences that city life brings I have kept seeing and doing things that I wished I could get for mother that would lighten her work and make her happy But I could never send her any of the conveniences that we have in our home for she could not use the a without electricity

I have always felt bad when I went on home and saw mother working so hard with so little help

But now everything is changed. Our electric plant Father bought it for her sake—it helps me more than anyone else.

She took to and to use it

They have it installed in the old shed where we kids used to play. Since Mother started in to use it I could hear it Traced it outside and found it buried in a trench in the ground

The name plate says it is a Delco Light plant. It has a motor run by a two cylinder like battery cell engine straight side by side at attention ready for instant service when other burners switch gets close to it.

I know that that electric light and power plant are going to add much to the health and she is going to live longer. It helps her in her work and she is interested in it and has so much fun looking after it herself.

Remember the old spelling lessons that we went by—Mother, Father. They are in the dictionary. I remember that they have a picture of the Delco-Light plant. The same amount of fuel gives a much light as the old ways. The light is clear and clean and the cleaning trimming and filling of lamps and lanterns any more.

The milkhouse is not the same and I am glad it has. The electric refrigerating system is installed. No trouble, to keep everything cold and the buttermilk tastes just the same when we used to keep it down in the spring

Butter-cooler reminds me. You and see the churn. Recently the old churn was used for Dad's. How we pound that dasher up and down. A motor tumbles a churn that runs actually easier to turn—the butter come quicker.

It used to be pretty dull to the milkhouse to keep things cool and mother knew a well it is to be kept and it is a better place in the cool to the under it all—not bad to keep up.

In the days gone by in the evening time the old lamp had to be trimmed filled, chimney cleaned. Bulb lamp. Now a few seconds to do the thing. Father trades the lamp bricks and chews it all over in the year.

Mother read the paper then to Dad and he when we were at home.

Dad has all sorts of machinery and an electric iron. That's for and wash days are over.

The cutter for the hay is now motorized. Wash days are over. Dad be days of drudgery and of the without much help. Dad's washing machine tub. The washing machine is handy used to be. The motor runs the churn, the vacuum cleaner, the iron, the sewing machine, the grinder, the cutter, the churn and the washing machine. It pushes the

Doctor Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent. In One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

LONDON—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye-strain or other eye trouble? If so, you will be glad to know that you may in many instances be able to throw them away and rely entirely upon Nature to restore your vision. If your eyes are bothering you, or if you have poor eyesight, you should by all means try to help them in every way possible, for you certainly ought have cared of them but once they are gone.

Many simple cases of eye trouble are due entirely to a run down condition of the nerves and can be relieved in a remarkably short time by the use of a reliable tonic. Just why the following prescription is so unusually successful in overcoming eye troubles is not definitely known, but the fact remains that it has proved almost invariably successful in the hands of many who have used it. Here is the prescription: Go to any druggist and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and let it dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two or three times daily. Then for two weeks take one tablet after each meal. Bon-Opto is said to be unusually successful in relieving weak, watery eyes, eye-strain, blurred vision, and many other eye troubles, even in cases where glasses seemed necessary. Many have written that they have discarded their glasses entirely after using this prescription for a short time. Bon-Opto is sold by druggists everywhere under a positive guarantee to refund the money unless it relieves eye trouble 50 per cent. in one week's time. Its success in relieving even a remarkably low-grade case of eyes is astonishing.

THE DOOR TO HEALTH

Is Through the Rich Red Blood Dr Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make

The blood is responsible for all the ills that flesh is heir to. If it is pure disease cannot exist. If it is impure or deficient good health cannot be enjoyed. Impure blood means poor health in every form from head to heels. In order to insure health we must keep the blood pure and rich. Dr Williams' Pink Pills do this and more. They actually make new, rich, red blood, and so reach every part of the body with health and watery. There is no other medicine that can do this. Dr Williams' Pink Pills are the only medicine that actually make new blood. That is why they are the only medicine that can cure such troubles as anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, kidney disease, heart palpitation, headaches or backaches, nervousness or the ills of the many other forms of ill-health that are simply the result of poor blood and watery blood. There is no other medicine that can do this. Dr Williams' Pink Pills are the only medicine that actually make new, rich, red

THURSDAY, JULY 7, 1917

Alberta folks take a keen interest in the war, judging from the latest bulletin of the post office department, which records the opening of a new post office near Edmonton, to be called Vimy. The postmaster is Beart Benoit.

The winners in the Essay Competition put on by the Edmonton Exhibition for boys attending the Agricultural Schools at Olds, Claresholm and Vermilion have now been announced, as follows:

Olds School—Ralph Baird, Tilly, Alta. Alvin Seymour, Donalda, Alta. John Martin, Delroy, Alta. Ed. W. Phillips, Langdon, Alta.

Claresholm School—Milton Hansen, Aetna, Alta. Ross Walker, Reid's Hills, Alta. Wesley Smith, Cravath Corners. Nelson Fraser, High River.

The winners in this contest were determined by their standing in the year's work at the school, also by the marks obtained in an essay competition on the subject of "Why I expect to become a Farmer." The winners will be the guests of the Edmonton Exhibition association at the Summer Exhibition, July 9th—14th.

A number from here have signified their intention of taking part in the contest which is being put on by the Edmonton Exhibition Association and the Edmonton Automobile Club, for decorated cars, on Friday July 13th—the first day of the automobile racing at the Edmonton Exhibition, which is being held July 9th to 14th. There will be two sections in this contest—one for decorated private cars, and one for decorated industrial or commercial cars, and three trophies, valued at $35, $15 and $10— are being offered as prizes in each section.

Ev ryone who has a motor car is invited to take part in this contest and parade. No entry fee is being charged, and the Exhibition Association has agreed to admit free of charge to the Exhibition grounds every decorated car in the parade, together with the driver of the car. If the automobiles or the automobile clubs of any district care to enter this contest as a unit thus advertising their district, or if they prefer to enter their cars individually, a postal card to Manager Stark of the Edmonton Exhibition, or F. G. McDermid, of the Edmonton Automobile Club, will bring full particulars as to the hour and route of parade, judging etc.

COWS ARE NICE.

Cows are a nice thing to have about. They look nice. They are useful. They wake you up early in the morning bawling to be milked. They tell you when there is going to be a change in the weather. They are responsible for the cream that you use in your tea every meal, the butter that you use on your bread. Usually they live a useful life unless sold to the stockyards and get knocked in the head to become converted into Ayrshire breakfast rolls. Yes, they are a nice thing to have. And your neighbor will agree with you that they are nice, but he would like you to keep them out of his garden. If he spends many weary hours with his back bent trying to plant a bed or so of onions, etc., he expects to call his friends in for a feed soon, and doesn't want his choice head of cabbage that he was saving for the fair eat by your cow. If you would produce good, neighborly feelings and sweet dispositions all around, hobble your cow.

THE STATION AGENT.

We have always felt that the station agent in a small town has a snap. We have watched him intermittently for twenty years or more. All that he has to do is to sweep out the station, take care of the fires, empty the ashes, make excuses to the patrons for trains that are late, ride up and down the track on a three-legged handcar and fill the switch lights, count the cash, do the telegraphing for the whole town and the railroad at the same time, carry nine tons of baggage every day, answer 9,000 fool questions, take the numbers of freight cars in the yards, work the semaphore, keep a cool head with the train dispatchers, check trunks, answer the telephone, chase the hoodlums off the platform, pull tramps out of box cars, watch the track for bad rails and joints, take care of the express, keep the water cooler filled, sell tickets two or three feet long without making a mistake, handle the parcel freight, carry suitcases for ladies, make out way bills and figure freight rates to Honolulu and Vancouver, B.C. After that nothing to do till tomorrow. Ho hum. It's a gay life.

WHY NOT DO IT?

A committee of the United States Senate proposes to prohibit absolutely the manufacture and importation of distilled spirits during the war, and to give the President power to prevent the manufacture of wine and beer. Prohibition to the "bone dry" degree is thus fairly in prospect as one of the war measures of the United States. Canada could save a good many million bushels of grain and a good many millions of dollars for better use by adopting similar means.

When in Edmonton call and see Dr. Mecklenburg, the long experienced and highly qualified optician, Williamson Building. Charges are moderate. 14p

Running a newspaper is just like running a hotel, only different. When a man goes into a hotel and finds something on the table which does not suit him, he does not raise hades with the landlord and tell him to stop his old hotel. Well hardly. He sets that dish to one side and wades into the many dishes that suit him. It is different with some newspaper readers. They find an article occasionally that does not suit them exactly and without stopping to think it may please hundreds of other readers, make a grand-stand play and tell the editor how the paper should be run and what it should be put into it. But only people are becoming fewer every year.

People in Occupied Territory Show No Eagerness to Help Germany

German efforts to induce the able-bodied Poles living in the occupied districts of Russian Poland to volunteer for the "Polish Army" that the Teuton military authorities are said to have planned to use as a buffer to protect their forces from an advance by the Russian troops are reported as having proved futile, and a story from Berlin which has reached the Corriere della Sera of Milan says that obligatory military service has recently been introduced in the occupied territory.

Despite the German government's attempts to arouse enthusiasm among the Poles for the new army and semi-official reports from Berlin or Warsaw telling of a general rallying to the colors by Polish students and the Polish people in general, news from Polish and Russian sources fails to reveal any eagerness on the part of the people in the occupied territory to enlist to fight for the Central Powers. The Russian Polish news agency Rech recently printed a resolution adopted by the Polish Socialist party among the Polish workingmen not to enlist in the Polish army until they were called to arms by a govern ment that had been chosen by the people and the choice of deputies, and declaring that the workers demanded the immediate granting of the recruiting of workers' Soldiers and Deputies. This resolution was endorsed by the inhabitants of the occupied region.

A Real Asthma Relief

Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has been advertised by extraordinary statements. Its users are numerous and behind, when called for by name, which is perfectly proper. It is a belief and every one who has used it knows that it will relieve in every case where it is used. It never has utterly failed.

State Slavery

Of all the pernicious phenomena of this war, that return to state slavery is perhaps the most stunning revelation of what civilization will henceforth be "up against" if it can not find a way to keep it down. But one has only to look at all workingmen in Europe held the view that they might as well work for one master as for another, and that in their country was invaded it meant simply a change of master. The deportation of Belgians for forced labor ended that theory, while the spread of industrial conscription, most fervently to be hoped, will be the last nail in the coffin of militarism.—From the Springfield Republican.

Fifteen Times to the Rescue

A splendid feat of seamanship which saved the lives of a crew that not keep to itself altogether, was performed when news developments called recently. In spite of the raging storm and a pitch dark night, the commander of a steaming destroyer brought the vessel alongside one of the sinking ships 15 times, and succeeded in taking off the whole crew. And not a word has been published as what the Navy needs as much as the most splendid and daring feats of seamanship now accomplished. But this is the tradition of those who form the finest weapon ever forged. Our heroes on the sea know, and to them is all nothing.

Transvaal farmers are forming co-operative societies for the purchase and use of farm machinery.

The Nation's Resources

National Safety Demands That We Be Able to Utilize Them Properly

The war has agitated every British country to its foundations. It has caused a searching of heart which the world has not known before in modern times. Among the most remarkable of its results has been the re-examination which each nation has been compelled to make with regard to its material resources. The gospel which we have been preaching for some years past has now been found to be the true gospel. It has been found by hard experience that national safety demands that no citizen should be allowed to possess more than a current few years people listened to the discussion of this subject with politic but somewhat academic interest, they now know that no subject is of more importance to the national well-being, and that the lack of developed capacity to utilize every possible resource may in certain emergencies mean disaster. Therefore, though it be a time of war, when thoughts of war and matters relating directly to its conduct occupy people's minds almost exclusively, yet it has become clear through the very lessons taught us by the war that our work is of the most far-reaching importance. Every consideration points to vigorous and aggressive action rather than to postponement or delay.—Sir Clifford Sifton, at Anglish Annual Meeting, Commission of Conservation.

WHAT ONTARIO FOLKS SAY.

Hamilton, Ont.—"This is to state that I have received great benefit from the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Some time ago I was run down and weak, suffered loss of appetite and was miserable. Four bottles of the 'Prescription' cured me up in fine shape; it did wonders for me and I can recommend it very highly to those who are ailing." Miss Maud Mullan, 127 Hess St., Hamilton, Ont.

Brantford, Ont.—"Some few years ago I got in a very much run-down condition. Was very weak; could not do anything; had no strength at all. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I only took two bottles and it put me in splendid condition. I felt better than I had for years, other members of my family have used this medicine and found it equally as beneficial. I can highly recommend it to weak women." Mrs. A. Gilmour, 71 Brighton Row, Brantford, Ont.

The use of Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes women happy by making them healthy. There are many imitations of "Favorite Prescription," but no other medicine for women will make sick women well. Like a spent brook, our force will fail the tide of health to choose. Hollow cheeks and sunken eyes, lumpy cries, dragging pains and wasting debilitating disease soon place on the body. It may be one place or another, the cause is generally found to be a common source.

Get the "Prescription" to-day—either in liquid or tablet form—if you want to better your physical condition speedily.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Keep the body clean inside as well as outside.

"I retire full again and I'll send you a check for the balance you owe me," said to be a police court justice.

Rural Education Conditions

Importance of Primary School Training as Shown by Survey

In a survey of agricultural conditions in Dundas county, Ontario, conducted by the commission of conservation, Dr. Dyer, the subject of education received special attention. Of the 1,200 children of school age in the county, 1,000 were found to be attending school. Some had attended college and one of the old had been to college. Only two per cent. of the farmers' sons had attended agricultural college. Many of the farmers' sons had received a high school education, but had not received any training in agriculture. Many of the boys who had left the farm to enter the professions, commerce or industry, were found to be successful in their chosen callings. Settlement Committee Has Been Appointed

Australian High Commissioner and Agent-General Walker of Winnipeg Members

The Colonial Secretary has appointed a committee to consider the settlement of ex-soldiers within the Empire. The committee includes the Australian High Commissioner and Agent-General Bruce Walker of Winnipeg. The Times hopes the committee will not be allowed to prejudice the War Conference Committee, and will also have a guard against the accusation only too readily launched that schemes of aiding the emigration of soldiers are likely to denude Britain of the best of her population. What is wanted is a central body to supervise all land settlement.

AND TELLS OF BENEFIT RECEIVED FROM DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Mrs. H. A. Standish Strong, Hearty and Enthusiastic at Berry-tree Advises Others to Use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Berry Cliff, Stanstead Co., Que., (Special)—One of the most enthusiastic workers in this district is Mrs. H. A. Standish. Though seventy years of age, her splendid health enables her to keep house for herself and family. At one time she used strength to devote to the welfare of the boys in the trenches. And Mrs. Standish will tell you she owes that splendid health to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I must say that Dodd's Kidney Pills are worth their weight in gold," Mrs. Standish said. "I have recommended them to many friends for them and have helped me very much for that disease. You can say for me that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the best remedy for anyone who is troubled with the kidneys."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the keystone of woman's health. Keep the kidneys clean and the rest will be right. Don't neglect your kidneys if you want to keep well.

Must Brace Ourselves

We Must All Be Prepared to Make Even Greater Sacrifices

We have constantly to bear in mind the serious minister's warning that, though the war may be paid for, our victory is still denied. Let us not be deceived about that. We will not be content merely to regain what we have lost. We will not be content merely to win better terms. Back by a reconstruction of our whole industry and social life, he has yet to face explosive. Germany is entering on a final phase in which he hopes to wear down the resources of the Allies to make even greater sacrifices than we have yet made. Now economizers which we have hardly dreamed of, to face with courage risks and losses greater than any we have experienced in the first year of the war. The answer of the Allied governments to the Germans' challenge was, in three respects, a decisive one. We will not now or hereafter yield to the consequences.—The Westminster Gazette.

Tin Shortage in Canada

Ottawa Department Suggests That Old Tins Should be Preserved

Officials of the Department of Trade and Commerce state that there is a shortage of tinplate in Canada. This is due to lower production in England and the shipping situation. The department thinks that steps should be taken to collect all the tins possible, such as tin boxes and cans, which can be used over and over again. It is believed that if some systematic plan of collection is adopted, a large percentage of the tinplate will be largely made up

Farmers Want More Rain Crops Are in Good Condition

Grain in Fine Shape and Promises a Record Yield Hay is Going to be Scarce.

SEVEN HEAD OF HIGH-CLASS SHORTHORNS FOR THIS DISTRICT

T. R. Henderson Has Wheat Headed Out That Stands Thirty-Six Inches High.

Reports from one end of the Tofield district to the other give a very glowing account of crop conditions. The statement of the farmers invariably is that the weather is fine and warm and all we need is a little rain to keep things moving. Some farmers report phenomenal growth, and think that with present conditions Tofield should see a bumper yield. The crops are easily two or three weeks ahead of last year, one farmer said, in spite of the late spring. Hay will be scarce, and no hopes of getting any in this district.

In an interview with John Francis, one of Tofield's up-to-date farmers, he told the Advertiser that his grain had attained the height of fifteen inches, and that all he needed in his district was a little rain. The green feed was coming slow, but the only thing that could possibly stop him from having a record stand would be a hail storm. He declared that he wasn't worrying any, and expected to be right along with an average bin full of grain.

T. R. Henderson reports amazing growth on his place. His grain on being measured had reached the height of thirty-six inches. Mr. Henderson declares that this stand would compare very favorably with anything in the northern part of the province. Rain is his chief problem, and if Jupiter Pluvius can only start his watering can going one part of Tofield will be breaking records grain growing. Hay is scarce in that neighborhood, too. Mr. Henderson just bought seven fine pure-bred shorthorn cows. They are from the finest bunch ever brought to Canada. Mr. Henderson seems to be on the job when it comes to improving his stock.

J. H. Olson, who farms east of town, said that he needed rain. His grain was twelve inches high, and that it was mostly oats. His green feed was slow, but a shower of rain would soon put things right. He said that conditions were ideal for the stock farmer as there was plenty of pasture.

Following two weeks of pretty hot weather and very little rain, the farmer is unable to feel uneasy when not a cloud appears in the sky. Sunshine is something that gladdens the heart of the farmer, but he likes it mixed up a little. Thus far the summer weather has been nicely mixed, and everything points to a bumper crop. But a little rain for a day or so and you can't buy a Tofield farm for love or money. Hay being scarce will cause the farmer to dig around a little and grab what there is in sight.

55 FORDS SOLD HERE THIS SPRING

New Ford Home Finished and Will Hold Twenty-Five Cars.

Geo. McLaughlin has his new Ford home finished. It is a good big building and will accomodate about twenty-five Fords at one time. It will be fitted up with everything in the repair line and you can get your lizee buggy doctored when it starts coughing. Mr. McLaughlin has sold fifty-five Fords this spring and finds that he has not built the garage any too soon to accomodate his customers.

A Little Hard, Sometimes.

One of the hardest duties in the world is to fill the news columns of a local paper with interesting items when there is really no news to write. It is far more vexing and perplexing than a person who has never had any experience in newspaper work could well imagine. The paper must come out on time, and the reading matter has to be supplied from some source. When the brain of the editor becomes weary, mind inactive and his faithful scissors dull, it is, do you imagine any child's play for him to probe the ... bags of his imagination and bring forth a column or more of original "stuff" that will both edify, delight and instruct his readers? Verily the life of a country editor is full of trials, cares and perplexities, and like the wicked, he is doomed to not live out half his days.

GOOD ROADS IS THE ANNUAL PROBLEM HERE

Money Wisely Spent Keeps Roads Around Tofield In Pretty Good Shape.

The man who travels over one or twenty miles of good road to a town, either in a buggy, with a load or without, is better off financially, physically, mentally and spiritually at the end of his journey than the man who travels the same distance over poor roads. It is evident that men have yet to learn that doing a thing in the easiest possible manner, without detracting from the doing, is not laziness, but making it possible to accomplish more. Expenditure on road making is money-making. It certainly is not profitable to wear out men and horses on poor roads. Good roads denote progressiveness and thrift, besides they are a great comfort to the residents of a community and who must necessarily use them. Roads, like everything else have to be made, and after made, have to be kept.

Liberal provision for the improvement of highways was made at the last session of the Alberta legislature. It remains for the officials of improvement districts to actively interest themselves in the movement and to see that they get a share of the money thus set aside annually for the improvement of main public highways.

A large amount of money has already and will yet be expended on the roads in this district and the farmers have done their statute labor. In every place where the work has been carried on, the improvement has been subject to favorable comment.

Memorial Service For G. P. Plants

Was Died of Wounds on the Battle-Field in France.

(Contributed)

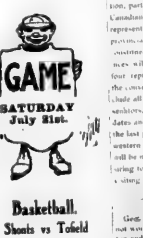
Gerald Pembroke Plants, second son of Charles and Effie McPherson Plants was born near Creston Iowa, march 3rd 1897. His parents shortly after moved to Oklahoma where they remained until the spring of 1906, when they came to Alberta, living in Camrose for one year, then coming to Tofield which was then in its infancy.

In the fall of 1906 they went to the homestead, where they now reside.

On Feb 12th 1916 Gerald enlisted as number 16 in the 202nd Batt which Lieut-Col. Bowen was just beginning to recruit. After spending the summer at Sarcee Camp the 202nd left for England, landing there November 30th. In May the Batt which had expected to go to the front as a unit was broken up and Gerald with a draft of 350 men crossed to France about May 21st to help refill the ranks of the 50th Batt. On June 25th word came that he had been dangerously wounded on the 21st, and a few days later the message came that he had all was over, the young life was ended.

Besides father and mother he leaves a sister Mrs. R. C. Phillipson elder brother and two younger brothers all of this district.

A memorial service for Gerald Plants who was wounded on June 21 at the front and died the following day will be held in Woodlawn school on July 22, 3 P.M. The service will be conducted by the Rev Alex Stewart.



Basketball. Shouts vs Tofield

Shouts and Tofield will play the final game in the basketball tournament Saturday evening, July 21st, at 8 o'clock sharp. Everyone should come out and root. The honors between these two teams are equal, each team having a win, and to make things exciting there will be an $8.00 purse up next Saturday. It should be a good tight game.

Mrs. Geo. Rea and family arrived last week and will make their home here with Mr. Rea, who is employed with M. C. Hammond

RED CROSS TO HOLD BIG BARN DANCE JULY 24th

Delightful Time Planned by Red Cross at Popular Prices—Four-Piece Orchestra.

A. C. Biddis has kindly offered the use of his barn for a Red Cross dance to be held Tuesday July 24th from 10 p.m. to 2.30 a.m. The admission will be $1.00 a couple, and 50 cents for extra ladies. Each lady is requested to bring lunch enough for two, or as many as there may be in her party, and coffee will be served free by the Red Cross members. Ice cream will be sold during the evening and other refreshments. A four-piece orchestra, Pincott's orchestra and a trombone and drummer from Edmonton are being arranged for, and with the great floor space available the large crowd expected to take advantage of this unique evening's enjoyment will be fully repaid.

At the regular meeting last week of the Red Cross, a vote of thank was extended to Mr Kenneth Lott, for his instructive and entertaining recital given recently in aid of the Red Cross fund. Also a vote of thanks to all those who so willingly helped with the ice cream booth and other work on July 2nd, helping to make the day so profitable for the Red Cross cause

PAY UP BEFORE AUGUST 31st

About $600.00 of Promised Amounts to be Collected Yet.

Subscribers to the Canadian Patriotic Fund, are asked to take notice that the fiscal year of the fund ends in August. And those who have not yet paid in to the treasurer the full amount of their promised subscription are requested to do so at their earliest convenience. Payments may be made either to the secretary, or to the treasurer at the Merchants Bank of Canada. Up to date the amounts sent to the treasurer of the North Alberta Branch on this district amounts to $1475. We are however pledged to raise $2,000, and the local committe are anxious that at least this amount should be forthcoming before August 31st.

Liberal Convention May Be Held

August 7 Will Probably Be the Day.

OTTAWA, July 6.—Official announcement of the calling of a Liberal convention of the four provinces west of the Great Lakes, to ... at Winnipeg on August 7, ... and 8 was made last night.

The object of this convention is to consider the whole political situation, particularly as it affects Western Canadian interests. The unit of representation decided on is the provincial constituency. Each such constituency in the western provinces will be empowered to send ... four representatives. In addition ... the convention membership will include all Dominion members, and senators, Dominion Liberal candidates and all Liberal candidates in the last provincial elections in the western provinces. Arrangements will be made whereby Liberals desiring to attend will be seated as visiting delegates

Geo. Dixon told us that he would not work today (July 12th) for 1 dgree. Too and the big celebration, said George.

MARY'S LAMB.

Mary had a little lamb, its fleece was white as snow. it strayed away one day, where lambs should never go. And Mary sat her quickly down and tears streamed from her eyes; she never found her little lamb for she did not advertise. And Mary had a brother John who kept a village store; he sat him down and smoked a pipe, and watched the open door. And as the people passed along and did not stop to buy, John still sat and smoked his pipe and blinked his sleepy eyes And so the sheriff closed him out but still he lingered near, and Mary came to drop with him, a sympathetic tear. How is it, sister, can you tell, why other merchants here, sell all their goods so readily and thrive from year to year? Remembering her own dad Jack the latter said replies: "These other fellows get there, John, because they advertise"

THURSDAY, JULY 12, 1917

PROVINCE OF ALBERTA SAVINGS CERTIFICATES.

The Deputy Provincial Treasurer, Edmonton, reports that Provincial Savings Certificates are meeting with a splendid reception from the public. Under this plan one may deposit his Savings and be sure of receiving a good interest rate with the solid security of the Government behind it. There has been a steady flow of deposits into the Provincial Treasury, the amounts received from individual investors varying from $5.00 to sums representing a modest fortune. The average daily receipts continue to increase in amount as time goes on, evidencing the growing popularity of the idea. As the Savings Certificates Act was intended primarily for the benefit of residents of the Province of Alberta, deposits from outside the Province were hardly looked for, but considerable sums have been received from neighboring Provinces. The advantage of obtaining 3 percent and of being able to withdraw the deposit on demand without any unnecessary formality naturally appeals to investors, especially when interest is allowed for the full time the money remains on deposit, however short it may be. Another attractive feature is the option of having interest compounded half-yearly, or if preferred, of having it forwarded yearly or half-yearly.

CONSECRATION TO A GREAT PURPOSE.

It is admitted that the liquor traffic is a debauching, debasing influence in civic and national life; that intemperance unfits the individual for the duties of citizenship; lessens the producing power of the nation; is they fruitful cause of immorality, crime, lunacy, sickness, death; that it wastes the country's resources, impoverishes its citizens. Furthermore, it is admitted on every hand that today the liquor traffic is impeding and handicapping the nation's efforts to fill its full obligation in the present great war. It would be to the honor of Canada if her parliament and government at this critical time would show their patriotism and statesmanship by grappling in a meaningful way with this evil. Wherein object lesson to the world of national consecration for a great purpose. Such action would be an inspiration to those who are struggling for better conditions in every country. Strong leadership within the nation now would give to Canada leadership amongst the nations of the world and win for her an honored place in the esteem of a Christian civilization.

WHAT NEXT?

There was a dramatic ending to the regular meeting of the board of trade last Friday at Kitchener Ont., when following the passing of a resolution favoring the conscription bill and the Borden government in the war campaign, W. D. Euler resigned as president of the board, to take effect immediately. He gave as his reasons for opposing the resolution which was introduced by Irvin Master and W. G. Cleghorn, two Liberals, that to pass such a resolution would be to introduce politics, from which he thought, the board of trade should be free. The mover and seconder replied that as Liberals they were trying to rise above politics in presenting this resolution.

1917 METZ

Throughout the detailed construction of the 1917 METZ there have been refinements, improvements, additions in equipment and finish, such as reciprocating parts of motor, lightened up and more perfectly balanced, new ventilating hood with nickle plated clamps, metal hood sills, metal covered windshield board all enameled, improved steering column bracket, electric dash light on instrument board, a one-man top of special design.

J. W. Somers motored to the city Sunday evening

Mrs. Ella Beam, of Calgary, is the guest of Mrs. Innis this week.

Quite a few Tofieldites are enjoying the good roads between here and Cooking Lake on Sundays.

Mrs. L. W. Crooks has been engaged by the school board to teach grades five and six. She will succeed Miss M. Wilson, who left for her home in Manitoba last week.

Thos. Bendiksen is holding a large auction sale of cattle on his place, four miles north of Ryley, on Tuesday, July 24th. Large attractive posters are being printed by the Advertiser

Miss Cecile Letourneau, who has been attending school in the city, is still spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Letourneau.

Miss Barbara Carlisle arrived home from Holden last week. She has been teaching school in Holden, and will spend the holidays with relatives and friends.

Mr. E. H. Hammond, accompanied by her son "Dick," of Edmonton, arrived at the M. C. Hammond home last week, and will visit friends in Tofield for the next few weeks.

Mrs. A. M. Johnston and two little sons and Miss Johnston, who spent several days at the R. W. Pincott home, returned to Edmonton on Saturday. Mrs. Pincott accompanied them and will spend the week in the city taking in the summer fair.

Miss I. Hall has resigned her position as teacher of grades six, seven and eight of the Tofield public schools. Miss Hall has received a very good offer to teach in the Banff public school. The school board are on the look out for a teacher to take her place.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. A. Letourneau, of Ryley, and Mr and Mrs. M. C. Hammond left for Banff, Alta., Monday afternoon, where they will enjoy a two week's vacation. They made the trip in a Ford.

OUR TEACHER.

Miss Wilson is calling up the class,
You've got to know your lesson
Or she'll never let you pass.
She isn't very handsome,
Nor she isn't very kind;
But her methods are effective,
In imparting of the mind.

Miss Wilson, she has an eagle eye,
And keeps a strict account of all that goes by;
She never gives a holiday,
You think that you have earned;
But every time you get one lemon
There's a new one to be learned.
—Contributed.

T. G. Chinneck was an Edmonton visitor Monday

Miss Gladys Reaser is the guest of Mrs. H. A. Kendall this week

Miss Dorothy Simmons arrived from Biggar, Sask., and is the guest of friends and relatives.

The next meeting of the Women's Institute, will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hunt on July 17th. Meeting opens at 2 p. m. sharp.

On Wednesday evening, July 18th. An ice-cream social will be held at Henry Suttons' for the benefit of the Red Cross. Everybody welcome.

It would be easier to tell who are named at home Tuesday morning. About twenty-five cars loads left for the fair before breakfast. The station agent reports the sale of 190 tickets. As we can only find space to mention few names we will just tell you that Tofield was well represented at the Edmonton summer fair this year.

When in Edmonton call and see Dr. Mecklenburg, the long experienced and highly qualified optician, Williamson Building. Charges are moderate. 14tf

The Sports day at Holden and Viking seemed to enjoy the same good crowds as Tofield did, and everything went smoothly in the sport line. Holden and Bruce had their annual basketball squabble. And the cup will stay at Holden

Twelve or thirteen miles is quite far enough to go to a dance, but when you get lost on the way there and wonder around fifteen miles before you get there it is quite some walk. Besides that, if you happen to bump your needle and carry it around a scar for a week over your eye it helps some more.

"Well, Bertie, dear, were you a good boy at school today?" asked a Kalamazoo mother of her boy of 10 years.

"You can just bet I was," replied Bertie. "The boy that's perfect in our room for a month is going to get a prize, and I'm going to freeze onto it myself."

"Bertie," cried his shocked parent, "I want you to stop using such slang words and phrases. Where you catch on to all of them is a mystery to me. Every other word you say is a slang expression and I want you to drop it, sir. Talk about "freezing" on to a thing! What are you giving us boy? Do you expect me to tumble to any such vulgarity as that? Not if I know myself, I don't. Here you light out and let it be a cold day before I hear any more such talk from you, and don't you forget it."

OVERLAND

Motorists who have become accustomed to the jerky effects of the ordinary methods of power transmission are unconscious of the wear and tear on nerves that is caused by the sudden changes of speed. They do not realize this but it comes out in the disposition and in the general health. The smooth gradual changes of speed possible with the Overland transmission are a protection against the many irritations to the nervous system involved in driving and a means of ensuring the unhampered enjoyment of motoring.

COUNCIL MEET AND DISCUSS GAS QUESTION

Amended Agreement Looks Good to Council—Mr. Coyne Will be Asked to Deposit $3000 as Guarantee of Good Faith.

The town council have had two strenuous meetings, and gas has been flowing at length. A. S. A. Coyne and his proposition to light up Tofield with it's own gas, that he claims is stored away in unknown quantities down about 2,000 feet, and within the corporate limits, was the subject of discussion. The amended agreement arrived from Mr. Coyne's office last week, and council took the matter up Monday evening. The agreement is perfectly satisfactory and will appeal to the ratepayers, and should it be carried out would mean much for Tofield. The townfathers are very optimistic, and the public utilities commission, who have been interviewed by members of the council, look at it with favorable eyes, and everything is set to complete the agreement. The council have instructed the secretary to write Mr. Coyne asking him to deposit a check for $3,000 to the credit of the town as a guarantee of good faith or arrange for a good bond, the money to be turned over to Mr. Coyne when the work is finished. It is expected that within the next two weeks business will be in such good order and red tape wound up that preliminary operations may be started.

The question of a town constable came before the meeting during the business session. The secretary was instructed to act on behalf of the council to lay information against those who disregarded the herd by-law.

The council have arranged to grade and repair a portion of the street known as King street, between 3rd avenue and the old townsite. This road is full of holes and bumps, and needs all that the town intends to do. Jesse Noland has been detailed to look after the work.

LETTER FROM THE FRONT.

Pte. E. Pruden writes to his aunt, Mrs. Wm. Rowland, and following is an extract:

"I have not written to you for some time. I received a letter from Aunt Annie the other day and she was telling me about Charlie and Robert Logan getting killed. I was sure surprised to hear it. The last time I saw Charlie was on Easter Sunday. We had a holiday fine. We happened to be close together and he came over to see me. That was the day we went over on Vimy Ridge, and we were saying, 'I wonder if we will all come out safe or not.' As it was getting quite late he had to leave me, we shook hands and wished each other luck. The last time I saw Bob was some time in March. Archie and I went over to see him and we met a lot of the 151st boys in the same battalion. There are not so many now. But I guess it can't be helped, can it. I tell you I won't be ashamed of this trip if I ever get home, for I have learned lots of things. And those who have stayed at home, I wonder what they think of themselves when they come to town and find us boys over here, some of us never to come back. When I think of all my cousins getting killed like that it makes me feel that I don't care for anything. We will fight to the last and the Canadians are the boys that can do it. Some of the good ones from Tofield, too, isn't it so? I will close now.—Ned"

B. J. Cato, of Edmonton, was in town Monday.

Miss Margaret Allen of London, Ont., is the guest of relatives and friends this week.

MARRIED

Miss Lizzie Davis, of Tofield, and Frederick N. Sharp, of Major, Sask., were united in marriage at the Manse last Monday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. Stewart in the presence of a few friends. The happy couple took the evening train for Edmonton. Miss Davis was quite well and favorably known around Tofield, and the Advertiser joins in with many friends in wishing the bridal pair bon voyage through life.

PULLING CASING.

Bowick Bros. are still busy pulling the casing from No. 2 gas well. About 500 feet of 6-inch has been pulled, and owing to an accident the rest will likely be lost. All of the 10-inch and all of the 12-inch, is out, and they are working on the 15-inch at present. With 12-inch casing selling at $30.00 per foot, it is pretty valuable stuff at present.

PAY YOUR TAXES

If you want to enjoy that ten per cent. discount you will have to pay your taxes before Tuesday, July 31st. That date will be your last opportunity. So far about six local ratepayers have come through with the needful to keep them in good standing. And the town needs the money.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

A memorial service for Gerald Planes who was wounded on June 21 at the front and died the following day will be held in Woodlawn school on July 22, 3 P.M. The service will be conducted by the Rev Alex Stewart.

EMERY LEDUC BADLY INJURED

Prematture Explosion Burns Left Side of His Face and One Arm May Lose Eye.

Emery Leduc, of Morrinville, who has been assisting Bowick Bros. at No. 3 gas well, got mixed up with a good sized charge of dynamite last Saturday afternoon and in carrying around several had burns as a result. His left arm and left side of his face is badly burned, and he may lose the sight of his left eye. Just how the accident occurred is not positively known, Mr. Leduc was preparing the dynamite to lower in the well in order to loosen some of the casing at the bottom. When the charge had been lowered about 40 feet it exploded prematurely injuring him. He was taken to Edmonton on the evening train for medical treatment

In Other Towns.

A. A. Thiessen, of the News staff, Viking, Alta., has accepted a position with the Star at Wainwright, and will take up his new duties here next Monday after enjoying a brief vacation of a week —Wainwright Star.

The financial position of the town of Camrose continues to be the envy of all the other towns in the province. All debenture payments and all other demands have been fully met, and the balance owing to the bank is $2,500 less than at the same date last year. The amount owing at the bank is only temporary, and will all be easily taken care of during the autumn when taxes are coming in.—Camrose Canadian.

R. Kennedy, superintendent of the Security Elevator Co. at Scott, Sask., spent Sunday in town in connection with the erection of a new elevator to replace the one which burned to the ground about two months ago. Two cars loads of gravel and sand are already on the site, and within the next two weeks a staff of carpenters will be on the job to rush the elevator to completion.—Holden Herald.

A fine of $150 and costs was plastered on to the proprietor of the Empress Moving Picture Theatre on Saturday for permitting pictures to be shown by an operator who did not have the provincial license.

The licensed operator of the machine had left the job some days before and a new man put at it. The license was duly applied for, and in the meantime he took a chance. The result was disastrous. Cash Mclntyre did almost nothing else but impose one fine after another to set forth in the Theatres Act and the theatre owner were accordingly stung for the $150.

Monkeying with the buzz saw came much cheaper to taking chuck carries with it a promise of revenue for the government.—Vegreville Observer.

SOME FAIR IN THE BIG CITY

Record Day When the Speed Devils Break Loose and Try to Shatter Records.

Everybody that could possibly get away took in the Edmonton summer fair. Edmonton has reasons to be proud of her fair this summer. Old timers who have followed the fairs in this western centers and who had a hand in starting the ball rolling declared it to be the best one yet. The autos are and Miss Katherine Stinson stored to be a good drawing card. Friday, July 13th, was probably the record day. About 20,000 people filled every available inch of space in the grand stand and the bleachers, as well as every vantage point where it was possible to see the speed devils cut loose on the track. The fair management all the out on the right side of the ledger with a neat surplus in excess of the heavy expenses. It certainly looks as though the Edmonton summer fair will grow in popularity if the same brand of amusements are forthcoming hereafter

NEED A COP.

Tofield hasn't got a cop. There is no one to tell you that your cow or pig is running loose contrary to the by-laws, etc. The council have been trying to get some good, patriotic public-spirited citizen to act in this capacity, without remuneration. To-date he secretary has not been swamped with applications.

Mrs. L. Dale returned home from Edmonton by motor last week. Mrs. Dale has been ill for some time and has been receiving medical treatment in Edmonton. Her many friends will be glad to hear that she is regaining her health again.

The contract for the building of the new school has been let to the A. McDougall & Co., of Calgary. Mr. McDougall was in town last week, and intends to start work at once.

Lewis J. Carlisle wishes to thank his neighbors, through the medium of this paper, for the kindness that they assisted in saving his house and granary from fire.

On account of the memorial service in Woodlawn school there will be no service in Beechamus school next Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. Terwilleger and Mrs. Howes and children motored down from Edmonton on Sunday and were the guest of friends

Miss Rutie Lefler has resigned her position as dispenser of ice cream and other cooling drinks at the Somers ice cream parlor. Miss Mildred Griswold will succeed her. Miss Lefler has accepted a position with Jas. Ramsey, Ltd Edmonton, and will be employed in the music department.

CROP REPORTS MAKE TOFIELD CROPS LOOK GOOD

If in a Big Word, But, If We Had a Good Rainstorm and No Hail, J. W. Warner's Wheat Might Grow Another Four Feet.

The department of agriculture on Saturday issued some reports including a summary of conditions, showing that crops have suffered to some extent in the past week for want of rain. Hail has been a little destructive in portions of the province. Wheat is now in the head, while other grains are coming fast. Roots and live stock are all in prime condition, but hay is reported to be scarce.

In the Peace River country rain is needed, and needed badly. The grass is beginning to show the effects.

In Athabasca oats are headed out, and barley looks good, while the hay crop is medium. Rain is needed in that section.

In the Vermilion district they have had a hail and a little rain The crops are in good shape and headed out The hay crop is very light, but there is plenty of pa

BIG PICNIC.

A good old-fashioned picnic will be held next Monday, July 23rd starting early, on the picnic grounds, immediately east of the Bardo station. There will be various games, including baseball, football races of all kinds, jumping, etc. Lakeshore and Bardo will play a baseball game for the championship of the district at 3 p.m. Every preparation is being made by the committee in charge to a gala day. All are invited to come and enjoy themselves on his occasion. Bring a basket.

CALLED OFF.

On account of sickness in the family the dance planned to be held in the big barn on the A. C. Dahls farm has been called off Those who were planning to take this in will please bear this in mind.

SUCCESSFUL CHAUTAUQUA.

The town of Camrose is still talking about the great summer Chautauqua that ended there last week. For six days Camrose has enjoyed the best there is in music, song and lectures, with several other high-class features that we are unable to tell you about. The Camrose Canadian has been lecturing this event for some time and comes out last week by saying that the Chautauqua lived up to advance notices.

"IS IT HOT ENOUGH FOR YOU?" A QUESTION THAT WOULD MAKE A MAN COMMIT HOMICIDE.

Lots and lots of people risked justifiable homicide at the hands of their friends and acquaintances this week by asking "Is this hot enough for you?" It is no crime to massacre a man who puts you such a question. They can't do anything to you for that.

As a matter of fact the weather was decidedly hot enough for anyone except the traveled pest who insists on telling you how much worse it was in "steen hundred and eight, when he was in Calcutta or Senegambia or some other God-forsaken spot in the tropics. The government thermometer undoubtedly felt that way too, for without straining itself, it recorded an 85 at noon, which is one degree hotter than Sunday's record and Sunday was the sizzlingist sizzler of them all, so far this year. Eighty-four is legey for Edmonton (joke exclusively for golfers) and everyone will be quite content to have the temperature, now that Old Sol and the weather man have shown what they really can do, when they try, take a drop to a more normal level. (Business of fanning vigorously.)

Edmonton went through its accustomed routine this week but in a fagged and rather wilted manner. Pedestrians walked—strolled rather—on the shady side of the street and took a street car for any distance over two blocks. In stores and offices the heat was piled up in layers. Even the theatres and moving picture houses were distinctly stuffy.—Edmonton Bulletin.

THE FARMER IS ENTITLED TO A FEW GROANS WHEN NARY A CLOUD APPEARS.

At this time of the year, the farmers of western Canada are under a nervous strain such as no other class of business man in the country has to suffer. Every day you will find the farmer straining his eye sight looking for the smallest sign of rain. The thermometer is eagerly watched to see if it is too hot or too cold. He is justified in being anxious for upon the antics of the weather depends his livlihood. One hot day too much, or too much rain may ruin his prospects for a good crop. There is no way to reduce the worry. The farmer who puts his all into a field of wheat, gambling for a big stake is certainly justified in worrying his head off and submitting himself to every nerve wrecking kind of thoughts. The farmer who has systemized his work and dabbles a little in stock to offset his losses in the grain field is not in the same boat. If his crop fails or does not turn out as he expected, he is in a position to go on with his farming operations on the same scale. Live stock will live and thrive under conditions that would blight a grain crop.

YOU MAY HAUL OWNER OF ANIMAL BEFORE LOCAL CADI WHO WILL FINE HIM.

Some of our readers would like to know just what action they can take if a cow strays into their pet cabbage patch to eat a few of the choice specimens. You may lay information before the proper authorities and the owner of the animal will be hauled up before the local Cadi and fined. The fine goes to the town treasury. You will have ample opportunity to ask your neighbor for compensation, altho the town by-law doesn't provide for it. Your neighbor is not allowed to let his animal run at large within the town limits and is liable to a fine even if the animal does not become a nuisance.

SQUIRREL FOOD

GUARDIAN OF NONSENSE BY A. KANT

Popular question—How are you feeling after the fair? Meaning of course how much money have you got left after seeing the side shows etc.

Did you take a trip to the moon or see the diving venus?

The Chevrolet comes in for a lot of prominence in this column and this week we know a good one on a certain young man in this district. But as he took us for a ride last Sunday we can't tell you.

Our idea of an optimist is the fellow who can sit through a sermon and hear the preacher rip him up and down the back, denouncing all his pet sins and vices and think that the preacher is aiming at the other fellow.

SHE WAS KNOCKING.

She was knocking on the doors, they say,
But still we greatly fear.
There was not much knocking, by the way,
As ears words—we hear.

The reason for the above flash of genius. One of our fair young ladies that visited the Edmonton fair knocked on every door along one street during the midnight hour trying to find a friend.

ABSOLUTELY NOTHING.

We interviewed Harry Rogers the week and asked him if he had any news worth publishing. He said, "You may quote me as saying that I don't know anything". We did.

THEY'LL WORK IT SOMEHOW

You can't fool a woman. If she is too cold to talk her teeth will chatter.

THREE IN THE RACE.

George Dixon had a good time at the Edgerton Orange celebration. While there he participated in the fat men's race and took third money. We learn that there were three starters in the race. George claims that one of the participants pockeyed him and forced him to trip over his shoe lace when he had a nice comfortable lead on the other two, with the whole crowd hollering blue murder and betting that he would break a record—or his neck.

MAYBE IT HAS A SELF STARTER.

Here is another one: "Found—A watch going between Tyrwhitt's livery barn and Mr. Flood's residence."—Viking News.

Wonder if they had to run it down. Maybe it answered to the name of Fido.

EDITOR FULL OF IT.

The Viking News, published in a town of 600 souls and edited by a man with the same amount of this well known commodity takes a crack at this rag and it's efforts to explain how Tofield is sure to be an industrial centre. Note his little jobelet.

"The good that runs the Tofield "Hypnotizer" is all hot up about 600 for that place and says drilling is to commence soon. He is taking his life in his hands because it has been dangerous to personal safety to even mention gas to the natives of that burg since their disastrous experience with the choice substance a few years ago for which they are now paying dearly. Even at five cents per 1000, the inhabitants who now eat breakfast on pops's knee will be grey heads before they outlive the folly of their illustrious forefathers." The Viking News.

Amisk Creek Notes

Gathered by Special Correspondent

The Lutheran ladies and will meet the first Wednesday in August at with Mrs. Orville Curry.

Mrs. I. H. Olson went to Camrose Monday to attend the three-day church conference being held there.

The Dodds baseball team will play the return game with Shonts on the Shonts diamond at the Moen farm the last of the week, presumably Saturday.

A procession of buggies containing the following people went along the creek road towards the dam to dash one afternoon last week: Mr and Mrs. Hans Hellerud, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Solberg Mr. and Mrs. Fish, Miss Anna Solberg, Noah and Matt Solberg. We did not hear what kick they had.

The Merry Maroons are counting on winning that purse Saturday evening in the contest with Tofield. Another front is in the air for the bitthesome Honeysuckles and their debonair manager. Too bad.

A Erickson loaded a car of oats at Shonts last week.

A. Erickson and family and J. Lerbekmo and family motored to Camrose and back on Wednesday.

The Bardo, Ryley, and Amisk Creek Lutheran Sunday Schools will hold a picnic on the church lawn at Amisk Creek on Friday afternoon. Everybody bring a picnic dinner and attend.

A larger number of people from this vicinity went skating last week than ever before. While a big crowd took advantage of the one-day train service to go to the Capitol on Tuesday, a perfect string of cars kept the road hot from the first day of the fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brinton, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Smith and Fred Smith of Vegreville, motored up on Thursday spending the day as guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Blackburn, going on in the evening to spend the night as guests of Mr and Mrs. Thos. Jacobs of Tofield. On Friday they and Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Blackburn and daughter made up a two-car party to Edmonton to see the auto races, returning the same evening.

FINANCE MINISTER ALLAYS APPREHENSION CAUSED BY CONSCRIPTION OF WEALTH TALK.

OTTAWA, JULY 10.—A statement that there need be no apprehension on the part of the public that action of a detrimental character with respect to the savings of the public will be taken by the Canadian Government was made by Sir Thomas White in the House of Commons today. Coupled with this declaration and the assertion that it was the Government's policy to encourage thrift, was the intimation they must not, however, be understood as "precluding legislation providing for income taxation upon those whose incomes are such as to make it just and equitable that they should contribute a share of the war expenditure of the Dominion."

"It has been officially drawn to the attention of the Government," said the Finance Minister, "that the use of the expression of 'conscription of wealth' to the debates in Parliament and by the public and other bodies outside Parliament and by the press in its news reports has caused a certain uneasiness among those whose savings constitute a vital factor in the business and industrial life of the Dominion and are so essential to the credit and prosperity upon which our efforts in the continued prosecution of the war must largely depend. I desire to say on behalf of the Government that there need exist no apprehension on the part of the public that any action of a detrimental character will at any time be taken with respect to the savings of the Canadian public On the contrary, it will be the policy of the Government in the future, as in the past, to encourage in every way possible the exercise of the thrift and economy resulting in national savings which have enabled Canada to maintain her credit and economic position during the war.

"Any taxation to which it may be necessary for the Government to resort from time to time will be in accordance with legitimate and established forms of taxation sanctioned by the tradition and experience of British self-governing communities. This statement, therefore, must not be understood as precluding legislation providing for income taxation upon those whose incomes are such as to make it just and equitable that they should contribute a share of the war expenditure of the Dominion."

Home Again.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Hammond of Tofield, and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. A. Letourneau of Ryley returned from Banff in a Ford Sunday morning. They visited all the town's a route. Mr. Hammond told the Advertiser that rain was badly needed in the south and that in some places the farmers were plowing the crops under.

John Lee finished drilling a well at his residence, and has six feet of water.

MRS. J. B. WARNER DIED ON MONDAY

After Long Illness — Funeral Service Held in Warner Home Yesterday. Burial at Edmonton.

Mrs. J. B. Warner died at her home three miles north of town on Monday, July 23rd, after an illness of over a year. Death was not wholly unexpected, but death leaves a shining mark, and at early Monday morning it came In this death of Mrs. Warner the neighborhood fully and keenly realize a distinct loss. All high her illness led her to hope her husband to mourn her death.

The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at the Warner home, and the remains shipped to Edmonton last night for burial.

An Election First.

Ottawa, July 20.—From present indications there is little likelihood that any attempt will be made to actually enforce the Conscription act until after the coming election.

It is possible that the government will go ahead with the appointment of tribunals and boards, but the calling out of the classes will, it is expected, be left in abeyance until the voice of the people has been heard, and a new parliament has been elected. The act meanwhile will remain on the statute books.

All the penalties provided for inciting against the act, however, will become applicable as soon as the bill receives the royal assent and becomes law. It will be interesting to see how the existence of these clauses will affect the election campaign after it has been launched.

SILVER MEDAL CONTEST AT RYLEY, AUGUST 5

TOFIELD DEFEAT MERRY MAROONS

Honeysuckles Win Out 12-9 and Take the $6 Home — It Was Some Game.

While a frosting was promised the Honeysuckles last Saturday by the Merry Maroons they managed to emerge with the long end of the 12-9 score. It was no easy matter to win at that. It the Merry Maroons had only brought their shooting eye along with them, and Nannie Johnston had been up to the standard. Well, that is the use of saying it, the Honeysuckles won and looked that old right bucks right into their own and three runs are about the most total runners watched the run and run it was from beginning to end. The Maroons really outbatted the locators, but he wasn't entitled to any coasting, as he had a shameful time outwalking new rules the we are not acquainted with in this neck of the woods. Which are really, truly 1917 rules. The first half of the play was for Tofield having the edge on shooting, the period ending 6-4 in favor of the local basket masters. The second half started with Shorts tearing it to even things up and they did, At one time they were one point ahead, and it with only four minute to play. It looked bad, very bad for the Honeysuckles. At this point a dispute as to exactly what constituted a foul arose, whether a player could score after the referee's whistle had blown. The referee allowed that the contestant ing that he had was already out, blithe-some way to the basket when the whistle was blown The local basketball impressarios beg to differ with the arbitrator on this point, claiming that a play had been made before the goal was scored However as the referee has the last say the game stands. The Honeysuckles evidently pressed by what they considered unjust ruling dumped in no more goals to make thing interesting, and there went the ball game. Velma Kirk played at all-round game, and shot all of the goals for Tofield. If she keep up that style of playing the other teams will have to look to their laurels-yet. The whole team were on their toes at all times, and had no intention of getting beat. They expect to try conclusions with lards some day this week on the lards grounds. Shorts will have a return game with Tofield on the Shorts grounds soon. Ryley is spacing to take another whirl at he Honeysuckles as well. Basketball followers will have plenty of chance to root in the next two weeks.

About Lighting Rods.

During the years 1912-1916, in Ontario, no less than 5,200 barns were destroyed by fire in Canada in an aggregate loss of over $3,000,000. These, like the many acres of fires, might have been avoided by the exercise of ordinary foresight and precaution.

Rooters come out and root and help the Honeysuckles win another game.

That in view of the opinion expressed by the minister of agriculture for the Dominion of Canada, and on account of the province of Alberta adjoining the province of British Columbia, and for the protection of the cattle-breeders of Alberta, be deem it advisable that legislation similar to that enacted by the province of British Columbia with respect to tuberculosis in cattle be enacted by the legislature of the province of Alberta

The above resolution was passed by the directors of the Cattle Breeders' Association at their meeting at the exhibition buildings. The resolution was fully discussed by the directors, who expressed their strong feelings in the matter.

The province of British Columbia has a regulation whereby all animals infected with tuberculosis or other dread diseases, are banned from entry.

The result of this prohibition is that Alberta has for some time been the dumping ground for western shipments of infected cattle. This deplorable condition the cattle breeders of this province have had to contend for some time, until they have reached the limit of tolerance, and are determined to see something practical accomplished

A communication has been received from the minister of agriculture at Ottawa stating that when the provincial government passes legislation imposing restrictions on obtaining cattle entering the province, the Dominion government will take steps to remove the disagreeable conditions that cattle breeders have to contend.

The directors expressed their opinion of the efficiency of the B. C. tuberculosis disease act, where all animals are inspected and when they are condemned destroyed the owner receives compensation to the provincial government to the amount of one-half the animals value

It was stated that the prevalency of tuberculosis among the cattle of this province at present is astounding, and that immediate steps towards eradicating the disease are imperative Cases were cited of persons who, when their attention was drawn to infected animals in their herd stated that sometimes would be easier to sell the animals than get rid of the disease, or other owners were not interested. Instances of this kind illustrated how the disease was being spread about the province, and the directors felt that action was demanded and passed the resolution noted above

No Danger

A few days ago a well dressed and very charming young lady hailed a car here whether they belong or have no sight just as she was getting on she noticed that the horse seemed inclined to be frisky

He was jumping about and switching his tail in a way that alarmed her. She was a timid little thing

So she addressed a few words to the nearest lehu

"I hope," she said, smiling bravely, "that you will not run away with me."

The cabby sighed mournfully

"No, mum," he replied, "I have a wife and seven kids at home already"

Manager of Lake Shippers Association States That Western Canada's Wheat Can Reach Germany Via Neutral Countries By Present System of Handling

Wheat from Western Canada can be forwarded to Germany through neutral countries under the present system of handling grain in Canada, the United States, according to W. J. Young, general manager of the Lake Shippers association.

Mr. Young made the statement when questioned by the board of grain supervisors in regard to a report that had been circulated to the effect that wheat from the United States was being shipped to Germany through Canada. Mr. Young said that the grain was being shipped from the United States to Canada in bond, and that it was then transferred to vessels and shipped to Germany. He said that the grain was being shipped in the same manner as it had been before the war.

Not Getting Home Unscathed

Only Approximate Number of German Submarine Losses Known

The number of the navy boys who are battling with the new war machine is doubtless a source of wonder to many. All the boys are not needed for the navy, however, as the British battle-craft can now longer accommodate the full quota of men that have been enlisted. Hence many men are now being drafted into the army. Others are being sent to the front as reinforcements for the land forces. Many of the boys who are now in the navy have been there since the beginning of the war, and have seen service in the North sea, the Mediterranean, and other waters. Some of them have been torpedoed, and have had their ships blown from under them by mines. Others have been in the thick of the fighting when the British battleships have engaged the German fleet. Many of the boys have been in the navy since they were mere lads, and have risen from the ranks to the positions they now hold. Some of them have been in the navy for years, and have seen service in all parts of the world.

At any rate, a Canadian officer in the British navy recently told how, as it happens, one of the most important men in the world, he was still not many liberties and before he got his present rank was known as Mr. Young. He was the statement when questioned by the board of grain supervisors in regard to a report that had been circulated to the effect that wheat from the United States was being shipped to Germany through Canada. Mr. Young said that the grain was being shipped in the same manner as it had been before the war.

What's the matter with a boostin
Just to help the thing along.
Cause if things should stop a goon,
We'd be in a sorry plight
You just keep that horn a-blowin'
Booster up with all your might.
If you know some fellow's failin's
Just forget 'em, cause you know
That the same chap, get 'em good points,
Them's the ones you want to show.
"Cast your loaves out on the water-
They'll come back," a sayin true,
Mebbe, not, they'll come back "buttered"
When some feller boosts for you.

Church Picnic Held at Secord Farm, Friday, Was a Success

OLD AND YOUNG JOIN IN HAVING A GOOD TIME EATING AND SWIMMING

A church picnic was held at the Secord farm, north of town, last Friday, under the auspices of the St. Andrew's Church. Rev. Alex. Stewart spent a big share of the day in arranging for cars to take the members out to the big feed. Old and young alike enjoyed the afternoon and evening in games and outdoor sports. The children had a fine time on the big swing in front of J. G. Jobb's camp. The one row boat on the creek, owned by C. C. Harriman was filled to capacity all the time, and the creek was enjoyed to the fullest by the bathers. Some of the other members of the church showed that they had not forgotten how to dive and do stunts in the water. A lunch that had no equal was spread out on the ground by the ladies and it was all eaten. The writer, who came a little late for supper can testify to that. Some kind lady managed to spear a couple of sandwiches to us to chase away the pangs of hunger. After supper a few of the loose-jointed ones did stunts. Fred McHelley ranked among those that kicked the highest. Guy Ballington was some jumper; he beat Wardy Somers and Chris Hammond out by an eye lash. When it came to reaching tracks the honors were divided between Geo. McLaughlin and T. P. Newspaper. Jas. Rogers and Dad Story proved that they were still some supple in their limbs by doing a few things that caused the younger fraternity to gasp What did the Rev. Stewart do? Oh yes, he was helping the ladies and winding babies. But he was far the busiest man. The success of the piece can be blamed on him for the way he worked to get the crowd out there. When will there be another one? Pretty soon we hope.

Garden Party.

The Ladies Aid of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church will hold a garden party at the home of Mrs. Peter Lee, Thursday evening, August 9th, commencing at 7 o'clock. Admission Adults 10c Children 5c. Ice Cream and light refreshments. Everybody Welcome.

Will Speak Here.

Rev. Dr. Heustis Sec of the Lords Day Alliance for Alberta and B.C., will give an address in the Presbyterian Church on Friday evening of this week. Dr Heustis will speak of the Alliance work in relation to the conditions of to-day.

Mostly Noise.

No that wasn't a Zeppelin raid Monday night. Neither was it a Donnybrook fair, although any citizen not being in the know might be excused for thinking that it was either one. A few members of our younger fraternity engaged in a little noise making bee that had all the ear marks of a real charivaree last Monday evening. Tin pans, cow bells, brick-bats, bail bats, etc., played a very important part, and a good time was had by all.

Some Picnic.

The U. F. A. held a real old time get together picnic at Cooking Lake last Thursday. A special train was chartered by the U. F. A. at Ryley, Alta., and started from Wainwright stopping at all the towns on the way, returning that evening. Quite a crowd took advantage of the cheap rates and the chance for an enjoyable day at Alberta's popular summer resort.

Passed Successfully.

Grade VIII pupils that were successful in passing the department examinations and have won diplomas are as follows.

Hazel Bowick
Marion Forman
Charles Glover
Leslie Herndale

TOFIELD WINS FROM LAKESHORE

Pile Up Score of 12-3 in Good Game. Referee Has His Troubles.—Return Game Soon.

Well, well, the Honeysuckles have added another scalp to their collection, and Lakeshore knows what a licking is. The Haymeadows arrived in town Saturday evening with a fine collection of yells and a new 1917 rule book, but they evidently left their playing clothes at home. About 7.30 a pouring rain made the game [illegible] a long distance away, and it was thought that they could stand a little soaking to have the pleasure of locking horns with the local aggregation. The result of the fracas wasn't in doubt after the first six minutes of play. The Honeysuckles had several six points without letting the Lakeshore forward have a look at the ball. The final score was 12-3, and the town team were taking things very easy. The Lake shore manager and referee, Jawn Murray, took charge of things and gave satisfaction. The bouncer objected to him running a game without a whistle, and also to some of his decisions. Refereeing a ladies basket ball game is no cinch at any time, as far going, but Jawn's no such animal. Everybody conceded that the Honeys won on playing form and team work. At no time were they outclassed by their sturdy opponents. Edith Herndon and Velma Kirk divided the scoring honors between them. The Tofield centres had things all their own way. Marjorie Mahaffey and Nola Hannan taking care of the ball in that department. The guarding was looked after very well by Mildred Grassold and Beatrice Scott. Here is where the referee should study that new rule book a little. He certainly has a small notion of what over guarding is. A return game might clear up any doubt as to who won. After the game everybody went to the picture show. The home team were the guests of the management. A return game will be played at the Lakeshore ground on Friday, August 10

WHY NOT?

A number of the farm women of the district have started the talk of wearing overalls like the women of the European countries. Several inquiries as to whether they could be procured have been received by the local stores.

"LIT UP".

Messrs. John Brenneman and Jas. Stauffer have had Delco Lights installed in their homes. They have their houses, barns, milk house and barn yards all lit up. They will use the "juice" for power purposes as well.

COUNCIL MEETING ON MONDAY NIGHT

Mayor Tells Thousand Pounds Load and the Town Exchequer Is Richer.

On Monday evening we usually like to stroll around to the town hall, because there are a few men there that like to look at the town's financial questions from all sides. There you will hear that so-and-so paid 11c on his year before last taxes and that the town are thinking of hiring extra guards to protect the enormous sum. And out of all the different arguments pro and con you will find a lot of smart ideas filed away for meditation. We never hear about them. The councillors advocate free speech and if anybody starts to say that it isn't so he will be clubbed by the town policemen and shot with a soft nosed bullet. Mayor Swift and two or three of the august body gathered at the round table for the usual discussion last Monday night. The mayor reported that he sold a thousand pounds of lead at seven cents per pound. The mayor, losing no good at selling junk was appointed to assist Mark Ferguson in gathering up all the junk around town and disposing of it at the best price. The secretary was asked to find a good market for the casing pulled from No. 3 gas well. As casing is worth something now it is hardly likely that he will have any trouble getting rid of it.

The following accounts were ordered paid when finances would permit:

FORSAKE FARM FOR TOWN LIFE

How to Keep the Young People Interested in the Old Homestead a Big Question.

In a great many ways, at the present time the farm is the most attractive place in the country and its business the most productive of good and profit. Many people once thought the farm was the worst place on the earth to live and when I speak of her town or city life, have returned again lured back on many cases by the prospects of greater financial returns. Inquiry into the reason for departure from the farms in the first place does not the all true apparent truth, that lack of common comforts the lack of attractive surroundings were amongst the causes of their deserts especially in the cases of the young man.

After the "golden glint" of the farms, made possible by present world conditions, has passed away other attractiveness must be made possible if the young people are to be held on the land.

It is true that for the first few years the farmer in the west has little time for beautifying his home and the grounds surrounding it. But after the first four or five years pass and he is begun to "get the land on his" attention should be directed to the artistic side of things.

"There are two equations necessary for every farm in one acquirement for work and an equipment for living, too often the equipment for work takes much more attention than the equipment for living."

"We are influenced by our surroundings more than we think or care to admit. Children especially are sensitive to these things. Many boys have been driven from the country to the city by the unattractiveness of their homes, rather than by hard work of the farm. The unattractiveness of home surroundings and lack of common comforts have made many a farmer's boy dislike the farm. Every farmer owes it to his family and to himself the best that he can do in the way of equipping the farm home and making the home grounds beautiful in order that the fullest and richest life possible may be enjoyed by all." This more than anything else will make the farm hold its interests for the young men and women.

INCOME TAX

In the commons last week an income tax upon private individuals, corporations and stock companies, was announced, and the resolution setting forth the proposals was adopted. Sir Thomas White, the minister of finance, quite frankly stated that in the past he had been averse to the imposition of direct taxation of this nature by the federal authorities. He realized, however that there was a growing demand for it and that the time had arrived when it should be imposed. Incomes of unmarried persons and widowers with no children up to $2,000, and incomes of married persons up to $3,000 are exempted. Dividends from the government securities are also exempted. The tax upon private individuals is graduated. All incomes of unmarried men above $2,000 and married men above $3,000 are taxed four per cent on the income in excess of that amount. On incomes exceeding $6,000 there is a supertax commencing at two per cent on income from $6,000 to $10,000, and gradually increasing to 25 per cent on incomes exceeding $100,000.

The tax on corporations and joint stock companies is four per cent on incomes above $3,000. the tax will apply to incomes of the present calendar year, and everybody concerned will be expected to declare their income before February 28 next.

MIXED FARMING FOR THE BOYS

Not many farmers think of making their boys partners in his business. That is another cause of so much drifting away to other places of business in the town and cities. Not all boys are suited for farm work but those who are should be given every encouragement to fill their positions there.

The apprentice farmer will be more likely to become a willing worker if his interest is aroused in the business side of his work and he will gain ability y to save if he is taught to spend thoughtfully and wisely. Those two factors, willingness to work and ability to save, are fundmental for future success. Let the boy do some of the buying and selling. When he has decided that he will be a farmer the father may be gradually relieved from some of his responsibilities through partnership management.

SHORTAGE OF FARM LABOR.

The shortage of farm labor in the western provinces causes a good deal of moralizing, none of which is closer to the point than that which suggests to western farmers that they pay more attention to mixed farming and cease carrying all their agricultural eggs in a single basket. One very particular reason why it is not possible to get all the farm labor required to harvest the immense wheat crops of the west is that laborers are not disposed to hire themselves to men who can promise them no more than two or three months in a year. And so long as western farmers stick exclusively to wheat this labor shortage will continue, for the reason above stated. Mixed farming would make possible the permanent employment of many more farm hands. Also it would open up for the farmers a more sure and certain way to guarantee success, the failure of a crop not being a matter of life or death with them.

ONE BIG, BROAD GRIN.

Alberta, and especially the Tofield district wears one big, broad smile these days after the recent rain storm. The stoutest hearted farmer commenced to despair over the long dry spell. He stood with helpless hands and watched his wheat and oats dry up for lack of moisture. His vegetables suffered and still he could do nothing. Last Sunday the weather man took a change of heart and started all the watering cans going. Somebody was overheard on the street remarking that it was a $5,000,000 rain. It certainly was the very thing that was needed in the Tofield district. Friend farmer can talk business now.

AD TALK

Look here Mr. Man with goods to sell, how in the world do you expect to do business if you do not tell the people what you have to offer?

As sure as you are a foot high you will be one of those individuals referred to as "also ran" in the race of modern competition

Does it pay to advertise? Say, neighbor, just take a look at the names on the brass plates on the front of the biggest factorise, stores and offices in the wide world.

After you have done this, just turn to the leading magazines and newspapers and you will see most of the same names that you saw on the said brass plates.

Why are the names on the brass plates?

Because they appeared first in the advertising columns of the magazines and newspapers.

Moral: Advertise in the Tofield Advertiser and the brass plates will soon appear.

Says your Ad. Man

Speaking about advertising in general. Do you know that a business is often judged by the style and quality of the letterheads, envelopes and other stationery it use.

We operate a thoroughly up-to-date job printing department, and are prepared to turn out work of the finest quality and style at moderate prices.

Have you ever tried any of the splendid forms of circular advertising that are being used with such good results by many of our most successful business men.

BASKET SOCIAL AT FARMINGTON

Everybody Bring a Basket There Will be Plenty to Eat—Proceeds To Red Cross.

The Farmington school will have a basket social and concert on Friday, August 3rd. A splendid programme is being arranged and the committee in charge promise you a good time. Ladies are requested to bring baskets, but there will be plenty to eat for those who haven't a basket. The entire proceeds of the evening will be turned over to the Red Cross. The programme will start at 8 o'clock sharp.

FARMER WANTS HIS.

It is certain that if the farmers are not allowed to make a decent profit on what they have to sell, while the munition maker the food-hoarders and the speculators in food products continue to roll in millions, the country faces a very big and very dangerous problem, one that will get worse as the next winter nears.

No form of civilization, except one that had gone crazy on the home-for-profits out-of-war-mak ing would leave the farmer out of its calculations on a time like this.

Without a successful and contented citizen farming class a country can grow thousands of war-time millionaires, and yet be in danger of suddenly sinking to the class of bankrupt and decadent nations.—Lawrence, N.Y. Telegram.

ABOUT EGGS.

Most eggs, when laid, contain very few or no bacteria that would cause decomposition, and the entrance of these micro-organisms usually take place because of carelessness or neglect on the part of those handling the eggs. One of the chief sources of infection is soil dirty or damp nests. Eggs like milk make an excellent place for bacterial growth and development and they spoil very readily when kept in dirty or unsanitary conditions. The shell of the egg is [illegible] and soft, but is associated with a mucilaginous matter which prevents the entrance of bacteria unless it is very old, wet or [illegible] moisture or rubbed off. There fore, eggs should not be washed, held in damp, musty places, or handled more than necessary, and should be marked or pre-served as soon after laying as possible.

SILVER MEDAL CONTEST AT RYLEY, AUGUST 3

CRISIS OF WOMAN'S LIFE

Change Safely Passed by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Wagener, Okla.—"I never get tired of praising Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for the great change of Life I was in bad two years and had two operations, but all the doctors and specialists could do for me did not help me. I would have been in my grave long before this if my husband had not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which brought me out of it all right, so I am now well and do all my housework, besides working in my garden. Several of my neighbors have got well by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. VIOLA FOSCAL, Wagener, Okla.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backache, dread of impending evil, timidity, nervous spells, sleeplessness, or dizziness, indicate that a change in the system is taking place, and that nature's kindly assistance should be heeded by middle-aged women. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has carried many women safely through the crisis.

GOOD HORSES WILL BE IN DEMAND.

I think I believe we will see good horses bringing fabulous prices within a few years. There is a dearth of good horses [illegible] today—and if this war continues three or four years the shortage will extend along horse lines. I believe that [illegible] every owner of a real good draft mare [illegible] handsome 1,200-pound road mare that they [illegible] (if possible) to the best stallion of [illegible] breach, but it is a patriotic duty as well. Allow [illegible] emphasize the last declaration—patriotic [illegible] America [illegible] is called into the [illegible] of democracy and liberty. Many of [illegible] best boys will be called to arms; our wives [illegible] are all called to the practice of economy and [illegible] Every tiller of the soil has been enlisted in the great army to provide every bushel possible of corn, wheat, [illegible] and other foodstuffs necessary to feed not [illegible] We can to produce as the beef, milk, pork, eggs etc. possible. If these are patriotic duties, and they are, it is just as much our patriotic duty to ourselves and our allies to produce all the good horses we can to meet the wonderful demand upon us now and a greater demand after the war is over to replenish the breeding stock not only of the United States and our allies, but of our alien brother as well.

"We realize that there is a great tendency this year, on account of scarcity of high-priced feed to do with just as few horses as possible even if we do produce less and quit producing until the outlook is better. If we do this we make a mistake. Every good mare possible should produce a good colt next year which, if properly fed, I feel will command a good price when ready for the market.—National Stockman and Farmer.

WILL IT BE A THREE CORNERED FIGHT IN VICTORIA?

The Dominion electoral district of Victoria seems to be in danger of a three cornered fight, and should the Dominion elections come on soon, we may have in our midst a candidate of considerable strength in the form of J. W. Leedy, one time governor of the state of Kansas. We do not think that Mr. Leedy will develop into a very dangerous proposition to the other candidates in the field, Geo. P. Smith, Liberal; and Frank P. Layton, Conservative; who are both good men for the job.

Mr. Leedy has paraded his title of ex-governor pretty strong and no doubt has made considerable impression. However, his defeat in the Gleichen provincial electoral division still lingers in the memory of those who followed his fortunes. Mr. Leedy dropped out of the scrap as Liberal candidate at Lac Ste Anne in the provincial elections to accept his present job, and helped elect a Conservative as a result. For that little piece of business he gets $3,000 per year and expenses, and his main duties are to educate the people into forming a third party that will have nothing in view but to straddle the fence and hop to where the "pickins" are the richest. They will try to get what they want by supporting either of the old parties that will adopt their platform.

A BOOST FOR THE FAIR IS A BOOST FOR YOU.

The Tofield fall fair is still a few days away, but not too far to think about, and not too far to wonder what you have in the line of show stuff. It is the plan of the fair management to make this year's fair the best yet. The secretary will have the prize lists to distribute in the course of the next ten days and it is up to you to get in line and boost. A boost for the fair is a boost for the Tofield district, and a boost for the district is a boost for you.

SQUIRREL FOOD

Patronize by A. Kent

Are you going to the circus next Monday.

Jack Holstein will have to go in the squirrel food again this week. He is wearing a new pair of Oshkosh boots.

Well we have had enough rain now till the grain is tucked away safe and sound.

Whoopeee, circus is coming to town and maybe the kids won't be up early that day.

The Kaiser is still announcing his close relations with the almighty and is very certain that between the two of them they will push this war to completion in three more years.

It's funny a man wont let his stomach go flat for the sake of buying finery. But he will pull up his belt a good many notches in order to keep the gasoline tank full.

When a young father can walk the floor every night for three weeks without wanting to kick baby through the kitchen roof, it is a sign that he has the makings of a good family man in him.

A single lady will stand pat on her appearances if she is old or a widow. But if she happens to be married she may tell you her age.

Russ Graham has decided that if he can't catch jack fish or suckers he will go whale fishing and "cachalot".

One of the latest styles of fourflushing is to pretend that you are interested in income tax.

Head lines in a big daily reads: "Big Canning Factory to be Opened."—Merely another modern school for fitting girls to become practical housewives.

A certain judge has held that driving an automobile with one arm around your girl is negligence, meaning of course, negligence to your machine.

Riches may be a curse, but you can't hammer that into our noodle.

A meatless day for Canada, Zowie, first they tell us to wear kilts, as trousers take too much cloth. Now it is meatless days for us. The next thing will be breadless days. It would be alright if they didn't ship the surplus wheat to England for to make beer.

Come to think of it, Flavelle has done considerable to help out the meatless day idea.

Why not have a revival of the old snuff box. Some of us who must rely upon natural causes are scarcely able to sneeze more than 7000 times a day.

DON'T EAT.

The Peace River Standard comes forth with a bright solution of the food question in last week's issue. It would be wise for the food controller to copy this as it really looks to us like a very simple answer to the problem.

"Don't waste. Don't eat and do not eat what you don't want."—Peace River Standard.

TO ADVERTISE IS TO ECONOMISE IN SELLING

Economies in selling are absolutely necessary to keep prices down. Judicious advertising will do this. It helps the entire sales force and indirectly helps the consumer. The old idea that the cost of advertising raises the prices of goods is certainly an erroneous one. The good business man knows better. He has direct evidence advertising does reduce the selling cost. Advertising tells the people all over the district what your product is, its price, and what it is good for. The idea becomes fixed in the mind of the reader and when he thinks of purchasing an article of this description he unconsciously thinks of the brand he has seen advertised the most extensively. If your name appears in our columns week after week and you are able to serve the prospective buyer, he will drop in to see you often and you will join the brass plate crowd. Is your name in our columns? We have space for sale.

Metz Transmission

What makes the Metz runs so smoothly is the question that is constantly asked? What makes the car feel so different in the way it runs and the way the gear shifts. The answer is the word METZ. The Metz transmission. It is all by itself.

L. J. Williams school inspector was in town Wednesday.

T. R. Henderson was on Edmonton visitor last week.

BORN—To Mr and Mrs. F. Walkers on Sunday, August 5th a daughter.

Ralph Bowen returned home from Lake Wabamun Monday morning.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lewis, on Friday, August 3rd a son.

Miss Ora Mahaffey is spending her holidays with relatives and friends.

Miss Lilian Bowen is spending the vacation days at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Bowen.

H.G. Sommers G.T.P. engineer is back on the sights at Edmonton on Friday.

Mrs J. Nelson of school staff was a guest at the Royal George hotel, Edmonton, last Friday

J. G. Niddrie principal of Tofield public schools returned from Edmonton yesterday.

Mrs. R. Martin and family arrived from Watrous and joined Mr. Martin last week. They will make their home in Tofield.

Messrs. Jas. D. Hannon and Jas. Rogers are among those present at the Liberal convention held in Winnipeg this week.

Miss Mary Bethel has joined the holiday crowd, and will visit friends in Ryley and Bashaw for the next two weeks.

Miss Mabel Frances returned on Sunday morning from visiting friends at Bon Accord.

Frank Carter is the new office "devil" with the Advertiser and will learn the art of type slinging.

Geo Rix has been on the sick list for the past week. He will soon be around again.

Geo Brodie, Edmonton gas expert was in town last week looking over what casing the town has for sale.

The Lakeshore-Tofield basketball game has been postponed till some day next week. Tofield will play at Bardo tomorrow night, practice tonight.

We overheard a man remark the other day, that he wished someone in authority would declare an open season on hoot and insurance agents. Tofield has had its share of both lately.

Mrs. J. W. Somers left last week for Lethbridge and other points, where she will spend about a month visiting friends. In the meantime J. W. will "hatch it".

G. Shaw, principal of Carstairs public high school, has been appointed principal of the Tofield schools and will succeed J. G. Niddrie. Mr. Shaw is a graduate of Alberta University and comes highly recomended.

At the fall fair this year no stock owned outside of 20 mile circle of Tofield will be permitted to show in grade stock classes. These classes should be well filled with local stock.

Miss Elora Lewis formerly teacher in Tofield public school was married in Edmonton last Saturday evening to W. R. Rigney, of Bon Accord. Her many friends in Tofield wish her much happiness.

Work on the schoolhouse in fall swing again. Material is arriving everyday and the contractors will finish the building on some time within. A gang arrived yesterday and will be employed laying brick.

Emery Leduc arrived home from Edmonton Tuesday morning where he has been receiving hospital treatment for powder burns, caused by a premature explosion, while lowering a charge of dynamite in gas well No. 3 to loosen the casing. Mr. Leduc will have the use of his eyes and he is assured that the powder marks will leave his face.

J. G. Niddrie, who for the past year has been principal of the Tofield public schools has resigned and has been appointed as teacher in the Victoria high school at Edmonton. Mr. Niddrie made many friends while he resided here and not the least among them were his pupils. He was known as a good sport among the boys of his room, being a leader in every line of athletics. We wish him all kinds of good luck in his new position.

There was a good attendance at the regular meeting of the Red Cross Society held at the home of Mrs. R. W. Pincott. The treasurer reported that $16.35 was realized on the sale of junk collected. It was voted to hold the regular meetings at the homes of the different members. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Parker.

A letter was read from R. W. Pincott offering to give a lecture on the "Natives of Africa, their customs, language and superstitions", which was unanimously accepted and the date set for Friday, Aug 31 and the lecture will be given in the Variety theatre. There will also be several vocal and instrumental numbers. The admission price was set at 25c to give every body an opportunity to hear of the interesting and far away land. Mr. Pincott went to Africa at the age of sixteen and resided there eighteen years, trading with natives for the greater part of the time and learned their language perfectly. He is well posted as a result and qualified to tell you of this wonderful country that so few know anything about outside of the story book. Surely an interesting and instructive evening is in store for those hearing Mr. Pincott speak.

GOD'S ACRE

To-day we wander by the plot known as god's acre. We stand and view the prevailing desolate conditions.—The gate is partly hanging, grass throughout the cemetery has nearly reached the tops of the tombstones; no flowers are in evidence, the fence is needing repairs—and we ask, "Why should these conditions exist in a civilized country?"—There isonly one answer that we know of which is, "An absolute lack of interest or carelessness with that of our City Fathers. The same old story too soon we forget the sacred memories of the loved ones gone before; We must say that the beauty of Wetaskiwan cemetery will never cease any one to render service to the grave.—We have rested cemeteries where death looks beautiful—Such cemeteries are operated by a system. Wetaskiwan cemetary has no system and never had—Looking at the cemetery in another light, we figure that the cost expended on tombstones, monuments and casket will aggregate in some thousands of dollars. Surely capital merits capital. Thus our City fathers will not devise a better cemetery system, why not chuck the six foot system, for that of the crematory. The cost of installing a crematorium plant is not necessarily high. We are confident that a joint-stock company could be operated here.—Wetaskiwin Free Press.

News of the Bardo District.

S. Stauffer is putting up a big modern dwelling house.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Berg on July 30 a son.

A. Steen's steam brussing outfit was busy turning over the sod for P. B Anderson & Sons last week.

Jas. R. Stauffer has purchased the E. Canning farm consisting of six hundred acres. We understand that the price was $27.00 an acre.

George Moen gave a party last Saturday night in honor of his eighteenth birthday. The young people spent a delightful evening playing games and cracking jokes till a late hour.

Too late for last week.

J. A. Rorem recently landed a car load of oats at the Bardo siding.

Miss Berghild Moen last week spent a few days with friends at Ryley.

The much talked and written of twine shortage is now threatening to become an actual surplus.

It is surprising to see the healthy color the grain is still retaining in spite of the prevailing heat and drought. Some of the oats though are sadly lacking in length the recent rain might yet overcome this trouble.

The Bardo church has been raised up, the old foundation removed and a new one, one and a half feet higher put in place. A full sized basement is now being fitted up, to be used as a Sunday School class room and other social gatherings.

A lot of young people from this neighborhood held a social gathering at the Miquelon Lakes on Sunday last. The trip though considerable marred by the cold wind and rain was enjoyed by all partakers.

The Misses Clara Jonsson, Clara Eide, Carrie Eggum and Mr. Ben Anderson were elected as delegates from the Bardo Young Peoples Society to the Norwegian Young Peoples League Convention recently held in Camrose. The delegates report a good and enjoyable time spent there.

Students Make Good Showing in Exams

The High school scholars of Tofield have made a new record twenty of them having been successful on the recent Department examinations. This is possibly the largest number of successful students of High School Grades in the history of Tofield.

Mary Kask, in spite of her poor health last term, took two years work in one, writing on both Grade IX and X, one year from the date of her Grade VIII examination, and is the eleventh best female student in Alberta. The success of the High School for the coming year is insured, for Mr. Sheane, B. A., the new principal comes with the best of recommendations.

The successful students in each Grade are as follows.

Grade IX.
Carlisle, Bayard.
Griswold, Mildred
Harriman, Aylmer.
Kask, Julia.
Kerb, Velma.
Lee, Keitha.
Mahaffey, Marjorie.
McMullen, Harold
Neal, Bertha.
Secord, Gene.
Secord, Katherine.
Swift, Willie
Weatherill, Harold.

The following failed on one subject:
Lane, Robert
McMullen, Inez
Rude, Alice

Grade X.
Kask, May.
Kirk, Newelle.
Pinne, Cynthia.
Whillans, Jean.

Grade XI.
Carter, Frank.
Griswold, Bernice.
Hopgood, Jessie.

Honeysuckles Take Back Seat at Bardo

The Honeysuckles were nughty frosted last Friday night, as our friend from Amisk might remark. The score of 11-8 looks bad, but don't indicate the play at all. Tofield piled into Mark Ferguson's car fully nine strong, with Mrs. S. J. Kirk as score keeper. They arrived at the grounds at 8 p.m. but Bardo hadn't showed up yet. Practice commenced, and darkness soon let us see to play. Fifth Heroism was the game of the evening. Tofield was out after four minutes of play with a nice hand, and the latter stopped until the wee sma' hours of the morning. The first part ended in the second 12 to nothing for Tofield. The second half started well, Bardo getting in one and one, and piled in six more during the next few things interesting. Tofield got two in quick succession, but Bardo came back strong in the seventh and eighth, to deadlock each other at eleven strong. After this exciting and thoughtful game, which for the most part helped the onlookers digest the evening lunch, things got a little heavy. Ice cream and a few cool drinks were purchased by the ladies. Blacke still retains his ladies' game in the neck of the woods and the Bardo people conquer blacke by means of a game. However, we all had a good time and the return game will be played we hope, and the Honeysuckles retain the score. Bardo certainly have a good team, and it will take a good aggregation to beat them.

News of the Bardo District.

Hans Stromsome of Eagle Hill, Alta. is visiting friends here this week.

C. Martinson and daughter, of Edson, Sask., were visiting friends here last week.

Quite an exodus by both young and old was going on last week to the Miquelon Lakes. Some packing berries, and boating but all taking a short holiday before the strenuous days coming.

We were in error last week when we stated that George Moen gave a party in honor of his 18th birthday. George was not that old but just "sweet 16". Hence the success of the party.

Mrs. A. Moen while helping her husband to haul hay had the misfortune to fall off the load. Besides getting a severe shaking up she hurt her back and as a result she has been confined to her bed for several days.

It was with regret that we learned of the death of S. M. Nordhoug. He was a quiet unassuming man and was generally honored and respected by all that knew him. The funeral, which took place Sunday, was largely attended. The pall bearers were H. P. Haugen J. Johnson, J. P. Lerbechoo and J. N. Jevning.

A light frost occured here on the night of August 7th. The tender and juicy potato blossoms and the leaves on corn and other plants like that show the finger marks of "Jack Frost" in various places. The frost was not general through out the district and was not severe enough to hurt the grass.

Just bring a dollar and a girl to town next Friday night, August 24th, and attend the dance in the Variety Theatre. Everybody is going.

Instead of Mesmerizing Guests, With the Glory Fly Business

Now that fly time is again with us, diners at many restaurants are seeing the fly question individually by vocalizing campaigns while endeavoring to enjoy the food ordered.

Unless one is blessed with more than ordinary nerve, such interferes take the pleasure out of life and make dinner during delectable pleasure. Why don't restaurant managers put up sticky fly paper and do away with the public food and drink contamination and substitute the publicity? fly paper that reliable sticky fly paper that does the work quietly but so thoroughly that the unobservant bystander, unless he is stricken by hovering suspicion, never notices the fly paper.

And another point, Mr. Restaurant Manager, that fly paper is dining room, unsightly, unwanted, unsightly, and unsightly, and unsightly, and

THE NEW INCOME TAX.

The new income tax proposed by the Finance Minister, Sir Thomas White, exempts persons of unmarried men up to $1500, and married men up to $3000. These exemptions render an income tax entirely subject to needless interest [illegible] and [illegible] between the [illegible] paper [illegible] in Canada who receive any $2,000 income from their properties.

The Minister proposes, however, a big step in the right direction [illegible] making those pay, who are most able to pay. His statement in the House of Commons on July 25th was:-

We propose to levy an income tax of 4 percent upon [illegible] exceeding $2000 per annum in the case of unmarried men and widowers without children, and exceeding $3000 in the case of [illegible] and in addition there will be a super tax of 2 percent upon the amount by which the income exceeds $6000 and does not exceed $10,000; and 5 percent on the amount by which the income exceeds $10,000 and does not exceed $20,000; and 8 percent on the amount exceeding $20,000 and not exceeding $30,000; and 10 percent on the amount by which the income exceeds $30,000 and does not exceed $50,000; and 13 percent by which the income exceeds $50,000 and does not exceed $100,000; and 15 percent by which the income exceeds $100,000.

DOMINION WIDE PROHIBITION.

Speaking for the government on Dominion wide prohibition Mr. Borden said, that they felt at the present moment there were so many other issue that it would be unfortunate to introduce another one, that in his opinion at this present moment [illegible] was the principal [illegible] and he hoped that nothing would interfere with it. He appealed to the committee that waited on him, to allow the matter to stand over and gave a promise that in event of his being head of the new government, the prohibition question would receive careful consideration. It is not likely that the question will be thrown into the coming election. It is felt that it would not help the cause of prohibition, or be in the national interests to introduce another matter which might becloud conscription at the present time.

GO EASY ON THE GAS.

Dominion Fuel Controller, C. A. Magrath, intends that the gasoline supply shall not be wasted in aimless auto driving. The gasoline supply must be conserved for war purposes and action may be taken to prevent useless joy-riding by bubble owners who put in all their spare time prying themselves from mud holes. The effect on the local car owners would be readily noted. No longer would they coast through the Benzer Hills on their blithesome way to Cooking Lake; nor would they kick up dust, make a noise or leave a gasoline smell on Main street all day. It would be quite safe to say that over half of the riding in automobiles in this neighborhood is a useless waste.

CAN YOU BEAT IT?

Can you beat it? Tofield was offered three days of good clean entertainment by the Chatauqua entertainers and turned it down. Simply because a small guarantee was necessary. Yet an excuse for a circus can come here and gather up some seven hundred dollars and lead it out of town. The show is not to blame but what we would like to know is why are we to be denied the opportunity of seeing good wholesome and instructive entertainment on account of lack of pull together ideas and have to put up with a fourth rate dog and pony show that comes armed with every kind of process to relieve you of your surplus jitneys?

The non-partisans are preparing to sprout a crop of federal candidates.

N. N. Gullechson tells us that his protege will sweep the country Well, well, it's nice to get a straight tip.

J. W. Leedy is a non-partisan. He has been a Populist, anti-prohibitionist, Liberal, Independent, and etc.

During his term as governor of Kansas the Prohibition Law was wide open which may have accounted for its defeat.

However, he will speak in the Variety tonight and we can see for ourselves.

He will address an audience at Bardo tomorrow night.

Somebody asked us why we didn't print a few gags about dentists.

Well the reason that we don't tell the truth about them is because we like to see them come to town.

There's one thing about a dentist, and you have to hand it to him for that, he never asks you if you would like to have your neck shaved or if you would care for a little tonic.

Another thing there is something pulling about a dentist. In fact he pulls more business than anybody we know of.

It is a wise dentist that knows where to plant a gold tooth. He is a firm believer in advertising.

It is easier for a dentist to find a girl to marry him than to find someone to cash his check.

The widower who mourns for his first wife has nothing on he who takes a second.

There are all sorts of people in the world, and there is the man that will contract sunstroke running to a thermometer to see how hot it is.

This week we have received the following correspondence:

Dear Editor:

I have to do most of the cooking. Is my marriage a failure?

Not as far as your wife is concerned—Ed.

Dear Squirrel Food:

Is it an ill omen if you upset your beer glass?

Not if the glass is empty.—Ed

Dear Sir:

How is it that some women trust their men like dogs?

We should worry, some women use their dogs pretty well.—Ed.

Dear Editor:

My bride-to-be is accumulating a lot of clothes, what would you advise me to get?

Duffers.—Ed.

Why is it that when a woman builds a house she makes so many clothes closets?

So she can look for burglars. Ed.

WHALE MEAT.

Until recently the whale was not looked upon as a provider of food for white men. Of course, the Eskimos feasted on whale meat when they were lucky enough to have it but whites never looked far whale steak when they visited the fish market.

On the Pacific Coast they will soon find it for sale. They will also find it served in good restaurants. Whale meat is now in cold storage in Victoria, and will be on sale before this is read.

In Portland, Oregon, recently an entire consignment of 800 pounds was soon sold at ten cents a pound. In San Francisco it has been more or less a favorite food for some time. A dispatch from Seattle stated that a consignment of whale meat reached the Sound City recently and was was all sold within a few hours' sales Record.

WILL PREPARE ROLL OF HONOR

Help Get the Good Work by Sending In What Information You May Have on Hand.

The town council have asked me to prepare a roll of honor containing the names of all the men who have enlisted in the C. E. F. during the present war. As I expect to be leaving Tofield early in September, I will be glad to receive from friends and relatives the names of any men who are entitled to have their names inscribed on that roll. Please state if possible, regiment, rank, etc., also translate if any. Please co-operate with me in securing as full a list as possible.

GOOD TIME AT GARDEN PARTY

The garden party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lee was well attended. Quite a large number of town people were present. The grounds were ideal for the purpose and everyone reported a good time. A short programme was given. The ladies and of the St. Andrews church were highly pleased with the success of the function.

GOOD WEATHER IS ALL WE NEED TO FINISH HARVEST

A GOOD YIELD IS EXPECTED—HAIL DIDN'T DO MUCH DAMAGE VISITING THE COMMUNITY IN SPOTS.

The crop is always a live question, not only to our readers at a distance, but it is ever under discussion with the business men and farmers right here. There are always difference of opinion, some are optimistic, but there is always those of the "happy medium" class, and their opinions are usually reliable. We have tried to keep in touch with their reports and they have given us what we believe to be the correct idea of the crop conditions.

The past week having been favorable as to weather conditions in developing and finishing off the crop, the ripening process has gone on so rapidly that harvesting in general throughout the district, or will be by the time this paper has reached all our readers. The grain in this district has been found to be quite up to the quality which has been freely asserted would be the case. While the outlook is not so bright as expected in the early spring, yet there is some remarkably good yields. The hail storms that have travelled over this part of the province visited this district in spots. Having is pretty nearly finished, and the farmer is turning his attention to the grain crop. The sheet straw will enable him to handle the crop with less help than formerly.

At this season of the year the farmer's cash reaches the low tide mark. It takes a good crop to revive the financial waters and bring them into full flood. This year's crop will do the necessary, as the crops will be taken off early. They will be rushed to the market, and the farmers will have the money in their pockets to pay off their obligations before the end of the year. This depends, of course, on the good graces of the weather man. Let us be cheerful and hope for the best.

Smaller Losses This Year From Hail Storms—Danger Over

Smaller hail losses than in any year for a long time are likely to be the net result of this season's crop and weather conditions. The danger time has entirely passed, and after the middle of August the country is pretty safe, and it is even reasonably probable that the most critical time is already over, the last half of July being usually the period of the worst storms. Reports now coming to the Alberta Hail Insurance board from all parts of the province are showing that so far the losses have been considerably under those of last year, the dry weather of the few weeks having had the effect, by way of compensation, of preventing serious hail storms. The worst storm last year in the territory covered by municipal insurance board was on the second day of August but while the serious time can therefore hardly be said to have yet passed, the prospect seems to be fairly satisfactory.

WETASKIWIN WON FROM TOFIELD

Umpire Needs His Eyes Fixed—Will Probably Want a Band if He Comes to This Burg.

The Tofield ball team went to Camrose last Friday to take part in a baseball tournament arranged by the fair management. Tofield was scheduled to meet Wetaskiwin in the afternoon. The game commenced with Wetaskiwin at the bat; they secured five runs off Frank Ball's offerings. Tofield went to bat, and faced a southpaw who didn't fool them at all, for they evened the score up. After that it was a walk away for Wetaskiwin, Tofield showing lack of practice and team work. While it is usual to put an alibi when your team gets licked, we might add here that the umpire was certainly a boodle grabbing shark. Frank Ball was derricked in the sixth inning and allowed "Bing" Crevelling to finish. Crevelling played in pretty good luck, and the game went on without further bloodshed. The final score was 24-12. The team will strengthen up and take on the Viking ball team next Saturday. They threaten dire destruction to our neighboring village. The Honeysuckles will accompany them and play baseball with the Viking Sunbeams. Let's all go.

"Bunny" Harriman Was Accidently Shot By Glancing Bullet

"Bunny" Harriman was accidently shot in the left side of his chest with a 22 calibre rifle, last Sunday, the bullet lodging near his breast bone. The Boys' Athletic Club Arrange First Annual Field Day

Will be Held Fair Day. All Events Will Be Open to Every Boy in Tofield and District 17 Years and Under.

With the prize lists in the making and the Secretary cleared for action and everything ready to receive entries, the Tofield Fall Fair is going to be a success. And it won't be a sportless day, either. The Boys' Athletic Club of Tofield have planned to stage their first annual field day, open to every boy in Tofield and district, seventeen years and under. The affair will be in the hands of the club, and will be run strictly on amateur lines. Points will be allowed for places in each event, and the most points to count. A medal emblematic of the individual championship of Tofield and district will be awarded to the boy taking the greatest number of points. There will be events for second and third place also. The programme of events will consist of every kind of races, jumping, vaults and weight throwing. A complete programme of events will be drawn up and printed next week. For further information apply to the secretary of the Boys' Club or the Advertiser office. Along with this the Fall Fair Board has arranged for a bicycle race open to any boy in the town or district 17 years and under. He is putting up four valuable prizes so hustle up boys, boys, and get your bikes in shape.

Bardo Budget.

Bardo Won.

The Ryley Basket Ball aggregation came down last Friday evening and played the local men a friendly game on part of one.

The game was a fast one while it lasted. The Home team had most up their minds it seemed to beat the visitors. And to judge by the way they went after that ball and made it come their way they certainly would. But unfortunately rain appeared on the scene and stopped further playing. The Home team then having the long end of the score by 6 goals to 0.

Non-Partisan Meeting.

The meeting of J.W. Leedy last Friday evening aspirant for Federal honors in this riding was not very well attended on account of the rain storm. He also spoke here on Saturday morning but few were present then too.

Mr. Leedy is an able speaker and seemed well posted on provincial as well as Federal matters. He was pretty severe with all the Liberal Administrations both past and present. And it made you wonder if all the honest men had quit that party and joined the Non-Partisan League. However, we thought that most of his remarks were more of a Provincial nature than Federal.

Attend Convention.

We have learned that J. Rose has sold his farm the N. W. 18 49 18 getting the handsome price of $37.00 per acre.

Miss Mary Bethel Appointed Agent and Chief Operator

Miss Mary Bethel returned Saturday evening from Bardo. Miss Bethel has received the appointment of agent and chief operator at the local telephone exchange and commenced her new duties Monday morning. She will succeed Miss Mildred Carter who will be transferred to Camrose.

School News.

The basement of the new school building is practically finished and the first story began. Work is progressing rapidly and it looks as though the children will soon be in the new building.

The school board have been busy appointing new teachers for the next term. Geo. K. Sheane will act as principal, Miss L. E. Martin of Calgary will teach Miss Hall's room, Miss M. A. Goodson will teach Miss Wilson's room, Mrs. V. Nelson and Miss E. Bearce at last year's staff will return.

The special rate of one cent per mile, available for harvest help travelling on the A. E. R., G. T. and C. N. R. will remain in force until the end of August.

The following was clipped from Sedro Woolley (Wash.) Times, of August 2nd.

R. W. Pincott states that he would be quite willing to meet any other man in western Canada who compete with him on the subject of different African languages and expounding native customs.

Among other subjects besides those mentioned in our write-up which he will tell about are the following:

How a Dutch girl is courted, native telegraphs in the mountains without medicine, sleeping in a Kopje but, marriage and marriage, your wife on the installment, how he lives and dies happily with from 2 to 10 wives, how the niggers name a white man and what your name might have been, how little babies are fed and the part the little dears take in the operations, Kaffir songs.

As announced by the Red Cross on last week's issue, R. W. Pincott will lecture on Africa to the Variety theatre, on August 31st.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS AND CLAIMANTS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE DISTRICT OF EDMONTON.

In the Matter of the Estate of Emery Marion Burton late of the Village of Ryley in the Province of Alberta. Farmer. Deceased.

NOTICE is hereby given that all Persons having Claims against the Estate of Emery Marion Burton, late of Ryley in the Province of Alberta, who died on the 22nd day of May, A.D. 1917, are required before the 9th day of October A.D. 1917, to send to The National Trust Company Limited, Edmonton, Alberta, Administrator of the said Estate, or to George Young, Douglas Block, 10141 Whyte Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta, Solicitor for the National Trust Company, Limited, the said Administrator, a full statement of their claims and of any securities held by them duly verified by Statutory Declaration.

And after the said 9th day of October A.D. 1917, the said Administrator will proceed to distribute the assets of the said Estate among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which it then has notice, and it will not be responsible to any person of whose claim it shall not then have had notice at the time of such distribution.

Dated at Edmonton, Alberta, this 9th day of August A.D. 1917.

GEORGE E. [illegible]
Solicitor for the National Trust Company, Limited Administrator.

J. W. Leedy, billed to speak here last Thursday in the interests of the Non-Partisan League, didn't start up much enthusiasm as the branch of the league was organized. The meeting opened about 9:15 with a [illegible] Mahaffey acting as chairman. After a few short remarks Mr. Mahaffey called the meeting over.

Mr. Leedy, who at one period was a leader in the movement and is now credited with being the party's genius. He advocated nothing that has not already been adopted by the parties in power, and a few things that has been regarded as unsafe legislation. He spoke of the changes that the league expected to accomplish and the [illegible] that has kept nations busy since the beginning of time, the bringing about of universal peace. He hoped to place conscription on a basis that no one could take offence. He hoped through government ownership of public utilities and sundry other small items to reduce the trials and tribulations of the masses, for which he feels the utmost compassion. To earn how this is done you must place $15 in the hands of the organizer and be one a member of the league, then you are let into the secret. At this point he was roundly applauded by the organizer. It is said on good authority that some $6.00 or $7.00 of the two dollars the organizer and be one a member of the league.

After a round of questions that Mr. Leedy answered in his own way, he attacked one of the other candidates in the field, Geo. P. Smith, of Camrose. He harshly criticized that he claimed was an unwarranted salary that Mr. Smith enjoys as a result of his stand in the provincial house, and thereby hangs a tale. It matters very little to us who Mr. Leedy attacks, but we believe Geo. P. Smith to be an honorable man and a gentleman. He has been a member of the provincial house [illegible] years for nine sessions, and for some time he rejected the offer to become organizer. Friends prevailed upon him to accept, what is usually [illegible] Although Mr. Leedy [illegible] wind-up of his [illegible] would quite likely [illegible] hang if he had the chance [illegible] quite likely.

J. W. LEEDY SUGGESTS GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF PUBLIC UTILITIES, ESPECIALLY C.N.R.

J. W. Leedy [illegible] that the [illegible] C.N.R., [illegible] Mr. Leedy suggested that the government is taxation [illegible] days toward the people if they don't plank down another $60,000.00 to take over the other 60 percent of the stock. Stock that has no market value at all.

NO FLIM-FLAMMING IN THIS NEIGHBORHOOD TO PURIFY PARTY POLITICS.

While Mr. Leedy at his meeting on Thursday, denied point blank that the levy of $15,000 charged for joining the Non-partisan league, was in excess of the fee charged in North Dakota, the fact remains, that the fee in North Dakota is really $9.00. In South Alberta where the league has run candidates for office the fee is $8.00. This doesn't appeal to the farmer very strongly, as the league is supposed to pull him out of the political mire where party politics are supposed to have cast him. He certainly doesn't want any flim-flam tactics employed in the cleaning up process. And while friend farmer will be good natured enough to sit through an anti-party politics harangue, he would like to know what in common sense is the idea of adding a third party to his shoulders anyhow. Especially when it is supposed to be non-partisan.

WHAT DO WE EAT?

Last Tuesday the official order declaring the regulation of public eating houses went into effect. This special act provides that public eating houses must not serve bacon or beef on Tuesdays and Fridays or serve meat more than once day. Oat cakes, corn [illegible], potatoes, etc., are to be served as a substitute for wheat bread. It is more than probable that eggs will go [illegible] as well as the meats that are not tabooed by the [illegible]ndate. Just what effect this will have on the [illegible] commodities used as a substitute is not known. [illegible] will have a tendency to stay

Notice of Dissolution.

Notice is [illegible] partnership [illegible] between the undersigned [illegible] merchants, under the [illegible] Richardson & Rudd, at [illegible] Alberta, has been this day dissolved by mutual consent. All debts due to the said partnership are to be paid to either partner at the [illegible] on Main Street, being on the second floor of the store building formerly occupied by them as a general store and all outstanding debts against the partnership should be presented to G. T. Richardson for payment.

Some Saving.

Figures obtained from the Globe secretary and the Ottawa Journal, to the amount at saving [illegible] ld be brought about in these cities a result of two meatless days per eek inaugurated by the Food Controller will be of interest to those ho desire to estimate the saving

Canada as a whole. Ottawa ith a population of 87,062, estimates that it will mean a aving of close unto 40,000 pounds f meat per day to that city. Toronto not include bacon. Toronto, whose population in 1911 was 376,538, figures on saving thirteen tons f beef and two and a half tons of mton each week under the Food controller's order. The total population of Canada is 7,206,643. On the basis of the Ottawa estimate, this will mean a saving of approximately 3,600,000 pounds of meat per day, or over 7,000,000 pounds per week. These figures were quoted by the Hon. A. C. Rutherford at a mass meeting on Thursday evening

The base ball team went to Camrose and were to play ball in that town.

Be thankful it might have been worse.

After all the score was only 2 to 1

That is they got 2 to every 1 that we got.

Baseball plays, frosh base running and most everything that you might think of that goes to make up a bowling team was displayed by Tofield.

At that we could beat them if we had another chance.

Somebody remarked that the umpire made Blackbeard look like an elementary saint.

And that he was a booh headed boodle grubber.

It is a cinch we had to play eleven men.

There is one thing you may borrow without security and that is trouble.

In a small town most of the scorn and contempt is directed toward the man who wears white trousers.

We hate to be a spoil sport, kids, but school starts on Tuesday morning, September 4th. You better be winding up your fishing tackle and begin dusting off your books.

Cultivation of Sugar Beet in Alberta

One of the Best Growing Crops in Western Canada

It is perhaps not generally known that the sugar beet is one of the best crops to grow where mixed farming is carried on. Experiments have been made in all parts of the province, and the results have been uniformly satisfactory. Farmers in the vicinity of Edmonton have been growing sugar beets for a number of years, and the industry is now well established in that district. Some of the largest yields per acre in the province have been obtained in the Edmonton district, and the industry is capable of considerable development. Alberta is the largest province in the Dominion, and it is also one of the largest producing districts in the world for the production of sugar beets. The soil and climate are well adapted for the growing of this crop, and the industry is capable of considerable development. Alberta is the largest province in the Dominion, and it is also one of the largest producing districts in the world for the production of sugar beets. The soil and climate are well adapted for the growing of this crop, and the industry is capable of considerable development.

Profit By New Zealand's Blunder

As a result of the wanton waste during the agricultural years of the crop in New Zealand has fallen by more than 100,000 acres in one year. The crop of wheat this year is less than 5 bushels to the acre; a year ago, and previous to the war, the crop was over 20 bushels to the acre. Having on hand about a million tons of surplus wheat, the Canadian Government should not fall into the error which is noticeable in New Zealand. They should know at once just about how many acres are required to maintain production in Canada at the maximum, particularly as sugar culture, and they should know how many acres are required to meet the existing works and also the acreage for which the plants are built. There is no good reason why we should not have New Zealand's 20 bushel per acre yield. World.

School Land Moneys

Increased Revenue For Provinces Through Investments in War Bonds

By the investment of the school lands money held in trust by the Dominion government on five per cent. bonds instead of three per cent. savings bank interest the revenue of the three prairie provinces will be increased by over $250,000 a year.

Alberta's school land moneys held in trust by the Dominion government amount to $4,954,494, so that an additional $80,000 a year will result from adopting the increased interest. The province is Saskatchewan's revenue will be slightly higher, namely $82,000 per year, the amount of the school lands trust funds of this province being $4,963,963.20. Alberta has $4,954,494 in school land moneys held in trust by the Dominion government and its revenue in consequence of the investment on the bonds will be $247,724.70 instead of $80,000.

For the enlightenment of many persons in this district on matters connected with the school system of Western Canada, it is explained that the school lands consist of two sections in every township 1,280 acres in every township 1,280 acres in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, that is, approximately one-eighteenth of the entire area of the three provinces. These lands are administered by the Dominion government, in trust, with the object of establishing a fund for educational purposes in the provinces mentioned. The lands are disposed of from time to time at public auction only to the highest bidder, and subject to a certain upset price. From this source a large fund for educational purposes has been built up, which makes possible an adequate school system at small cost to the home maker.

England's Awakening

Discovery Made That Life Is or Less Worth Living

This war has wakened England. It has made the working man write at full-rate for the first time in his life. He has been willing to do it, because the producers served a common purpose instead of the profit of other persons. He has been persuaded to do so, because an increased wage gave him better food. He has discovered how to do it, because the pressure of necessity has unbolted from cells which in ordinary times would have required a crow-bar to coordinate. He has found that the middle-class house inhabited, and freed the respectable unemployed into usefulness. It has driven men and women of every class to employments to whose capacity they were strangers, and the dynamic results of this overwhelming, but unplanned, social revolution. It has made a man to be a man, and a woman to be a woman. It has given to both sexes their own self-respect. It has made them feel that they are not the mere creatures of circumstance, but the masters of it. It has made them feel that they are not the mere creatures of circumstance, but the masters of it. It has made them feel that they are not the mere creatures of circumstance, but the masters of it.

6,000 Germans Will Be Traded for 700 British

About 700 British subjects will be exchanged for more than 6,000 interned Germans, according to authoritative information given to a United Press representative in reference to the recent conference held between officers and men of the two countries.

The British civilians will be mostly from Rhodesia, the Cape, South Africa, Alexandra Palace, and other large internment camps. The exchange is to begin at once, but practical questions of ship facilities will cause considerable delays. The civilians (both British and German) will be sent home in batches according to transport arrangements, and the expense will be borne by each government. "Ideals" and exchanges will be made as to prices.

To Eliminate Unprofitable Poultry

The poultry advisory committee of the British Board of Agriculture, on a recent meeting considerable attention was given to the question of eliminating unprofitable poultry. It was announced that all old stock and all birds in laying condition would be exempted from certain restrictions as to the number of poultry to be kept during the year. It was also announced that all old stock and all birds in laying condition would be exempted from certain restrictions as to the number of poultry to be kept during the year. BROKEN DOWN IN HEALTH

Woman Tells How $5 Worth of Pinkham's Compound Made Her Well.

Lima, Ohio.—"I was all broken down in health from a displacement. Change of life and many friends urged me to use one and the other kind but to no avail. Finally Pinkham's Vegetable Blood purifier was tried and it soon helped me. Then I took Pinkham's Compound and Blood purifier and then Sanative Wash. I began to feel like my former self and could do all my housework and in two months I was entirely well. I have had other three doctors and I never would stand up straight; when I was a midwife for seven years and I recommended the Vegetable Compound to every woman to take before birth and afterwards, and they all going so nicely that it surely is a godsend to suffering women. If women wish to write me I will be delighted to answer them."—Mrs. Jennie Norton, 322 E. North St., Lima, Ohio.

Women who suffer from displacements, weakness, irregularities, nervousness, backache, or bearing-down pains, and the basic properties of Dr. Pierce and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

YES! LIFT A CORN OFF WITHOUT PAIN!

Cincinnati man tells how to dry up a corn or callus so it lifts off with fingers.

You corn pestered men and women can't suffer corns any more after you've had nearly lulled you before, says this Cincinnati authority, because it is drops at once and soon the corn or hardened callus loosens so it can be lifted off, root and all, with the fingers.

A small bottle of freezone costs very little at any drug store, but will positively take off every hard or soft corn or callus. This should be tried as it is inexpensive and is said not to irritate the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to get a small bottle for you from his wholesale drug house as it is the real stuff and acts like a charm every time.

CANNED GOODS EMBARGO GIVES MERCHANTS A CHANCE TO RAISE A GROUCH.

The embargo on canned goods has brought out some and gnant protests and others are taking an optimistic view of things. The grocer believes that he has a kick coming and perhaps he has. It leaves him with his shelves loaded down with canned goods placed there so madame may select what she wants for hubby's supper. During the hot weather, friend can opener is worked overtime. But to come back to the grocers point of view. He must show that shelf load of tinned edibles to the background and arrange for a display of summer squashes and lima beans. For the official order has requested that you eat of the fruits of the field and leave the forbidden canned goods alone till the autumn winds begin to howl. Figuring that the green stuff will spoil and canned goods will keep. Most of the retailers accepted their fate stoically and others kicked over the traces and declared "business as usual". However, they will all have to dig in and observe the act. A little clearer explanation to the general public wouldn't hurt in order to have the full co-operation of all the consumers. If the powers that be figure that this measure is needed to help push the war to completion, there is no doubt about the co-operation of everyone concerned.

EARLY HARVEST MEANS PLENTY OF TIME TO PLOW FOR NEXT YEAR.

An early harvest in Western Canada unfortunately, as a rule, means a light harvest and although conditions have improved considerably in many localities owing to quite general rains, yet taken as a whole the western crop will not live up to expectations.

An early harvest has one big advantage, which we wish our readers to take notice and make use of; it provides a longer fall in which to get land in good shape for early seeding next year.

Should the weather be dry it will be most favorable for the killing of weeds, particularly perennials, and all farmers should make full use of this opportunity.

Farmers who can recall 1914, the dry year with the light crop and then that marvelous crop of 1915, and like to be guided by precedent will likely be out plowing early and late.

Farming, and especially small grain farming is a hazardous occupation, so much depending on the influences over which man has no control, but we are facing conditions that the world has never faced before.

Millions are looking to the farmer, not only for help, but for life itself. Today farming is something more than making a living by raising so many acres. It is a scientific proposition and must be treated as such. The farmer who dabbles in mixed farming does not worry so much about the weather conditions. The farmer who farms for big returns through his small grains is strictly a gambler who takes his chance with one turn of the wheel of fate—or better still the weather.

In a small town most of the work and customely is directed toward the man who wears white trousers.

W. P. HINTON
New Vice-President and General Manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway

By a circular issued by Mr E. J. Chamberlin, President of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and Grand Trunk Railway System, Mr. W. P. Hinton becomes Vice-President and General Manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, succeeding Mr Morley Donaldson, who has retired on account of ill-health.

Mr. William Pittman Hinton was born August 18th, 1871, at Ottawa, Ont., and was educated at Ottawa Collegiate Institute. He began railway work on May 3, 1887, in the Auditor's Department of the Canada Atlantic, and in September, 1891, became rate clerk in the traffic department. From March, 1898, to July, 1901, he was Assistant General Freight Agent, and then was General Freight Agent, until his appointment in February, 1902, as General Freight and Passenger Agent of the same road. In October, 1903, when the Grand Trunk absorbed the Canada Atlantic he became General Agent in the passenger department of the Grand Trunk at Ottawa, Ont., in charge of immigration and transatlantic passenger traffic, remaining in that position until January 1, 1907, when he was appointed Assistant General Passenger Agent of the Grand Trunk at Montreal. On May 1, 1908, he was appointed General Passenger Agent of the Grand Trunk Pacific at Winnipeg, Man. On January 1, 1914, was promoted to Assistant Passenger Traffic Manager of the same road at Winnipeg. On October 1, 1914, he was promoted to be Assistant Passenger Traffic Manager of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific lines with headquarters at Montreal, Que. In November, 1915, he returned to Winnipeg as Traffic Manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific, having charge of both freight and passenger traffic and was appointed at the same time to represent also the Canadian Government Railways with the title of Western Traffic Manager.

It is a mistake to think that women are less brainy than men. Any woman who can comprehend and digest all the details on a modern fashion page is wise enough for any position in life.

They say, that in Sweden a girl is not allowed to have a beau until she can bake good bread. Single ticket to Sweden please.

It's funny that a man will get mad when his wife blows in four plunks on a new hat and goes and gets on a drunk that will eat him back ten bucks, just to show her how he feels about it.

The first thing that a man does when he arises in the morning is to feel for his pocketbook. The first thing that a woman does is to look in the mirror.

Autumn is coming and it makes us sad.
To read the town coal dealers ad.
Perhaps we'd wear a cheerful look,
Had we a well-filled pocketbook.

Well-filled or not we must stock up
For coal is scarce the crookers hotter.
And every little lump we buy,
Will cost us just about a dollar.

Germans Perish In Belgian People

Jabbing at German Eagerness Secure Severe Penalties on Brothers Brussels

A general public has continued something subtle to be within the valley and still subtler to be without. Over three seasons it sprang up at night and spread through Belgium by secret telegraphy. The Germans forbade the Belgians to engage in nocturnal colors. Next morning all Belgians wore green in honor of the day.

When the German paper proposed to announced the Belgians took to wearing the green and there was not the German officers they saw, and something in a dirge yet natural tones in voice. "I see the Germans are going for peace!"

By night apoplectic German officers were breaking into these groups and saying

"That's a lie! Germany is proposing for peace!"

Many times Brussels have been "closed" as a punishment for offending the enemy, and always at the harvest. Under this form of punishment all amusements are allowed, and every one may stay indoors after 7 o'clock in the evening. The first time this was declared a little cheering on the occasion of the Kaiser's birthday. Then it was declared when the name of Queen Elizabeth was given to the streets, stopping proclamations of hope and joy.

That occasion was very dangerous. It happened on a Sunday, and when the streets ran full. Suddenly the people were surrounded by police regiments. They unmistakable where, and were ordered to disperse. They did not move, also says green people passed through them. Some of the soldiers sneered nearer and nearer. They fired. Then the people scattered, leaving a blanket.

Many were killed and wounded. Many died from the effects of the fright. Belgium flag. Then white leaves began to appear in the streets. Then a banner appeared, and so long that it was impossible to get it down. Suddenly the flag was seen in the streets. Then a flag appeared on the Hotel de Ville. Then a flag was swapping was at Les Allies Brussels. Then a flag appeared on the Palace. Then a flag appeared on the Cathedral. Then a flag appeared on the Parliament. Then a flag appeared on the Opera. Then a flag appeared on the Bourse. Then a flag appeared on the Stock Exchange. Then a flag appeared on the Bank of Belgium. Then a flag appeared on the Bank of Brussels. Then a flag appeared on the Bank of Antwerp. Then a flag appeared on the Bank of Liege. Then a flag appeared on the Bank of Ghent. Are Good Cows Misjudged?

Information Gleaned in Work of the Dairy Division at Ottawa

Recently there came that stood out by side were treated for months entire nothing but milk. The first cow averaged in one of 2.7 per cent of fat, the maximum and minimum 2.5 and 2.9.

The second cow had an average for nine tests of 4.6 per cent, the maximum and minimum tests 4.2 and 5.0. The average test for the third cow was 7.6 with extremes of 7.0 and 8.0.

Here it is evident that the kind of cow to know is not a certain test, but the machine.

In the light of the examples given above, as well as of hundreds of other instances on record, it is safe to conclude that a fair method is to test a composite sample of five or six milkings taken at intervals when the cow is in normal condition. This plan has given good results in the dairy testing work to date, and soon, Ottawa. Write for full particulars, but your cows must not be misjudged on an isolated test.

Two-Thirds of Canada For Timber Crop

Business Efficiency as the Use of the Nation's Natural Resources

One of the surprises in those timber figures of the past year is the trend by which all lands are carefully reserved for timber and are according to those capacity. No farmer is allowed to cut timber on his land until, and at the same moment, he has planted a new tree. Remember that the change is under the Socialist party in Germany. Socialist leaders in Germany now declare that they will abandon "either you will be with us or we will destroy your organization." The Socialists decided to support the government and dismiss their opposition.

"There is no doubt," the interview continues, "but that the repression in Germany of any Socialist movement will be attended by terrible results. The war will be followed by bloodshed that the world has ever witnessed."

Royal Flying Corps

American Flyers are Now Training at Toronto

One hundred American flight cadets are now in training with the Royal Flying Corps at Toronto, the squad being on parade daily on the University campus where they are receiving routine ground instruction preparatory to their flying training. Other training under British officers will be given at Camp Borden, the expense of providing the aeroplanes, engines, personnel and all being borne by the Canadian government. The Canadian Aero Club will provide the training facilities in the air, and the Royal Flying Corps will provide the training during the ground work. The cadets will be enrolled in the Royal Flying Corps and will be trained to teach flying in Canada.

Premier Borden has provided for the handling of a hundred Americans a month. In return for the Canadian students will go to Texas and Georgia to train with the Royal Flying Corps have been selected as one of the chief training centres. The Royal Flying Corps have been engaged in training pilots for the British Empire, and will continue to do so.

Defeat May Make The Germans Revolt

Big Russian Victory Would Have Great Effect, Says Author of J'Accuse

A sweeping victory by the Entente Allies, sufficient in its effect to rouse the German people to a realization that they have been deceived, is the only thing that will bring about a revolution in the country, according to Hohenzollerns, according to Professor Wilhelm Foerster, a German author and author of J'Accuse, a pamphlet published in Switzerland at the beginning of the war and suppressed by the Swiss government. Foerster now a political refugee in Switzerland, said, as quoted in an interview published by the Switzerland correspondent over the Berlin Tageblatt.

"I consider a revolution in Germany possible only as the result of a sweeping military victory by the Allies. Nothing else will do it. Only then will the German people realize how they have been deceived, by the ruling class, by the Socialist party, by the press, by the universities, by the clergy, by the business. They have 25,000,000 marks invested in enterprises.

"On August 2, 1914, Chancellor von Bethmann Hollweg called all the Socialist leaders in Germany into conference and told them bluntly that either you will be with us or we will destroy your organization. The Socialists decided to support the government and dismiss their opposition.

"There is no doubt," the interview continues, "but that the repression in Germany of any Socialist movement will be attended by terrible results. The war will be followed by bloodshed that the world has ever witnessed."

Save The Fat

Economy Necessary in the Use of Butter

Bacon at the present high price is not a luxury for many of the rich and the farm housekeepers with her dairy is not likely to waste much of the tasteless scrap of bacon or bacon fat that should be wasted. The fat from bacon is sufficiently purified, after frying, to make a very good kind of cookery in which beef is ordinarily used. The special use of bacon for table choosers it is used instead of butter. The whole or many pieces of bacon are broiled over the fire and the fat bats who up to the rind had been consumed in the cooking of meat, in which the meat, the latter need not be browned in the fat, and then slowly cooked with a savory gravy, preferably in a closed casserole in the oven. Plank steak which can no longer be called cheap, however, is especially good cooked in this way, and it "goes further" than with other methods of cooking it.

Conservation Of Food

American Lady Sets an Example in Strict Economy

Mrs. Newton D. Baker, wife of the secretary of war, is a member of the "Clean Plate Club" who is giving her unstinted support to the food conservation movement in Washington. Jan. Mrs. Baker remarked that being a housewife, a street engine prevails in the charming and dignified mansion home in which the secretary, his wife and three other unmarried children are domiciled as foregoing:

"I feel that the force of example is strong," said Mrs. Baker, "and I think that every woman in this country should display her patriotism and her determination to help in the conservation of food as well as in other patriotic movements."

Wheat bread has never played a prominent part in the daily fare in the Baker household as cornbread and it is now becoming even more rare.

"Mr. Baker comes from Virginia, you know," said his wife, "and we have always had corn bread, spoon bread, batter bread and hot cakes. Now, we are avoiding waste by having the bread made thinner and cut in smaller pieces. Every one may have as many pieces as he likes but none is left over on the platter. It is the same with other things and I am inculcating the 'clean plate' idea to my children.

"I think this was brought home to me particularly while dining guests of the English army was in Washington. I was amazed at the quantity that he believed the war would last. Why, they ate as much as we did. Wheat supplied by the United States to help Belgium. Then I learned from a friend of mine who is in an official position in Washington that the latter were sending hundreds of tons of wheat to the Belgians. What people can do in the homes of this country is unfathomable. Why, they find their way to the Belgians. Then I learned

An Agricultural Fair Is the Place to Exchange Your Ideas

Learn What Your Neighbor Does and Put His Theory Into Practice.—Bring in Your Choice Stock and See How it Compares.

BOYS FIRST ANNUAL FIELD DAY BOXING MATCH IN THE EVENING

An agricultural fall fair is an event that ought to interest everybody in the Tofield district. It is an exhibition of the horses, cattle, grain, vegetables, poultry, home products and domestic activities of the farm and home. In other words, it is a place where people from far and near may come and view what the district produces. Farmers may exchange ideas and "swap" animals and discuss with the judges the merits of the different breeds and find out the weak points and good points and learn better methods of improving their stock. To the wide-awake farmer it serves as a school where he sees the progress his neighbor is making along certain lines, and then if he learns of a system better than the one he has followed he can go home and put it into practice.

The Tofield Fair this year comes at a time of the year when grains, vegetables and all farm produce have matured. Cattle, horses, pigs, poultry have summered well, and harvest days have not set in in earnest. Sept. 22nd should be set aside by every farmer, cattleman, horseman, poultry fancier, citizen, business men and ladies of the district as a day when Tofield and district gets together to boost the district as never before. There is no question about the quality of the exhibits. Former fairs have established that. The good work should not be allowed to lag. Tofield holds an enviable reputation as an agricultural district, and has attracted hundreds to this district already largely through the advertising done by holding fall fairs where everything that the district produces is brought together and displayed for the intending settler. The possibilities of a real live fall fair are unlimited.

There is a tendency on the part of exhibitors if they have not won prizes one year to not enter again the following year. This is a mistake. They should not be disheartened, but go home with a resolve that the next year their exhibits would come back improved through the practice of ideas gained.

The prize lists have been distributed and contain rules and regulations with which everybody is well acquainted by this time, so it only remains for each individual to do his "bit" to make the eighth annual fair exceed any of the previous fairs in points of entries, attendance and exhibits.

The boys of the Tofield Athletic Club will hold their first annual meet on that day. The competitions will be open to any boy 17 years or under in Tofield or district. This being the first meet that the boys have held, it is hoped that the proper interest will be taken to make it an annual affair. In another column you will find an entry blank which you will fill in and forward to the Advertiser office. This should be in not later than September 21st, in order to compete in any of the events. There will be five points allowed for first place in any event, three points for second place and one point for third place. To the boy who gets the largest number of points will be given a medal. This medal will be emblematic of the individual, all round championship of Tofield and district, there will be two other medals for second and third prizes. Following is the program for the day:

10.00 a.m.
1. 75 yards dash.
2. Standing broad jump.
3. 100 yard dash.
4. Throwing the baseball.
5. 220 yard dash.
6. Half mile race.

3.00 p.m.
1. Quarter mile.
2. Running broad jump.
3. Standing high jump.
4. Running high jump.
5. Pole vault.
6. Hurdle race (75 yards).

7.00 p.m.
1. Fungs batting.
2. Hop, step and jump.
3. Bicycle race (1 mile).
4. Finals, if any.

The Red Cross have raised money in various ways, and some stunts are very original and unique in their way. But the entertainment planned by the sporting fraternity of the town stands by itself. Tofield will see a real athletic tournament on Fair Day. Several of the local mitt artists have agreed to stage a smoker and sparring exhibition, the proceeds to go to the Red Cross.

JOIN THE SOCIETY AND BOOST THE FAIR—GOVERNMENT PAYS $1 FOR YOURS

Section 1, of the Rules and Regulations should interest every farmer in the Tofield district and in fact any who are boosting for the fall fair.

"The payment of One Dollar entitles a person to membership in the Society, and gives him the right to exhibit and to free entrance to grounds. If married this payment confers these same two rights on his wife and children under 16 years of age.

"For every dollar that you pay in as a member the government gives the society $1.00. Now if you are interested in the welfare of the society and future fairs, you will lose no time in becoming a member.

The program will consist of a main bout between H. G. Thunell, of Viking, better known as Tun, one of the best lightweights along the G.T.P., and one of our local boys. Besides this, there will be two or three preliminaries and a semi-wind-up between Geo. Goeglin, one of Uncle Sam's navy boys, and C. W. Barnes. Geo. Goeglin is a knock-'em-dead boxer of renown, having engaged in several contests while connected with the navy. A wrestling exhibition and several other features are arranged and a good two hours' fun will be the result. All for the nominal price of 50c. There will be no reserved seats, first there get a ringside seat for the same price. The sporting blood o Viking, who follow their champion's fortunes, will be up to see Thunell fight, and are trying to have seats reserved, but as the train will be in in plenty of time they will get a seat; the affair don't start till 10.00 p.m. The picture show will stop at 9.45 sharp, in order to give management time to pitch the ring and get the thing ready.

BIKE RACE.

Don't forget M. C. Hammond's bicycle race on Fair Day. Four valuable prizes will be put up for competition. The race is open to boys 17 years and under.

ENTRY BLANK

By filling in this blank you may compete in the boys first annual field and track day, under auspices Boys Athletic Club

ARE THEY TO BE ALLOWED HERE

Strong Feeling on Small Fair Circuit Against Skin Games and Gambling.

The prevalence of games of chance or what are sometimes termed "skin" games, at a number of the fairs held this year in Alberta, has caused considerable discussion as to whether they should be permitted. We have endeavored to get the opinion of a number of individuals who have been in a position to judge as to the effect of such matters at the fairs where they are permitted. Among those persons from whom we have made inquiry are government judges and exhibitors of live stock who have been showing at numerous places, who surely should be competent to pass judgement. They have invariably expressed the belief that such things would eventually work against the success of the fairs and should be shut out entirely. Societies who have permitted such games try to justify their position in various ways. In some cases they try to throw the responsibility upon the police, and the police just as readily say, try to throw the responsibility on the society. Cooperation of the two is necessary, to be effective.

TOFIELDERS HEAR TALK ON AFRICA

R. W. Pincott Gave Interesting Lecture on Darkest Africa in Aid of Red Cross.

Between tongue clicks and Zulu dances and demonstrations of the various ways that a Kaffir mother feeds her baby R. W. Pincott kept his audience in good humor. The talk was very interesting and highly amusing from start to finish. Mr. Pincott, who has lived in that country and traded with the natives for years, possibly knows more of the condition and customs than the average explorer or missionary. He cited instances where the story book writer was off his trolley He told of the Dutch, their ways and mode of living, how the Dutch girl is courted, and a part he played in a very interesting courtship. He told of the ways that the nigger raises his children, how babies die by the thousands annually through ignorance; how the nigger raises his father from the dead. He explained the native way of catching monkeys. In fact, many things that kept the audience open-mouthed all the time. After the lecture Mr. Pincott blackened up, and gave a demonstration of the native dances and handwashing, etc. It was worth the money, and we would like to hear Mr. Pincott lecture again on this subject, and cover more ground regarding the way the niggers procures his food and hunts his game, etc.

USE FROZEN POULTRY.

There is an article of diet of which there are large stocks in storage in Canada and for which there has been practically no demand. This commodity is frozen poultry.

This unusual situation this year has been caused through the shortage of cars on tonnage. A large part of the stocks on hand had been sold for export but could not be transported owing to the unavailability of refrigerated space.

Canadian consumers, in the past, have not taken kindly to frozen meats. This has been due in part at least, to lack of suitable facilities for defrosting, which if not properly done results in the meat being discolored and unattractive. The time has arrived, however, when it may be necessary for consumers to rely more and more upon frozen meat products. In times of scarcity every advantage should be taken of the facilities provided to carry over the surplus from one season to the shortage of another. Properly defrosted poultry, for instance, is equally as wholesome and nutritious as fresh-killed stock

The public is invited, therefore, to ask for frozen poultry of which there is a large supply, consisting of chickens, broilers, ducks, geese and turkeys. The trade advise that many of these varieties can be obtained at prices considerably lower than those prevailing for fresh-killed stock at present available.

It is given as a suggestion that frozen poultry could be utilized economically as a substitute for beef and bacon on Tuesdays and Fridays. If special poultry and frozen meat were arranged and individual retailers had prospects of handling a certain quantity they could order accordingly and all arrangements be made for the necessary defrosting. As there is practically no other market for frozen poultry at the present time, it would appear to be of distinct advantage to this country, in assisting to conserve its food products of other sorts, that poultry meat be utilized, in so far as possible, in the way suggested.

SAD, BUT TRUE.

The nomination of J. W. Leedy as Federal candidate in the Victoria electoral district, reminds us of the whirlwind campaign he started a short time ago, the ending of which was to mean sus-ndenth to the present system of government. Methinks, despite his nomination, the alleged whirlwind campaign has received a sauce slap in the neck. We peruse our exchanges each week with considerable gust, and we fail to find even kindly mention of the one gentleman and his platform.

The parts furdened unto Victoria seems to be quite content with it's lot. The farmer, inside canny to war ravagers, is not easily prod loose from fifteen bucks to learn of a way to become politically independent.

Ryley Preparing For Annual Event Antique and Curio Display Will Be Big Feature.

Ryley will hold their second annual Agricultural Exhibition on Friday, September 14th. One of the striking features will be an antique, curio and war souvenir department. To this department the committee invite all persons interested to loan any articles they may possess of historic value for exhibition purposes, attaching a tag explaining their origin and any interesting features. Souvenirs of the war will be very welcome. The committee promises to guard all treasures, and are soliciting early so that this department may be successful. No entry fee will be charged for exhibiting in this class.

The regular prize list will be issued shortly. A membership fee of one dollar, entitling all persons in any family to exhibit in all classes, should be paid as early as possible to Mrs. Alfred Thornley, Secretary-Treasurer, Route 3, Tofield.

There will be a dance in Ryley on Friday, September 14th, It will be one of the big times of the season. The best of music will be provided, a good floor, and a good time for the sum of $1.00. Don't forget to come to Ryley and take in the fair, and the big dance in the evening.

A woman organization, whose sole object in life was to purify politics, opened it's meeting with the hymn, "Pull for the Shore", and closed by pulling each other's hair.

The price of meat is so high now that one might think that cattle grazed only in roof gardens.

It's funny that a woman will set around in the daytime and talk about her wrongs, then spend the evening before an audience saying about her rights.

The Viking Sunbeams will be in Tofield next Saturday to play baseball. The Hornys defeated Viking B-1 on their last meeting and it looks like a tight game next Saturday.

Dear Sir:
Do men always admire pretty dresses on a woman?—Lady.
Not if they have to foot the bills.—Ed.

Dear Editor;
Is there a house in Tofield that will accommodate two farmers with children, who don't fight?—Housebuster.
Nix, Viking is the town you are looking for.—Ed.

Dear Squirrel Food:
Where did the phrase, "rather Agin than not," originate?—Query
The man who married the first cooking school graduate is the responsible party.—Ed.

Dear S. F.
What is a water wagon?
Any old input will tell you that a water wagon is purely a stationary structure for the use of Bonnie Clabber. But since the advent of W. B. soon the beast on this earth has been turned that strong mood.—Ed.

Dear Sir:
My husband came home the other evening and said that he saw two moons and that it would rain all next week.—Reader.
If your husband gazed heaven ward and espied two moons he was not in proper condition to make weather predictions.—Ed.

Dear Editor:
Can you tell me the best way to dispose of old shoes.—Frugal.
Store, tie them to some aeroplane's trunk, it will tickle the dragon.—Ed.

Dear Editor:
I have been told that the editor of this column was married this week. Is it so?—Hortense.
Hey Hortense, it is not so. Someone started the report going, in fact he was the happy recipient of many "congrats". All the old singers in town called to give him advice, and tell him how to manage a bride. Well, we are always looking for news, and if he is "replaced" it is news to us.—A. Knut

Dear Editor:
Why does everyone talk of the high cost of living? Is it possible that you cannot live cheaply in this country?—Crank
Sure you can. We know of a husband an empty-cup street, where they serve a meal of pork and beans or beef stew with coffee and bread for ten cents. Of course you wont get two or three kinds of side dishes and you will have to bring your own silverware and napkin, and if our menagy serves on right there are no cabaret performances to entertain you.—Ed.

CORRECTIONS IN THE PRIZE LIST

Owing to the changes made in the regulations recently made by the Department of Agriculture, which prevent agricultural societies from collecting entry fees from prize money awarded to exhibitors by judges at the fairs, the directors of the Tofield Agricultural Society have found it necessary to collect an entry fee from exhibitors at the time they make the entries. This fee has been made very small, only five per cent. of first price money, and it is hoped that exhibitors will not reduce their number of entries on this account. Send your entry fee along with your entries. No money will be retained from prize money awarded this year with exception of $1.00, which will be retained for membership fee of 1918. Almost every Agricultural Society in Northern Alberta collects an entry fee of at least ten per cent. of first prize money before accepting entries.

Part of Section 1 of the Rules and Regulations should read:
"If married, this payment confers these same two rights on his wife, and children under 14 years of age. An admission fee of 25c shall be charged non-members over 14 years of age."

Special by Campbell & Ottewell, for the best two loaves of bread from White Rose Flour 1st prize, $5.00; 2nd prize, $3.00; 3rd prize, $2.00. Conditions the same as in other bread specials.

Have you received a prize list for the Fall Fair to be held on September 22nd? If not, write or phone the secretary, John W. Francis, or get one at the local stores.

Ladies, have you noticed the special prizes offered for bread at the fair. These prizes are worth trying for. Don't fail to make some entries in these classes.

Entries for the fair must be made before 6 o'clock Thursday, September 20th. Better commence to fill out that entry sheet now.

Class V. Section 6, should read:
"Yearling ewe ... $2.00 $1.00"

ANNUAL MEETING C. P. F. SEPT. 6th

Those who are interested in the Canadian Patriotic Fund should remember that the annual meeting of the local branch will be held in the Varsity on Thursday, September 6th, for the purpose of transacting any business that may come before the meeting, listening to the different reports of the year's business, etc., etc. The meeting will begin at eight o'clock sharp. Be sure and be there and come on time.

Counter Check Or Sales Books

Mr Merchant—

If you are not already using our counter check or Sales Books we would respectfully solicit your next order. Years of experience in the manufacture of this line enable us to turn out a book as neatly perfect as it is possible to do under these days of all times.

All classes and grades of paper are now from 100 to 400 per cent. higher than they were two years ago. Carbon papers, manifold

Counter check books, bill heads, statements, receipts, and all the other lines of counter work are likewise very much higher in price. Our three factories are well equipped and we have a large stock on hand, which enables us to offer you prices that will please you.

We have connections with the largest paper mill in Canada, enabling us to supply at the best grade paper used in counter check books. You are therefore assured of one of the grade of paper, prompt service and shipment.

Waxed Papers and Sanitary Wrappers

We also manufacture Waxed Bread and Meat Wrappers, plain and printed, Confectionery Wrappers, Purity Waxed Paper Rolls for Home Use, Fruit Wrappers, etc.

Those for samples of our G. & B. Waxed Papers used as a meat wrapper. It is both grease and moisture proof, and the lowest price ever made on the market for this purpose.

Genuine Vegetable Parchment for Butter Wrappers

We are large importers of this particular brand of paper. Our prices on full size or 1000 quantities are upwards, are very low considering the present high prices of this paper. We can supply any quantity printed "Choice Dairy Butter" from stock.

Our machinery and equipment for waxing and printing is the most modern and complete in Canada and enables you first-class goods and prompt service.

DELCO-LIGHT
It Does the Chores

Let us show you how much time and labor Delco-Light will save you in the ordinary daily tasks.

Besides the advantages of electric light, it provides power to run the churn, the separator, the washing machine and to pump water. It does not the daily drudgery, especially for the women.

Delco-Light is every man's electric plant—simple, compact, efficient and wonderfully economical.

It pays for itself in time and labor saved.

Let us show it to you.

JOIN THE SOCIETY AND BOOST THE FAIR--GOVERNMENT PAYS $1 FOR YOURS

Section 1, of the Rules and Regulations should interest every farmer in the Tofield district and in fact any who are boosting for the fall fair.

"The payment of One Dollar entitles a person to membership in the Society, and gives him the right to exhibit and to free entrance to grounds. If married this payment confers these same two rights on his wife and children under 14 years of age.

To every dollar that you pay in as a member the government gives the society $1.00. So if you are interested in the welfare of the society and future fairs, you will lose no time in becoming a member.

SEVERE PENALTIES FOR HOT REPORTING.

A PROCLAMATION WILL BE ISSUED CALLING out the first class of recruits under the military service act. This comprises all the single men and widowers between the ages of twenty and thirty four. The military service council is in daily session, the work now in hand being the preparation of forms of exemption and military report. The latter are for men to sign who do not apply for exemption. The forms will be available at all postoffices throughout the dominion. A man in the class affected who does not wish to claim exemption, may report at military headquarters in person or by means of one of these military report forms. Upon signing these forms a man stands in the same position as that of a soldier on leave. Up to the time of joining up the law will be, generally speaking, enforced by civil authorities. If a man fails to report for service without making claim for exemption, civil proceedings will be taken; and it is pointed out that the military service act provides severe penalties for such cases.

WEEP NOT.

THE SUPREME SACRIFICE MADE BY HARRY Easton and Gustave Eastman, two young men of this district, calls to our mind that they were the sole support of a wife and mother. Harry Easton leaves a wife and baby, Gustave Eastman leaves a widowed mother. The government does much to alleviate the suffering of these two brave ladies, but they cannot give their breadwinners back to them again. It is enough to make the stoutest hearted melt to tears to think of the heart suffering that they must go through. "And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, weep not." Weep not, the sacrifice was great, but they gave their lives gladly that the cause might be won. The only heart balm that the mother or wife has, is the fact that it was done for freedoms cause.

MAY USE CANNED GOODS, IF—

ON SEPTEMBER 6th, THE CONSULTATIVE committee of citizens of Saskatchewan, working with the food controller of Canada, were informed through its secretary that where it is known a shortage of fresh vegetables exists the mayor or reeve or other proper official is empowered to issue a license granting permission to all storekeepers in that municipality to sell canned vegetables and to advise the merchants to that effect.

SQUIRREL FOOD

Sermon By A. Knut

It's a lucky father that can wear his son's old clothes.

It's funny a woman will marry a man with a face like a fried egg and declare to her friends that he has Apollo completely go-fizzled.

In these hard times the young couple who have been living on bread and cheese and kisses decided to economize so they cut out the kisses. Said the old maid who lived in the next apartment.

Castor oil comes into its own these days. All the kids are having school cramps, etc. We were young ourselves once and hated to go to school.

A bad actor is usually egged on by ambition and egged off by the audience.

You can always tell a man that is behind any movement with his moral support, by the loud way that he argues after he hears a public speaker rip him up and down the back. While the man who gives liberally has the least to say, yet says the most.

No matter how lucky you are you will leave your raincoat in the office, your bumbershoot at home, and your wife will sell your rubbers to the old clothes man, and you will find that you are out of car fare and that by this time you are so wet and tough looking that you hate to touch a friend for a small loan for fear he will take you for a yegg trying to strong arm him. So you decide to plod home in the mud.

It interests us mightily to know that a certain finishing school has a lady athlete who can run a hundred yards in umpteen seconds. But we will also be interested in seeing how fast she can do a six-family wash.

When a man becomes a fatalist and is prepared for the worst, he usually winds up by getting married.

Lots of people won't begin their vacation on Friday, not on account of superstition, but because Saturday is payday.

Dear Editor:
With a man buy the same gold brick twice?—Reader.
No. But a widower will often marry again.—Ed.

Dear Knut:
Is there microbes in kisses?—Angetique.
We don't understand why you ask us this question and can't really say whether there is or not, but if there is, all we have to say, a microbe knows a good thing when he sees it.—Knut.

Dear Squirrel Food:
I got buried out last week for patting a horse on the nose. Do you think that I did wrong?—S.P.C.A.
S'all right to pat a horse on the nose I guess. But what if the horse was to pat you on the nose?—Ed.

CORRECTIONS IN THE PRIZE LIST

Owing to the changes made in the regulations recently made by the Department of Agriculture, which prevent agricultural societies from collecting entry fees from prize money awarded to exhibitors by judges at the fairs, the directors of the Tofield Agricultural Society have found it necessary to collect an entry fee from exhibitors at the time they make the entries. This fee has been made very small, only five per cent. of first prize money, and it is hoped that exhibitors will not reduce their number of entries on this account. Send your entry fees along with your entries. No money will be retained from prize money awarded this year with exception of $1.00, which will be retained for membership fee of 1918. Almost every Agricultural Society in Northern Alberta collects an entry fee of at least ten per cent. of first prize money before accepting entries.

Part of Section 1 of the Rules and Regulations should read:
"If married, this payment confers these same two rights on his wife, and children under 14 years of age. An admission fee of 25c shall be charged non-members over 14 years of age."

Special by Campbell & Ottewell, for the best two loaves of bread from White Rose Flour, 1st prize, $5.00; 2nd prize, $3.00; 3rd prize, $2.00. Conditions the same as in other bread specials.

Have you received a prize list for the Fall Fair to be held on September 22nd? If not, write or phone the secretary, John W. Francis, or get one at the local stores.

Ladies, have you noticed the special prizes offered for bread at the fair. These prizes are worth trying for. Don't fail to make some entries in these classes.

Entries for the fair must be made before 6 o'clock Thursday, September 20th. Better commence to fill out that entry sheet now.

Class V, Section 5, should read:
"Yearling ewe . . $2.00 $1.00"

BIKE RACE.

Don't forget M. C. Hammond's bicycle race on Fair Day. Four valuable prizes will be put up for competition. This race is open to boys 17 years and under.

Ryley Preparing For Annual Event

Antigen and Corn Dogsley Will Be Big Feature.

Ryley will hold their second annual Agricultural Exhibition on Friday, September 14th. One of the striking features will be an antique, curio and war souvenir department. To this department the committee invite all persons interested to loan any articles they may possess of historic value for exhibition purposes, attaching a tag explaining their origin and any interesting features. Secretaries of the war relics are very welcome. The committee promises to guard all treasures, and are soliciting early so that this department may be successful. No entry fee will be charged for exhibiting in this class.

The regular prize list will be issued shortly. A membership fee of one dollar, entitling all persons in any family to exhibit in all classes, should be paid as early as possible to Mrs. Alfred Thornley, Secretary Labor Day.
Secretary-Treasurer, Route 3, Tofield.

There will be a dance in Ryley on Friday, September 14th. It will be one of the big times of the season. The best of music will be provided, a good floor, and a good time for the sum of $1.00. Don't forget to come to Ryley and take in the fair, and the big dance in the evening.

I. W. W. Not Very Welcome in Canada

There will be no more danger of an I.W.W. invasion in Alberta or elsewhere in the west, according to advice from the immigration authorities in Winnipeg. Since the arrest and conviction of the first six men who made their way into the western harvest fields the border officials have been on the alert, and are now exercising constant vigilance in respect to the kind of people they let across. It looked for a time as if the I.W.W. organization had systematically planned a campaign of agitation among farm hands this fall, but J. Bruce Walker, commissioner of immigration for the west, has now taken steps to prevent any recurrence of the trouble, and the won't-work propagandists will have a hard time in getting admission to Canada from now on.

Action of a precautionary nature was also taken by the Alberta government although no positive evidence of the intention of the I.W.W. to make trouble in this province was produced. A number of reports were circulated in the southern part of the province to the effect that serious mischief was brewing and these were investigated thoroughly and promptly, but no certain proof that an insurrection was in the air was to be had. The provincial police were of the opinion that the immigration authorities had been somewhat too lax in the earlier part of the season in regard to the class of men they had allowed to enter Canada from the United States, and word was given out that any attempt on the part of the I.W.W. or other agitators to sow dissension in Alberta would be met with stern measures at the hands of the police. With these several warnings it is assumed the prospective trouble-makers have taken the hint and are not thought likely to be heard from any further during the present season.

A considerable influx of harvest hands from the western states in addition to those who have already come, was shaping up and was about to take effect, according to another report from the immigration department. The Canadian immigration agent in Montana wrote about a week ago that groups of men would be leaving that state for Edmonton every afternoon, presumably to be distributed from that point throughout the province. That these plans have miscarried, however, is evident from the fact that the Alberta government has closed down on further immigration of harvesters from across the line, and has made announcement accordingly. The reason for this curtailment is that a sufficiency of farm labor for all the needs of the province has already been secured.

Fill Out the Blank.

Boy, fill out that entry blank on the front page, and get into the first royal field day, and see of you won't be the individual, all-round champion athlete of the district. Send in your entry blank filled out in your own handwriting, with your correct age on it.

Get 'em in Early.

Are you arranging your entries for the fall fair? Are you boosting things the way you ought to? Have you told your neighbor to get interested? Hurry up and send those entries in.

Auto Clubs Plan Duck Dinner Here Saturday

The Edmonton Auto Club is planning a run to Tofield, Saturday, which will be in the nature of a field day for local motorists, and gives promise of being one of the most interesting and enjoyable events at the season. It is proposed to make the start on Saturday morning at 8.30 o'clock, the rendezvous being the corner of 109th street and Jasper avenue.

At Tofield the Edmonton party will be met by the members of the Vegreville and Camrose auto clubs and parties from Wetaskiwin and Leduc, have also intimated that they would come.

A ninedock dinner is on the offing; there will be a club meeting and a general good time, followed by a jolly ride home in the evening. Given weather such as we are now enjoying, with the roads in their present good condition, the run should be something to remember. All motorists whether members of the auto club or not, are invited to participate and a full turnout of the club members is looked for.—Edmonton Bulletin.

High Cost Hits Railroads

How Increased Prices Affect the Railroads and the Public

In a recent public statement R. J. Cheary, assistant to the general manager of the southern Pacific, San Francisco, showed how much more expensive increased prices are on the railroads than on the general public. He said "The increase in the cost of a Mallet locomotive over what it was two years ago would buy a 180 acre farm at $25 an acre, build a $7,000 residence on it, purchase $1,500 worth of implements and farm stock, furnish the house at $75 each, $750 for piano and organ, a $1,000 automobile and have $150 over." The increase represents the increase in the cost of a standard locomotive of the general average type. Locomotives of the Mallet type, which are used in heavy mountain service, have increased $30,000 more than the average. The increase in the cost of a standard passenger coach is $5,000. The increase in the cost of a standard freight car is $1,000. The increase in the cost of a standard caboose is $2,000. The increase in the cost of a standard steel gondola car is $1,000. The increase in the cost of a standard steel hopper car is $1,000. The increase in the cost of a standard steel refrigerator car is $2,000. The increase in the cost of a standard steel tank car is $1,000. The increase in the cost of a standard steel flat car is $1,000. The increase in the cost of a standard steel box car is $1,000. The increase in the cost of a standard steel stock car is $1,000. The increase in the cost of a standard steel coal car is $1,000. The increase in the cost of a standard steel ore car is $1,000. The increase in the cost of a standard steel gondola car is $1,000. The increase in the cost of a standard steel hopper car is $1,000. The increase in the cost of a standard steel refrigerator car is $2,000. The increase in the cost of a standard steel tank car is $1,000. British Improving Highways

Line, New Roads Follow Trail of Ruin in France

Hundreds of miles of the smooth, well-kept roads of northern France will remain for many years as a vivid and real memorial to the devastated towns the Germans left behind them. Except as the spring and autumn rains have softened and resurfaced many stone and rubble taken from the wrecked towns of Picardy, Artois, Alsace and countless other ruined towns and villages.

As fast as the British soldiers clear away the debris of the towns it is used into fortins and distributed in heaps along the main roads. These German prisoners toil the day long, smoothing in into level patches, which the great steam rollers, many of them bearing familiar American names, grind quickly into smooth macadam for the streams of transport.

Of brick and stone of these old buildings make no good road material, as could be obtained anywhere, and the work of the German dynamiters has been so thorough that much of it is crushed fine enough to need no other preparation.

In parts of northern France almost no trees are left, but they never were better than today. The only resultant travellers had against them in the old days was dust. The paved strip in the centre was too narrow. Last year's rainfall cannot be made after the French highway plans have been completed, for all the main highways will be macadamized to a width permitting three broad gauge lorries to travel abreast and even the byways have been made wide enough to allow traffic to pass easily at any point.

Excessive evidence is the only practical basis for such measures will not permit the use of previous of an [illegible]

Miss Carrie Pruden was an Edmonton visitor last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Letourneau, of Ryley, were guests at the J. O. Letourneau home last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. H. McCauley and children are spending a few days in the city this week.

Miss Nannie Johnson, of Ryley, was a guest at the home of Mrs. W. F. Wood on Saturday.

Miss Ora Mahaffey has accepted a school at Jarrow, Alta. She left for Jarrow on Monday morning to take up her new duties.

Messrs. Richard Turner, Crawford Turnbull and Robert Frazer, of Edmonton, spent a week hunting at the Second ranch.

Mrs. E. P. Rowe has rented the F. H. Butcher residence, and is now comfortably settled in it.

Jos. Lefler has rented the home owned by Mrs. Cox, and will move into town next week.

Miss Hilda Bonser returned to the Capital after spending a week with Miss Vaughan at Viking.

The Rev. Walter Leveredge desires to thank his many friends at Logan for their token of appreciation of his work amongst them.

G. Manfield and family are nicely settled in the house formerly occupied by R. N. Williams. They moved in last Saturday.

Miss Clara Fergus and Miss Ora Mahaffey returned from Edmonton Friday morning after spending a week visiting friends.

Bill Bawich is still nursing that bum wrist that he received trying to crank another man's car. Bill will be quite handy the next car over that tries to kick him.

Miss Annie Eastman attended a memorial service at Ryley last Sunday, held in honor of her brother Gustave, who was reported killed in action on August 21.

The Imperial Oil Agency has been transferred from the location of Mr. Metcalfe to Geo. Dixon, the Ford Garage Co., and George will take charge.

John Lee has been seriously ill for the past week, but we are glad to be able to say that he is recovering and will soon be able to attend business again.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sheane have moved into the house recently occupied by the Rev. Leveredge. Mr. Leveredge will reside at the old R.N.W.M.P. Barracks until he leaves the field.

L. Lillo came up from Camrose Saturday evening and spent Sunday at the Royal Alex. Mr. Lillo will spend a few weeks at his home in Ryley and then expects to enlist for overseas.

J. W. Somers and Geo. McLaughlin were summoned to the teeth on Monday to slay all the ducks on Beaver Lake. We understand that the casualty list was very small.

Jas. D. Hannan took in the sights at the Capital city last week. He took a jitney and brought home a badly skinned nose. His upper lip was cut and needed a few stitches to keep it in place. Outside of having a bad headache he isn't much the worse for wear.

We neglected to record the arrival of a baby son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McLaughlin last week. It may be that some of our readers, and George has been buying the cigars.

Red Cross Will Serve "Eats" and all Kinds of Refreshments in Skating Rink

Boys Big Field Day—Good Picture Show—Boxing Match in the Evening

Few Pair Notes General Interest

By the time that this issue has reached all of our readers the Fall Fair will be on, and once more Tofield will be making history on the small fair circuit. To those who have delayed getting their entries in, we would say that they have retarded the efforts of the directors somewhat, and another year they should change their methods of entering exhibits. There is one thing left to do and that is buy a membership ticket. That is the best dollar you can spend with the association. It will admit to the grounds, you, your wife and all your children who are under fourteen years of age. One thing that makes the short period missie director cheer up is the fact that entries started coming in a week earlier than any year previous.

Join the crowd on the Agricultural Grounds on Fair Day. Everybody in the district will be there.

Don't fail to buy a membership ticket. Remember that the government will give the association a dollar for every dollar that you spend that way.

Look out for those farmers from Deville, they are threatening to run away with things in the horse class.

Geo. McLaughlin will demonstrate the Waterloo Boy, a farm tractor, on the fair grounds, and invites you to inspect it. He would like to have you bring your tractor along and demonstrate with him. He can show you which is the best tractor on the market for the money. It will be worth your while to come and see this demonstration.

Don't overlook the boys' first annual field day. Urge your boy to enter this and try his luck at running and jumping. Fill out the entry blank on another page and win one of those medals.

Remember the boxing match in the evening. You will have a chance to see your local boy dispose of the Viking knuckle pusher, and at the same time help the Red Cross.

There will be a picture show in the evening, and it will start at 6.30 o'clock. The best in moving pictures will be provided by the management. Come early and get a seat.

Don't forget that the Red Cross will serve you with anything in the line of eats or refreshments that day.

Bring in your wife and family and have the time of your life.

Boxing Match in Aid of Red Cross

Tofielders who enjoy a boxing match and like to have a little smoke and talk over the latest, can enjoy themselves to the limit next Saturday evening. As soon as Manager Bellamy has finished Charley Chaplin, the hall will be cleared, and the rung put up ready for action. A good card is being arranged. The headline match will be for the lightweight championship of the G.T.P. H. G. Thunell, of Viking, will be here to defend his honors in a six-round go. He will be opposed by Jimmy Harriman, a local lightweight of no mean ability, who is confident that he can make Thunell travel all the time. Both boys are training hard, and should be in excellent shape for the affair. Thunell has a reputation for handling his dukes that is quite familiar to the fight fan. A five-round semi-windup between Geo. Geoglan, of Lakeshore, and C. W. Barnes, will furnish additional thrills. Bert Calvert and Bert Mahaffey will box four rounds. These boys are welterweights, and ought to put up a lively tussle. Besides this a wrestling match is being arranged between Rabbered and Latenbush, of Ross Creek. Both boys are well seasoned and able to handle their own with some of the second-raters in the mat game. A three-round preliminary between two of the younger fraternity will also be staged. Fill up your pipe and put fifty cents in your pockets and come along. You will be able to get a good seat if you come early. It wont be a brutising match, just a little sparring match, and the proceeds will be turned over to the Red Cross, who, by the way, need all the money that they can get.

Married.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Francis was the scene of a quiet wedding on Wednesday afternoon, September 12, when their daughter, Mary Rosette, was united in marriage to Mr. Earl Moore, of Jarrow, Alta. Rev. T. A. Bowen tied the nuptial knot. The bride was prettily attired in Royal blue satin, and was attended by her sister, Miss Mabel Francis, who wore a cream silk dress. Mr. Ray Moore, brother of the groom, acted as best man. After partaking of a splendid wedding supper, the happy couple left for Edmonton, Calgary, Banff, and other points in the Rockies. They will reside on the groom's farm near Jarrow. The many friends of the bride in Tofield and district will wish the newly-weds much joy as they embark on the sea of married life.

Doc. Morrison made a professional call to Bruce in his submarine last Monday. He was accompanied by Russ Graham, our local tonsorial artist.

Are You Sure You Can Vote?

It's a don't put your name on the voters list you will know the reason why. The secretary doesn't know that you are 21 years old, and won't know unless requested and let him know. The following synopsis of the Town Act will possibly enlighten the voter a little

The Town Act

Section 39—The Secretary-Treasurer shall on or before the first day of September in each year prepare a voters' list in alphabetical form, and shall place thereon the names of all persons, male or female, of the full age of twenty-one years who are assessed upon the last revised assessment roll for $50.00 or upwards and the name of the wife, husband, son or daughter of each person so assessed, provided such wife, husband, son or daughter, as the case may be, is a resident of the town and of the full age of twenty-one years; and the assessor shall give such voters' list to be printed typewritten or written with the most following four sections prefixed thereto, a copy thereof shall be posted up in the office of the Secretary-Treasurer on the First day of September

Section 40—Any person who has been continuously resident in the town in the then current year and for the last day of July, and who is otherwise duly qualified but whose name is put down in error, or whose name has been omitted from the last revised assessment roll, may either by himself or by his agent apply to have his name put thereon, and upon giving the Secretary-Treasurer a notice in the following form

"To the Secretary-Treasurer of the Town of Tofield

Take notice that I intend to apply to the Council to have my name inserted in the voters' list as the case may be) for the following reasons (here state the grounds according to the facts).

Dated this.....day of.....1917.

Signature of Applicant.....

Name of Applicant.....

(By his agent).

Section 81—If any person has exercised the first day of October in the then current year, disposed of the property upon which he was qualified as a voter or a voter's list and the name of such person is not on the voters' list of the current year, or if the property disposed of therwise entitled to vote in the name of such person is disqualified

If your name does not appear you will have a chance to appeal before November 1st, 1917.

Rev. W. Leveredge Leaves

Rev. Walter Leveredge, who for the past three years has had charge of the Holy Trinity church and parish, left Monday evening for his field, the accumulation of his wife's health has been obliged to seek a different climate. The west coast has been his choice, and by all indications he will be posted at Agassiz B.C., a comparatively new town that offers unlimited opportunities for a great working power and remarkable organizing ability.

Mr. Leveredge has been in Tofield but a short time, and his departure was called on old time but he has been here long enough to be named the town crier together. If ever a man's record all in different lines was a match, called upon to do, he has. Since he came to Tofield he has had a hand in almost every good thing that has been put before the public in the town or community, that he did not put before the town's gain to use. Mr. Leveredge was acted in every capacity that it was possible for a public spirited man to fill. Special mention should be made of his activities in connection with the Patriotic Fund. It would certainly be safe to say that our post pen could not describe the way that he has worked this important office.

The concert under the auspices of the Board of Trade, gathered in the Variety last Friday evening to enjoy a social ball-do with Mr. and Mrs. Leveredge the leaders of a host of admiring friends, who hope that they will be able to return

Duck Dinner.

Mine host Hannan prepared a sumptuous duck dinner for the Edmonton Auto Club last Saturday. Those who didn't take advantage of the good roads missed the excellent duck dinner that ever graced a table. However, about twenty-five auto loads partook of the epicurean delights and went away well satisfied with Tofield. Representatives from Vegreville, Camrose and other points were on hand, and met with the Edmonton enthusiasts.

Chickens.

E. M. Hardy, Ross Creek chicken fancier, was in town looking for a pen of the latest best layers from somewhere in the States. Hardy said that they could more eggs in an hour than any hen living. As we don't own a hen from a duck we have to believe him perforce

Miss Beatrice Scott visited her parents at Phillips, Alta., last Sunday.

Honeys Win a Close Game

The Honeysuckles and the Lake-shore Hay seeds played a game of basketball last Friday evening at the Lakeshore grounds and, as usual, the Honeys copped the long end of the score. The long end wasn't very long either the score being 12-11. Lakeshore played the best game, and looked like auto minutes for a while. One of the forwards played out, and away went the old ball game. Tofield scored ten points in the first five minutes of play. Lakeshore got busy, and they soon took the lead and until the last five minutes of the last period it looked like a win for the Hay seeds. However, the Honeys took a look at their horseshoe and coupled that up with a little good shooting and salted that game away. This will probably be the last game of the season. Tofield have a game to play at Ryley, Bards should play off here, and Viking have a game that they longed to play on too. Mr. Leveredge was acted in every capacity that it was possible for a public spirited man to fill. Special mention should be made of his activities in connection with the Patriotic Fund. It would certainly be safe to say that our post pen could not describe the way that he has worked this important office.

In Society.

Mrs. R. W. Pittott was hostess at a pleasant whist party last Friday evening. Several of the ladies gathered to enjoy the evening at cards and music. At midnight a delicious lunch was served.

Hat Social.

A hat social and concert is being arranged for Friday evening, September 28th at the Hall. The proceeds will go to the Red Cross. Everybody is cordially invited to attend this affair and help to make it a success.

Meeting.

The Woman's Institute met at the home of Mrs. S. A. Hall on Tuesday, September 11th. Several papers were read on "Home Decoration." A good number of ladies were present to enjoy the program of reading and music.

The Lakeshore Sunday school will observe Rally Day next Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. A good program is prepared, and all are welcome.

Honor Roll Tofield Heroes

It is our intention to publish this honor roll as complete and arranged by the Rev. Walter Leveredge. As there may be some mistakes in it we would ask our readers to handle send in the proper information and we would be glad to make any changes. If there is any other additions kindly let us know.

GOOD LORD, HAVE MERCY ON US.

WE ARE WILLING TO ADMIT THAT HAD THE Liberal party been in power in the Federal house at the commencement of the war they would doubtless have made mistakes in their policy of "carrying on". But there seems to be no longer an excuse for the bungles and blunders still being made and countenanced by the present regime.

We must all admit that there is sound sense in the farmer's cry, "if you limit the price on our wheat, limit the miller's price on flour, and on other things on which the price is absurd." It seems however, that it is becoming more evident every day that the present government encourage the curtailment of the price on one article, and shut their eyes while a huge profit is made on another. The same government were responsible for the sending out of literature in the spring urging the people to greater production. Particularly anxious were they that the town and city residents should raise in their back gardens and spare lots all the potatoes that they could look after. That the town and city residents responded loyally can be easily seen by looking around our own town, or the city of Edmonton. The Toronto Saturday Night, a paper that dives for the truth no matter what the consequences, pointed out some months ago that the public were for the most part not prepared to take care of this large potato crop, and suggested that the government prepare to make some provision for the provision for the storage of this crop, which could have been done by a number of different methods. Apparently no attempt has, or is being made to do this, and now we are within a few weeks of harvesting that crop. Already the town man with the big crop of spuds is getting nervous and wondering as to the prospect for selling, but alas, the wholesalers do not hold out much hope for an active market and still smaller hope for a reasonable price.

What will be the conclusion? The producer who is not in a position to store, (and sixty percent are in this predicament,) will rush his crop off to any old place, and sell for any old price, and then let the government throw "greater production" literature at him next spring; can't you hear him? Can you then blame the man who thinks that the Borden government plays into the hands of the speculator and profiteer. So we utter a fervent prayer during the regime of the present federal government, "GOOD LORD, HAVE MERCY UPON US."

The society wants 200 members this year. Be one of them, and induce your neighbor to join. Your membership fee is worth twice as much as any other dollar for the day that the society receives. Memberships cards may be purchased from Messrs. J. Rogers, C. H. Rowe or John W. Taylor.

The ladies of the Red Cross society will have refreshment booths on the grounds, consequently the public are assured that all they may require in the shape of eatables may be obtained.

The boys' annual field day will begin at 10.00 a.m., and by the way that the boys are showing interest a great day of fun and sports should be the result. An entry blank in another column, properly filled out, entitles any boy, 17 years or under, in the Tofield district to compete in this field day. Just fill it out in your own handwriting and mail or leave it at the Advertiser Office. You may be the best athlete in the district; if you are you will receive a handsome medal, emblematic of the individual championship of the district. It is worth trying for, and provides good fun for the day.

The Potato Crop.

The prospect of a phenomenal potato crop in Canada, combined with a similar situation in the United States, is causing farmers to look forward to greatly reduced prices for this staple after the harvest. With an average crop in former years there has usually been some disappointment in price received by growers who forced their product on the market early, but more than satisfactory returns in cash have always been obtained later in the season for such potatoes as were held in good storage until the inevitable demand came into existence.

With average farm storage, much of which is carelessly carried out, there is a loss of nearly a third of the crop, which is sufficient to offset the rise in price even in a year of comparative scarcity, but this loss can be greatly reduced by providing properly ventilated storage of the right temperature. Ideal storage for potatoes can be provided in the cold storage warehouses where there is absolute command of temperature and ventilation, but farmers can, with reasonable effort, supply similar conditions at home and so be in a position to fill the needs of the public as they arise, with benefit to both.

In connection with this home storage arrangement the matter of transportation must be taken into consideration and to overcome the expense of winter shipment, with its risks and danger from frost, arrangements should be made early for co-operative filling of cars so that bearing for a relatively small shipment by each individual may be provided at small cost.

To aid marketing the importance of standardizing the variety of potato grown in any one vicinity becomes apparent, and will be impressed on growers who attempt to supply a discriminating market with carloads of potatoes made up from different farms, each growing a variety chosen without regard to that used by the neighbors.

The extra demand for fresh vegetables, induced by the ruling of the food controller, which prohibits the use of canned vegetables to a great extent during the harvest season of the most important kinds of vegetable crops, will have an effect no doubt in assisting with the disposal of many half-early sorts of potatoes as if fresh vegetables must be purchased if the consumer would have any at all, a great majority will increase their consumption of the potato which is considered a necessity by all at all times. This will relieve storage space, leaving much-needed room for the late crop.

Wages Dropping.

As a result of the present labor situation on Alberta farms, wages for harvesters are reported to be dropping, the rate now being $3 a day is a number of cases throughout the province. The demand for farm help has been fairly well satisfied, according to statements from practically every part of the wheat country, and with the new arrivals expected from the third harvesters' excursion there will be an assured sufficiency for the season's work. It is expected, however, that there will be some extra demand when threshing begins, and it is not likely that anything in the way of a glut will occur. In the meanwhile all further importations of farm hands from the United States has been discontinued.

Enforcing Conscription.

TORONTO, Sept. 18.—There will be no jail terms for the man who neglect to report for examination for service under the Military Service Act, according to information from a government official on the staff of the Ontario registrar, Glyn Osler. Instead, those who ignore the forthcoming proclamation and are caught will be tried and sentenced to the hardest labor they can do for this country. Moreover, it is stated, if a man is found to be physically fit, he will not merely be placed in line with the men who answered the call, but will likely be allowed less time to train and sent to the trenches faster than otherwise would have been the case.

Just what procedure will be employed in enforcing the act is a matter still under the consideration of government officials, but the following outline of said to be the method which it will be employed.

Every man who reports himself for service or makes an application for exemption by mail—as will be provided for when the forms are printed and distributed will receive in return for his application, a counter-application, a counterfoil to the effect that he has complied with the provisions of the act. The postmaster of the town or city in which such application has been made will be the official to issue the counterfoil credential. If application is made in person before a tribunal the latter officials will issue the counterfoil.

Washington Park, Ill.—"I am the mother of four children and have suffered with female troubles, backaches, nervous spells and the blues. My children's loud talking and romping would make me nervous so I would just flee everything to pieces and I would scold all over. I felt so sick that I would not want anyone to talk to me at times. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills restored me to health and I want to thank you for the good they have done me. I have had quite a bit of trouble and worry but it does not affect my youthful looks. My friends say 'Why do you look so young and well?' I owe it all to the Lydia E. Pinkham remedies." Red Cross Notes.

The members of the local Red Cross Auxiliary have arranged to serve lunch on the exhibition grounds fair day for the small sum 25 cents so any one coming from a distance need have no bother with lunch baskets for fair day. A large number of ladies will be in attendance so that everyone can be readily served. Those wishing to contribute cake, pie or bread for the lunch will kindly bring it in to the exhibition grounds when coming to the fair.

Any exhibitors willing to donate vegetables, cake or bread, in fact anything exhibited, to be auctioned at the close of the fair, will be gratefully received. Quite a sum was realized in this way last year.

Miss L. T. Martin received word last Thursday that her brother had died at Calgary, Alta. She took the Calgary train on Thursday morning to attend the funeral, and returned last Monday to take up her duties again as school teacher.

The Imperial Oil Agency has been transferred from the hardware of Mr. Metcalfe to Geo. Dixon, of the O.K. Cartage Co., and George will take care of your wants.

COUNCIL MEET AFTER A SHORT SWEET REST

Secretary Collects $110.50 in License Fees Since His Appointment as Constable—By-Law Committee to Draft By-Law Regulating Houses of Public Accomodation.

The council met last Monday evening after a stretch of one month. The evening session wasn't very exciting. The secretary turned in a report of license fees amounting to $110.50 collected since his appointment as constable.

The police and by-law committee were asked to draft and submit to the next meeting a by-law to regulate houses of public accomodation.

The Logan pool room came in for a lot of discussion owing to the fact that the building is supposed to be locked up, yet is frequented by boys and young men of the district. This is almost a matter for the owners of the property to look after.

STEAL A RIDE, BUT BE THERE

Red Cross Society Will Meet at the Home of Mrs. A. C. Dodds, Tuesday, October 2nd.

The Red Cross wish to thank all those who so kindly helped them on Fair Day. Especially those who donated foodstuffs for the refreshment booths, etc. A large sum was realized through the refreshment stand and the sale of tags. The boxing match in the evening netted the Red Cross $85. Special mention should be made of the tag and button sellers who turned in $93.07. Miss Clara Abbott had the best day, selling $6.40 worth. Miss Bess Carter came next with the sum of $5.05. The ice cream booth was good for $110.50, and the lunch room collected $59.55.

The Red Cross will hold their next meeting at the home of Mrs. A. C. Dodds if you haven't a way to get there, call some one that owns a car and you will make it all right. All members and those interested be sure and be on hand.

SOLICIT WITHOUT A LICENSE BUT—

It May Cost You a Penny. Cadi Story Interprets By-Law and Gathers in $18.

"You cannot sell or solicit subscriptions for periodicals without a license," said Cadi A. A. Story last Saturday at the police court. Richard Wells, who gave his home address as Calgary, and Simon Rapoport, of the same burg, were pinched by the local sleuths for breaking the town by-laws. They attempted to argue with the town secretary when he tried to assess them for two bucks apiece for a license fee. The result was they were both landed in the cooler. The Cadi fined them $9 each, and with a gentle warning to not argue with town officials unless they knew what they were talking about let them go. They will probably look up the secretary in the next town that they hit and find out what the license fee is.

We are Not There In Our Top Story

Basketball Game—Tofield Advertiser vs Viking News. The score is not yet. We noticed in last week's issue of the esteemed publication from our neighboring village that we were not there in our top flat. That the Hoseys did not play at Viking through the alleged invitation of the management. Forsooth, for the benefit of our readers we will say that the writer of the article referred to is the manager of the Sunbeams. We remember quite well being told that it would be nice to exchange games, and were assured over the phone that if we could arrange to play in Viking the game would be returned. We played and shortly after our return home we received a phone call from our brother editor telling us quite modestly, very modestly in fact, that he had been appointed manager of the Sunbeams, and since he had accepted the managerial mantle he must needs get up a team and return that game. Now we congratulate our friend heartily on his appointment, knowing that it must be on account of his wonderful knowledge of the game. Said knowledge gained through taking one or more of his fair players in to the ice cream parlor on divers occasions. However, our friend goes on to say that they were not bound to play us a return match. Well, we will say that that is all we wanted to know. Being relieved from a great load we may now fold up our basketball and wait till next season when we will without doubt receive an engraved invitation to play at Viking.—Sohn.

TOFIELD'S 8TH ANNUAL FAIR HUGE SUCCESS

Fair Weather and Good Crowd Help Make a Record Day. Exhibits Fall Off in Spots—No Gambling Allowed—Sports Finale Out.

"Bunny" Harriman Earns Draw Whirlwind Match With Champion Tun of Viking.

The weather man will be forgiven for his past misdeeds after the good weather handed out to us on Fair Day. It was an ideal day that dawned on Tofield's best exhibition. The attendance, while not up to former years, was considerable. The exhibits were pretty well up to former years, except in horses and cattle. This might be due to the fact that many farmers hadn't the help to bring in their stock. The grounds were free from gambling devices and other skin game stunts, which forced the crowd to find another way to spend their money. The Red Cross refreshment booth and lunch counter did a land office business, and the ladies worked hard to feed the hungry crowd. The up-town eating houses were rushed to the limit all day, and no meatless regulations kept the hungry farmer from getting his fill. The sports, under the auspices of the Boys' Athletic Club, proved a fizzle. The boys did not turn out to compete, and the sports had to be postponed until a later date. Manager Bellamy gave the movie fans everything in the line of esteemed publicity, and enjoyed a record house. The boxing match in the evening probably created more excitement than any thing since the memorable Donnybrook Fair. Fans lined up for a block waiting for the affair to start, and when the first preliminary was announced the house was packed even to standing room, many having to be turned away. Announcer "Shorty" Carter clear ed the ring and told the fans that the first performance would be a six bliird bouting to liven things up. Lloyd Rix and Jack Barnes were blindfolded and turned loose. No damage was done except to the spectators who happened to get in the way of those flying gloves. The first bout between Bert Mahaffey and Bert Calvert proved to be a fight for your life. It was to have been a four-round go, and lasted but half that when Mahaffey quit on account of a listed more. Referee Hingley gave the decision. George Geoglin and C. W. Barnes were next on the list, and they mixed for five rounds. Geoglin started in by slamming his opponent's nose to the other side of the rung, and the first round went to the enemy by a mile. The second round was a little more even, giving the edge to Barnes on boxing. The third round turned out to be a swatfest with the fans waiting for somebody to fall. After that it was pretty much Geoglin until the end of the fourth, when he took a few punches in the mouth to make it interesting. In the last round Geoglin scored a knockdown, and the arbitrator called the go a draw. The referee declared that he felt the bout was a good draw as far as he could judge from the standpoint of good boxing. H. G. Thunell, better known as "Tun," one of Viking's prosperous business men, was the next man in the ring. He was opposed by "Bunny" Harriman, one of our local boys who attempted to wrest Thunell's honors from him in a six-round bout. "Bunny" stayed right with his man all the time, but he was no match for the clever lightweight from our neighboring village. Thunell outboxed him nearly every round, and was Harriman's grit and staying powers that earned him a draw. Thunell opened up in the sixth by punching his man all over the ring, rocking him with right and left to the face. He certainly gave the best exhibition of the night, and we would like to see him in action up here again. Mr. Thunell is not a professional pug, but boxing is a hobby and he likes to meet any of the boys in a match where the proceeds are to go to the Red Cross or some other benefit affair. The fans were quite satisfied with the entertainment, and are already crying for more. It was a windup to a perfect day. Following is a list of the prize-winners for the fair:

Bardo Budget

Mr. Smith of Edmonton, representative for the Canadian or British White Society spoke in the Bardo church last Sunday afternoon. He is a fine speaker, and what he told about the aims and origin of the society was both interesting and instructive. At the close of the meeting envelopes were passed around and the society realized a handsome sum as a result.

With the exception of a few fields that were sown on new and rich soil and are keeping green, the strenuous days of cutting are over once more. Stacking and threshing will now be the order of the day and on account of the scarcity of threshing machines a lot more stacking will be done in this neighborhood than usual.

The Bardo-Kenshamut Red Cross auxiliary will meet at the home of Mrs. Geo. Lawson, Wednesday, October 3. All members and those interested are invited to attend.

O. A. Veldeng of Edmonton a "kodak man", combined business with pleasure here last week.

Messrs. P. B. Anderson and M. B. Ness are new Ford owners.

Monrad Fosseth who for the past two months has been with friends at Lawrence, Wash., has arrived home again.

We are asked to add the following names to the honor roll published in last week's issue. At some later date we will publish this list again and would ask all of our readers help to make this list as complete as possible.

232nd Battalion
Wm. Whillans
Milton Ray (wounded)
Tom Ingram
Ted Stone
Lester Pitt
E. W. Stone

13Sth Battalion
Laurits Eide (wounded)

University Corps
Purnel Jenung

Scandinavian Battalion
Iver Fossets
Christian Imerslund
Hjalmar Imerslund
Walter Waters

Two other names without the names of the regiment they were connected with were sent in, viz: Charles Splinter and Lambert Sexton. Possibly someone can supply the necessary information. The name J. Lee in the 211th Batt. should read John Albert Lee.

OTIS MAHAFFEY CAME IN FIRST

Bike Race Caused a Few Thrills and the Boys Have Something. Lloyd Rix Came Second.

M. C. Hammond's bicycle race proved to be a popular stunt among the boys. About a dozen boys faced the starter and travelled over the half-mile course. Otis Mahaffey won quite easily, coming in with a fifty-yard lead over the rest of the bunch. Lloyd Rix came in second. The boys are talking for another race over a longer distance, and it is quite likely that a road race will be put on some Saturday before long.

No Dance.

The dance scheduled for next Friday night will be postponed and a date announced later. Just keep your dollar and that date with your girl for the next time.

Got Real Excited.

W. McVittie, of Holden, had a ringside seat at the boxing match the other night. As he is an exwriter we conclude that he enjoyed seeing his former compeers getting the stuffing walloped out of them.

Guy Fraser of the Union Bank staff, Edmonton, is the guest of his aunt, Mrs. Harry Kendall, this week.

GERMANY CANNOT STARVE BRITAIN DECLARES PREMIER LLOYD GEORGE

WHEAT RESERVES STEADILY ON THE INCREASE

Britain Has Food and Ships to Last Until 1919, If Necessary, and Figures Show that Shipping Losses are Steadily Growing Smaller, and the Submarines are Doomed to Failure

A message of hope and quiet confidence in the future was recently sent to the British nation in the form of statements by Premier Lloyd George. The people of the British Empire learned, despite the German submarine campaign, he declared, and their supply situation grows more hopeful. The full effects of this will grow less and shine of Germany will increase and hope fail away.

This is the supreme hour for peace," the Premier declared, in concluding, for endorsement, "Let us go to the country with a two-per-cent. mandate a great peace. Let us go to the country with a two-per-cent. mandate a great peace. Let us go to the country with a two-per-cent. mandate a great peace.

AD TALK

Advertising makes bright stores. Failure to advertise goes hand in hand with dullness and stagnation.

Advertising brushes away cobwebs and dust, smartens the store windows, quickens the intelligence of salesmen, and lets in the sunlight.

Advertising has revolutionized the methods of doing business.

Advertising has magnified the possibilities of business far beyond anything our most optimistic forefathers ever dreamed of.

Advertising is something you should try.

EAT NO LAMB

WITH ONE BREATH FARMERS ARE EXHORTED to "raise more live stock and to dig into mixed farming." With the next, consumers are admonished to "eat no lamb" and "eat less veal" and "observe meatless days". Very consistent, we might say. The farmer was told that his wheat might be handled at a certain price. After a howl at the flour the millers put their heads together and agreed to shake the consumer down to the tune of $3.75 per sack, which still leaves him in the profiteer class. There will be a few thousand bushels of spuds hauled to the nuisance grounds on account of no market. The canned goods embargo, now slightly modified, left the retailer in a swell frame of mind. But he took the food controller's word for it, believing that it was necessary to put on the embargo to round out the win-the-war program. The householder is warned to cut out the waste, when his average monthly stipend is probably $85. If he can waste anything on that amount he ought to be allowed to. War time is a period of heavy demand and inadequate supply, and it is a period of business prosperity. This childish prattle, empty palaver and "eat no lamb" talk is alright, but it is like farming with a shovel.

THE SONG OF THE THRESHER

THE HARVEST WILL SOON BE FINISHED, and the rattle of the binder on the great wheat fields will be replaced by the song of the thresher. The sheaves that were lying on the stubble will be stacked waiting for the wagons to take them to the giant threshing machine. The work of cutting and stooking is hard wearisome work, but the work of threshing is usually harder. To the average hired man it is strenuous and without romance. To the farmer it is work mollified by the feeling of exultation at reaping the fruit of his labor. Yet it is a noble work, this work of production, and the paid laborer does not really suffer. There is where socialism and organization does not thrive. The farmer is the capitalist and employer who sets the pace himself. His pace may be dislike, but it is hard to condemn a man who puts his money and labor in the lap of nature and then rises at 5 a.m., and labors with his head and hands till night falls in order to create the uncertain dividends he has a right to expect. The song of the thresher is the music of successful achievement for the farmer, the benediction of nature bestowed upon a year of honest toil.

CANNED GOODS ORDER REPEALED

W. J. HANNA, FOOD CONTROLLER, HAS REpealed the order prohibiting the sale of canned vegetables in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. This order was passed to encourage the use of perishable garden stuff and conserve the supply of canned goods for winter use. Experience has shown that conditions in the prairie provinces differ from those in the other provinces, and make it advisable to repeal the order.

ICE CREAM OR BUTTER

WHETHER OR NOT CANADIANS WILL CONtinue eating ice cream in season and out of season, may depend upon the investigation being made by food controller Hanna into the charges that the extensive use of cream in the manufacture of ice cream is responsible for the oversoaring price of butter.

SHEEP AND SWINE SHOW EDMONTON, NOVEMBER 2

SPECIAL FEATURES OF INTEREST TO STOCKMEN—SALE IN CONNECTION WITH THE EXHIBITION.

The railways are co-operating with the Alberta Provincial Sheep and Swine Breeders' Association in connection with the show and sale of pure-bred stock which they are conducting on the Edmonton Exhibition grounds on Friday, November 2nd, under the auspices of the Department of Agriculture for the Province of Alberta. The C.P.R., the C.N.R. and the G.T.P. will all sell tickets from any point in Alberta to Edmonton and return at fare-and-one-third for the round trip, good going November 1 and 2, returning November 3. The E.D. & B.C. Railway are also arranging excursion rates.

The Sheep and Swine Breeders' Associations are paying one-half the freight, or in the case of individual animals one-half the express, on all animals consigned to this sale from Alberta points, and on all animals purchased at this sale and shipped to points in Alberta they are giving the same assistance.

The board of management consists of W. F. Stevens, Live Stock Commissioner, acting as chairman; A. B. Campbell, of Edmonton, and G. R. Ball, of Westbourne, representing the Sheep Breeders' Association; D. W. Warner, of Edmonton, and J. W. Bailey, of Wetaskiwin, representing the Swine Breeders' Association, and W. J. Stark, Edmonton, as secretary. The latter will be glad to forward rules and regulations and catalogues of sale, etc. upon request.

Ducks Are Fond of Oats and Farmers Are Not Pleased

MALLARD IS WORST OFFENDER AND HE KNOWS STOOKS CONTAIN GOOD "EATS".

In the region back of Killam and Strome ducks are reported plentiful, and their numbers have had one bad result. The farmers say that the ducks have developed a taste for oats, and in some sections are playing havoc with the crops. It is the oats which have chiefly suffered, and it is the mallard that is the worst offender. Reports of this district say that the ducks are finding out that there is plenty to eat in the stooks, and while they are not doing any real damage the farmers do not regard their depredations with complacency. The hunters tell you that stubble hunting is good, and where ducks are feeding they can be brought down as fast as you can pull the trigger.

A. J. H. McCauley was an Edmonton visitor Friday evening.

SMALL BOY PRANKS ARE DANGEROUS

Boys May Not Mean Harm, But Serious Accidents Might Happen and Trouble Occur.

Small boy pranks are usually laughed at and encouraged. But there is a limit to patience and human endurance. A number of the younger fraternity indulge in various escapades that the older people wink at and say that "boys will be boys," when these stunts are a nuisance to the ones who have to suffer. One of the ladies in the town was badly scared one evening last week when a young lad reached from under the sidewalk where he was hiding and grabbed her by the foot. The lady was walking rapidly, the hour was late, and the result might have been serious. Another young lady, with an armful of bundles, cut a ludicrous figure when she tripped over a wire stretched across Main Street and escaped what might have been a serious injury by good luck. Her arms being full of parcels, she no doubt looked very funny for a minute. But suppose that lady had broken her neck, or even an arm. Being a very small boy once, and a bad one, it is not our intention to preach or say that these things should not occur. It seems to us a case where a parent with the business end of a slipper or a shingle can do the most good.

Red Cross Days.

October 12 and 13 will be Red Cross days at the dry goods store. J. W. Somers will turn his store over to the Red Cross ladies and they will attend to your needs. The profits for the two days will go to the Red Cross. If you wish to help the Red Cross and at the same time secure a few real bargains in drugs or toilet requisites, make those two days your shopping days. There will be real more enough bargains there you can read next week in the advertising columns so watch out for them.

Demonstration.

R. W. Pincott has been appointed agent for the Security Fire Extinguisher. He wishes to demonstrate this fire fighting machine, and will give it a tryout on the empty lot on the corner of Main and Third Streets. If all those who are interested will gather there next Monday evening at 6 p.m., Mr. Pincott will put out the biggest fire ever in umpteen seconds.

SKATING RINK TOO SMALL FOR SKATING OR HOCKEY

Alleyway on South Side of Building Might be Utilized and Give Skaters and Hockey Players a Chance.

The chilly nights and the time of year suggests to the minds of both old and young that winter sports are at hand. Winter means to some people that they will dig out their heavy ones and put away their light pairs. But to the young mind it is fraught with endless days of snowballing, skating, coasting, etc. The town is deader than a mackerel when it comes to real sport, and some thing ought to be done to keep the winter game alive. Hockey is a great game, and Tofield is fortunate in having teams of both sexes that can play the game and play it well. They are handicapped by the lack of ice. True, we have a good rink in the town, and it is well looked after. But it is too small for to play hockey on. Since the curlers cut out a part for an extra sheet of ice the rink is pretty near big enough to make another curling rink. There is an alley way on the south side of the [illegible] rink that could be used for curling purposes, and would serve the purpose just as well. The writer has not been into the cost of fixing this up, but it would not be great. The money would be turned out for a good purpose, and the interest in skating would probably repay the town for the outlay. The revenue from the curling rink is assured. The skating should be confined to children under school age. Hockey games should be scheduled and a little [illegible] keeping the game away from [illegible] players. [illegible] Hastings [illegible] and [illegible] for the days when they were only [illegible] can [illegible] We [illegible] have these days, but we can keep the game alive among the [illegible]

Advertiser Refuses Mail Order House Advertisements

HOME MERCHANTS FIRST CONSIDERATION—SPEND YOUR MONEY AT HOME.

While the Advertiser is not in business for it's health, it is certainly not in business for revenue only. The principles of fair dealing and home come first. We are forced to add [illegible] to fairness to the town that we represent, to return down large attractive advertisements from mail order houses. Usually these ads. are large, and the space that they occupy is paid for far above the rate charged the local merchant. He as the welfare of our townsmen comes first, we are forced to refuse this business, though the revenue would be very welcome. The Advertiser enjoys what probably one of the best circulations of any small country weekly. Its readers are nearly all local—belong to adjacent towns. The paper enjoys and merits the wholehearted support of the business men on this account, and we must turn down outside business on their account, despite the alluring financial returns the would result. Mail order firms know that the district is good, and that their merchandise finds a good market here. If the business men offer what they have to sell to the people through the columns of this paper at attractive prices, endeavoring to meet outside competition, the printer will have no cause to bemoan the loss of mail order ads., and the merchant will have no cause to wonder why mail order houses gets his business.

The Price of the Humble Spud Comes In for Discussion

WHERE CAN THEY BE SOLD AT A PROFIT IS NEXT QUESTION OF THE DAY.

The present market price [illegible] statoes is around 70 cent [illegible] the talk of the food controller [illegible] not apt to be lowered. F. M. [illegible] of Ottawa, chairman [illegible] real food controller's [illegible] the committee, stated [illegible] was another side of the [illegible] question besides the price [illegible] should be looked after. [illegible] was the policy to boost the [illegible] of spuds many farmers in [illegible] western provinces would [illegible] their potatoes in the ground, [illegible] high cost and scarcity [illegible] would not pay them to [illegible] cheap potatoes. He also stated [illegible] the food controller might [illegible] such steps as may be necessary to ensure proper storing and [illegible] potatoes. He said [illegible] more of might any more [illegible] next. It is a matter of [illegible] reference to us what the food [illegible] roller might do. We [illegible] this in answer to the call [illegible] once more and those spuds [illegible] be taken care of. The price [illegible] have to be kept where it will [illegible] a man to dig and store them [illegible] and the profiteer will have to be [illegible] ard after.

VIKING WILL HAVE A CHATAUQUA FESTIVAL

OCTOBER 19, 20, 22, VIKING WILL STAGE HIGH-CLASS ENTERTAINMENT AND MUSIC FESTIVAL.

Thirty years ago began a movement at Chautauqua Lake, N.Y., which [illegible] Tofield [illegible] annual assemblies in Canada and the U.S. It brings the highest class of instruction inspiration and entertainment to over 12,000,000 people who would not secure such remarkable programs were it not for the modern Chautauqua system. The greatest talent in [illegible] musicians at the ends of the earth and by night in towns and communities of all sizes, where [illegible] public spirited citizens are [illegible] made possible by [illegible] assembling the [illegible] Viking this week had [illegible] and three years [illegible] advance.

Chautauqua is primarily a number of civilization, not a money-making enterprise. It is maintained by local associations all over the United States and Canada, and is now beginning to spread to England, Australia and other countries. To be on the Chautauqua map has come to be an indication of culture and civic enterprise.

Among the attractions for the coming Chautauqua Festival are Ada L. Ward, English war [illegible] lecturer, Waiaki Hawaiian Quintette, Dr. Robert Sutcliffe, with his lecture, "Trans Folk", Jean Macdonald, the Scotch Canadian [illegible] and entertainer, Dr. Elliott Boyl, classical lecturer on the "Seen and Unseen", and the Chautauqua Festival Orchestra.

There is a constant demand for intelligent discussion of the live personal issues of the day, the development of character in the individual, and the attainment of first ideals in the home and community, and it would be hard to imagine a lecture more capable of filling this demand than [illegible] Robert Sutcliffe [illegible] Speaking with the authority of [illegible] with sympathetic knowledge of humanity and its problems, and with the breadth of vision of a man who thoroughly loves human nature, Dr. Sutcliffe makes a splendid and lasting impression on his audiences. Barleycorn Knocked Out.

Old Man Barleycorn received another knockout back last Monday when the province of British Columbia placed in the dry column and seven hundred licensed liquor dispensaries were closed. Booze flowed in torrents on the last night, and some orgies of strength in the closing up process. Scores of custom bike parties were on hand from Seattle, Bellingham and other big towns across the line to take part in the final obsequies and the [illegible] places where booze was sold in Vancouver was rushed to the limit. There was no more than the ordinary signs of drunkenness on the streets, and the police force found little to do after the midnight hour. The prohibitionists are preparing to celebrate the dry regime in British Columbia, a province that was considered very wet and one that would probably be hard to dry up. The fight for temperance in that province has been going on since 1914

SKATING RINK SHOULD BE CHANGED.

WE HAVE VENTURED IN ANOTHER COLUMN the opinion that it would be a good plan to enlarge the sheet of ice used for skating. The rink building is plenty large enough to accomodate two sheets of curling ice and at the same time restore the skating rink to its former size. We have not looked into the cost of doing this, but it would require no great engineering feat. The rink should be made larger. The ice as it is now is too small to skate and much too small to play hockey. The game of hockey has taken a new lease of life with the advent of boys and girls teams. Both teams play the game well and ought to be encouraged. Then there is the financial aspect of it to be considered. Some $18.85 was turned over to the town last winter, being 40 percent of the gate receipts taken in at three hockey matches. This might just as well be stretched into ten games and the revenue would more than pay the town for changing the rink. Many argue that the curling rink brings more revenue than the skating rink. To those we would say that $252.00 was collected as membership fees, and $281.75 was paid in admissions to the skating rink last winter, and after expenses were paid the town realized a small profit. During the winter of 1916 $298.... was collected by the curlers and the skaters paid in $164.... The interest in skating is increasing... of late the above figures. The population of the town has increased noticeably, and many of the newcomers are interested in ice skating. The new scheme would give the younger ones a chance to skate and play the national game, as well as give the older heads who like to skate a chance to renew their youth. Something should be done and done soon before freeze-up. We would welcome correspondence on this matter from any of our readers who are interested.

AT THE OLD STAND.

THE REPORT OF THE NON-PARTISAN MEETING in the Camrose Canadian last week tells us that Mr. J. W. Leedy is still doing business at the old stand. We thought that he had about run out of rope. We hear that the canvassers for the league are busy in the neighborhood of Camrose raking in $15 to inches. There must be plenty of money in that neck of the woods. It appears that the aforementioned canvasser puts down a five spot whenever he gets a gentle touch. This new industry seems to be flourishing. We were wondering what would take the place of real estate gags and oil boom stunts. Profiteering is not left alone to bacon kings and other kindred spirits.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 8TH, IS THANKSGIVING DAY.

LET US BE THANKFUL THAT WE LIVE IN times of prosperity, tho' we are in the midst of a great war. The toil of summer practically over, crops are being threshed and it is fitting and proper that we should stop a few moments to the great giver of every good and personal gift. Of all the national holidays none is more universally or more joyously celebrated than that of Thanksgiving Day. While we are thankful for every good thing that we enjoy, let us hope for the termination of the world's war, and the speedy homecoming of our boys.

When should a young girl acquire a husband?—Youngyt.

Different stories are told of stunts performed by aviators at the front, but this one by the London Pall Mall Gazette probably has them all beat. Flying low over the German lines, a British aviator was soon in the midst of a running swarm of German bullets. The Germans in the trenches were firing straight up, hoping to wing the flyer or pierce his gasoline tank. The aviator, a cool youngster, looked down, saw a bullet slowly ascend the last feet of its maximum height. It stopped dead still for the smallest fraction of a second. The aviator reached quickly, grabbed the bullet and put it in his pocket.

OUCH!

We clipped the following from the local news in the Mirror Journal: "Who shot the pig in the north end of the Village?"

HAD FELT UP TO IT'S KNEES

We noticed the following notice hanging up in the town postoffice for the past three weeks and thought that it might interest our readers:

"Last April 1917 run away a two year old gilding (mare) with a rope on her neck when run away. She is of an average built. With white blind foot up to her knees. For small white spots on her face and white nose. With a sump on her belly the size of a small egg. Her color is bay. $10 reward to the one who can lead me to where she is or write to the address."

AD TALK

Advertising makes bright stores. Failure to advertise goes hand in hand with dullness and stagnation.

Advertising brushes away cobwebs and dust, smartens the store windows, quickens the intelligence of salesmen, and lets in the sunlight.

Advertising has revolutionized the methods of doing business.

Advertising has magnified the possibilities of business far beyond anything our most optimistic forefathers ever dreamed of.

Advertising is something you should try.

SPECIAL SERVICE UNUSUAL INTEREST

W. H. Brown Told of His Early Struggles Against Intemperance and Wrong Living.

A service of unusual interest and power was held in St. Andrew's church Sunday evening and Mr. W. H. Brown was the speaker. In a simple and quiet way he briefly related certain features of his life's history. He spoke of the early years of his life spent under christian influences, of the later years of tragic failures, and then of final victory through divine aid. Mr Brown since filled a responsible position in the government of his native province. This he was forced to relinquish through incompetence brought on by intemperance. Then followed the long harrowing years of defeat, and that night when the choice was made to end all by death. The plan was deliberately formed but through the manifest interposition of a kind Providence was never carried out. The train, under which he intended to end all, was late, and while he waited an unseen hand touched his arm and guided him away from the spot. Guided him on to where he heard the singing of a native hymn. He stumbled in through the door and in the mission the despairing soul found one night to save. Mr. Brown, who is now an honored and useful citizen of Edmonton, finds his chief joy in witnessing to the redeeming power of a Savior.

The Sunday school observed Rally Day last Sunday morning. The theme of the services was "The Hope of the World" Mr Brown briefly addressed the children. Recitations were given by Margaret Lee, Marjory Malcolm and Ronald Cole. Stories about the boys and girls of Africa, India, China and South Sea Islands were told by Olga Kaut, Madeline Mahaffey and John Kaut.

A special Thanksgiving service will be held next Sunday evening. Music will be the feature of the service. Besides anthems by the choir there will be solos.

Service will be held in Lindbrook school next Sunday 3 P. M.

Grain Crop and Stock in Good Shape Around This District

SUNDAY RUNS GOOD IN SPOTS WEST OF SHAUPIE LINE—OAT CROP IS PRETTY LIGHT.

Knowing that many of our readers are waiting for a report on the crops and general crop conditions, we have been on the watch and made several inquiries around the district. Summing up what information we have received from the farmers we find that the crops on the west side of the lake are excellent. On the east side of the lake they are light, and the stock is not in real good condition. East of Ryley and as far as Viking, stockmen report that stock is in bad shape. But from Ryley west to the west side of the lake are better, and from Beaver Lake to the west side of Tofield stock is good and the yield good.

On the farm of R. P. Blackburn, in the Amisk Creek district, the yield in oats is half of last year. Hail storms and dry weather played a big part in destroying what might have been a magnificent crop. However, the yield per acre is 80 bushels, against 55 bushels last year. Wheat in that district is very light. I. H. Olson declares that while his wheat crop is light it is very good, and what the hail storms left will compare very favorably with the rest of Amisk Creek.

Frank Ball has possibly some of the best looking wheat in the district. Here we find 90 acres yielding 2,000 bushels of wheat that ought to grade No. 1.

On the C. C. Roberge farm wheat is running 30 bushels to the acre, and looking good.

Bob Berg is entirely satisfied with his 30 bushel yield, and at present prices wishes that he had more. Here is where scientific grain growing had flourished.

Tofield is fortunate this year, and the crops are as good as any in the province. The straw has been light, and the grain easily handled as a result. No reports of serious damage from frosts has reached us. Taken as a whole the farmers of Tofield may congratulate themselves, and collect that $8.21 that is being paid for good wheat.

A party of duck hunters, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hetrel, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. C. Roberts, of Edmonton, and P. B. Simmons, of Calgary, were guests at the Royal Alex. Thanksgiving Day.

Good Roads Lead to Viking and the Chautauqua Festival

GOOD AUTO ROADS — EXCELLENT HOTEL SERVICE AT VIKING ATTRACTS VISITORS.

Viking is the nearest point on the C.T.P. where the famous Chautauqua entertainers will appear this month, and many Tofielders have expressed their desire of attending at least one of the programmes. The dates are Friday, Saturday and Monday October 19, 20, 22, afternoon and evening. The afternoon programmes will commence promptly at 3 o'clock, and the evening programmes at 8.30 sharp. The roads between Tofield and Viking are in excellent shape. The automobile road between Bruce and Viking was finished this summer. That part of the road used to be almost impassable at most any time of the year, but is now one of the best stretches of road in the province. Autos can make the 40 miles from here to Viking in a little over two hours.

The business men of our sister town have shown considerable enterprise by guaranteeing the appearance of these high-class artists. They are prompted from purely a matter of service to the community and have no commercial interest whatever in the coming of the Chautauqua to their town.

If the weather is good during the days of the Chautauqua at Viking quite a few of our citizens have signified their intention of motoring to Viking and seeing for themselves what Chautauqua really is. It is a success in the United States. It has been tried out in seventy-five cities and towns in Western Canada this summer, and each town have signed contracts for next year.

The program the first day will consist of a concert prelude and a popular lecture by Dr. Robt. Sutcliffe in the afternoon, and in the evening the orchestra will give the entire program.

Saturday, the second day, Jean Macdonald, the reader, will give a program of readings, dialect stories and sketches. In the evening of Saturday Ada L. Ward, the world-famous lecturer, will give a talk entitled, "Stories from the Trenches." Ada L. Ward is one of the official entertainers of the British government in France and Flanders, and brings stories direct from the boys in the trenches.

On Monday afternoon the native Waikiki Hawaiian Quintet will give a concert prelude, after which Dr. Elliott A. Boyl will give his inspirational lecture. "The Seen and the Unseen." In the evening the quintet will give a grand closing concert.

The hotel is arranging to take care of a large crowd, so no one need to stay away on that account.

RYLEY UNION CAPTURES BANNER SECOND TIME

Carry Away Coveted Trophy Two Years in Succession For Largest Increase in Membership.

FIVE DELEGATES ATTEND FIFTH ANNUAL CONVENTION ALBERTA W. C. T. U. AT EDMONTON

The fifth annual convention of the Alberta W. C. T. U. was held in the First Baptist church Edmonton October 3, 4 and 5, 1917.

There were present from the Ryley union the president, Mrs. R. H. McPherson, and four delegates Mesdames Forrest Boyles, J. L. McPherson, R. P. Blackburn and Miss Agnes Thorburn. From the report of those present, a highly successful convention was held and the Ryley union covered itself with glory by repeating its action of last year and for the second time captured the banner for the greatest increase in membership during the year.

Wednesday Morning—The convention was called to order by the president, Mrs. McKinney, of Clareholm, following a consecration service led by Mrs. Bulyea of Edmonton. From the hour of opening to that of adjournment, the proceedings were full of interest and inspiration.

Wednesday afternoon was devoted largely to reports of committees and district presidents' reports. The address of these high-class artists. They are prompted from purely a matter of service to the community and have no commercial interest whatever in the coming of the Chautauqua to their town.

If the weather is good during the days of the Chautauqua at Viking quite a few of our citizens have signified their intention of motoring to Viking and seeing for themselves what Chautauqua really is. Dr. M. Mecklenburg will be here on Saturday, November 17.

Alberta's first woman member of the legislature. Members of the provincial W. C. T. U. throughout the province are justly proud of their pres i t.

Tuesday morning opened with devotional exercises led by Mrs. Henderson of Coronation. Interesting reports were read upon Purity meetings by Mrs. Brown of High River, followed by four minute talks upon some subjects from different delegates

Mrs. Campbell spoke regarding the W. C. T. U. official paper, The White Ribbon Bulletin, saying that few members actually subscribe personally for same expecting it to be supplied through their local union. She also urged, should not be, as the price being but 35c a year each member should help the good cause along by individual subscription the same as to their church or town paper.

The most important business transacted was the election of officers. The acting executive were returned without changes.

At 6.30 p. m. a banquet was tendered the visiting delegates in the basement of the First Baptist church.

After the banquet an address was given by Edmonton's Woman Judge of the juvenile court, Mrs. Arthur Murphy. Mrs. Murphy's address was no eloquent, so sincere and so expressive that at its close Rev. Hossman, pastor of First Baptist church offered the suggestion that the convention pass a resolution to have Mrs. Murphy's address printed in pamphlet form for distribution. Such resolution was brought before the convention in proper order and passed.

An early adjournment was taken Friday to permit the delegates to accept the invitation of the Auto club to take a ride over the city. The hour of final adjournment, when all members joined hands forming a circle, while singing "God be with you till we meet again", was a solemn and impressive one and none present but felt the uplift of the fine attendance upon the fifth annual convention of the Alberta W. C. T. U.

An invitation to meet at Calgary next year was accepted.

NOTICE

To whom it may concern:

TAKE NOTICE that in order to promote the collection of Municipal Taxes and improve the financial condition of the Town of Tofield, and in order to provide sufficient funds as to ensure the continued operation of our Public School, the Municipal Council of the Town of Tofield has deemed it advisable to resort to levy all unpaid taxes with costs by distress upon the goods or chattels wherever found within the Town belonging to or in the possession of the owner or occupant of the land whose name appears on the roll, or, upon the goods or chattels wherever found within the Town of the owner of the land although the name of such owner does not appear on the roll

This is therefore to advise you that unless all taxes including current taxes due the Town of Tofield with respect to your property are paid before October 31st, 1917, I shall be obliged to proceed accordingly to my instructions.

It is believed you will realize and appreciate the seriousness of this matter.

J. W. MCMULLEN,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Dated at Tofield this 10th day of October 1917.

Branches of the Navy League Formed In Every Town

STRICTLY NON-POLITICAL ORGANIZATION TO INTEREST THE EMPIRE IN THE NAVY.

Branches of the Navy League of Canada (a listed with the Navy League of the British Empire) will be formed in every city town and municipality of the Dominion, and will absorb the British Sailors' Relief Fund work which has been such a success during the past year.

The Navy League is a strictly non-political organization, whose object will be to spread information regarding the importance to the British Empire of the maintenance of naval supremacy, and during war time to assist in the work of relief of sailors' and seamen's institutions. The work formerly will be optional with mills with a capacity between 50 and 100 barrels per day. Every licensed establishment must submit each month a detailed sworn statement of costs of manufacture and profits on sales. Failure to comply with any of the regulations may result in suspension or cancelation of license.

Mr. Hanna also stated that he would select and approve three standard grades of flour, and that all licensed mills would be required to manufacture and sell one or more of these standard grades. One will be flour made from Manitoba spring wheat, the second will be a blended flour from a mixture of Manitoba spring wheat and Ontario winter wheat; while the third will be made entirely from winter wheat. The standard grades will be of first class quality suited to all purposes, and will represent a higher extraction than the white flour now us general use in Canada. For these maximum cash prices will be set from time to time.

Such prices will be fair, care on track at point of delivery or the equivalent at point of origin. W. Sanford Evans has been appointed by Mr. Hanna to supervise the carrying out of the arrangement with the millers, and a special committee of the latter has been named to act as an advisory capacity to the food controller and on behalf of the mills. It is expected that sufficient information will be on hand for the food controller to name the prices for the three standard grades of flour by November 1

At Friday's conference the food controller intimated that he was considering the advisability of taking action in the interests of the public to restrict the sale of flour and other cereals in small packages. He was of the opinion that the small sacks or package trade involved a needless waste and enhancement of cost to the consumers and that unless the purchaser wanted a large sack he would purchase more advantageously in bulk In this way the expense of handling and distribution which are paid by the consumer would be reduced.

Canadian Millers Will Have Profits Limited to 25c

THIS WILL BE MAXIMUM AVERAGE ON MILLING OF WHEAT TO MAKE BARREL FLOUR

After November 1 the net profit of Canadian millers will be limited to a maximum average of twenty-five cents on the milling of sufficient wheat to make a barrel of flour of 196 pounds and the offals produced in connection with such milling. Hon. W. J Hanna, food controller, made this announcement last night, as the outcome of several conferences with representatives of all branches of the milling trade Every mill with a capacity of 100 barrels of flour or more per day must take out a license from the food controller. The licensing will be optional with mills with a capacity between 50 and 100 barrels per day. Every licensed establishment must submit each month a detailed sworn statement of costs of manufacture and profits on sales. Failure to comply with any of the regulations may result in suspension or cancelation of license.

Bill and Dan Talk Seriously

It was only a week before Bill and Dan met again, together with the two to each had interested in the business to the all of getting and to be the pot that threatened to paralyze their home town, thereby robbing each one of them of the amount of years of labor, time and merchant able.

Both men had their assembled to gether again, one cold evening in the office of [illegible] Bill [illegible] spoke first.

"Well, Dan, we're here, to stay, and I guess we better get to work and get busy. I'm not very much interested in seeing you or anybody else make money, but I'm interested in seeing you and myself make money, and I think we can do it if we get busy and stop fooling."

Bill and Dan then got busy and started the ball rolling. Dan was the first to speak.

"Bill, I've been thinking over this matter for a long time, and I've come to the conclusion that the only way we can get out of this mess is to get busy and work. I've got a few ideas in mind that I think will help us out, and I'm willing to put them into effect if you are."

"Dan, I'm with you," said Bill, "and I'll do my share of the work. I've been thinking over the matter myself, and I've come to the conclusion that we've been fooling long enough. Now, let's get busy and work."

The Talking Cocoanut

Natives of Philippines Had Means of the Telephone

"While in the government employ in the Philippines," reports Sanford Jones in a review of trade conditions in the Orient, published by the Society for Electrical Development, "I was stationed on the island of Panglao, which is a small island in the Sulu Archipelago. The natives of this island were so uncivilized that they did not even know the value of money, and, of course, had never heard of a telephone.

"On frequently had these natives down, and in turn would tell them with wonder and awe with a thousand people, which we had our entire village assembled in necessary for a telephone. There had been two buildings that were a little distance apart, which we decided to use for the test. So I found a rather large cocoanut under a tree near the building but was very living in, and conceived the idea of making a cocoanut talk. So I emptied its contents and hung it on the outside of the house opposite the phone, so arranged that we could put the receiver through the grass wall and drop it into the cocoanut.

"We invited some of the natives to see the wonderful cocoanut that would talk, and with the aid of an interpreter at the other phone we had a conversation that would have made a lot of fun. Some of the natives were so frightened they left the village. Next day a delegation returned and directed us to destroy the cocoanut, under penalty of immediate attack. They did not like to have us remove a thing around. There was much rejoicing when we removed it to the Ramon Theroldier the Sulu people bought everything we had to sell, except things we talked. One native family bought twenty-four electric fans."

CHEVROLET

The TRAIL BLAZER to greater Motor Car Value

From the standpoint of dollar for dollar value there's not a car made which offers more for your money than the famous Chevrolet Four-Ninety A.

Before the Chevrolet was made in Canada, good cars were all high in price.

But our mammoth production and manufacturing efficiency enables us to sell the Chevrolet Four-Ninety A at a price much lower than its value when compared with other makes of cars.

With the surplus power developed by the famous valve-in-head motor the owner of a Four-Ninety A invariably is the "trail blazer."

Standard equipment includes speedometer, electric starting and lighting, ammeter, oil indicator light equipment, one man top, demountable rims, non-skid tires on rear wheels and many features usually looked for in cars much higher in price.

TAXES WHICH ARE A LIEN UPON THE LAND and remain unpaid in the case of a resident of the town for fourteen days after notice given under section 301 hereof or in case of residents for one month after the mailing of the statement provided for by section 302 hereof the secretary-treasurer may levy the same with costs by distress as a landlord may recover rent in arrears.

Upon the goods and chattels wherever found within the town belonging to or in the possession of the owner or occupant of the land whose name appears on the roll and who is hereinafter called "the person taxed".

Upon the interest of the person taxed in any goods found on the land including his interest in any goods to the possession of which he is entitled under a contract for purchase or under a contract by which he may become the owner thereof upon performance of any condition.

Upon any goods or chattels wherever found within the town of the owner of the land although the name of such owner does not appear upon the roll

The above is an extract from the Town Act and shows how the town collect taxes if forced to do so. The action of the council on Tuesday night in deciding to adopt this method may seem a trifle high-handed, but unless the proper payments are forthcoming, they are bound to proceed under the Act and levy all unpaid taxes with costs by distress. It seems to us an unnecessary thing to do, as a householder will pay his taxes before he will let the bailiff sell his goods. It is a case of pay up. The town need the money and the school board is in dire need of funds, which they must have before October 31st or go out of business. The first duty of the public spirited citizen is the maintenance of a good school, and the way to do it is to pay your taxes promptly.

THE TOWN COUNCIL, WHILE NOT EXACTLY yielding to the demands made by the skaters, have at least taken the matter under advisement and will probably restore the skating rink. The curlers have objected to using the south alley way, but at their annual meeting will discuss the building of an addition to the north side of the curling rink. If this can be accomplished without much outlay the skating rink will enjoy its former site and skating as well as hockey will flourish. To say that the hockey clubs and athletic societies are pleased with the interest displayed by the council would be putting it mildly.

Red Cross Days.

October 12 and 13 will be Red Cross days at the drug store. J. W. Somers will turn his store over to the Red Cross ladies and they will attend to your needs. The profits for the two days will go to the Red Cross. If you wish to help the Red Cross, and at the same time secure a few real bargains in drugs or toilet requisites, make those two days your shopping days. There will be real sure enough bargains that you can read next week in the advertising columns so watch out for them.

Mrs. S A Hall donated a steer to the Red Cross and they will dispose of it by tickets. Some of the members will be around selling tickets today, and each ticket will bear a number, one of those numbers will be the lucky one. The tickets will be sold for 25c. each.

Mrs. Geo Ritz and Mrs. McKercol have started a dress making and art painting business in their apartments. They are prepared to handle your business at any time.

Get Behind the Wheel of a Ford and Drive

TRY it just once! Ask your friend to let you "pilot" his car on an open stretch. You'll like it, and will be surprised how easily the Ford is handled and driven.

If you have never felt the thrill of driving your own car, there is something good in store for you. It is vastly different from just riding—being a passenger. And especially so if you drive a Ford.

Young boys, girls, women and even grandfathers—thousands of them—are driving Ford cars and enjoying it. A Ford stops and starts in traffic with exceptional ease and smoothness, while on country roads and hills its strength and power show to advantage.

Buy a Ford and you will want to be behind "the wheel" constantly.

Chautauqua Festival At Viking, October 19, 20 and 22

Thirty years ago began a movement at Chautauqua Lake, N.Y., which now includes 8,000 annual assemblies in Canada and the U.S. It brings the highest class of instruction, inspiration and entertainment to over 12,000,000 people, who could not secure such remarkable programs were it not for the modern Chautauqua system. The greatest talent is thus secured at the ends of the earth and brought into towns and communities of all sizes, wherever public-spirited citizens are willing to make it possible by guaranteeing the sale of enough season tickets to barely cover the expenses. Some of the talent brought to Viking this week had to be secured two and three years in advance.

Chautauqua is primarily a builder of civilization, not a money-making enterprise. It is maintained by local associations all over the United States and Canada, and is now beginning to spread to England, Australia and other countries. To be on the Chautauqua map has come to be an indication of culture and civic enterprise.

Among the attractions for the Viking Chautauqua Festival are: Ada L. Ward, English war lecturer; Waikiki Hawaiian Quintet; Dr. Robert Sutcliffe, with his lecture, "Train Folk"; Jean Macdonald, the Scotch-Canadian reader and entertainer; Dr. Elliott Boyl, classical lecturer on the "Seen and Unseen"; and the Chautauqua Festival Orchestra.

There is a constant demand for intelligent discussion of the live personal issues of the day, the development of character in the individual, and the attainment of loftiest ideals in the home and community; and it would be hard indeed to imagine a lecturer more capable of filling this demand than Dr. Robert Sutcliffe.

Speaking with the authority of lifelong study, with a sympathetic knowledge of humanity and its problems, and with the breath of vision of a man who thoroughly knows human nature, Dr. Sutcliffe makes a splendid and lasting impression on his audiences. Gov. Alexander, of Idaho, says: "Dr. Sutcliffe knows humanity as well as any man I ever met, and his presentation of facts relating to welfare of the world made an everlasting impression upon me."

As a mission worker in London, as an educator and newspaper man in the East, and as a leading minister of the West, he constructed a solid foundation for his particular work upon the Chautauqua platform.

Cold type cannot present the living, breathing, sympathetic inspiration that he carries to his audiences. He talks with the people, not over their heads. Discussing questions that are vital in our everyday life, he inspires everyone who hears him. Eminently sane and practical, and of rare personality, Dr. Sutcliffe has won a secure place in the hearts of Chautauqua audiences everywhere. Hear him on the opening afternoon of the Chautauqua Festival at Viking October 19, 20.

SQUIRREL FOOD

Becomes By A. Knot

This week we are going to devote this kolyum entirely to the ladies.

We will print all sorts of notions about the gentler sex.

We got the idee from a daily paper, where a want ad appeared, asking for a woman to play second violin. They dont make them that way.

No girl ever failed to get on her prettiest clothes when about to meet a visitor she intended to reject. Probably so he could fully appreciate what he was missing.

When a woman says lets reason together, she does the reasoning.

Woman may disagree about trivial things, but when they have a real row it is over a man.

We read about a California woman who had to pay alimony to her husband. That is getting equal rights with a vengeance.

When a woman marries it is not always a proof of love, but a lack of will power.

In her serious moments the advanced woman realizes that there are lots of interesting things in the world besides men—but there are lighter moments, when it seems to her with sad conviction that there is nothing else to flirt with.

A Michigan maiden called Pheobe,
Who, we read, is a bit of a Hebe,
Has a name if you please,
Like a hive of small bees,
For you see she be Phoebe B. Beebe.

The editor of the Viking News writes us a very amusing article last week, but carefully avoids any explanation of why that game wasn't returned. Instead he comes out with a lot of stale jokes about nut sundaes and sarcasm that is about three years older than the ruins of Pompeii, and leave about as much impression as a rubber heel on an asphalt pavement. His reference to our iron dome upholstered with cobwebs is more than we can say for him. In fact his driest reminds of water on the brain. He spoke of our self appointment as referee, and we would say that a visiting team has the choice of referee, a consideration that was allowed Tofield with scant courtesy. In the press report that followed the game, the News stated that the game had been refereed fairly and impartially. So there can be no hints at strong arm work there. He now tells us that he never was manager of the Sunbeams, and by an unkind subterfuge gets out of the argument by foisting the blame on the former principal of the school, a gentleman who had already left town for Edmonton, and by the merest coincidence was on hand when the match was played. All we are sorry for is that the Sunbeams did not avail themselves of the opportunity to enjoy Tofield's hospitality and the good time prepared by the ladies for their entertainment. If the sainted editor of the Viking News had chanced to view the good time planned for him, he would quite likely have written last weeks effusion with a blush of shame and washed his educated mug in a column of his own soup.

NOW FIGHTING FOR A NEW WORLD SAFER FOR THE COMMON PEOPLE

PEOPLE'S UNITY SIGNIFICANT SIGN OF THE TIMES

A New World is the Goal Towards Which the Allied Nations Are Marching When Democracy Decrees That the Government Of a Nation Becomes the Sovereign Will of the People

To maintain the war spirit of the nation is an imperative task in the maintenance of military efficiency. Its supplies at the front. Its soldier dead wars were carried on by kings or governments through military commanders. The attitude of the nation at large was not a matter of supreme importance in the carrying on of a campaign. But times have changed. In democratic countries the whole nation, and the government only, goes to war. No longer is the military commander in the field left to his own devices. no longer are ministers unnerved only with the maintenance of an army in the field. The war spirit must be kept alive at home, work in an unbroken endeavor if the struggle is to be carried to a successful issue. To this end the statesmen who have the responsibility of government must have behind them the honest support of the public platform. It is a sign of the times that politicians of different creeds in which war is bringing in its train, that the present leaders of the United Kingdom takes advantage of every opportunity to associate the people with the government in the conduct of the great military scheme. For Mr. Lloyd George knows that not only will the physical struggle be fought by the staying power of the people, but by keeping their spirit unbroken.

A new world is the goal towards which the Allied nations are marching, a new world very different from any things or governments of the past. The old world which the war has now been so unnerved will be another world, a world of the people, by the people, for the people. Mr. Lloyd George, in a recent speech, called on the British democracy to "get a new world" to be built in the days following battles which Germany still supposed unconquered. Spies in South America

German Agents Well Organized by Buenos Aires for Enemy Work

Coming shortly after Secretary of State Lansing's revelations of German spy methods in Europe, the New York World publishes the following article from its correspondent in Buenos Aires, under date of August 16:

The arrest and deportation of German spies in this city during the recent visit of the United States squadron has led to the discovery of an extensive system which proposed to use headquarters for German activities in South America.

It was through an architect that the espionage system was discovered. These were revealed through the agency of a letter which was accidentally delivered to a man of probity and intelligence. The reading of this letter has served to open to the foreign office.

The president of the Argentine Republic himself early started searching inquiry with results that it has been learned that the bureau is being established in Montevideo, Uruguay, and that it is to be used as the clearing house for German outbreaks in each locality.

A perfect system outfit has been established in a house on United States street and was demolished.

It had been asserted for some time by allied representatives here that German espionage agents in Buenos Aires have been in direct communication with Berlin by means of the Buenos Aires cable to Spain, whence the information is sent by wireless from Madrid.

No Dancing in Germany

Severe measures are taken in Germany against any kind of public or semi-public dancing. A Berlin paper mentions that a company of young people set off the other day for a trip to the Swiss frontier. When the start was rounded, people who had been looking on at the farewell party—but only the younger ones—began to dance in the ground and the police, who discovered the invasion of the trip ers to hold a dance in a house by the lake. The young folk therefore travelled by rail to another place and made arrangements for an impromptu ball. Before the fun was well started the police arrived on the scene, and several prosecutions are impending. Paragraphs of this kind are not uncommon in the German press. A real outward Puritanism has been established for war time.—The British Weekly.

Revels in New Found Liberty

Light of Freedom is Lost for Russian Jews

There is no more buoyant soul in Russia today than the Jew. He, at least, revels in the new found liberty without attempting to fend away the heaviness by near-bad agitations.

To M. Melgunov, in a thrilling review of the sufferings of the Hebrew race in that country, rounds the rebles of the present government that their task can only be appreciated when it is borne in mind what they have to do to repress the prejudices that cling to the traditional hatred of the Jew.

According to an old Russian law, the Jews have no right to reside outside of a certain place, or settlement, comprising Poland, Lithuania and most of Southern Russian provinces before the war to the Ukraine. But in the rule of the settlement there was only one penalty, viz., exile, and that was open only for a certain number of students.

These young Jewish intellectuals, especially women, who had succeeded in passing the high school examinations could only enter a university at the rate of 3 per cent., that is to say, out of a hundred students, only three could be Jews, and even of these only then only three.

The "intellectual" class in Russian Jewry who was even to be reserved in Petrograd, and the far advanced terms of the new and great "corporation" have been suspended since the July 19 and its enclosing magnificent "German success peace."

This causes the Berliner Vorwarts, the organ of the moderate Socialists, to remark:

"So, when England, France, America, Russia, etc., have been divested, the war will begin, with Germany in the name of the German people, against the German people itself."

The Berliner Borsen-Zeitung publishes the following report of the Petrograd debate:

"The Jewish race is in danger. One of the most ancient races is being attacked against the sword of Hindenburg by the loyal supporters or against the decree of our gallant Russian pockets. But, we must be told to our eternal disgrace, our enemies and enemies and successors of all the Jews among people who bear the German name and live within the German frontiers. The German people will for victory is being waged and efforts are being made to disturb the well proved foundations of our state system. Protest—Germany, which is at the head of the Jewish people, is in the front row itself to call it what it is. The German people of all classes to gather together and resist the attempt of the Prussia of Petrograd to enrich the Soviet and the German empire of William the Unforgettable (and his great chancellor)! In all the peoples blood to have flowed in vain! The Prussian nobility must be summoned, not to the defense of its alleged or real rights, but to the following of its duties toward the Fatherland, which are based deep in history. Once more, where is the Prussian nobility?"

Highest Order in the Garter

But the Order of Merit Is Pre-eminent Gift of King

What is the greatest honor in the gift of the King? "It is the Garter, of course," is everybody, and it may now be asserted that the Knighthood of the Garter is the most exclusive order of chivalry in the world, and it must be a long time before the present gilts of the Garter led to awaits of the Garter. Of the active list of thirteen and allies were struck off that roll whose number is 26 at present in Buckingham Palace.

But the latter, though the most exclusive order, does not rank as it confined to royalty and nobility, in point of general fame, to the Order of Merit has only been in existence since 1902, and it was founded by King Edward VII. for the purpose of conferring honor on men who have rendered conspicuous services to the State, in the Army or Navy, in Art, Literature or Science, irrespective of birth, rank or wealth. The number of members is limited to twenty-four, exclusive of such members of the Royal Family and foreigners as the Sovereign may from time to time appoint. The Order of Merit has not been long established, but by universal consent it has taken a premier place among those honors which it is the privilege of the Sovereign to confer. That position of pre-eminence must be awarded to the right to place the letters "O.M." after one's name. Women Smokers in Wales

A woman was seen smoking a pipe in a train recently, and the incident aroused no little interest. It began, of course, this habit, which is now practised by ladies, especially of the fair sex, have enjoyed there were in that way for many years past, but it was the way in which this was done which surprised the public.

As a matter of fact, in London some women have grown to be cigar smokers and pipes in their homes and in the women's clubs where a rule that pipes are not permitted has been quietly rescinded in favor of the male visitors, who now smoke cigars only without complaint.—London Western Mail.

His Worst Qualities

"Never are the stars of adversity," says Shakespeare; but the following fortune's choice the poorest from good.

"Ah, Sam so you are in trouble, eh?"

"Yes, Jem, I am."

"Well, well, never mind, cheer up old man, cheer up! Adversity tries us and shows us our better qualities."

"Ah, but Adversity didn't try me; it was a country judge, and he showed up my worst qualities."

American Knitter Takes Counsel With Old Enemy

It is a curious irony of fate that the first prisoner of America will be a man of the late Archduke Francis Ferdinand's assassination. Gavrilo Princip, the Serbian student who fired the shots which killed the Archduke and his wife, compelled the hostess to go to the Austrian emperor's throne, and the Austrian empire was the sequel to one of the most disgraceful of the many scandals with which the Austrian empire is filled, the late Archduke Otto, now confined. The story is well known to the world. It is the story of the life of the

TOWN FATHERS WILL COLLECT TAXES BY DISTRESS UNDER TOWN ACT

TOWN AND SCHOOL NEED THE MONEY AND THE COUNCIL WILL HAVE TO COLLECT IT

At the last meeting of the Town Council it was decided that some severe measures might have to be resorted to in order to collect the current taxes. Collections have not been coming in to meet the needs of the town. Collecting taxes by distress with costs is not a very popular procedure. But the only way to avoid it, is to pay your taxes. Taxes should be paid promptly at any time and avoid the penalties that are attached to collect them by force. If you have a lot in town and own a house, the council will be obliged to collect under the Town Act. As we mentioned in last week's issue the town and school district were in need of funds. Unless the school is supplied at once, there is a chance of having to close for the winter months.

R. S. Rudd Moved.

R. S. Rudd, who for the past six or seven years has resided in Tofield and conducted a general store business with his partner, G. T. Richardson, left for Islay, Alta. Mr. Rudd has purchased a general store in that town, and will move his family there in the next two weeks. Mrs. Rudd and children went up to Edmonton to visit relatives and friends until Mr. Rudd gets the new home ready. Tofielders wish them the best of luck in their new field of endeavors.

Solicitor for the Executors.

YOUNG COUPLE HAPPILY WEDDED

"Bunny" Harriman Joins Ranks of Benedicts and Takes Unto Himself a Wife.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr and Mrs. Arthur McHaffey on Wednesday, October 10, when their daughter, Miss Ina McHeffey, was joined in the holy bonds of matrimony to Ronni Allan Harriman. Rev. Alex. Stewart tied the nuptial knot in the presence of a few friends of the family. The happy couple left on the evening train for Edmonton and points on the C.N.R. They returned last Monday from a delightful honeymoon, and will make their home on the groom's farm north of town.

The bride is a popular young lady of the district, and has good wishes of a host of friends for her future happiness. The groom, who is known to his many friends as "Bunny," is one of the district's progressive young farmers, and will make an excellent breadwinner. The Advertiser congratulates.

Something Extra.

This week we are publishing an extra sheet of Ryley News for the benefit of our readers. We hope that it will be of interest. Considerable expense is attached to the publishing of this sheet, but we are throwing it in at the same rate. If any of your friends have not yet subscribed for the Advertiser, don't lend them your paper. $1.50 will put them on the list for a year, and it is money well spent.

Chicken Dinner.

The Presbyterian ladies aid will hold a ten neat Saturday in the Jamieson building. There will be lots of good things to eat and the ladies will be on hand to feed you from 2 p. m. till 8 p. m. There will be chicken salad and pressed chicken served with bread and butter, fruit salad served with whipped cream and cake, lots of pie and cake and the usual nice goods in the shape of tea and coffee. Big sale of home cooking in connection. Don't forget the day, the date or the place and be sure and come hungry.

Promoted.

Mrs. A. Dunn received word that her son R. J. Dunn of the Divisional Corp at Calgary, had been transferred to Ottawa and had received the appointment of Sergeant in the Signal Corps. Bobbie is a Tofield boy and quite well known.

Curlers Hold Annual Meeting in Geo. Dixon's Office

Elect C. H. Rowe to President's Chair, Jos. Rogers, 1st Vice-President, J. W. Somers 2nd Vice, John Lee Re-elected Secretary.

WILL MAKE COUNCIL MINIMUM GUARANTEE OF $250.00 AND SOOP 'ER UP AGAIN THIS WINTER

The curlers met for a general pow-wow in Geo. Dixon's office Tuesday night. About 27 curlers gathered around the hot stove to conduct the business of the season. President McCauley skipped the meeting and called for a new chairman. After a red hot election, C. H. Rowe proved the popular choice of the crowd and business proceeded. Jos. Rogers was elected vice-president, and as there was no important duty attached to the job of second vice, the job was given Wardy Somers by acclamation. The meeting moved the re-election of John Lee as secretary and Rev. Stewart as chaplain. An executive consisting of Messrs. T. P. Newbigging, W. C. Swift, Geo. M. Laughlin, A. J. H. McCauley and Rev. Alex Stewart was appointed. The election of officers for the season being finished, the work of getting members fixing the fee, and making a guarantee to the town was taken up. After much discussing and turning the resolution to over the council $7.00 per member with a minimum guarantee of $250.00 for two sheets of ice to be made satisfactorily to the executive for the season 1917-18 was passed. The subject of allowing the skaters and hockey players the full use of the main sheet of ice came in for discussion, but was left for the council to handle. The general feeling of the meeting was that the skaters should have the use of the ice if the council could arrange to give the curlers two sheets as good as they had last year. The method of selecting the rinks was left over to the next meeting, to be held next Tuesday evening in the Merchants Bank building. Skips, Lee, McCauley, McLaughlin, W. Rogers, Somers Newbigging, Stewart, Jiggins, Rowe and Swift, will pilot the destinies of the selections made at that meeting.

Horse Admits Boys Stores For 10c. That Create Sensation in Winnipeg Stockyards.

$13.10 may not sound very big but when you get that as an average price for a straight load of steers, it is something to boast about. Harvey Adams bought 16 steers last week and sold them at Winnipeg at a record price of $193 10 each, thus being the highest price ever paid in that city The stock yards were so proud of them that the men in charge groomed the animals up and parraded them around the streets as a sample of Alberta product.

Mr. Adams ships from two to seven carloads a week, and has been paying $7.00 and up for medium grades. He paid 10c for the record-breakers, but this price is unusual. If any farmer has the [illegible] to beat it, in the opinion of Mr. Adams.

Every athlete, every sportsman, every live youth and man is enthusiastic over some particular pastime. There is always some game over which he can shout and yell until his voice is entirely gone, and even then he will continue to give expression to his inmost feelings by frantically throwing his cap in the air or hammering his neighbor on the back. ¢ ¢

Sport is something which must combine a multitude of thrills. Ice hockey is a form of sport that can be termed the greatest of all. It is the popular dominion pastime Consider for a moment the way it is played. It is a game crowded with speed skill, tremendous exertion and spectacular movements. It is a game played [illegible] well in this town by either the boys or girls. It is the game that must be kept alive. What is the cost of keeping the life and soul of the town going?

We have argued through the columns of this paper that skating and hockey will fall off and the [illegible] measures are taken to [illegible] success this coming winter. Many have applauded our efforts and others have thrown on cold water. It is sufficient that the town fathers have lent an attentive ear, and will ask the will of the curlers. The curling club is composed of all the business men of the town, and in case they didn't take kindly to the new order, could quite easily vote down any proposition that the skaters or hockey players might make.

A BIG DANCE ON FRIDAY, NOV. 2

Vaudeville Performance Fails to Arrive. Special Pictures Coming Wednesday Night Show.

The vaudeville performance and dance advertised for this week will not appear. Shows have been disappointing the local management pretty much of late, and it is getting to be a tiresome business for the fans. The manager has secured a splendid run if Bluebird features for Wednesday night shows, and they will be run as soon as the series of Craft is finished. A dance is being arranged for November 2, and the famous Ryley orchestra will be in attendance. This orchestra is led by G. Brooke, formerly connected with the Mahna orchestra of Edmonton. Mr. Brooke is an excellent violinist, and is supported by a cornet, trombone and piano player. The admission price will be $1.00 for gents and 50c for extra ladies. How Bidding Fair to Have Outdo Germans in Cruelty

Has the best for atrocity taken full of the Austrian officer as it has of the German? Deputy Max Winterfeldt, Reichsrat, rose in the place in that assembly and stated that the Austrian officer was responsible for more atrocities than the German officer—an opinion of recent occurrences in Battery 2 of the Field Artillery at Nachod, near Chlumetz.

The Battery commander Lieutenant Baron von Hofern, ordered all Italians to begin the day by addressing a normal thrashing to the men. The lieutenant himself started the operations by beating the ears of a corporal.

On the arrival of the corporal at the battery he was asked if he had treated the men well. Baron von Hofern replied: "Yes, I have given them a thrashing." Several of the men collapsed and fell to the ground unconscious during the thrashing. Lieutenant Baron von Hofern then ordered the Italians to be tied to the wheels of the guns and to be beaten with sticks. Another officer, Lieutenant Lenderer, was not satisfied with the punishment inflicted on the men and struck them with his fists. Several of the men fell to the ground unconscious.

SICK WOMAN HAD CRYING SPELLS
Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pelzer, Pa. "I was run down and weak nearly all the time. I had female trouble and my back ached and my head both. I would often be crying spells and feel as if I was not safe in the house. I would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it would not be long before I would feel new again. I tried several doctors and they did not help me as I had to employ a nurse. I gave my baby the doctor's medicine and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon made a change in me and now I am strong and do my own work." Mrs. ANTHONY BACKMAN, Box 16, Pelzer, S. C.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

Farmers Are Expected To Take War Loan

THEY ARE PROSPEROUS AND PUBLIC OPINION EXPECTS THEM TO HELP

Farmers should subscribe for a substantial portion of the Dominion coming war loan. Crops have been uniformly good throughout Canada, prices were never so high and the margin between selling price and cost of production has ensured a splendid profit. Mr. E. L. Pease, vice-president and managing director of the Royal Bank of Canada, in a recent interview, gave it as his opinion that an active campaign should be carried on among the farmers of the West. The farmers of that section of Canada and Ontario, according to Mr. Pease, are the best class to canvass for the loan.

The Manitoba Free Press also says that the active campaign to be carried on to get the farmers to invest. It suggests that the Minister of Finance send a letter to 100,000 Western farmers, personally appealing for their support of the loan.

Mrs. Geo. Rix and Mrs. McKerrol have started a dress making and tailoring business in their residence here. They are prepared to handle your business at any time.

CANADA

Military Service Act, 1917

Explanatory Announcement by the Minister of Justice

THE MILITARY SERVICE ACT has received the assent of the Governor-General and is now part of the law of the land. It will be enforced accordingly, and the patriotism and good sense of the people can be relied upon to support it. Resistance to its enforcement, however by word or deed must and will be repressed, as submission to any other law in force must be.

Reinforcements under the Military Service Act

Immediately required

It is the intention of the Government immediately to exercise the power which the Act confers and to call out men for military service in order to provide reinforcements for the Canadian forces. The numbers necessary since the military authorities report that the reserves available there to digit for reinforcements have practically been exhausted, this will be taken.

First call limited to men between 20 and 34 who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6, 1917

The present call will be limited to men not in the schedule of exemptions who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6, 1917, are at least twenty years of age, and were born on or since January 1st, 1893. Of this class all will be entitled to conditional exemption whose services in their present occupations, agricultural, industrial or other, are essential in the national interest, and whose business or domestic responsibilities are such that undue hardship would ensue if their services be required. Conscientious objection would be based upon a profession of conscientious service by the articles of faith of the religious denomination to which such man belongs as a standard. The men so selected to serve will consequently be those who can be called upon with the least disturbance of the social order and life of the country.

Civil Tribunals to deal with exemptions

Questions of exemption will be determined, not by the military authorities or by the Government, but by civil tribunals composed of representative men who are familiar with local conditions in the respective districts in which they will act. These tribunals will consider the claims of the economic and family reasons which these various cases raise before deciding whether they will grant their services and who will be able to serve with the least possible injury to the social and economic life of the community. The Provincial Appellate Tribunals constituted from the existing judiciary of the respective provinces and provided to correct mistakes made by Local Tribunals, and a Central Appeal Tribunal for the whole of Canada, selected from among the present judges of the Supreme Court of Canada will be constituted in order that identical principles may be applied throughout the country. In this way each case will receive careful and fair and full consideration of his circumstances and the national requirements both civil and military.

Proclamation will announce the day

A proclamation will issue calling out the bachelors and widowers referred to in paragraph (a) of section 9 (1) and requiring them to report for service to the military authorities unless he has before that day made an application for exemption.

How to apply for exemption

Applications for exemption may be made by notices notice on forms which will be available at every post office, and will be transmitted free of postage. They will not, however, be required to be made in this way, but may be presented by the applicants in person to the exemption tribunals. The cases of those who have given written notice in advance will take precedence, and appearance in person will therefore be likely to involve considerably more inconvenience and delay to the man concerned, so that it is recommended that advantage be generally taken of the facilities for written application.

Exemption Tribunals in all parts of Canada

The local exemption tribunals will be constituted with the least delay possible, consistent with the selection of representative individuals to compose them, and the instruction of the members in their duties. There will be more than one tribunal in each of such districts throughout Canada, each, consisting of two members, one of whom will be nominated by a Joint Committee of Parliament, and the other by one of the judges of the existing Courts. Every effort will be made by the wide distribution of tribunals, and by premises where necessary for their sitting, in more than one place, to minimize the inconvenience to which men will be put in attending the discussion of their cases.

A Registrar will be appointed in each Province, who will be named by the Government, and to whom all applications may be addressed. Each Provincial Registrar will transmit to the tribunals the applications for exemption which have been submitted in advance of the sittings, and men who have failed to fill out the application will be notified by tribunals until notified to do so. Other applicants should attend personally on the tribunal without notice.

How to report for service

Men who do not desire to claim exemption will report to the military authorities for service either by mail or in person at the time of the first issue of the proclamation. Forms of report by mail will be issued by all post offices, and, like applications for exemption, will be transmitted free of postage.

Early report advantageous

It is true that reports for service will, although to may be cordially examined and passed as fit, be required to go into camp or join a battalion until after a day fixed by the parliamentary committee for the hearing and the disposition by the local tribunals of cases, if not all, of the applications for exemption which may cause before them. But such reports for service will be gained by delaying or disadvantage incurred by prompt report for service on the part of those who do not intend to apply for exemption.

Facilities for immediate medical examination

Immediately upon the issue of the proclamation, medical boards will be at every mobilization centre for the purpose of examining all men who report for service or who, subject to their right within the time limited to apply for exemption, may be called upon to undergo physical examination. Any man who may desire on the ground of physical disability, or to have definitely and in advance whether he will be required to report for service, may apply for examination at the nearest military station named by the Medical Board in the area concerned without any further investigation by exemption tribunals unless they sit. Men found physically fit who have not reported for service may nevertheless apply for exemption on any of the prescribed grounds, including even their physical condition if dissatisfied with the Medical Board's conclusion.

Notice to join the colors

As reinforcements are required, notice to report to the nearest mobilization centre will be given from time to time to the men found liable and passed as fit for service. Desertion or absence without leave will render the offender liable to punishment, but punishment for failure to report for military service, or to appear subsequently for duty when called upon, will be imposed exclusively by the civil magistrates; offenders, however, will remain liable for the performance of their military duties and to undergo any civil punishment which may be imposed and will be liable to military punishment in cases in which civil proceedings are not taken.

Watch for the Proclamation

Notice of the day appointed for the making of a claim for exemption, or for report for military service will be published as widely as possible, but, as no personal notice can be given until the individuals called out have so reported themselves or claimed exemption, men possibly concerned are warned to inform themselves with regard to the day fixed, since neglect may involve the loss by them of important privileges and rights.

Minister of Justice.

Canada Held Up As an Example

Duke of Connaught Tells London Chamber of Commerce of Commercial Education

The Duke of Connaught who, at the Mansion House distributed the prizes awarded by the London Chamber of Commerce for commercial education, said that the war had led to the re-organization of trade; that was the first thing to be considered, how shall we re-organize trade, how can we place it on a more satisfactory basis than ever before? During the last few years he spent in Canada he was much impressed by the great interest the people there took in the education of the young for commercial purposes.

He did not know any more important work than for giving as valuable education to those who were going to take a leading part in the commercial life of a country. In the past, he ventured to think, they had been somewhat neglectful of the importance of this. They heard—and he was sure they heard it with regret that only twenty-five years ago half of the clerks in the city of London were foreigners and, in many cases, ignorant foreigners. He was glad to learn from Lord Rothmere that they were now reducing the [illegible] to reduce to nil. Liquor Put In Egg Shells For Sale to the Returned Soldiers

CHARGE MADE BY RECEPTION COMMITTEE AND TEMPERANCE ORGANIZATION AT HALIFAX

Halifax, Oct. 17.—The alleged sale of liquor to soldiers coming here from hospital ships has caused the returned soldiers reception committee and temperance organization to demand action by the authorities. According to members of the reception committee, there was a $30 bootlegger plying his trade in Halifax who smuggled liquor to soldiers aboard the hospital ships by packing it in egg shells. The eggs, being white, looked like the ordinary article, but the authorities arranged that a test case should be made. It is charged that a man who was employed on the hospital ships purchased a dozen eggs and, on returning ashore, sold them to soldiers at $10 each. The eggs contained liquor, and the authorities arranged that a test case should be made. MAKING THE KHAKI FROM SHEEP TO MAN

Many Processes Necessary Before the Wool is Ready for the Wearer

Since the beginning of the war khaki has been turned out of the looms, not by the thousands, but by the millions of yards. Here in a brief space prior of how khaki cloth is actually made. When the wool leaves the shearing shed it is sent to the nearest market, and from there thousands of bales find their way to spinning mills. When the wool enters the factories it must be sorted, as all sheep are not the same, and the different qualities as may be required are brought right from the backs of the sheep to the wool mills. Here the wool is washed, after which it is placed in huge bowls filled with soap and water. It is then dried, combed by the process known as carding, and spun into yarn. The yarn is then woven into cloth, which is afterwards dyed by the process known as piece dyeing. Many sheep are in the wool, the most usual colors are white and dusty brown.

Carded into Ribbon

It is then bundled into big wicker baskets and taken to the carding room. A "card" is woollen factories is a machine which again tears the wool into finer pieces and separates the fibres. Which are turned into ribbon by the carding machine. The ribbon is wound in every direction, so that it will be of equal strength when coming out. In the spinning room it is finally drawn out and twisted into the form of yarn. Then comes the weaving, which is a rather complicated operation, winds the weft (which consists of wool) into a large bobbin.

From the carding room these bobbins are sent to the weaving room. Several kinds of wool are put into one cloth and it is then combed and washed according to the form. During the washing process a certain amount of shrinkage takes place. The cloth is then taken to the wool finishers.

Process Known as Fulling

When the cloth is received it is known as "grey cloth," which is taken to the dyeing room, where the different shades are obtained. After dyeing the cloth is sent to be re-combed and is then ready for the next dressing process, during which the fibres are raised, giving a fine wool into a soft pile to it.

After leaving the dressing room the wool now known as "cardigan" is ready for the cutting room. Here it is accurately measured and cut to the correct size and shape. The next process is that of pressing, which is a big heavy machine with an enormous weight. Here the cloth is laid between sheets of paper and pressed for a long time. It is then ready for the finishing room, where it is examined for any defects, which are then repaired. The cloth is then ready for the market.

Brown Rules at Present

When the war commenced it is known as light khaki, which was taken to the Boer War. Then came the present shade—brown. Experiments were made with the khaki, but it was found impossible to obtain the right shade to harmonize with the various colors of the different regiments. The best shade was then decided upon, and the present shade is a big success. Many experiments have been made in order to obtain a suitable material for soldiers' uniforms, and no doubt the present khaki cloth is simply perfect.

Chautauqua Festival At Viking, October 19, 20 and 22

DR. ELLIOTT A. BOYL

Dr. Elliott A. Boyl, who is to lecture on the last afternoon of the Chautauqua Festival, has become one of the most popular lecturers of the platform. He fires everyone who hears him with inspiration. He is a big man intellectually, treating the big things of life in a big manner.

His well-known lecture, which he will deliver at Chautauqua, "The Seen and Unseen," is a classic. It is a master analysis of human experience and aspiration by one who thoroughly knows humanity. Dr. Boyl traces with the sympathetic hand of an artist the dim but vital line of demarcation between the known and the unknown, knitting the two in their proper relationship of fundamental unity.

Dr. Boyl's lecture will make every man and woman, every boy and girl, better for having heard it. It is one of the real intellectual and inspirational treats of the festival. You will be thinking and talking about Dr. Boyl's message long after he has gone.

WAIKIKI HAWAIIAN QUINTET

Mark Twain, the great humorist, fell under the spell of Hawaiian music when he first visited the Hawaiian Islands, and on his return to this country said: "Their music, the most fascinating in the world, haunts me. I can still hear the pulsing of the surf at Waikiki, see the plums palms drowsing by the shore, the garlanded crags and leaping cascades; and the music fills me with the spirit of its woodland soft tunes."

Another world-traveller has said: "To hear a program of Hawaiian music is to hear a stringed song sermon of good cheer."

The Waikiki Hawaiian Quintet who will give two concerts on the closing day of the Chautauqua Festival, are native musicians of unusual ability. Their music is the witching voice of their island home. The harmonic pitch of the land, music and flowers—low company is in tune with their sweet and caressing.

The Hawaiians' program will present their native classic, together with a variety of songs in a lighter vein, representing these happy, childlike people at their best. They employ their various and unique stringed instruments, notably the ukelele and tarapatch and present with astonishing effect the steel method on the guitar. At Viking, October 19, 20, 22.

EYE SPECIALIST COMING

Dr. M. Mecklenburg, the eminent eye specialist, will again be at Tofield, on Saturday, November 17. He will also be in Holden, November 16, and in Camrose, November 19. While here he will make his headquarters at the Royal Alexandra. Don't fail to see him.

The Women's Missionary Society will hold their annual Thanksgiving offering on Thursday 4 p. m. Oct. 18 when Mrs. D. G. McQueen, Edmonton will give an address. All the ladies of the congregation are invited to be present.

Purchase Canadian Wheat.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 17—Half a million bushels of Canadian wheat has just been purchased by Frank L. Carey, local buyer for the government food administration grain corporation, to come to Minneapolis. This purchase is to bridge over a temporary shortage of the mills, and was made to fulfill an obligation on the part of the food administration. For the mills entered into an agreement with the government to purchase wheat of its representatives only, with the understanding that their needs would be supplied.

The 500,000 bushels just purchased is the first of what will be a large movement from Canada, unless supplies from Minnesota and Dakota farms increase materially in the near future.

This purchase of Canadian wheat demonstrates two points. First, the quality of Canadian wheat upon American wheat, and second that Canada can afford as well as in name, for the government has lifted its embargo on exports to the States in order to provide wheat when requested.

Western Canada has a wheat crop this season of over 200,000,000 bushels, which affords a surplus [illegible] roads to carry to the ports before the close of navigation [illegible] Canada nowadays and there is no [illegible] and [illegible] Canada is the most available source for that wheat. Small amounts of Australian flour last week indicate the commercial trend.

The statement has frequently been made that the northwestern farmer, feeling the price of wheat is [illegible] to him, is in no hurry to market his crop. Yet considering the situation briefly outlined in the foregoing, in connection with the fact that the price is not fixed, and the further proposition that it [illegible] should end in the near future there would be no support to prices, the farmer finds himself on a different position.

Present prices are not guaranteed. Should peace unexpectedly arrive, American wheat would compete on the world's markets with the surplus of Russia, India, Australia and Canada.

The [illegible] to be facing a [illegible] That is, he can now sell his wheat on a No. 1 basis for No. 1 Northern in Minneapolis, with no prospect of getting more, while if he waits [illegible] he may be compelled to take [illegible] less.

The Ford is Now Considered a Necessity for Large-Scale Farming

WHETHER you are doing work on a large scale, or a small scale, you endeavor to reduce the delays of your farm machinery to a minimum and save time. A Ford will assist you in doing these two things.

If your tractor runs short of gasoline, the Ford will bring a few cans right to the spot and greatly shorten the delay. Or if you need a repair, or some new plow points, you can "run" the errand to town and back in one-third the time it would take with a horse and rig.

With a Ford you can supervise the work on your ranch much more thoroughly. You can get your mail and supplies oftener, and take more enjoyment out of prairie life. A Ford will do all these things and many more, and at the same time save you money.

The strength and endurance of the Ford has been proved the world over. It is equal to the western roads and the distances.

The Ford is the car for the Western Farmer.

Likewise a man with red hair should always try and find a bright scarlet or yellow tie.

Did you ever see a fat man dig potatoes?

Did you ever notice a man that is going to propose? He always gets a chair on the other side of the room, smiters a while to himself, paces the floor, refers to the high cost of living, pulls all the braid off the bed sofa cushion looks right at the end Then he rises, tells her that he has something on his mind, ends up by consulting the weather, grabs her hand and swings it up and down like a hammer. After that we don't know any more about it. But the next act should be better if the girl takes a hand.

Last week the writer of this column got on a train and fell in the arms of a bunch of W. C. T. U. delegates. During the conversation that ensued, one of them opined that we contemplated matrimony, and with all the wisdom of her sex, proceeded to unfurnish considerable advice. To tell the absolute truth about the matter, we fled at odd times five minutes to spare between spasms of writing squirrel food, and it gets so doggone dull during those brief periods that we might be driven to any extreme. It might be a go with us, but where can we find a female so desperate?

Big Meeting in Ryley Tomorrow

Observer Proposes to Nominate Union Win-the-War Candidate In Joint Convention of Old Parties

The Observer has no apologies to offer in attempting to deal openly and fairly with the political situation existing in the Dominion Electoral District of Victoria. This is a time for plain speaking and we have an idea that the average elector whose mind is not taken up with the success of this or that party will appreciate a few seasonable words. We do not expect party extremists to agree with us. On the one hand the Liberals will feel that we are inclined to concede too much to the Conservatives; while on the other hand the Conservatives will resent some of the suggestions which we are making in black and white.

The formation of the Union Government at Ottawa has rendered null and void all the previous preparations made in 1916 for a campaign in this constituency. In 1915 the situation was tolerably clear. The old party lines existed. G. P. Smith was duly nominated as Liberal candidate, and Frank P. Layton was selected as Conservative standard-bearer. In due course it was expected that a campaign based on former party lines would be conducted.

Events of the past two weeks have set at naught all those plans. Not only has the Union Government been formed (of which more will be said later on) but George P. Smith has resigned his candidacy having accepted the portfolio of Provincial Secretary in the Stewart Government. Not to be caught napping when resignations are in order, Frank P. Layton has also resigned as Conservative candidate.

The field is therefore clear for a Union Government candidate and it is in connection with this that the Observer advances its suggestions.

To come straight to the point, the Observer proposes that a joint convention of the Liberals and Conservatives of this district of Victoria be held and a Union Win-the-War candidate be duly selected, this candidate to have the undivided support of the Liberal and Conservative associations throughout the district.

Can this be done? It can, providing both sides are willing to make concessions. And to emphasize this point we have been informed that the Conservatives are quite willing to concede the only point which could be reasonably asked of them. If they are willing to make this concession it will afford proof of their sincerity to their professed win-the-war principles.

In short, the Conservatives should be asked to support a Union candidate whose political affiliations have hitherto been Liberal. It is not an unreasonable request in view of both present and past political conditions in this district. The whole political history of the district has been bound up with the Liberals. Prior to 1908, the district, then named Strathcona, was represented by the late Dr. McIntyre. In 1908, W. H. White became member for Victoria and he was re-elected in 1911. The Victoria Mr. White represented is quite different from the Victoria of today, but the southern end of the present district of Victoria has been represented by James M. Douglas of Strathcona. In Dominion matters therefore the district has always been Liberal.

In a provincial way it may be pointed out that every electoral provincial division or part thereof save one, included in the Dominion Electoral District of Victoria is represented by Liberals; George P. Smith, member for Camrose; J. R. McCallum for Vegreville; Frank Walker for Victoria, Andrew Shandro for Whitford; Charles Stewart for Lodgewick; A. L. Sifton for Vermilion; and it is hardly necessary to take into account the small portions of the provincial electoral divisions of Strathcona, Leduc and Wetaskiwin, which are included in Victoria, but of these two, three, Strathcona is the only one having a Conservative representative in the local house.

We feel that we have proved the case for the selection of a Union candidate of Liberal affiliations.

What, then, would the Liberals be asked to concede?

They would be expected to concede the point that the Union member should give the Union Government his entire support on matters relating to the war. Having done that, he

Public Meeting at Ryley Tomorrow Night

Prominent Speakers Will be There and Discuss Victory Bonds for Your Benefit.

Every business man and farmer that can possibly get a car or find room in one should attend the big Victory Loan Meeting in Ryley tomorrow night. Those who cannot find a way to go should phone A. J. H. McCauley or T. P. Newbigging, and they will be glad to arrange transportation. Those who have cars to place at the disposal of the local committee kindly phone the secretary, A. J. H. McCauley. Everybody must go and hear prominent speakers talk on Victory Bonds. People are constantly asking the question how can they help win the war. Be at the meeting tomorrow night.

Through the purchase of Victory Bonds every one can help. No more patriotic duty can be performed by those who cannot fight upon the field of battle than to furnish the government with the necessary money to enable it to give our brave soldiers all they require to make them strong for the fight and capable of winning a swift victory over our enemies.

C. A. Lott Died in Edmonton on Saturday

Died at his home in Edmonton on Saturday, October 27, 1917, C. A. Lott, aged 66 years and 7 months.

About 2 years ago Mr. Lott moved from Pawnee, Okla. where he had farmed successfully for years, to live in Saskatchewan. After a years residence in that province he moved to Edmonton to make what he intended should be his future home. After a short illness he died leaving a wife, four sons and three daughters to mourn his loss. His daughters, Mrs. J. Bowick, Mrs J. Hoisting and Miss Sadie Lott reside in Tofield. Two sons, L. and R. Lott live in Saskatchewan. Harry Lott is farming in Oklahoma, and Kenneth is going to school and finishing a law course in Minnesota.

The body was shipped to Tofield for burial and the funeral service was conducted by Rev. Alex Stewart at the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

To the Electors of the Dominion Electoral District of Victoria.

Vegreville, Oct. 29, 1917.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

At the solicitation of numerous influential and representative men of Victoria Electoral district, representing both the Liberal and Conservative parties, I have consented to allow my name to go before the Liberal Convention to be held at Tofield on November 6 as a prospective candidate for the house of Commons of Canada, in the interests of the Union Government recently formed. If honored with the nomination at this convention I shall then approach the Conservative Association of the District asking their endorsement also as a Unionist candidate.

I have no special claims to your considerations nor am I unduly ambitious to become a member of the House of Commons, but with the elections now only a few short weeks away, it becomes the duty of every citizen to hold himself ready for every call on him, even if such readiness involves considerable personal sacrifice.

It must be evident to all that Canada's share in the war requires much bolstering up to keep it as effective in the future as it has been during the past. The political conditions existing on the country for the past year have been such as to preclude vigorous and sustained action on the part of the former government. For that reason the coalition or Union Government was formed comprising some of the best talent to be found on Canada, and it must be the hope of every loyal citizen that this Union Government shall measure up to its responsibilities. It can do so only if the people support Unionist candidates at the forthcoming elections.

My political affiliations have hitherto always been Liberal and on matters of civil legislation I could, therefore do nothing else but support progressive measures, but for the time being so long as the Union Government presents effective legislation and pursues an earnest, clear course in war matters I would be bound to support it.

I am strongly in favor of strict supervision of all war contracts to prevent undue profits being made by the men who have hitherto added to their wealth by taking advantage of the needs of their country. I would favor measures to force the restitution to the people of the wealth unjustly taken from them by the big business interests. So far as "conscription of wealth" can be converted into words into action, I would favor such action, to the fullest possible extent.

The limitations of time and space do not permit me to venture further at this time into matters of public interest, but should I be honored

It is not chewed, but it is the most economical chew. It is the most delicious chew. It is the most satisfying chew. It is the most refreshing chew. It is the most invigorating chew. It is the most delightful chew. It is the most delicious chew. It is the most satisfying chew. It is the most refreshing chew. It is the most invigorating chew. It is the most delightful chew.

Copenhagen Chewing Tobacco is the most delicious chew. It is the most satisfying chew. It is the most refreshing chew. It is the most invigorating chew. It is the most delightful chew.

"It's the most economical chew."

BUY A VICTORY BOND.

There is soon to be offered to the Canadian people a new issue of bonds that shall be known as Canada's Victory loan. These bonds will be issued in such denominations and upon such terms that every patriotic citizen will have an opportunity to assist the government by lending his money upon the security of a Canadian government bond.

It is essential to the success of the war and to the support of our gallant troops that these loans shall not only be subscribed but oversubscribed. No one is asked to give his money to the government, but everyone is asked to loan his money to the government. The loans will be repaid in full with interest at the rate of 5 1-2 percent per annum.

A government bond is the safest investment in the world. It is on one hand, as good as currency because it is backed by the unconditional faith and credit of the Dominion of Canada.

Help win the war by furnishing the men with the money and supplies needed to make them strong in battle.

OUR SOLDIERS FIGHT TO PROTECT–

Our soldiers fight to protect our democratic institutions and our sovereignty as a nation against the menace of a powerful and ruthless military autocracy headed by the German Kaiser, whose ambition is to dominate the world.

They fight for peace for that just and lasting peace which agonized and tortured humanity craves,and which not the sword nor the bayonet of a military despot, but the supremacy of vindicated right alone can restore to a distracted world.

You cannot enlist, but you can assist with your money. The Kaiser started this, buy a Victory Bond and help finish it.

VICTORY BONDS SAVE SOLDIERS.

Victory Bonds save soldiers. Are you going to save a soldier? Are you going to help push the Kaiser off the earth with the aid of a few dollars? You are not asked to give your money, merely loan it to the government who will sell you a bond that pays interest at the rate of 5 1-2 percent. A bond that can be bought in such denominations,that every patriotic citizen can afford to take at least one. Farmers who enjoy unheard of prices through war time circumstances are urged to buy these bonds. It is their patriotic duty to do so.

Four-Piece Orchestra Will Play for Dance

Zip and pep are the only words we have to describe the music and lairee to be held on Friday, Nov. 2nd, in the Variety. It will be a real old fashioned after harvest dance, where everybody comes and meets everybody else, and have the time of their lives. Should you fail to come you can prepare yourself for a disappointment, especially when your best friends talking about it the next day. The Ryley four piece orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. G. Brooke, have been engaged to play. When we say this much we have said enough. The theatre is going to be scrubbed and hired up for the event. The floor will be so smooth that you won't be able to resist if you ever look inside the door.

The Best Farm or Ranch Car

YOU would replace your "general utility" team with a powerful, sturdy, Ford car at once, we believe, if you but figured the matter out carefully.

The Ford is especially suited to western conditions and your needs. It is equal to rough roads, big loads and long distances. These are the very tests to which you will put your car.

A Ford will run your errands for repairs, grease, mail and countless other necessities quickly and cheaply. It will save you weeks of time and money. It will be one of your best investments. It will make prairie life more enjoyable. You need a car and need it badly. The Ford is the utility car for the Western Farmer.

would be left to exercise his discretion on matters of civil legislation, always, however, bearing in mind that embarrassing the Government in civil legislation might very easily in case of a closely divided House of Commons result in the defeat of the Government, which for the time being would be most unfortunate, especially if the Government is really doing good work in war matters.

On the basis outlined, what is to hinder the parties getting together, putting a good man into the field, and electing him by a thumping majority over all comers? There is absolutely nothing to hinder it except mutual distrust and attempts to jockey the constituency for party advantage.

The Observer is not particularly enamored of the Union Government scheme, especially under Sir Robert Borden. But Union Government is an accomplished fact, and a Union Cabinet is at any rate, and we cannot see the slightest use in this constituency of Victoria setting itself in opposition to the Union. Sir Robert Borden has been accepted as Prime Minister, and it may be that under the happier auspices of a Union Cabinet he may develop qualities of statesmanship which have not been evident before. In that respect we can hope for the best.

The Case of J. W. Leedy

A disturbing element in the southern end of the district is the candidacy of J. W. Leedy, who is out under the auspices of the Non-Partisan League. So far he has not seriously invaded the northern part, but, sooner or later, he will be in touch with his patent political name. We haven't paid much attention to Mr. Leedy, but it must be apparent to every thinking man that he is a tool of some other whose sole interest in Victoria consists in the hope of being elected. Mr. Leedy is a political charlatan, who has bobbed from party to party wherever the bobbing was profitable. He made a number of things as Governor of his native Kansas, and in a ville Observer.

Conservatives Will also Convene

Following upon the announcement of the formation of a Union Government, Frank P. Layton, Conservative candidate in Victoria, placed his resignation in the hands of the executive of the Conservative Association. The Association took steps looking toward the nomination of a Unionist candidate and a convention has been called for that purpose to be held in Camrose on November 6th.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Haines, Mrs. Walter Barnes and Mrs. Lu[illegible] motored to Edmonton last Sunday to [illegible] Mrs. Haines' parents, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Sundale.

political sense, he left his roundly for his country's good.

The Observer hopes that none of the farmers within our sphere of influence will fall for the Non-Partisan asininity. The membership fee in the [illegible] League is $15. Our advice is to invest your $15, or better still to invest in a ten-year subscription to the Vegreville Observer and get something for your money.

Lastly is simply foisting himself out on a constituency which [illegible] wants to [illegible] him. If he sticks it out until election Victoria will bury him so deep that he will never be a resurrection for him.

Now Away with Your Prejudices

It must be admitted that party prejudices are hard to overcome but surely in the interests of Canada, in the interests of our constituency, we can get rid of them for the time, and put an influential man in the House of Commons at Ottawa.

A Liberal convention is called for November 6th at Tofield. A convention (labelled "Unionist") is called for November 6th at Camrose.

Call them both off, and hold a joint convention and nominate a Union Win-the-War candidate on the lines we have suggested.—From the Vegreville Observer.

"HEAD TO TOE OUTFITTERS"

Why does Canada Raise Money by Selling Bonds?

BONDS are issued payable in ten or twenty years, as the case may be. It means that repayment of the money will be spread over ten or twenty years instead of being raised by taxation to meet current expenditures.

To raise by taxation all the money as fast as it is needed to carry on Canada's share in winning the war, would be an unbearable burden upon the people.

It would mean that more than a million dollars a day would have to be raised right now.

But to raise money by selling Canada's Victory Bonds means that those of the [illegible] generation will benefit by the sacrifices they are now making.

[illegible] who will share in the freedom this generation is [illegible] largely paying for—will also pay their share.

And when you buy Canada's Victory Bonds you [illegible] lending money investment in a security that is also highly safe, likely to [illegible] in value after the war, and bearing a good rate of interest.

You help the country by keeping open the British markets for Canadian products and this helps the [illegible] of workers in which you share.

And again, every Canadian who buys a Victory Bond becomes a financial partner or backer of Canada in the war.

When you buy a Canada Victory Bond you give a personal pledge that you are going to help to win the war.

Every man and woman in Canada can help to win the war by buying Canada's Victory Bonds. And Canada wants the personal, individual interest and co-operation of every man and woman in the country.

The buying of Victory Bonds by the whole people unites them in a determination to win the war.

Every purchase of Canada's Victory Bonds is a blow for freedom against the tyranny of German Kultur.

Every bond sold is a new guarantee that Canada is in the war to the finish, until victory is with the Allies and the world has been made safe to live in.

Every bond you buy is a new pledge that Canada will remain true to herself, the Empire, the Allies and to freedom's cause.

So it is both patriotic and good business to Buy Canada's Victory Bonds

Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee in co-operation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada.

How Many Bonds Will You Buy?

Victory Loan Should Be Oversubscribed. The Government Needs the Money.

Have you made up your mind how much you are going to spend on Victory Bonds? It is about time that you were doing so. You might say that you cannot afford it, but we will say that you can't afford to be without one. You will be approached soon by canvassers that will tell you all about the bond and what security is behind it, how much you can afford to spend, and how much you will spend. If the war is going to be won, it will be won by your money, and every dollar that you lend to the Government, will be one more sent at the Kaiser. You must buy Victory Bonds or start learning to talk German. If the present high prices are to be paid for produce the Government must have the money to spend, and as you are the only one that has it, and a surplus at that, it is your patriotic duty to let the Government have it. The war was started by the Kaiser, and he knows whether you are behind your boys fighting at the front or not. He knows that if the $150,000,000 Victory Loan isn't oversubscribed that the soldiers will falter in their task. If it doesn't sound like a good investment, then you may consider it your patriotic duty. Buy Victory Bonds and win the war.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sheane Entertain the High School Pupils

A Hallowe'en party with all the frills and ghost stories was given to the pupils of the High School on Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Sheane entertained the pupils until 1 o'clock with parlor games and other forms of amusement. A light lunch was served by the hostess and the children went home with the feeling that they had been amply satisfied both inside and out. One of the pupils, on being interviewed by an Advertiser representative, said that he had the time of his life, and the principal cure knew what kids liked.

Variety Notes.

Don't forget that the management of the Variety is always planning good stuff for the movie fans, and the latest thing in filmdom is the advance of the tanks. It is coming soon, and you want to remember the date. In the meantime don't overlook the Bluebird features that is being shown every Wednesday night. These pictures are the latest and best, and if you miss seeing them you will regret it. They are brought here at considerable cost by the management. Come out and be a live movie fan.

W. H. White Receives Unanimous Support of the Liberal Convention

Dance Last Week Was a Success

Ryley Orchestra Provided Excellent Music for the Affair Held the Wee Hours.

When you mention dances you must mention the gay time that we all had at the Variety last Friday evening. Don't say evening either, for it lasted till most people are out milking their cows. The Ryley Orchestra was there in force, and with the reputation they brought with them they had to go some to keep the fifty couples satisfied. But they delivered the goods and Leader Brooke sawed with a good will, and the horns tooted till there wasn't a toot left. Miss Agnes Thorsley made her initial appearance with the orchestra, and left the impression that she can play a piano. To say that we had a good time would be putting it mildly. We had the time of our lives, and we were there in force, so we may speak with authority. When will there be another one, well, soon we hope.

Boxing Match in Sight.

A boxing match will be held in Tofield soon to decide whether H. G. Thunell is really the best boxer on the Grand Trunk. His clean-cut methods of handling Danny Harriman won him quite a name among the sporting fraternity. Out of the noise and smoke of discussion appears redheaded Johnny Gray, with enough fight in his system to lick Thunell if the aristocratic welder of the mitts can be coaxed into the ring. Johnny opines quite modestly and rightly, so that he can give Thunell quite a run for his money. The boys have been approached to box in Tofield, and that a percentage be given to the Red Cross. Several other bouts are being cooked up, and it looks as though we will have a fracas on our hands worth looking at. Thunell is no slouch with the mitts, and he has an opponent that packs a punch in both hands, something that he worked up this summer in the harvest fields. We would sure like to see them together.

Married.

Friends of Morris Mitchell and Miss Ray were taken by surprise last Tuesday when the young couple were quietly married in Camrose. After a short honeymoon and a visit with friends in Bardo they drove to the groom's farm where the happy pair will start housekeeping. The young folks of the district gathered on Tuesday night for an old fashioned charivaree and to wish the couple good luck.

HON. FRANK OLIVER STRONG FOR LAURIER'S MANIFESTO

Split in Convention Will Mean Conscriptionist Candidate in the Scrap.

Following an endorsement of the manifesto of the Liberal leader and the war resolution of the convention of Western Liberals at Winnipeg, a convention of Liberal delegates for the Federal riding of Victoria selected William Henry White, of Fort Saskatchewan, who represented the constituency from 1911 until the dissolution, as the Liberal candidate in the coming election.

The convention was attended by 159 delegates, and as many visitors. It was one the largest crowds seen in Tofield since the wild gas days. The convention was presided over by Wm. Clements, of Vegreville.

After a committee had been appointed to draw up the resolutions to be submitted, Hon. Frank Oliver addressed the delegates, particularly criticising the Borden government for its passing of the disfranchisement act. On the conscription question he said that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been one of the original advocates of it, and was in favor of it still, if it were endorsed by the people. As to his own attitude, Mr. Oliver recalled that he was the first member to propose conscription in parliament, but not until the people of the country had voted in favor of it and not conscription of men only, but of all the resources of the country needed to win the war.

Allen Stuart, K. C., also spoke and directed the attention of the delegates to the injutious character of the legislation in regard to the C.N.R deal.

The nomination of candidates was then proceeded with and five named: E. H. Malcolm, Killam; R. D. Fleming, Camrose; A. T. Stewart, Holden; Dr. D. F. Connolly, Mundare, and William Henry White, Fort Saskatchewan.

Messrs. Malcolm, Fleming and Stewart withdrawing, a vote was taken as between Mr. White and Dr. Connolly, the former receiving 64 and Dr. Connolly 59.

The nomination was made unanimous, and in accepting, Mr. White came out straight as a supporter of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the policies he stood for as leader of the Liberal party.

Before voting took place a number of delegates withdrew and held a meeting of their own, choosing Messrs. Malcolm and Fleming and Jas. B. Holden of Vegreville as their nominees to be submitted to the Convention to be held at Camrose today.

Kids Had Good Time.

The kids got away with Hallowe'en alright, and they all dumped over several buildings or more or less importance. They left every movable thing in Main Street for innocent pedestrians trip over, as well as tick-tacking on your windows and playing tunes with resined string. It was a hilarious night, but they still feel that Hallowe'en should come twice a year, as there is still a little more damage to be done. Someone kindly left a sign in front of our sanctum that we will be pleased to convert into kindling wood.

School Opens.

The new Tofield public school is at last a reality and the children are proudly trudging to the new edifice to absorb the knowledge handed out by an efficient staff of teachers. The second building is much better laid out than the one destroyed by fire. It is a credit to a hard working school board and to the patient rate payers who are looking into and providing for the future.

A report apparently without foundation is being circulated that Pte. Tom Whitmore has died of wounds. His name appeared recently in the casualty lists as dangerously wounded. Mr. Whitmore was formerly photographer here and quite well known in the town and district.

Hallowe'en Party Lindbrook School

Lindbrook School Scene of Lively Evening. Excellent Program and Games.

The Lindbrook school was the scene of a lively Hallowe'en party last Wednesday evening, when the whole neighborhood and a number of town people gathered to enjoy the fine programme and amusement sprovided by the teacher, Miss Jessie Hopgood. The weather was ideal, with a perfect moon for ghost games. The party broke up about midnight after a most enjoyable time.

Love Liar Coming.

Crane Wilbur is coming in his great sociological drama "The Love Liar" next Saturday.

In this story, written by Crane Wilbur, as a means of giving full expression to his splendid talents as an actor of strong dramatic roles, he has created a character of unusual interest. As David McCarty, the love liar, he is a musical genius, the idol of society, artistic, temperamental and erratic, cordially hated by the men and soulfully worshipped by the ladies. He gives a masterful interpretation of the role which can best be explained in his own words. "A love liar is a man (or woman—it is a question which is the more deadly of the species, the male or female, but in this case it is the male) who imagines himself in love with every pretty face he sees; a man who unconsciously tells so many love-lies that he finally believes them himself." Around this interesting character of his own invention, Mr. Wilbur has built a strong gripping story in which he finally falls desperately in love with a beautiful woman who not only fails to return his love but causes him to face a tragedy in his own life which steals any for which he has been responsible in his remarkable career as a fickle lover.

Don't miss THE LOVE LIAR—it is the most interesting drama of the season and Crane Wilbur's most artistic success.

Anniversary Service.

Rev. Principal Dyde, Robertson College, Edmonton will conduct anniversary services in St. Andrews church next Sunday 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Those who had the privilege of hearing Dr. Dyde at the inaugural meeting of Canadian club will be pleased to know that he is coming to Tofield again. This will probably be Tofield's last chance of hearing Dr. Dyde as he is under appointment to the principalship of Queen's College, Kingston and will leave for the east sometime during next year. There will be special music rendered at both services.

Mrs. Geo. F. Shaw is conducting a rooming house on Main Street in the building formerly occupied by Chas. Mah Wait. The rooms are neat and clean and the proprietress invites your inspection.—adv

Tofield Will Have Live Bible Class

Rev. Bowen Speks of Great Need of Well Organized Class and Asks For Co-Operation.

Tofield is to have a Bible school or class soon. In fact the organization of this class is already under way. The object is to advance the religious, social and intellectual life of the young people of the town. Rev. Bowen, in his talk at the Methodist church last Sunday evening, devoted considerable time explaining the idea of this organization. It is something that is very much needed, and something that will act as the backbone of the church itself. From it will spring social activities and other societies that are also needed. With the long winter nights at hand, what is better than a good literary and debating society. Money might be raised for the church this way, and at the same time provide a meeting place for the young folks. Rev. Bowen stated that he would like to see all the young folks attend next Sunday at 11 a.m., and push this idea to completion. It would n't hurt for old and young alike to attend and all get busy. A Bible class can be made to handle old folks as well as young, and still be made to take in the young children in their teens. Miss Muriel Goodison is the teacher at present, and has the endorsement of the Sunday School superintendent. Why not all turn out and give it a lift?

The Weather Man Is on the Job and Skating Has Started

Winter is at hand and everyone is more or less discontented. We must provide some sort of amusement soon, and the skating rink seems the only place. Freezing weather is with us, and while not good enough to make ice, there is hopes of it soon coming. The writer is very well aware that a lot of delay is experienced each year in making ice, and that everything is left the last minute. Why wait till Christmas to skate when you can get at it the first week in December? The curlers are planning an early start, and with the present booming that the curling game has received, they should be away at least a week earlier than last year. It simply means getting down to brass tacks and having things in shape when the time arrives to make the ice. Hockey games may be resorted in spite of the smallness of the rink, although they will savor of the old-time "shinny" [illegible] In spite of the cramped quarters the kids are planning a good season. Let's get busy and start with Old Man Winter.

A. L. Horton, editor of the Vegreville Observer was in town Convention Day and seemed quite "het up".

The Oldest Written Word

An Investigator Says It Is Thelg, Balg, or Tak, Meaning Ice or Snow

In an editorial discussion of the oldest written word The Interstate Medical Journal declares it to be a word meaning ice or snow, which at various places takes the sound of thelg, balg, and tak. Here is the writer's argument.

"How many, if asked what is the oldest written word found in an ex- tant document and still in use—to- mark you, the oldest root—would an- swer correctly? ARE YOU INTERESTED?

A. A. Story, our local J.P., has a plan to start a public library in this town, that he says worked out splendid in Dakota, and as the long evenings are at hand when good, inexpensive reading would be appreciated, he proposes to start the ball rolling. He stated that almost everybody has at least one or more books that are in good shape that they would be glad to give as payment for a membership card. A membership card would be worth $1.00, but could be paid for in books. A member would be allowed to borrow any book in the library for a period of 10 days or less. The money collected this way could be used for buying new books or adding to the library in the way of periodicals, etc. Several hundred books might soon be gathered up if the proper spirit was applied. A meeting might be called to consider this proposition. The regular travelling library supplied by the Alberta University could be used as well. This is something that can easily be looked into at once.

START SOMETHING.

It has been suggested in this sanctum at odd times, what a nice thing it would be if we only had a little more of the real social life among the younger people. Suggestions of every description have been made and from them we gather that a good live young peoples society or literary club that would take up debating would be a good scheme. It seems that time hangs heavily on young hands during the long winter nights and that something should be done to relieve this. A club such as suggested could easily develop into a sort of social mainstay. What good times might be planned if all got together and organized. The club or society could be useful and through their social activities and different functions money might be raised for charitable purposes. Last winter a young peoples society thrived here and the members tell of the good times spent together during meeting hour. But why not have a society that both young and old could have a hand in and enjoy.

Will Class One Provide The One Hundred Thousand Men?

It will be greatly to the advantage, of Canada if the entire quota of 100,000 men to be raised under the Military Service Act can be secured from the first class; that is, from the men between the ages of 20 and 34 who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6th, 1917.

This is almost self-evident for the following reasons:

It is admitted that, between the ages of 20 and 34, the average man is at the height of his physical strength and is most adaptable to the changes of conditions from civilian life;

the military services of unmarried men and widowers without children would occasion less distress than that of most others, since they are largely without dependents. Also, it would entail less financial burden for Canada, through separation allowances, etc.

Authorities assume that, after all proper exemptions have been allowed, Canada should be able to produce from the first class 100,000 men fit for service, as the drain upon the man power of the country will not be severe.

Members of Class One will be well advised to present themselves for examination immediately to the Medical Board in their district. Upon examination as to their physical fitness, they will be placed in one of the following categories:

Category A—If fit for service in overseas fighting units.
Category B—If fit for service overseas in Army Medical Corps, Forestry Battalion, etc.
Category C—If fit for service in Canada only.
Category E—If unfit for military service of any nature.

If not placed in Category A, the applicant will know that he is not liable for immediate service, but will go to the Post Office and send in a claim for exemption with his Medical Certificate attached, when he will receive in due course a certificate of exemption until those in his medical category are summoned for service.

Where a man, who is placed in category A, feels that exemption should be allowed, an application form can be secured from the postmaster. This form, when filled in, will be forwarded by the postmaster to the registrar of the district, and the applicant will be informed by mail as to the time and place of the consideration of his application by the Exemption Board.

Issued by The Military Service Council.

P. E. Anderson who was away to B. C. came back to spend a couple of weeks with his brother A. J. Anderson.

There seems to be a moral attached to the way "The Fickle Dane" has persisted with her tricks on the more recently wed couples. W. Glenn, Geo. Wentherill and Alex Morrow of Deville having lost cattle from poison. Dave Jones lost a horse. However, these are not the only ones to be hit. Leslie Rogers, J. Ellis, S. Sullivan, G. Westlake, J. Gray and H. Groubenott, north of Lindbrook also having lost cattle.

It was a peach of a night as we went out to the concert and social at the schoolhouse on Hallowe'en for a bit of fun.

Owing chiefly to the threshing the local element was not very well represented, but the "Old Man" found his way there alright. There was only one dance on the program, when one of the lanterns caught fire and Fred Wilde had the presence of mind to untie the cord and dance a jig on the blazing mash.

There was some laughter at the blind mans breakfast fight, in which one fellow seemed to think he was dusting on hair tonic. The entertainment part of it was that he could not see the joke. A hearty vote of thanks to Miss Jessie Hopgood for the trouble she had taken to make it a success and singing "she is a jolly good fellow" closed an enjoyable time in the wee small hours.

One face there was in particular we missed, the life and soul of every social gathering, and here let me voice the whole hearted sympathy of all in the district for Chas. Blake and the children in their bereavement.

What Will Canada's Answer Be?

OVER in the sodden trenches amid the bursting shells and the roar of artillery where Canada's boys are fighting and dying.

—they are waiting for Canada's answer when the sale of Victory Bonds begins.

CANADA'S soldiers expect that we at home will put up the millions they need to keep on fighting.

—the millions they must have to win Victory for freedom, home and Canada.

What answer will Canada make?

What answer will you make?

Shall it be said that Canada spares not her sons from the sacrifice of battle, yet withholds her dollars to give them victory?

Rather will it be said that Canada once more, for the fourth time in three years, cheerfully puts up her millions upon millions for the cause of freedom, righteousness and justice

Canada's answer must be,

—that the Canadian hand to the plow of Victory holds steadfast and firm.

—that Canada is in deadly earnest when she says the "last man and the last dollar."

That is the answer Canada will give to our boys in the trenches, our kinsmen in Britian, and our Allies everywhere.

That is the answer we will give to the Huns who thought and said that Canada would desert the Empire before she would fight or pay

Every bond you buy is an answer. Let the millions of answers from Canada's loyal men and women make a chorus of Victory to ring around the world.

People Must Get Behind the Victory Loan

Your Money Will be Used in Canada for War Purposes. The Investment is Safe, Sound and Convenient.

The people must get behind the Victory Loan. Blame our former losses were placed on the market new factors have entered into the situation. In previous loans United States investors took a considerable interest. Indeed, of the third loan the United States took approximately thirty-five millions. They cannot be induced on now to take a dollar's worth. They are having problems of their own in matters of finance. The favorable aspect in respect to the loan is that the country has plenty of money, more particularly in manufacturing and farming communities. The people of these communities are the ones who should be specially urged to buy Victory Bonds. In former loans, the small buyer had been notable by his absence. This is proven by the fact that not over one-half of one per cent. of our population participated in former issues, whereas over four per cent. of the people of the United States have purchased Liberty Loan. This is not a condition of which we may be proud. It is the personal duty of every man, woman and child in this country to buy war loan bonds, large or small, as their pockets allow, and if they do not then they are but helping the Kaiser by precipitating bad times upon themselves. The war industries of this country, and incidentally its prosperity cannot continue unless the people stand behind the Government with their money. The money is borrowed with the specific undertaking that it is utilized in Canada for war purposes. In other words it is borrowed from individuals by the Government to be spent at home and in natural process will stay home, to again go into our banks and other financial institutions, through having been paid out for materials, wages, etc.

It is confidently expected that the pending loan will be largely oversubscribed. Indeed, if it is not subscribed twice over there will be reason to be seriously disappointed.

RED CROSS PICTURE SHOW AND CONCERT ON MONDAY

Moving pictures, musical numbers, vocal selections and readings is what the Red Cross are planning for the people on Monday, November 19th. Manager Bellamy has leased the hall and a set of pictures to the Red Cross and the ladies have decided to add several other attractions. The prices are the same as to any movie show and will allow every one to attend. The show donated by Mrs. Hall will be disposed of that night. Come out and—"Help swell the Fund".

School Concert.

The new school will be formally opened to the public next Friday evening at 7.30, and all interested may visit the school until 8 o'clock. At 8.15 sharp the school children will entertain the visitors in the basement to a delightful evening of music, choruses, drills and playlets. The teaching staff have gone to considerable trouble to train the children for this event and heartily invite the public to attend this opening night.

Miss Dolly Lawes and Messrs. A. Hanson, Earl Lawes, D.C. Haworth and L. G. Dickson motored up from Viking to Edmonton. They stopped at the Royal Alex on Monday.

Obituary.

Mrs. Thos. J. Glenn died Saturday morning of last week. Mrs. Glenn had been ailing for a number of years but her illness took a more serious turn a few weeks ago. After a brave struggle she passed away peacefully at the age of 54 years. The deceased is survived by her husband and six sons, Wellington, Harry, Clarence, William, Nelson and Rege. The funeral service which was held on Sunday afternoon was conducted by the Rev. Alex Stewart.

Meeting.

Those who are interested in the formation of a Bible class in Tofield will kindly attend a meeting in the Methodist church tonight at 8 o'clock sharp. The bible class has received considerable impetus during the past week and if the interest displayed by the young folks can be taken as a sample of what the class will be, business should boom tonight. Be there.

Don't forget the cattle and horse sale in Tofield on Saturday, October 24th.

T. P. Newbigging motored to the capital on Monday.

VICTORY BOND CAMPAIGN

The Victory Bond campaign has settled down in real earnest in Tofield and district. The district is out to make a mark for others to shoot at and if the present gait keeps up the $200,000 that the local committee have promised themselves to sell will be an actual fact. Rogers Bros., a progressive firm within our gates have purchased a $5,000 bond. Geo. McLaughlin, the Ford man, has taken a $2,000 bond. Chas. Mah Watt, the patriotic gentleman who runs an eating house on Main Street, set a pace with $2,000. T. Chinneck, the town boot shaker, didn't wait to be canvassed but went straight to the secretary and bought a $500 bond. The committee have only started and no doubt there will be $5,000 bonds sold and even larger. As we go to press we learn that nearly $15,000 worth of bonds have been disposed off right in town during the first three days of the campaign.

The first thing anyone should do, in our opinion, is to get rid of the idea that there is any sacrifice involved in investing in this loan. It is true that the patriotic spirit is appealed to and it is equally true that a great and generous response is expected on that ground. But the new war loan is a straightway business proposition, safe, profitable and convenient. Every man and every woman with as much as fifty dollars to spare should own one of these new bonds, and not only that, should help show others the worth of these bonds by recommending them everywhere. The readers of this paper are among the most thrifty, prosperous and public spirited in the Dominion. When the subscriptions to the Victory Loan are added up from the various districts and subdistricts we expect them to show that this part of the province has set a mark that other districts in Alberta will look at with envious eyes. WE MUST SELL $200,000 WORTH OF VICTORY BONDS.

In the old days money was just as much the sinew of war as it is today. When an English monarch wanted money for a campaign or a crusade, he raised it by "forced loans." The common people seldom had any money; and if they had, they were relieved of it by taxation. Repayment was entirely a matter of royal caprice. Today all is changed. The people finance the war by lending money to the government at profitable interest, and preserve their savings as well as their future liberty. Democracy's system of co-operation is embodied in Canada's new "Victory Loan." Under it, the investor, wealthy or poor, provides the means of security for his country and his liberties, and is assured of a just return. It is a business proposition—safe, profitable and convenient in application.

VICTORY BOND MEETING IN THE VARIETY HALL

Jos. Ramsey and Chas. Darby Address Enthusiastic Gathering.

The canvassers for the sale of Victory Bonds in this district were tendered a banquet at the Royal Alex last Friday night by the local executive. After the supper the party proceeded to the Variety where the meeting was addressed by Chas. Darby and J. Ramsey, M. L. A., of the Victory Loan Executive, whose headquarters are in Edmonton. The meeting was more of an instructive nature intending to advise the canvassers how to proceed with the distribution of the bonds. Mrs. Coburn of Edmonton delighted the audience with three vocal selections.

Hard Time Dance.

A hard time dance will be pulled off on Friday, November 30. It will be strictly hard time and you must come in your old clothes or the Red Cross ladies may fine you. If you are pretty well dolled up it may cost you a lot of money. So come in your rags and enjoy a social evening. Good music will be provided and the Red Cross ladies will provide eats for you. There will be a guessing contest in connection. The admission price is 50c to everybody. It will be a 50c dance for you whether you are a man or woman. The dance will start at 10 o'clock sharp and finish when you are tired.

Boxing Show.

The boxing match spoken of in last week's issue is to be a reality and the fans who like to see some real milling will have the glad opportunity on Friday, December 7th. A plan of seats will be put on sale soon as possible and give every one a chance to get a good seat. The main feature on the card is a six-round go between H. G. Thornell of Viking and Johnny Gray of the Barda district. This should prove a good drawing card as Johnny has a reputation as a mauler. A good match between two featherweights, and two welterweights is being arranged and will be announced next week. The Red Cross will receive a percentage of the proceeds.

Record Sale.

Thos. P. Newbigging, local organizer for the Victory Loan, started the campaign off with a bang by disposing of a $5000 00 bond to one of the local business men. There is a mark for other canvassers to shoot at and as we had a look at the application we are able to vouch for its genuineness.

Sheep Raising

The Scarcity of Sheep in Canada Should Be Remedied

In Manitoba sheep raising has become a craze. The minister of agriculture of that province is conferring with the Ontario ministry of agriculture to see if he can get a supply of sheep for breeding purposes. At first it was thought he would be pleased if he could get 10,000 head in terms out of Ontario but he has since found that he needs far beyond that number. In the United States the decline in the industry has been even greater than in Canada. Now that Canadian farmers are in the mood to go into the industry more largely we should think the best source of supply would be the United States. True, there is a great lack of shearage for Australia's wool at present in view of the rapidity with which sheep multiply exceptional care might be taken to bring them from the country to the cities. There is no abundance to use in which they are at a premium—milk, cream, butter, etc.

The Proven Asthma Remedy. Since asthma existed there has been an effort to find a remedy that would not be a mere palliative but that would positively cure. The ever-growing reputation of Dr. D. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has given it a place in the field of medicines which no other can approach. It has never been pushed by promises but merit has and has got gone on effecting relief and making new converts.

Women Remembering

From President Wilson's Letter to the Pope

The object of this war is to deliver the free peoples of the world from the menace and the actual power of a vast military establishment controlled by an irresponsible government, which, having secretly planned to dominate the world, proceeded to carry out without regard either to the sacred obligations of treaty or the long established practices and long cherished principles of international action and law, which chose its own time for the war, delivered its blow fiercely and suddenly, stopped at no barrier, either of law or of mercy, swept a whole continent within the net of its organization, and now stands balked but undefeated, the enemy of mankind.

Time to Step Forward

Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture, says the time has come for the farmers of Saskatchewan to take a step forward. For the last two years they have been preparing for this step and now it was their duty to take it.

English Women Overcrowded

Four Million Persons on the Island Living Under Unsanitary Conditions

Mr. Douglas Eyre of Oxford House, Bethnal Green, says four million persons in their crowdedness in this country would be living in overcrowded conditions. In London alone those living people were living eight in a room, and twenty-six thousand, six in a room. Of London's population 40 per cent. at least lived under inevitable conditions. The country needed half a million new houses to replace those that were unsanitary, three hundred thousand to overhaul the defective, a building of the last seven years and seven hundred thousand to provide for the increase in population. This was equivalent to the erection of 114 million new rooms, or 7½ million new rooms.

In Ireland fewer were observed out of the population of 4,200,000 were living under insanitary and overcrowded conditions. The borough of Belfast was overcrowded. In Sandy street—the most notorious area—had a population of 6,000 to the acre. Dirty conditions were known twenty years ago, but nothing was done. Mr. Eyre said he got some was shown by their interesting Bethnal Green to find the money built—London Times.

BLOOD-MAKING MEDICINE

It took eminence for medical science to discover that the blood is the life. Now it is known that if the blood were always abundant, rich and pure, very few people would ever be ill. It was not until the end of the 19th century that an instrument was invented for measuring the blood in the body. Then they could tell just how anaemic a patient had become, and with medicine to make we blood the patient well again.

All the blood in the body is nourished by the food we eat. If the food taken does not make blood, for any reason, a person is run down and weak. Any medicine to be of value will not only add to attractiveness of the skin, but will also increase the blood. Since iron entered extensive value to be used as a blood tonic, it should be remembered that organic iron is the best. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, when a course of three pills is taken their good effect is soon felt in an increased appetite, greater energy, a sound digestion and an ability to master your work and enjoy leisure hours. For women in this condition Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a prime remedy. For the prevention of ailments which make life a burden. As an all-round medicine for the cure of ailments due to poor, watery blood no medicine discovered by medical science can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by sending 50 cents a box or boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Wide Margins

Food and Victory to Be Gained by Economy of All

Herbert C. Hoover, U.S. food administrator, says that shortage in the world's food supply has caused the spreads of a vast number of speculation and unnecessarily high cost of living. Last year the farmers received $1.50 per bushel for their wheat but the consuming population bought their flour based on over $2.50 wheat for a large part of the year. These unnecessary margins are not confined to wheat alone.—Banker Farmer, September.

A Remedy for Bilious Headache—In these subject to Bilious Headache Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are recommended as the way to speedy relief. Taken according to directions they will subdue irregularities of the stomach and so act upon the nerves and blood vessels that the pains in the head will cease. There are few pills that have so extensive a sale as these effective remedies, as far under-stood. It is an wonder, then, it they have a world wide fame, for when, as illustrative of testimonials, add one of the many of inquiry, without even a shadow of doubt, that these pills are the best for biliousness and all stomach disorders. Such is the sincerity of the manufacturers of these pills, and such is the confidence they have in the merits of their remedies, that they are willing to refund the money to any purchaser who is not entirely satisfied with the results obtained from their use. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are sold by all druggists, and one of the most remarkable illustrations that its doors are not closed to that afforded by the fact that it has been in successful as it has been, is more than a century old.—New York Herald

The Man Worth While

The Only Time That This Hero Cried

"While there is none of the romance that the magazine writers and story spinners have woven around our work, yet life is not half so drab as it was in the days of my predecessors in the old hospital," writes a V.A.D. nurse, who before going overseas served for two years in one of the big Canadian city hospitals.

"Sister R——— she has charge of the ward, told me a touching story that has all the elements of tragedy and romance in it. She says that a young soldier in her ward suffered torture from a gaping wound in his side and yet never whimpered. He was always cheery. One day the Sister said to him, "He don't have a good cry all to yourself, when you are alone?" "Oh, no, Sister," he said, "I'm afraid I'd start crying, and then I'd never stop sobbing." And then his face suddenly altered as he said, "You know, I had a pal over there, and when I got a letter from my old Dad telling me to come home as soon as I could, as there was an old man who could still do a day's work and who would never let me want for anything as long as I lived. I cried then.

"There are the little things that happen now and then and set you thinking. When I go off duty I am going to see that boy. He is worth while."

Goats Thrive Well in Alberta

For the first time on record a number of goats were recently collected for sale on the Calgary market where they were the centre of interest. They were sent by a farmer whose place is situated between Big and Sixty miles northeast of Calgary. The farmer brought a small herd of Angora goats to Alberta some three years ago, and is well satisfied with the results he has had with them.

says a well known authority.

Many who use tea or coffee, not knowing that it aggravates stomach troubles, could still enjoy a delicious hot table beverage and escape harmful effects by a change to the wholesome, pure cereal drink—

The War in the Kitchen

Decision of the War a Question of Food Supplies

In every mine or industrial materials—and such an attempt should be made in the preparation of every meal, whether by the housewife at home or the chef in the hotel or restaurant—certain facts should be kept in mind. One problem is to feed our allies this year; by next year there will be an increased demand for all concerned and extensive sales in the United States. Not only will there be no wheat, but the dairy products and sugar. The supply of meat in the world is low and more or other kinds of which we have an abundance and to waste less of all these. The standard gauge is that of the United States food controller.

The other side of this—the side we have been overlooking somewhat—is that now is the time for all who can afford to do so to eat more of those things that we have formerly regarded as luxuries, such as fresh chickens, fish, hare, rabbit, duck, geese and venison, in season of all. This will not only add to attractiveness of the table, but will also throw other foods of less strained nutritive value to be used in the place of meat.—Toronto Globe.

Fit Men Only to Go to Front

Canadian Soldiers in England Divided Into Fourteen Stages of Physical Condition

Soldiers in training for active service, or fully trained and held in reserve, are most carefully classified as to their physical condition. The classification is somewhat technically known as "A1," ranging by subdivisions from the topmost by acres in the direction of France, however promising may be the call from the front for fresh reinforcements.

Canadian troops in England are divided into fourteen categories according to physical condition, as follows: A1, A2, A3, B1, B2, B3, temporarily unfit, three categories; D, three categories, and E, one category. This, when the call comes for reinforcements at any time the fourteen divisions of the categories are not exhausted. Men never get enough till they, of all the men to go forward, men to drawn from category "A 1."

Increased Butter Production

Manitoba Producing More Creamery Butter Every Year

A statement issued by the Department of Agriculture, Winnipeg, shows that 6,000,000 pounds of creamery butter had been exported from Manitoba during the year. For the year will be almost one hundred per cent. increase over the year 1916 when 3,000,000 pounds were exported. Of this amount 2,000,000 pounds went to Great Britain. To prevent this butter is selling at 41 cents per pound at the present time.

The No Indemnity Cry

Influential men have attacked Washington that the Germans are removing machinery from the factories and from the mills in southwestern Belgium. They are said to be doing this so that it cannot be shipped into Germany. It will then be claimed that Belgium is a parasite say that any German could be just as well off without the dispatcher to restore these machines. Belgium's loss is not Germany's gain. It is a dead loss to the whole economic business, and because of them will still cause to lose millions of pounds of high grade and high priced machinery. Germany has been forced into it at part of the economic war. Belgium's loss is not Germany's gain. Fixing Food Prices

Wealth of the Nation Produced by 20 Farmers

It is only thirty-five thousand wage earners who produce the wealth of the Dominion of Canada, according to the latest official census. Yet this city, with its thousands of wage earners, is dependent for its supplies of farm products.

It seems strange to me that men of ability cannot see that such a move would not only result in better prices, but would, of all laws, be most unjust. The Civil war is said to have been to free the slaves, and America's object in this war is to protect and preserve democratic liberties. Would the fixing of prices, without the blame of wages be democratic? One may call the thing what he likes from wilful another calls his by the name. The farmer makes all the chances and uncertainties in crop production, before labor is considered and is carefree.

But, how are farmers expected to get rich and riding around in motor cars, like the city dwellers, if all we are to say if the farmer asked good prices for his products? Why should not the farmer be allowed to make most of the profits? Is it possible that the city people are capable of thinking of anything but their own profits? Is it possible that the city people are capable of thinking of anything but their own profits? Is it possible that the city people are capable of thinking of anything but their own

Marvellous War Cures

Soldiers Who Have Lost Voice and Hearing are Restored in Strange Ways

Just, in fact, as the war has introduced new methods, so it has also introduced new cures. Falling downstairs, for instance, lately cured a man from shell-shock.

Indeed, soldiers have been more strangely cured from shell-shock than from any other malady. Indeed has cured numerous victims, and temporary deafness has been cured by deafness.

Even a guilty conscience has power to lend it. A Glasgow policeman lost his voice through his appreciation of a joke told him by a neighbour. "Ain't he funny?"

The shock of being photographed by flashlight and the agony of having a tooth pulled out—without an anæsthetic—cured two other men who believed they had forfeited their speech forever.

Even a guilty conscience has power to lend it. A Glasgow policeman lost his voice through his appreciation of a joke told him by a neighbour. "Ain't he funny?" He stared with laughter, and suddenly found himself speechless.

"I—I'm not responsible for the man in confession. "I was only getting tea."

A Liverpool picture show a man who, at the very service of prayer, had been rendered a deaf mute in Flanders, had his hearing and speech restored. He was watching a humorous picture in which the star, named "Billy Ritchie," whose antics made him hugely fellowship, suddenly he felt a burning in his throat and a curious sensation in his ears. Then he heard a shout, and to his surprise found it was his own voice. He grasped the arm of one of his comrades. "Come on out," he exclaimed, "I've got my voice again."

A Black Watch hero, a fearless man, named George Ferguson, after rescuing the people of Ypres, brought out three wounded men. In a dug-out he found Private Ferguson dying, and, bending over him, he cleanly he felt a burning in his throat and a curious sensation in his ears. Hog Raising Dope.

With winter approaching, many farmers will be inclined to withhold from starting anew in the hog raising business because of their experience with the extra cost of maintaining their stock without pasture, especially if it has been their habit to feed grain with milk or concentrated feeds to the exclusion of all others. Such feeders should try using mangels or sugar beet as a large part of the ration for their hogs, and with the appearance of the root fields in many parts of the country just now there should be a fair amount of such feed to spare this winter for the maintenance of such valuable stock as swine.

It should be borne in mind in considering the prospects for demand for finished hogs, that the population of Canadian cities has been won over in the past decade to the use of bacon, this taste having been fostered to a great degree by the many English people who have settled in the large centres. In fact, so well is this preference, that in spite of the very high cost of this food at the present time, so few families have been willing to renounce their daily share of bacon that the food controller has seen fit to take special measures to bring about a saving of this commodity in order that the troops may receive an adequate supply. Therefore, even the cessation of demand from the front will not reduce the price of hogs, for years to come. Returned soldiers will still have to eat, and bacon will be the meat most called for.

The only happening that can reduce the price of hogs, for years to come will be the lowering of feed prices and in such case the profits of the raiser will remain the same.

Have You Bought a Victory Bond?

Ryley is Boosting the Victory Loan to Success Here

$5,000,000 to be Raised in Northern Alberta, and Ryley Will do its Share in Doing This. Have You Bought a Bond?

The Victory Bond campaign is off to a good start in the Ryley district. Canvassers are going over the country with a fine tooth comb, and the $5,000,000 which has been assigned to the Northern Alberta district will receive a big boost here.

Leading off with Edmonton's $1,250,000, the other local districts are down for loan subscriptions as follows: District A, comprising Killam, Sedgewick, Hardisty and Provost, $500,000; B, Ledug, Wetaskiwin and Lacombe $750,000; C, Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern lines west of the city, $200,000; D, Canadian Northern line north of city to Athabasca, $200,000; E, Fort Saskatchewan, Lamont and district, $750,000; F, Vegreville, Vermilion and St.. Paul des Metis, $500,000; G, Grand Trunk Pacific line to Wainwright and Camrose, $750,000; H, Peace River district, $100,000.

Arrangements are being made in each of these several districts by the local committees and canvassing teams are already lined up. Quantities of government supplied literature are being sent out from the Edmonton offices, including a large supply of information pamphlets to every bank in Northern Alberta, in order that the bankers may be able to answer all the questions likely to be asked of them. It is also proposed to send out some 75,000 cards for distribution at the public schools, the idea being that scores of school children with savings accounts of their own will be induced to help the national campaign by subscribing along with their fathers. The willingness of the general public to assist is, indeed, one of the most pleasing features of the effort.

The action of the life insurance underwriters has been particularly gratifying to the committee. Nearly all the insurance companies have turned their agent forces free to help in the Victory Loan canvass, and the men are giving their time free in this connection, with a consequent waiving of their own insurance business while the canvass is on.

Back Up Your Patriotic Talk With Your Money

Patriotic talk is about as much use as 30c in a dining car unless you back it with your money.

You can't judge the size of a man or a motor car by the noise they make. As Canada is floating a Victory loan for $150,000,000 the man who loosens his pocketbook will not necessarily be a patriot, but the man who merely loosens his tongue will in most cases be a prune. The fellows at the front are buying victory with their blood. The fellows at home are poor sports if they do not help buy it with their money.

ALTAR OF RICHES IN SOCIETY HALL FRIDAY, NOV. 23

The Altar of Riches has been postponed until next Friday. Those who are taking part have found the various parts too heavy to get up without at least one more week of steady rehearsing. However, the public need not worry about the delay, as if should only serve to further whet their appetites for the good things in store. The Miller children, 8 and 9 year old vaudeville entertainers, from Edmonton, whose services has been secured for the evening, will prove a popular feature. They have entertained at the Pantages theatre and the Hotel Macdonald. A boy and girl with a high-class act that is bright and entertaining. The management of The Altar of Riches congratulate themselves on being able to secure the services of this bright, laugh-producing pair. Come and here them.

The Altar of Riches has been dealt with at length in these columns and needs no further discussion at our hands.

Following is a synopsis of the different acts:

Act I—Madeline objects to being pumped. Gwendolyn an enthusiastic mountain climber. The letter. "Wilberforce shall be our hero." A newspaper women on the trail of a story. The agreement to fight a battle in Wall Street. "Beware a day of judgement.

II—Miss Bosworth is persistent. The photograph. "Is she not Miss Austin daughter of the copper king?, Wilberforce avows his love for Gwendolyn. "You are a financial Diomedes and who knows I am not Hercules destined to bring you judgment?" The dispatch. Gwendolyn's discovery. Her sorrow. "I do not know."

III—Gwendolyn leases the hotel wires and is master of the situation. The theft of the letters. "Give them back or I strangle you with my own hands!" The battle on 'Change. Light that cost Wilberforce a million. "austin wins." "I have been betrayed. Who are you?" "I trusted you and it cost me ten millions!" Woman's victory. "But I saved my father!"

IV—Stock jobber and novelist agree to unite their forces. "Yellow peril" again on the trail. Thornton grateful to Wilberforce Generous Wall Street King. "We have hearts and souls like other people." The meeting. The rose. "He loves me." The reconciliation. Ulysses seeks Calypso. Betrothal.

WOMEN! IT IS MAGIC! LIFT OUT ANY CORN

Apply a few drops then lift corn or callous off with finger—it pains

Just think! You can lift off any corn or callus without pain or soreness.

A Cincinnati man discovered this ether cures corns and started in free-zone. Any druggist will sell a tiny bottle of freezone for a few cents, apply a few drops directly upon a tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the sore corn stops hurting, then you shortly you will find the corn so shriveled that you can lift it right off.

Freezone is wonderful. It doesn't eat away the corn but shrivels it up without even irritating the surrounding tissue. Freezone is sticky and dries instantly. It is almost magical. Just ask for it at any drug store.

I tried all kinds of remedies and was treated by doctors, but my trouble continued until one day I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for others. I tried it and now I am never troubled with cramps and feel like a new woman. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound too highly and I am recommending it to my friends who suffer as I did."—Mrs. George E. Patlen, Box 78, Marysville, Pa.

Young women who are troubled with pain, or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down pains, fainting spells or indigestion should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands have been restored to health by this root and herb remedy.

Ford Car Performs on Turn West of Town

Occupants Have a Narrow Escape When Auto Upsets.

An accident that might easily have been a fatality occured on a bad turn on the Edmonton auto road, 8 miles west of town, early last Friday morning, when Frank Mahaffey upset his Ford in the ditch. The other occupants of the car were Mrs. E. S. Cole, Mrs. W. McMullen, Mrs. J. W. McMullen and Roy Mahaffey. The ladies suffered severe bruises, two of them requiring medical attention, no doubt, before Tuesday.

Dr. M. Mecklenburg, the eminent eye specialist, will again be at Tofield, on Saturday, November 17. He will also be in Holden, November 16, and in Camrose, November 19. While here he will make his headquarter at the Royal Alexandra. Don't fail to see him.

Bobbie Lee is Reported Wounded

Word was received yesterday by John Lee that his nephew had been wounded in the wrist with a gunshot and had been admitted to a military hospital in Liverpool on November 2. Old timers will remember Bobbie Lee who used to be a member of the famous silver cures, Tofield's all star hockey team. Bobbie worked at his profession, that of surveyor, up until he joined the Mounted Rifles. This is his first serious mishap and his friends are hoping for his speedy recovery.

The Ladies Aid of Holy Trinity Church will hold a sale of homemade cook and serve a ten-cent tea at the Jamieson block on Saturday November 24th from 2.30 p. m. Light lunch provided if necessary.

Holy Trinity Ladies Aid held a special meeting at the home of Mrs. W. Wash on Wednesday last at which there was a good attendance. Mrs. Henderson was elected president in succession to Mrs. W. Leversedge, and Mrs. J. H. Tofield vice-president. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. H Tofield, the first Wednesday in December.

Harvest Thanksgiving service was held at Holy Trinity church on Sunday evening last. The church was tastefully decorated by the ladies on Friday and notwithstanding the absence of golden grain, owing to the lateness of the season, it presented an appearance deserving great credit to all concerned. The congregation was decidedly good and the appropriate music was rendered more effective by a choir, which it is to be hoped will be permanent.

St. Andrews Notes.

Rev. Dr. Dyde will conduct anniversary services in St. Andrews church last Sunday preached to large congregations. In the morning the subject of the discourse was True Liberty, in the evening, The Mark of Greatness-Service. Both subjects received masterly treatment. Besides an anthem by the choir, Messrs Murray and Newbigging sang solos.

The Lindbrook service will be held next Sunday 3 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McDonald.

Rev. Prof. Laird, Toronto, gave an address in St. Andrews church Monday evening on the work of the church.

In ages past, long years ago,
When yet the world was young;
Great heroes lived, for this we know,
Their praises yet are sung.

And at this time when this old world
In hard bestr with war;
Should not we; all well agree
That tyrants we abhor?

Our brothers and our noble sons
Are on the line in France;
And thro' their thoughts the spirit runs,
The Huns shall not advance.

Are we at home less loyal here,
Than those heroes over our own bin;
We will not own, that we've a fear,
That victory they'll not win.

And now the time at last is here,
When we should do our best
To back those heroes over there,
Ex masse this Golden West.

For here the Victory Loan comes in;
Remember what we've a-one.
We'll buy the bonds and carry on,
And then we'll buy some more.

News of Our Soldiers.

A telegram arrived yesterday stating that Ned Pruden, who enlisted with the 151st Battalion had been killed in action. No particulars were given and it is hoped that we can have something definite for our readers next week.

J G Chapman received word that his youngest son, F G Chapman had been wounded in the head and back by gunshot. The young man who is well known in the district enlisted in the University Battalion. No further particulars as to how dangerous the wounds are can be got. Mr Chapman wired headquarters for details.

The name of Marvin Pruden appeared in the casualty list last week among those who were gassed. Friends of Marvin hope that he has not been seriously incapacitated.

Sergt. W. E. Waterhouse of the 49th Batt., has been invalided home for six months. When his time has expired he will return to the front line in France and take up his quarrel with "Fritzy" In the meantime he is a guest at the home of Sam Bethel.

RED CROSS SHOW A LIVELY AFFAIR

Collects Realized $225.00 Through Hard Work of Local Society.

The Red Cross concert and picture show drew a record house on Monday evening. The picture show was one of the best shown at the theatre. Mrs. E. McKenzie sang two solos, the Misses Secord played a piano duet, a reading by Miss L. Martin and a solo by Tom Turner helped to make the evening lively. Mr. Beamish drew the lucky number that won the steer and the animal was immediately put up for auction. Spirited bidding, prompted by auctioneer Jos. Rogers brought $46.00 and the steer was knocked down to Harvey Adams. Previous to this $1.00.00 worth of tickets had been sold, $54.00 was taken at the door and the sale of ice cream brought $6.50. In all some $225.00 has been added to the Red Cross fund.

VARIETY NEWS

The young of even the most horrible beasts have something piquant and engaging about them, and so I suppose it is in the way of things that the land ironclad, which opens a new and more dreadful and destructive phase in the human folly of warfare, should appear first as if it were a joke. Never has any such thing so completely mashed its wickedness under an appearance of genial silliness. The "tank" is a creature to which one naturally flings a pet name; the fire or ale I was shown, wandering, rooting and climbing over obstacles round a large field near X., were as amusing as disarming as a litter of lively young pigs.

The war office, after a period of reluctance, has suddenly permitted a lavish publication of photographs and descriptions of these things, as that their general appearance is now familiar to everyone.—H. G. Wells.

The showing of the pictures of Tanks in action and the advance of the Canadian army is rousing a lot of interest among the movie fans. The local management have secured these pictures for Monday, December 3rd. There will be two shows, one at 7.15, and the second at 8.30.

Those who are interested in Red Cross work should watch the Canadian army in action and learn how your work is needed. If you are not a Red Cross worker you will immediately become one. Remember the date and keep it open. Admission to adults 50c, children 25c.

SEE Dr. Mecklenburg the old reliable and long experienced optician about your eyes. He will be at the Royal Alexandra Hotel, Saturday, December 8.

Union Candidate in Victoria

James B. Holden, the Candidate Who Stands for Unity, Progress and a Determined Win-the-War Effort

To the Electors of the Electoral District of Victoria

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN Vegreville Nov 16th, 1917

Having been honored by the Convention held in Edmonton on November 14th as candidate on behalf of the Union Government for the electoral district of Victoria I beg to take this opportunity of informing you that I am accepting this nomination which has been tendered me, and I solicit your support and the favor of your support at the polls on December 17th.

Extraordinary conditions confront us at the present time, and all over civilization is engaged in this world war. They are surely such as seldom if ever before have been known in the history of mankind. Extraordinary conditions and extraordinary measures are necessary to meet them. Before August 1st, 1914, we had been living under the most peaceful conditions existing anywhere in the world. In Europe there was the armed peace of a number of nations rivalling against nations, but there was no thought of any general war

MISS SIXTEEN PICKS THE BEST OF FASHION'S OFFERINGS

It is surprising to see how quickly the young girl formulates ideas of good dressing. Often, nay, usually, they are extreme but never passe, if she has anything to say about it. Discount her craving for novelty, and you will find that she has a pretty good idea of what is what in fashion circles.

An ideal wardrobe including the best that the season has to offer, has been selected here to help the young girl and her mother in the choice of her winter clothes. Nothing is included which could not be called stylish, yet nothing is in the least extreme

First of all, there is a street suit of the tailored type in a heavy, well-wearing chevriot. This rough material is coming more into vogue than it has been for some time, and is eminently practical. The young girl will like the pockets, they remind her of her brother's or somebody else's brother's trench suit. Her sports hat is one of the new camel's hair hats, in a novel and becoming shape. There is a vest to the suit of white broadcloth, and walking shoes with the new long last to help out the chic of the costume.

When she isn't wearing her suit, she will be found in the schoolroom in a stylish combination of dark green serge and plaid silk. Plaids are no smart this season. Over the frock she will wear a top coat of rough storm mixture, with a belt and button-up collar.

For best, there should be a velvet frock—or velveteen will do. If made on the long-waisted, youthful lines like that in the picture, and relieved by a light gump, it can't help but be becoming to a miss in her middle teens

And for parties there must be a sweet little frock that won't look too mature. Nothing prettier than Georgette, trimmed with adorable little ruffles, could be imagined. A knot of colored velvet ribbon to contrast with the frock gives it character

The dress hat for wear with best clothes should be of black velvet, with one of the new floppy brims. A wreath of fine silk flowers, in contrasting colors, is quite enough of trimming.

Scientifically prepared. COPENHAGEN SNUFF Pleasing flavor.

NO TERMS YET IN SIGHT WHICH WILL LEAD TO ENDURING PEACE

STIRRING ADDRESS DELIVERED BY LLOYD GEORGE

British Prime Minister Says That No One Would Prolong the War Longer than is Necessary to Secure a Lasting Peace, and One That Will Not Lead To a More Devastating War

Right Hon. David Lloyd George, speaking at a meeting held in London recently, for the purpose of forming a campaign for greater national economy, said in part:

I say we are going to predict when the end of the war will come. No one but a fool would predict it now and no one but a fool were opportunists for real and lasting peace. But we must be a fool if we did not look forward to having peace. (Good applause). It must not be a peace which is a prelude to a new war more devastating war. As you can see from the horizon anxiously, I cannot say any terms in sight which would lead to an enduring peace. I feel that the only terms which would be possible now would be terms which would end in an armed truce—I will say an armed truce ending in even more fatal atrocities.

That is why we are putting all our strength into pressing the right issue into this conflict now (Cheers), how to bring about the conditions in such a way that will prevent within measurable reach? I am not going to say that is my judgment but it is for Germany in my judgment, would only make peace now on terms which would enable her to benefit by the war in which she has wantonly plunged the world. That would mean that Germany would break her own wicked venture and it would be an encouragement to any European big empire in the future to repeat the experiment.

More than twice as many German submarines were lost in the first ten months of this year as in all of last year. (Prolonged cheering).

The British tonnage lost monthly now is not more than one-third to one-third of the total destroyed last April.

Mr. Lloyd George said that "Bolshevism" in all its shyness and forms should be found out if

"Beware of people who try to sow dissension, distrust and scepticism," he said. "The enemy is trying to rattle our nerves. Keep steady and we will win."

The way to shorten the war, said Mr Lloyd George, was to prepare for a big war. He added:

The premier said he had hoped the enemy's terrible power might be broken this year, but that the temporary collapse of the Russian military power had postponed this hope. But time was on the side of the allies, he said. Time once was must be two things have changed this, namely, the advent of America and the increasing factor of the German submarine war.

He also said the premier was terribly far, still, but more terrible is the possibilities unrolled of new horrors of war, new and in the air. It must be settled now. It can be declared. If the war should be renewed after thirty years of miserable application it would mean the death of civilization. Brute force must be dethroned forever.

To realize what the advent of America meant, the premier went on, it was necessary only to look back on the rapid growth of the little army. In America was now starting, and its resources in man power were twice those of Britain, British shipbuilding, said the premier, had increased fourfold, and America had done likewise. Germany had built 200 submarines and 100 other vessels, but these facilities meant that Britain and America had more material than ever under the flags of Germany's enemies, which could reduce Germany to impotence and desolation.

Motor Tub Latest War Zone Invention

A Doctor and Red Cross Nurse are Washing Grime from Children

A travelling bathtub, operated by a motor doctor and a Red Cross nurse, is on its way through the devastated districts around Neale, France, giving cleanup and dirty little war babies. These youngsters are refugees from French villages and, under German lire. These erring need is soap, soap and nothing else, a French cable from Major Murphy to the Red Cross describes the start of the tub's trip.

"A diagnostic and shower bath on motor car chassis started through the ravaged region around Neale in charge of Dr John C. Baldwin of Johns Hopkins at Baltimore and a nurse. They carried medical aid and soap to the half-naked undernourished, unwashing little French children. The tub contains many a group of urchins clustered about Neale.

"On one side of the car is a seat for the nurse and one child. On the other is the shower bath of shiny tin, marked to catch the child's eye. Warm water is poured into a wooden tub and the child splashes in, too. While the doctor pours the water over the shower the nurse scrubs. Then the child whitens the water blackens. At the finish the rudest shower takes the child's shivering to cold water and the bath ends with an unexpected dance, accompanied by screams and squeals."

The devastated and abandoned regions of France behind the lines which are pushing the Boches back, the cable said, is overrun with the neglected little beings, filthy and wild beyond description.

Another travelling tub has been ordered for Ypol, and the French inspector of hygiene at Amiens hearing of the service of the mule-drawn washer of the American Red Cross at Brady, has asked the special mission to study the villages in his district with a view to forming tubs there.

Ex-cannibal's Regret

Dr. Cecil Wilson, elected Bishop of Bunbury, Australia, formerly held the See of Melanesia, which covers what used to be called the "cannibal islands." There he had formerly a strong native who, before his conversion, had been a cannibal. One day the bishop received a strong protest from some of the native's kinsmen, on which he had paid for his luncheon. The cannibal's left his mouth watering, but with perfect self-control he had refrained. He afterwards confessed that the whole time he was with the bishop and had expressed many times how he had enjoyed his cannibalism. The dusky cannibal had died of a delicacy which had been the delight of his unregenerate days.—London Daily News.

Everyone Must Aid

Our men are drifting behind the lines in France and in our canteens and hospitals. In time they, like their brothers in arms, will be given their turn, and our American homes, like those of France and England, will be shrouded in mourning. There is but one way at present to hasten the end of the struggle. That is for those Germany that we are upon it. We may be by over subscribing the Liberty Loan heavily and emphatically. Let all our troops get into action that is our only method of showing that we are fighting this war for ourselves. It is no true American that will not do his bit in this first step for national [illegible] New York Sun.

COPENHAGEN CHEWING TOBACCO

Simply Place It In The Mouth Between Lower Lip and Gum.

This is the way to get quick benefit and satisfaction out of every pinch of Copenhagen Chewing Tobacco.

You see, "Copenhagen" is made of the best, mild, high flavored tobacco.

The usual process—by which the best tobacco is converted into tiny pellets, and scientifically prepared — retains all the good of the tobacco.

Those who are trying "Copenhagen" for the first time, should remember to use only a small quantity, and to place it between the gum and mouth between the lower lip and the gum, without any attempt to "chew it."

Opportunity Knocks Twice for Veterans

Vocational Training Classes of H.C. Give Every Man a Second Start in Life

There are millionaires in the world but the average man has never seen one. A few score of us pull down $10,000 a year and more of us $10,000 but most of us worry along on a pay that nets us an annual income of three figures, squeezing pleasures out of life by the pennyworth because we hadn't the chance or didn't take it when we were young.

The military hospitals commission, of course business is the training and reclamation of returned soldiers, is giving a man a chance to profit by his experience and there are hundreds of returned soldiers at this present moment enrolled in the classes of the vocational training department who are preparing themselves during what, in consideration, seems in spite of a handicap to learn bigger money than they did before they enlisted.

The commission, building on the eagerness of the men, is letting scores out of the class as unskilled labor into the ranks of expert craftsmen, and ensuring them in their females better able to care for them than when they went away.

In the great Central Technical High School in Toronto, the largest building of its kind in Canada, the equipment which cost thousands of dollars is being used for the training of the returned men, and classes in all trades are now under way, from motor-cold carpentry to movie operating.

Travel has educated soon who without the war would have run the whole span of their lives with the closely circumscribed vision of a small town. Experience has made them ambitious.

Spurred by this ambition they are learning to do during their period of recovery that will assure them good positions when they have finished. There is no long period of apprenticeship ahead, but days full of valuable learning in theory and practice with no one's welfare but his to consider. He can prepare himself.

There are men in the electrical department, who are already corps men in the trade, who are learning the theory of the work they have been doing for years, but who have had to be content but all the basic knowledge of the course.

His dream was to run an electric car, because it would suit of possible, but with a few months' training they call him "Edison" around the electrical shop. He lost a leg in France but that isn't going to prevent him from being a success. Another man, who has been a farmer all his life, has learned that he can't go back to the land but can be a successful poultry raiser. He has specialized in that and has already made a success of it.

Another man who had the power to run a motor boat was talked into the idea that he could succeed as a motor boat engineer. He has specialized on

NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE GIVES THE OLD PARTIES A BAD CASE OF FIDGETS

Unholy Alliance Between Pathfinders Give Electors a Dark Brown Taste.

The existence of the Non-Partisan League has, more than anything else, brought consternation into the ranks of the two old parties in certain parts of the province. As long as the Liberals and Conservatives could delude the common people into thinking there was any material difference between the two parties, professional politicians could quite easily manage to keep themselves in office of some kind. It was the easiest thing in the world to flop over, in case the opposition got into power, or threatened to do so.

Witness the unholy alliance at present existing between Liberals and Conservatives at Ottawa. It probably will be the death of the old Conservative Party, but the birth of another just as bad, viz., the Unionists. The absolutely pure unadulterated Laurier Liberals are shouting themselves black and blue in the face at the treachery of those Liberals who entered the cabinet—and only a few short months ago the latter were shining lights of Liberalism, looked up to by those who now denounced them as marvels of honesty and integrity.

Well, it is hardly of much use to try to solve the Liberal party's family affairs. But in this riding, where the Liberal party split against the rock of conscription. It is hard for a Liberal to decide whether he is a Sifton Liberal or a Laurier Liberal.

Fortunately there is a third candidate in the field, the nominee of the Non-Partisan League, a man of outstanding ability and integrity. I shall not here enter into a discussion of the principles of the Non-Partizan League, but merely touch on certain phases. I would advise every reader to get literature on the League, and to hear their speakers, which you no doubt will have an opportunity to do.

The history of the Non-Partizan League is interesting. The original Non-Partizan League was born a few years ago in North Dakota, and so successful were the methods of the founders that at the election in 1916 they swept the state." The League spread into the adjoining states, until now we find them firmly organized in Montana, Minnesota, Iowa and several other states.

Last winter some farmers in Southern Alberta sent a delegation to North Dakota to inquire into the methods of organizing the League. One result of this visit was that an organization of the League was effected in Alberta and another in Saskatchewan. The Alberta organization decided to immediately put some candidates in the field last spring and to the chagrin of the old parties, succeeded in electing two—James Weir, a vice-president of the U.F.A., for Nanton constituency, and Mrs. McKinney, president of the Alberta W.C.T.U., who has the further distinction of being the first and only woman legislator in Canada, for Claresholm. Besides, they helped to elect the Labor member for Calgary, Mr. Ross.

It was therefore quite natural that they should put into the field some candidates for the Dominion Parliament at the approaching election, and the ridings they chose were Bow River, Macleod and our own Victoria. In the latter they nominated former governor of Kansas, J. W. Leedy. The then Liberal nominee, Geo. P. Smith, inaugurated a mud-slinging campaign against Mr. Leedy, which, however, only acted as a boomerang against himself. Presently Mr. Smith got cold feet, and "safety first" being his motto, he accepted a job in the Alberta government, which just then presented itself. This left the Liberals without a candidate, and at the convention in Tofield the party machine was repaired, and the anti-conscriptionists nominated W. H. White, who is pledged to Laurier through thick and thin. J. B. Holden is candidate of the Unionist aggregation.

As the principles of the League have not been assailed, even by a partisan Liberal press, it may be surmised that its principles are unassailable. They are trying to defeat us by assailing our candidate, and they bring up all kinds of stories about his supposed maladministration of Kansas and other horrors. Naturally, people who did not know might suppose there was a grain of truth in these charges if I have been endeavoring to find out what truth there was in these charges, and I have come to the conclusion that Mr. Leedy was one of the best governors Kansas has had. He was instrumental in getting several good laws passed which are still on the statute books of Kansas. It must be remembered that he was governor only two years, and that is rather a short time for accomplishing great results. He was defeated at the next election by a combination of the reactionary elements. He is charged with being slack in the enforcement of the Prohibition Law in Kansas; but he could hardly do much in so short a time, and his administration was no worse, at any rate, than that of the others immediately before or after. To have an effective prohibition law the people must stand solidly behind those enforcing same.

During his administration was a period of world-wide financial depression, and he can hardly be blamed for hard times in Kansas during that period.

Another of his "crimes" is that he resigned as Liberal candidate for Lac Ste. Anne last spring and left Little Arthur in the soup so far as that constituency was concerned. But did it ever occur to you, gentle reader, that while Mr. Leedy was in the Liberal fold he was considered by Liberals as absolutely all right; but after having discovered the rottenness of the party in power in this province, and having affiliated himself with the Non-Partizan League he is charged with all transgressions imaginable. Well, such is politics! It at least is an admission that Mr. Leedy was a strong candidate, a better man than any one else they could scare up.

I had hoped to say something about the charges that the Non-Partizan League is robbing the farmers in the province, but will have to leave this for another issue, provided I then have the time and inclination to write.

I would very much like some earnest supporters of the League to write something about the principles the League stands for. It is a good cause, and is worth your support in whichever direction you may be able to assist.

Home Talent Play Friday, October 23

The Altar of Riches has been postponed until tomorrow. Those who are taking part have found the various parts too heavy to get up without at least one more week of steady rehearsing. However, the public need not worry about the delay, as if should only serve to further whet their appetites for the good things in store. The Miller children, 8 and 9 year old vaudeville entertainers, from Edmonton, whose services has been secured for the evening, will prove a popular feature. They have entertained at the Pantages theatre and the Hotel Macdonald. A boy and girl with a high-class act that is bright and entertaining. The management of The Altar of Riches congratulate themselves on being able to secure the services of this bright, laugh-producing pair. Come and here them.

The Altar of Riches has been dealt with at length in these columns and needs no further discussion at our hands.

Following is a synopsis of the different acts:

Act I—Madeline objects to being pumped. Gwendolyn an enthusiastic mountain climber. The letter. "Wilberforce shall be our hero." A newspaper women on the trail of a story. The agreement to fight a battle in Wall Street. "Beware a day of judgement.

II—Miss Bosworth is persistent. The photograph. "Is she not Miss Austin daughter of the copper king?', Wilberforce avows his love for Gwendolyn. "You are a financial Diomedes and who knows I am not Hercules destined to bring you judgement?" The dispatch. Gwendolyn's discovery. Her sorrow. "I do not know."

III—Gwendolyn leases the hotel wires and is master of the situation. The theft of the letters. "Give them back or I strangle you with my own hands!" The battle on 'Change. Light that cost Wilberforce a million. "Austin wins." "I have been betrayed. Who are you?" "I trusted you and it cost me ten millions!" Woman's victory. "But I saved my father!"

IV—Stock jobber and novelist agree to unite their forces. "Yellow peril" again on the trail. Thornton grateful to Wilberforce. Generous Wall Street King. "We have hearts and souls like other people." The meeting. The rose. "He loves me." The reconciliation. Ulysses seeks Calypso. Betrothal.

The Young People's League convention held here recently was a great success. The weather was ideal and hence the gathering in fine humour. The attendance was good throughout the whole meeting which lasted three days. The proceedings consisted of choruses, solos, duets, recitations, several interesting papers on such subjects as "The Young in Mission Work." "The Blessedness of Activity." Short addresses on: The Church school, aim and purpose. "Why belong to a Christian Young People's Society? "What to read." Rev. Mr. Lobre of Grand Forks N. D. gave a very interesting lecture on "Youth and Training of three well known church workers in the past" The Y. P. League was organized a year ago last and has proved to be very popular and successful. It is not only of moral or social nature but strictly Christian. One of its purposes are by a small membership fee and free collections to support a native missionary in foreign lands and also to assist in educating Sunday school workers at home.

at stirring episode to Letty, if she did refer to it, it was as a joke. Letty, however, remembered it, as her face flushed a little and she looked down for a moment. Then she looked up, and said, quietly, "I am all for confidences, Mr. Bartholomew, and I will tell you mine if you will tell me yours."

Hilda clung back to town a day or two after the departure of Letty and Mr. Bartholomew, as the latter had promised to go to Salisbury Avenue at once, and bring back the news of the happy event to the ears of heaps of longing people.

"I am only back from Homburg one week this morning," declared Mr. Boon, taking her into his bosom at once. "The doctor has been there two hours. All the same, I wanted to see you."

"Well, I'm here," replied Hilda, taking the hint directly. "What is it?"

Mr. Boon dropped into the chair by the desk. He thought how much more respectful Letty had been to him since he made his appearance in the office before, and that, while he generally liked a bit of fun, and a bit of flirting, he would love to take care of no more of that sort of thing about money matters. "The time's short, my dear, and I've been here a couple of days. So—you can put the pressure on the letter that's to be written—and then I want you another. Please hurry, and keep it quiet."

Hilda took the notes which Kloof handed to her and put them away, and then put their instructions.

"Now, Mr. Kloof," said Hilda, "you are not going to work to-day. But Mr. Bartholomew is—and he's in a very strong."

"I am doubtful now to be short of work," said Kloof, "and I'm glad to be correct some of it."

"Then," said Hilda, meditating on what he'd learned, Ron Bartholomew doesn't pay for his work, or what he's done. It was a dangerous game, no doubt, but it was a game of success, and, as he saw it, he had played it splendidly. He was going to marry Letty Bartholomew, and, as he had no conscience, he knew that he was going to get her father's money.

The real man, as one might say, is the elbow joint. It is all hand, practically speaking, from that point to the tips of the fingers. When you turn your wrist, it is the whole forearm that makes the twist; and every movement of the fingers is controlled by the muscles of the forearm.

Now, if you want to turn the wrist and to set the elbow joint in possession of the fingers, you must use muscles; and even the lighter apes are not able to do this, because they have not muscles in the forearm; the great muscles, in the ape, are those which move the arm forward and backward, and not those which move the fingers.

Man is the only animal which can turn the wrist and set the elbow joint in possession of the fingers; and this is the reason why he is the only animal which can throw with precision.

Wrist is Part of Hand

Peculiarities of Arms of Civilized Peoples are Explained

In the higher races of mankind the upper bone of the arm is twisted in a peculiar way, so as to make the wrist a better tool by bringing the hands into a more favorable position for the use of the fingers. Nature's unanswerable adaptations. Furthermore, the muscles of the hands are so arranged as to give to each member more independent action than is enjoyed by any of the other fingers. There is a flexor and an extensor for each pose, which is the case with the other fingers, and the thumb muscles are extraordinarily strong.

Better Production in West

Western Canada's Dairying Industry Steadily Growing

According to a preliminary summary recently issued by the census and statistics office, the total production of creamery butter in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba in 1916 was 17,245,529 pounds as compared with 17,045,529 pounds in 1915 representing a total increase of 2,200,000 or almost $1,760,000.

Alberta was the leading producer, with 8,571,286 pounds, compared with 7,744,146 pounds the previous year. Manitoba came next with a production of 4,574,110 pounds, which was an increase of 1,054,842 pounds over the output of 1915. Saskatchewan produced 4,010,069 pounds of creamery butter in 1916, as against 3,611,000 pounds in 1915.

A good beginning has been made in the production of cheese in Western Canada, 690,126 pounds having been produced by Manitoba factories last year, an increase of 154,004 pounds over 1915. Alberta is rapidly coming to the front as a cheese producer, the creameries there having factories having increased their output of this product from 381,852 pounds in 1915 to 781,152 pounds in 1916, an increase of almost one hundred per cent. in one year.

The total value of the dairy products of these three provinces in 1916 amounted to 6,366,915, as compared with $4,700,000 in 1915, the relative value of the output of butter, cheese and milk, Alberta leading, being as follows: Alberta, butter $2,-570,000; cheese $154,613; Manitoba, butter $2,638,199; cheese $138,931; Saskatchewan, butter $1,346,000.

The dairying industry in Western Canada is only in its infancy as the country affords great opportunities for its development, considering the enormous expansion in the output during the past few years and how cheese may be looked forward to.

Took Years in Fence

It took the French years after the beginning of their revolution to produce the great revolutionary army, and we cannot suppose that the same task will be accomplished in a few months in Russia. But we may hope that with support and sympathy from the free nations the new people will rally sufficiently to play the important part of sustaining a large force on the east front, and that the leaders of the nation will strongly resist all the blandishments of the enemy for a separate peace.—Westminster Gazette.

FOOD CONTROL CORNER

Pointed Paragraphs for People Who Want to Win the War

Eat more fish.

Today's Motto: "Substitution is salvation."

Every pound of fish you eat makes the enemy submarine's job more difficult.

Substitution saves us from the submarine.

There is a greater variety of fish foods than of all other fresh foods combined.

The war is teaching us to eat intelligently.

Carry your purchases wherever you can. You will thus release labor and power for other and better purposes.

The three "R's" brand, beef and bacon, are accompanied by three "S's", save, substitute, and serve.

Having acquired the habit of gardening, Canadians need never fear a shortage of potatoes. The yield of tubers from urban and suburban plots was much greater this year than ever before.

War must be waged on waste. He who wastes food is a grave traitor. The old custom of buying by bulk should be revived in large degree. Cereals, canned vegetables and flour should always be bought in bulk. Economies in deliveries alone would be appreciable.

Flying Low

The aircraft are fewer heavy, bound lower not in Flanders and the sheep and harrying the trenches with deadly machine gun fire from the rear. The British originated the manoeuvre, and it curiously repeats historical tactics and modern. Ancient Britons dashed through the enemy's ranks in chariots armed with scythes sticking out from their hubs. Modern Britons have done the same on a grander scale with tanks. Today they use the aeroplane as a chariot of flying tank.—Chicago Tribune.

Reindeer Meat is Latest Novelty

Herds in Alaska are Said to Be Interesting

Reindeer meat is finding its way into the markets of the United States and is certain to become an important part of the meat supply of this country when the government reindeer stations in Alaska produce the means of supplying to distributing centres in this country, according to Rev. Sheldon Jackson, missionary to Alaska, now visiting in the Catholic World.

There were 79,242 reindeer in Alaska, according to the government report of 1915, and the number has increased greatly since. Besides the meat, the animals furnish hides, milk and transportation. Some of the reindeer are owned by natives, but the government has established stations at which herds are kept and bred. Private companies are also engaged in the business.

Herd prices are having their effect on the food market, and the people and natives alike are taking to the reindeer as a source of supply. Recently one native sold his herd of 1,200 animals for $60,000, and the natives are beginning to realize the commercial value of the creatures.

There are 2,000 reindeer in the Lapland district of Alaska, and the number will soon increase to 10,000. Besides the meat, the animals furnish hides, milk and transportation. Juggling With Food

How Corporations Keep Prices Up By Promoting Food Waste

We are of the opinion that the whole phenomenon of rising prices is an artificial matter brought on by the food-storing and food-distributing corporations.

These middlemen profits, that is to say, the profits which are as dividends to middleman shareholders, who are only dummy middlemen, but who have enormous sways for doing business in buying and storing and distributing, these profits are added to the legitimate profits of the producer and the consumer pays, to make up the actual cost of these investments and operations.

High prices are having their effect on the food market, and the people and natives alike are taking to the reindeer as a source of supply. Recently one native sold his herd of 1,200 animals for $60,000, and the natives are beginning to realize the commercial value of the creatures.

A Poor Citizen

Hyphenated Americans Considered as Poor Citizens From Any Point of View

The man who goes into a foreign country to live indefinitely and takes with him the idea that he can transport along with himself all the habits and all the customs he will need for himself and his posterity, forever, has had for himself a program of trouble and for his children an endless fuss. A young friend of mine, thinking he saw a good opening in organizing, asked my opinion of his scheme. Before he got well into the subject I knew that he was going to attempt to marry a Spanish girl and settle down in Spain. I told him I'd give him my opinion if he would first tell me what he was really running away from. He admitted that some child of his parents' had been spanked and negro people there, that was all. Then I told him to go back there after you and from his own folk and that you will have to learn to like foreigners before you can expect them to like you. He got quite excited at me at this, and said that he thought I'd been a friend of his, but that I was no friend of his parents' and that I was no friend of his children. I told him that I was a friend of his children and that I was a friend of his parents' and that I was a friend of his children. I told him that I was a friend of his children and that I was a friend of his parents' and that I was a friend of his children.

Is Your Chimney Safe?

Detective Cl[illegible] Is a Common Cause of Fires

Det. [illegible] one of the great and single sources of fires. The investigations being conducted by the commission of conservation disclose the fact that, for the year 1916, the chimney fires were more than twice as many as the fires from all other causes. This is exclusive of fires resulting from defective chimneys. Changes in timber conditions and weather have a deleterious effect upon the chimney in the brickwork, causing it to disintegrate and leaving openings through which sparks may readily pass.—[illegible]

Margarine Arrives in Canada!

Not down margarine! But margarine! What does it taste like? It is unlawful in Canadian cities as yet, but personal experience the answer to these questions by acquaint their knowledge. The manufacture of margarine is prohibited by law in Kentucky, Illinois and Pennsylvania, but in Chicago last week the Illinois Manufacturers' Association held its annual convention there, and, therefore, able to state from personal experience that margarine is attractive in appearance and equal to butter in its best quality but not cream. It is a clean and wholesome food, and as we ourselves are lard and many homes in Canada where butter is a luxury could have the boon of this cheap food.—Montreal Herald.

Tofield Seed Fair Will be Held Saturday, December 22

Small Crowd Attend the Annual Meeting Agricultural Society

J. B. Warner is the New President.—Many Changes Made on Board of Directors.—Society in Good Shape Financially.

The outstanding feature of the annual meeting of the Tofield Agricultural Society was the small attendance. If ever a meeting needed a decent representation of farmers, this annual meeting of the agricultural society surely did. The chairman and nine members were present to count the dollars of the society, and what the meeting lacked in numbers they made up in enthusiasm. The secretary read a report of the year's business which which we will be able to publish next issue. The report showed that the last fair, while dropping in exhibits, came up a few dollars in extra members and attendance. The gate receipts showed that it was the best fair ever held, while the exhibits showed it to be on the average and slightly in advance of our neighboring fairs on this circuit. The society boasts of 147 members, and is going strong. A seed fair is being arranged for some time this month and it is to be hoped that when the date is announced every farmer will be ready to pitch in and make it a success. One way of doing this is to attend the meetings. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year, J. B. Warner, president; John McGinnitie, 1st vice-president; Wm. Thomson, 2nd vice-president; R. W. Pincott, auditor. Nineteen directors were nominated and out that number the following were selected by ballot: T.W.Ferguson, Jos. Rogers, C. W. Barnes, L. Giese, R. E. Emery, Thos Noland, W. Abernathy, J. L. Willis, J. W. Somers, R. Pincott, and Mesdames J. McGinnitie, W. Thompson, J. L. Abbott, J. Morton, and Peter Lee.

Although the ladies were allowed a vote at this meeting, only two, Mrs. Lem Abbott and Mrs. W Hopgood, exercised their rights.

A hearty vote of thanks was extended John W. Francis for his hard work as secretary-treasurer. Mr. Francis has reported for service under the Military Service Act and will be missed from the active work connected with the fair association.

New Faces on Council and the School Board

Last Monday was nomination day and as there were three vacancies to fill on the council, J. W. Somers, J. W. Carter, and Jos. Rogers were elected by acclamation. Messrs. John Lee, Jack Cookson were elected to serve on the school board.

Tofield Farmers Gather in $63,100.00

336 Subscribers Help Add to Kaiser's Many Troubles.

Tofield and district can be justly proud of the way that they worked in behalf of the Victory Loan. 336 subscribers bought $116,300 worth of bonds at a average of $126. Of this amount Tofield customers turned in $63,100. Over $400,000,000.00 was subscribed in the Dominion. It was one of the biggest knocks that Canada ever took at the Kaiser. In spite of the election campaign and other items to take the wage earner's mind off the loan, 630,000 of them rose to the occasion. If the Kaiser wants to know who is in this war let him read the reports of the success of this loan.

Good Time at Dance.

The hard time dance is not forgotten yet, and if you happen to meet Wardy Somers, Doc Morrison or A Hingley on the street you are immediately reminded of the three hard looking seeds that attended it. Hard times would hardly describe the collection of patches that gathered in the hall last Friday. The Red Cross ladies were at a loss to know what to fine the dancers for. But they finally assessed those that were decked up to the tune of $16.00. $20.00 was collected from the sale of lunches.

The music was good although some of the orchestra had played together before.

Xmas Programme.

The Farmington school, 2½ miles north and 1-2 mile east of Kingman will stage a children's Xmas program and cocktie social on Friday, December 21, at 7.30 p m sharp. Ladies are requested to kindly bring ties and lunch, separate lunches will be served to those who don't buy ties. The proceeds of the evening will go to the organ fund. Everybody cordially invited.—J. Hendrickson, teacher.

Mr and Mrs J D Hannan were Edmonton visitors last Saturday.

Money is Needed for Soldier's Comfort at the Front

Rev. Alex Stewart Exhorts Hearers to Help Raise the Money.

Last Sunday evening Rev. Alex Stewart called the attention of his hearers to the magnificent response to the Victory Loan campaign. He explained how necessary this fund was, and compared the present war against Hunnism with the church's fight against the powers of darkness, showing how the money was needed if the gospel was to be spread. "$1,200,000" he said "required by the church to run its home missions, foreign missions, colleges, congregational work, for men who go to frontier towns and for those who grow aged and infirm in the service, and for the orphans and widows of those who give to heroism." He explained that if it was a good investment to buy bonds where a single dollar was backing the investment, it was equally as good an investment to provide for the work that had the Kingdom of God behind it.

He mentioned that it was the duty of the Presbyterian churches of Canada to raise $15,000 for the comfort of our soldiers in the trenches. This fund is to be distributed by the chaplains at the front. All the churches of the Dominion are working on this and some are raising $50,000. He hoped that the congregational workers here would not hesitate to give this matter the same hearty support as they did the Victory Bond campaign.

Mother Food.

The Presbyterian ladies aid are planning a big feed for Saturday, December 15, in the Jamieson block, from 3 p m to 7 p m.

There will be the usual line of good things to eat. If you are cold and like a bowl of hot soup or some pressed chicken just drop in and the ladies will attend to your wants. There will be a sale of home cooking and ice cream. Don't forget the date or the time.

Debate.

The Methodist Adult Bible Class are arranging a debate to be held in the Methodist church, Friday, December 21. The question is one of the leading ones of the day and should arouse considerable interest, "Resolved that women can serve in any capacity occupied by men in the present war." Watch for further announcements.

Miss Mildred Carter came up from Camrose to take in the hard time dance.

Mrs Geo Rin and Mrs R J McKerrell will hold a sale of oil paintings at their apartments over the Drug store next Saturday. A Red Cross tea will be served in connection.

A basket social and dance will be held in the Lindbrook school on Friday, December 14, at 8.30 p. m. There will be a short program and a cushion will be raffled. The proceeds from the dance will go towards building a shed at the school. Proceeds from the raffle will be given to the Red Cross. Ladies bring lunch and gents bring dough.

Those who attended the advance of the "Tanks" last Monday saw a rattling good picture. Soldier life, mud puddles and the guns in action were a few of the things thrown on the screen. The picture was not a much longer endurance.

VOL. I NO. 40 TOFIELD, ALBERTA, THURSDAY DECEMBER 13 1917 SUBSCRIPTION IN CANADA $1.50 U. S. $.00

Tofield Annual Seed Fair December 22nd

BIGGER AND BETTER PRIZES THAN EVER THIS YEAR

The Tofield Agricultural Society are holding their annual seed fair in the town hall on Saturday, December 22. Larger prizes are being offered this year than have ever been offered before at any seed fair held in Tofield Prizes of $6, $4, $2 and $1 will be given in two classes of spring wheat and in two classes of oats, and prizes of $4, $3, $2, and $1 are being offered for barley, rye, timothy seed, red potatoes and white potatoes. If you have good seed for sale don't fail to show at the fair.

Frank Bell, winner of both wheat prizes last year, stated that he was fairly deluged with orders for seed grain at prices 25c per bus. above elevator price. If you haven't good seed grain yourself, it will pay you to attend and see what your neighbor has to offer.

If you will study the prize list carefully you will find that it will pay you to take a holiday and attend this fair.

An institute meeting will be held in connection with this fair which every farmer in the district should attend. It will be addressed by the judge of the seed fair exhibits.

If you don't receive a prize list, write or phone the secretary, John W Francis, who will be pleased to send you one. Entries may be made on morning of the fair but exhibits will be received up to 12 o'clock

VARIETY NOTES.

Cold weather may cut down the attendance but not the quality of the pictures These are getting better all the time.

We have a regular Bluebird masterpiece de luxe for next Wednesday. It will pay you to brave the frost and take it in.

The retreat of the Germans from Arras will be shown here sometime in January. Watch for further announcements.

Are you getting your costume for the mask Ball to be staged New Years eve. A big time, good prizes and regular "jazz" music.

Old Man Winter is Here to Stay With Us Awhile

Thermometer Drops Away Down and Everybody is Shaking.

December came in like a polar bear. Old Man Winter decided that Autumn had been lingering in his lap long enough, and gave the lady such a bounce that the landscape must be strewn with hoarfrost. Right from the Arctic he came on seventy-league boots, and in a jiffy the adventurous which have occupied us for the past month or two were swept into the rubbish heap.

Golf sticks went clattering into the lumber room for the duration of the winter.' Automobiles were run into garages and the key turned in the lock for keeps. Footballs disappeared as if by magic Furs and heavy garments emerged from their retirement and firemen, amateur and professional, rushed for dear life all over the town. The coal merchant rejoiced and whistled a merry tune and the community settled down into the cold weather routine as patiently as it might. Folks realized that here was the real thing, and no mistake.

Six whole months before the crocuses bloom again! Who said Honolulu?

Skating Party.

The Methodist Adult Bible Class held a delightful skating party last Friday evening. Although the weather was blustery everyone thoroughly enjoyed the outing. Mrs. S. J. Kirk entertained the class and provided lunch after skating. The remainder of the evening till the early hours was spent in games and other forms of amusement.

The class are preparing a debate for Friday, December 21.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR DIVORCE

NOTICE is hereby given that Martin Hafner of Tofield in the Province of Alberta, Farmer, will apply to the Parliament of Canada, at the next session thereof, for a Bill of Divorce from his wife, Florence Hafner, now residing at Uncas in the Province of Alberta, on the ground of adultery and desertion.

DATED at the City of Edmonton, Province of Alberta, this 15th day of November, 1917.

WILLIAM REA,
Solicitor for applicant.

U. F. A. Will Hold an Important Meeting

The U F A will hold an important meeting on the town hall on Tuesday, December 18, at 2.30 p.m. to appoint delegates to attend the annual U F A convention to be held in Calgary sometime in the middle of January It is important that every farmer attend this meeting. Other business of the association will be discussed.

Interesting Debate.

Those who are interested in debating should attend the Adult Bible class debate to be held in the Methodist church Friday, December 21 The following question: "Resolved that women can serve in any capacity occupied by men in the present war," is one of the leading problems of the day. Come out and hear it discussed.

Anniversary Services.

The Methodist anniversary services drew large congregations both morning and evening. Rev. R. K. Swenerton of Wainwright preached two very eloquent sermons and all his hearers were well pleased with his efforts. The Presbyterian church suspended services and attended the evening meeting in a body.

On Monday an old fashioned Methodist tea meeting was arranged by the ladies and two long tables fairly groaned with good things to eat. All you needed was 50c and a good appetite. After supper Rev. W. L. Wright, provincial organs Lodge gave a stirring patriotic address. The meeting was also addressed by Rev. Alex Stewart of St. Andrews church, Mrs. C. H. Rowe sang a solo and Rev. R. K. Swenerton, who, along with his other accomplishments possesses a fine baritone voice, gave two vocal selections that were heartily encored. About $50.00 was cleared up and will be turned over to the church

Eye Specialist.

The old reliable and well qualified eye specialist, M Mecklenburg, Williamson Bldg., Edmonton, will be at the Royal Alexandra Hotel, on Monday, December 24.

Small Blaze.

The bake shop belonging to J. Chapman was gutted by fire on Friday evening. Everybody that could get on the job did their best to assist in extinguishing the flames. An alarm was sent in to the fire hall and some one hustled down a chemical engine. Chaos reigned supreme and if the fire had gained the least headway a few other buildings if not the whole business section might have been wiped out with strong wind that was blowing. Every man worked his head off to keep the fire under control and some deserve the palm for the way they hustled water. But we would like to point out the absolute necessity of an organized volunteer brigade with a man in charge. Tofield boasts of a brigade in man the chemical engines, but if they are organized and trained in the ways of fighting fires another practice is needed. We do not pose as a critic, but, Friday night's fiasco merely proved what might happen most any day.

We would like to call our readers attention to the Xmas ads appearing in this issue. They are worth reading and will save you time and money if you act on their suggestions. The ads are well written and have the goods to back them.

State Will Pass Bill to Aid Alberta Mothers

Will Be Known as the Mothers Allowances Act.

The Alberta legislature will be asked to pass legislation at the coming session along the lines of state aid for mothers. A draft act has already been submitted to Premier Stewart under the title of "The Mothers' Allowances Act," which it is hoped may be introduced among the government measures to come before the house when it next meets. There is already a law of this kind in Manitoba, and the Saskatchewan legislature now has a similar bill under consideration. It is claimed that there is quite as great need in Alberta, and the Edmonton board of public welfare, under whose auspices the bill has been prepared, has for some time past been carrying on an investigation, the result of which is that the desirability of action similar to that in other provinces and in several of the American states is sufficiently evident to warrant asking the government to take it up.

The proposed act is intended to secure some degree of assistance from the state for mothers called upon to bear the full burden of rearing their children. It provides for the administration of this aid by duly constituted local boards of public welfare, or similar organizations, in any town or municipality and the class of mothers whom it is intended to assist is stated as "a widowed mother, who would otherwise be unable to properly care for the family; or a mother whose husband is in the asylum for the insane, or in prison, or is suffering from an incurable disease"; or say "grandmother, aunt, or other female relative considered by the board to be the proper person to take care of the child "

The draft act then reads that "there shall be paid to mothers out of the consolidated revenue funds of the province such allowances, subject to the right of disallowance, by the minister, as shall from time to time be settled upon by the board to enable the mothers to maintain their homes and to rear and educate their children in a proper home environment." The scale of allowances is to be set by the lieutenant-governor in council, and by the same authority the necessary rules and regulations for carrying out the act will be enforced. The minister may disallow any act of a local board, and penalties are provided for frauds. Its purpose and effect the Mothers' Allowances Act will be recognition of the public service the mothers of Alberta are rendering in the care and training of a rising generation.

Life is Scarcely Worth While When the Liver Goes Wrong

IT may be putting it too strongly to say that "everything depends on the liver." And yet this is not far astray when you consider what a host of human ills have their beginning in a sluggish, torpid condition of this filtering organ.

You arise in the morning with the tongue coated, a bitter taste in the mouth, and the head aching. You find that you have dizzy spells and are bilious, with looseness and constipation of the bowels alternating.

Your appetite becomes ... and what you do eat does not digest properly, and you suffer accordingly. Gases from the fermenting food crowd about the heart, and cause smothering feelings and blinding spells.

As the biliousness hangs on the complexion becomes sallow and muddy, and dark rings form around the eyes. The whole system is poisoned, the kidneys are overworked in an effort to cleanse the blood, and when they fail such ailments as rheumatism, dropsical swellings and Bright's disease have their beginning.

To prevent this chain of troubles it is necessary to keep the liver active by the use of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The phenomenal success of this medicine is due to the unique combined action which it exerts on the liver, kidneys and bowels.

The liver is aroused, the kidneys are invigorated, the bowels are regulated, and the whole filtering and excretory system is thoroughly cleansed. Pains and aches disappear with the poisons. Digestion improves, and you soon find yourself feeling fine. This letter from Rev. George Alton will interest you.

COPENHAGEN CHEWING TOBACCO

Copenhagen Chewing Tobacco is entirely different from the ordinary "plug" or "fine cut".

It is made of the best, old, rich, well flavored tobacco.

Being in small grains, it imparts its strength and flavor more freely and fully than tobacco in the usual form.

For this reason, Copenhagen is not chewed, but is placed in the mouth between the lower lip and the gum, and held there as it will not be necessary to bite into it. Only a few chews are needed. Copenhagen for the first time, should take care to use only a small pinch, otherwise "Copenhagen" will be thought to have too much tobacco strength.

"It's the most economical chew".

The People Must Unite to Win the War

A Laurier-Bourassa Victory means deserting our boys in the trenches for over a year, throwing up our hands and quitting! Don't shout "Kamcrad" under the Referendum proposal. Come out and fight for Union Government.

Make No Mistake

IF LAURIER WINS:

(1) Canada will send no more reinforcements to the front, which practically means quitting the war and placing the country in the same class as Russia.

(2) The French-Canadians who have shirked their duty in this war will be the dominating force in the Government of the country.

ARE THE ENGLISH-SPEAKING PEOPLE PREPARED TO STAND FOR THAT?

It is because the French-Canadians have not done their duty that Conscription had to be resorted to.

The French-Canadians have made it perfectly clear that they do not like the war and are against Canada participating in it further. Some of them even go to the length of saying that the soldiers should be brought back from the front.

The Nationalists are demanding that the men who have been enrolled under the Military Service Act be disbanded and sent back to their homes. To secure the Nationalist support Laurier-Liberal candidates in Quebec have signed the following pledge:—

"I, the undersigned, candidate in the Federal Elections, undertake by these presents, if I am elected, to demand the immediate suspension of the Military Service Act, 1917, and of all its effects until Canadian electors have pronounced by way of plebiscite; and should the majority of the electors condemn it, that it be considered as null from its origin and that in consequence all conscripts be disbanded."

"I also undertake to vote against any Government which should refuse to adopt the above enunciated policy."

Aborigines Claim That They Should at Least Have Equal Rights With Aliens

A correspondent of The Toronto Daily News maintains that the Indians of Canada should not be granted the franchise until they are able to converse intelligently in the English language and to read and write. Captain Alfred Delaney, of the Cheslatta Reserve, very properly objects.

The Indian is the aboriginal resident of Canada, and he is as much entitled to recognition as the alien who makes this country his home later, at the hands of the present Canadian Indians. He is entitled to at least the conditions as to his status as the Esquimaux or Hottentot, not to mention

MRS. KIESO SICK SEVEN MONTHS

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Aurora, Ill.—"I was sick seven months with a female trouble and was under the doctor's care all the time, but got no relief. I had a small lump which continued to grow until it was as large as my fist. I could hardly walk or sit down on account of it. I was entirely unfit to do my housework. I was going through the change of life and every physician I had said that an operation was necessary. I was afraid to undergo the ordeal, but finally decided to write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., for advice. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, in the treatment of female ills. Every ailing woman in Canada is cordially invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., from Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free, and a helping hand may be the means of restoring you to health and save your life.

Queen Calls Us "Infamous Pigs"

Among the messages exchanged between the royal palaces at Athens and Berlin, and which have fallen into the hands of the Greek government, was one in which King Constantine urged Emperor William to attack the allies on the Balkan front, pretending that Greek forces would attack General Sarrail's army in the rear.

In another message, Queen Sophia alluded to the allies as "infamous pigs."

BEST GRAIN IN THE PROVINCE SHOWN AT SEED FAIR

Had Many Exhibits This Year, But What Was Shown Was the Very Best Grade.

"If that wheat had been shown at the Provincial Seed Fair at Calgary it would have taken first prize," said the seed judges, Messrs. J. M. Clark and J. A. Weir, at the Tofield Seed Fair, held in Tofield, last Saturday. Although the number of exhibits were small compared with former fairs, the quality of grain was the best ever shown in the district. It was the reward of careful farming and painstaking efforts on the part of successful farmers who are out to get results from small grains. Tofield has always been in the forefront in scientific farming, and much of the high-class seed grain used throughout the northern part of the province is grown in this district.

Frank Ball winner of both prizes in wheat at last years fair, found himself flooded with orders for seed grain at 25c. per bushel higher than the elevator price. With the record that Tofield seed has made this year, the district will be the cynosure of all eyes and much of our grain will find its way to the barns of scientific farmers.

Jas. B. Anderson won first prize in Marquis wheat this year as Frank Ball winner at the last fair was contented with second, as he knew that it took some pretty nifty grain to beat his offering. E. Seale was awarded third. In Prelude wheat Wm. Thomson was awarded first, J. M. McGimitrie second. Long oats, John B. Anderson first, J. McGimitrie second, Louis Glenn third. Short oats, Frank Ball first. Barley, R. D Seale first. Potatoes, J. M. McGimitrie first White potatoes, T. W. Jacobs & Son first, Louis Glenn second, and Wm. Thomson third.

Debate.

The debate held by the Adult Bible class at the Methodist church last Friday was very successful and entertaining. After considerable deliberation, the judges announced that the affirmative had won by a narrow margin, and that hereafter women could do anything that a man could.

Miss. L. T. Martin favored the audience with a reading and the evening closed with the National Anthem.

Dance Postponed.

Owing to the fact that there is a benefit dance to be held in Ryley, New Years eve, and a dance at the C Hall farm, the management have decided to postpone the big mask ball until Friday January 11, 1918, when it will be held rain or shine. Everybody keep this date in mind.

Edmonton Will Stage Annual Convention of Agricultural Fairs

IN WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 27TH, TO ENCOURAGE SMALL FAIRS TO "CARRY ON".

Edmonton will have the annual convention of the Agricultural Fair Association February 27 and 28, the directors of the association held meeting Thursday in Calgary, and fixed place and date for their provincial meeting, which will be made representative of the entire province as possible. Arrangements will be discussed for the series of country fairs throughout the coming year, and reports of the 1917 events, it is understood, will indicate encouraging growth in the way of agricultural exhibitions all over Alberta.

Surprise Party.

While Mrs. J. Nelson was out visiting a neighbor last Thursday evening, a number of the good folks of Tofield gathered at her home to give her a delightful surprise and kitchen shower. As she entered her house she was greeted with serenade from vibrate Bellows, horns, and other noise making instruments. As the ladies had come well provided with "eats" a delicious lunch was served and an enjoyable evening spent.

Broom Ball

Those who remember the memorable event last sports day, when the "Shorts" met the "Longs" in mortal combat upon the baseball diamond will be interested to know that the same teams will engage in a game of broom ball as soon as the skating rink is ready for use. It is hoped to be able to stage the contest on New Year's day. Shorty Carter, of home run fame, claims that he can repeat last year's performance with his team of cripples. The proceeds of this event will be given to the Red Cross.

Classy Cattle.

Stuart Hall has added 3 more choice animals to his growing herd. He bought 3 Ayrshire milkers up in Edmonton and expects to have a bunch of cattle second to none in the province when he is through.

MASONS BANQUET T. P. NEWBIGGING

Mr. Newbigging Will Accept Position in the City After Five Years at Present Occupation.

On Wednesday, December 19, members of the masonic lodges gathered in the Royal Alexandra dining room for a banquet and to give the P.M., Thos. P. Newbigging, a royal send off. When the dinner was finished, several officers of the lodge were called on for speeches, and A. J. H. McCauley probably spoke the minds of those present when he told how Mr. Newbigging would be missed from the lodge and from the church work and social activities.

Mr. Newbigging has resigned his position as accountant at the Dobell coal mine, a position which he has held for the past five years, in order to accept a more lucrative position in Edmonton.

He is an organizer of considerable ability and in the recent Victory Bond campaign his work received prominence. He worked untiringly in the effort to put this district at the top of the heap in the amount of bonds sold.

In his work as leader of the St. Andrews choir and member of the board of church managers, he has organized and put on operas and home talent plays to raise money for the church fund and other needs.

He is an enthusiastic curler and plays the roaring game for all there is in it. He skipped a winning rink last season and took home the Ladies Trophy.

Mr. Newbigging expects to leave for his new work sometime in the New Year, and will carry with him the good wishes of every one who has come in contact with him a Tofield and district.

Victory Bonds.

Toronto, Dec. 13.—The latest returns in the Victory loan show a total of 782,716 subscribers, or one subscriber to every ten people in Canada. This establishes a new record with respect to the proportion of the population of a country subscribing to its war loans. The previous record was held in Great Britain, where one person in every 23 subscribed in the last war loan. In the Liberty loan campaign in the United States bonds were sold to one person out of every 37 of the population.

In many cities, towns and districts in Canada, the proportion of the population buying Victory bonds was even higher than 10. In a number of cases it was as high as one in four.

Legislature Will Open Early in February and With Plenty to Do

PARTIES WHO HAVE PRIVATE BILLS TO INTRODUCE WILL FIND TIME TO GET THEM [illegible]

The Alberta legislature probably in the first week in February. Premier Stewart is that it was now practically certain that it would not be called for January, as the government itself would not be ready in time. The program of government legislation has still to be made up, and the premier and his ministers are now preparing to give their attention to the list of bills to be submitted to the house. Mr. Stewart said that in view of the work likely to be involved in this preparation it would not be possible to open the session before February, and private parties who wished to introduce bills could not conveniently open another session before the opening date. As yet there is no indication, the premier said, of the volume or nature of the business likely to come before the house from outside source Campaign Over.

The campaign's done; those statesmen who for whom we have been roasting; the vanquished sail the Salt Creek trail, and raise their doleful hooting. Now let us turn to work and save some good old honest guilders; work on with zest—that fortune's best of which we are the builders. If we should wait till statesmen stare our path to wealth and glory, we'll be obscure and insanely poor when we are hoot and hoary. If you depend, misguided friend, on government to aid you, you'll weep some more at how fortune that sort of graft has made you. If you put faith in such a wraith as campaign woes and thunder, you'll be a joke and you'll go broke, while others sail the plunder. The envy skates hear candidates and think it's truth they're speaking, but all they say is just the play of tireless windmills creaking. We have to strive to keep alive, and have our daily dinner, and clothe the kids and buy them lids, whatever statesman's winner —Walt Mason.

TAKE NOTICE—That the local elevator will be closed during the Christmas week and will open again for business on Monday, December 31st. The manager, Geo. Lamb will take a short Xmas holiday and wants everyone to remember that the elevator will be closed.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1917

If the old year has brought sorrow and desolation, and hung crape on every door, the new year will bring us the leaves of healing, and we are glad to part with the one and welcome the other. We greet the new year with ardent hopes that it might bring peace to warring nations, and return to us, our fathers and sons, who are fighting to uphold honor.

The new year will be what we make it, so far as our individual lives are concerned. We can wish no better thing for all our readers than that they begin the new year animated by a firm resolve to turn all its experience into profit for themselves, mentally, morally, socially and materially, and then to faithfully carry out the resolution.

Final Appeal Judge Gives Ruling on Exemption of Farmers

Mr. Justice Duff (the Final Court of Appeal) Declares it is Essential that there shall be No Diminution in Agricultural Production.

(Published by authority of Director of Public Information, Ottawa.)

Hon. Mr. Justice Duff gave judgment on December 6th, in the first test case brought before him, as Central Appeal Judge (the final court of appeal), for the exemption of a farmer. The appeal was made by W. H. Rowntree in respect of his son, W. J. Rowntree, from the decision of Local Tribunal, Ontario, No. 421, which refused a claim for exemption. The son was stated to be an experienced farm hand, who had been working on the farm continuously for the past seven years, and ever since leaving school. He lives and works with his father, who owns a farm of 150 acres near Weston, Ontario. With the exception of a younger brother, he is the only male help of the father on the farm. The father is a man of advanced years.

In granting the man exemption "until he ceases to be employed in agricultural labor," Mr. Justice Duff said:

"The Military Service Act does not deal with the subject of the exemption of persons engaged in the agricultural industry; and the question which it is my duty to decide is whether the applicant being and having been, as above mentioned, habitually and effectively engaged in agriculture and in labor essential to the carrying on of agricultural production, ought to be exempted under the provisions of the Military Service Act.

"These two propositions are indisputable:

"(1) In order that the military power of the allies may be adequately sustained, it is essential that in this country and under the present conditions, there should be no diminution in agricultural production.

"(2) The supply of competent labor available for the purpose of agricultural production is not abundant, but actually is deficient.

"The proper conclusion appears to be that the applicant, a competent person, who had been habitually and effectively engaged in labor essential to such production, ought not to be withdrawn from it.

"It is perhaps unnecessary to say that such exemptions are not granted as concessions on account of personal hardship, still less as a favor to a class. The sole ground of them is that the national interest is the better served by keeping these men at home. The supreme necessity (upon the existence of which, as its preamble shows, this policy of the Military Service Act is founded) that leads the State to take men by compulsion and put them in the fighting line requires that men shall be kept at home who are engaged in work essential to enable the State to maintain the full efficiency of the combatant forces, and whose places cannot be taken by others not within the class called out."

The Ford is Now Considered a Necessity for Large-Scale Farming

WHETHER you are doing work on a large scale, or a small scale, you endeavor to reduce the delays of your farm machinery to a minimum and save time. A Ford will assist you in doing these two things.

If your tractor runs short of gasoline, the Ford will bring a few cans right to the spot and greatly shorten the delay. Or if you need a repair, or some new plow points, you can "run" the errand to town and back in one-third the time it would take with a horse and rig.

With a Ford you can supervise the work on your ranch much more thoroughly. You can get your mail and supplies oftener, and take more enjoyment out of prairie life. A Ford will do all these things and many more, and at the same time save you money.

The strength and endurance of the Ford has been proved the world over. It is equal to the western roads and the distances.

The Ford is the car for the Western Farmer.

Luther Burbank of California declared that he is constantly in the statement coming attributed to him this year, is absolutely personal health.

"I am in the habit of using the effort to get certain foods that I introduced into the dietary of the United States, so that we may have the best cereal food, cereal wheat and rice, and people will not be content to continue to use the more highly refined products, as it supplies all of the substances necessary to keep the body in condition and will take the place of a number of drugs that are used for the health of those who are ill. Substitute for Linseed

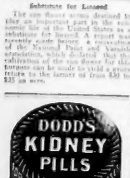
The use thereof seems destined to offer an important substitute for linseed for the United States as a result of the shortage in the linseed crop, which is the smallest in many years. During the operations every effort was made to conserve the linseed oil, and the result is that the production of the present year will be about 50,000,000 pounds, enough to yield a return to the farmer of more than $35,000,000.



The Tragedy of the Sea

War Has Brought Greatest Tragedy of Maritime History

We have fed the sea for a "thousand years," but never as we are forced to feed it today. It has become in the past thirty-eight months a place of quiet sepulture for tens of thousands of our fellow countrymen, their graves somewhere except for the knowledge of sea. Where is the entrance of the sea which lured our sailors to the adventure of honor and the sacrifice of manhood and youth? The great adventure of the great tragedy of maritime history. Romance has been swelled with the blood of heroes and crowded with glory, terror, fear, heroism and sacrifice. The world literature ought to fade in the ocean as has the sea. Its ships, its sailors, its many weapons of war, its associations and its romantic traditions. The world literature is constructed by men who have gone down to the sea in ships and to do business on great waters, and take pride in the fact that they have seen the works of the Lord and His wonders in the deep. Never has there been a time in the history of the Dominion when the sea has been so much in the minds of Canadians as it is today. Never has there been a time when the sea has been so much in the minds of Canadians as it is today. Never has there been a time when the sea has been so much in the minds of Canadians as it is today.

PAIN? NOT A BIT!
LIFT YOUR CORNS
OR CALLUSES OFF

No Bunkup! Apply few drops then just lift them away with fingers.

This new drug is an ether compound, discovered by a Cincinnati chemist. It is called freezone, and a few drops applied directly to any tender, aching corn instantly stops the pain, then the corn shrivels up and dries out, so it lifts off with the fingers. Not a trace of pain or soreness, either. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding tissue. Freezone is sticky and dries instantly. It is almost magical. A tiny bottle will cost but a few cents at any drug store, but will positively rid your feet of every hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, and the calluses on bottom of feet. It never burns, smarts or even irritates, but simply shrivels the corn up without pain or soreness. If your druggist hasn't freezone yet, tell him to get a little bottle for you from his wholesale house.—Jadon.

Final Appeal Judge Gives Ruling on Exemption of Farmers

Mr. Justice Duff (the Final Court of Appeal) Declares it is Essential that there shall be No Diminution in Agricultural Production.

(Issued by authority of Director of Public Information, Ottawa.)

Hon. Mr. Justice Duff gave judgment on December . in the first test case brought before him, as Central eal Judge (the final court of appeal), for the exemp n of a farmer. The appeal was made by W. H. Rown ree in respect of his son, W. J. Rowntree, from the decision of Local Tribunal, Ontario, No. 421, which refused a claim for exemption. The son was stated to be an experienced farm hand, who had been working on the farm continuously for the past seven years, and ever since leaving school. He lives and works with his father, who owns a farm of 150 acres near Weston, Ontario. With the exception of a younger brother, he is the only male help of the father on the farm. The father is a man of advanced years.

In granting the man exemption "until he ceases to be employed in agricultural labor," Mr. Justice Duff said:

"The Military Service Act does not deal with the subject of the exemption of persons engaged in the agricultural industry; and the question which it is my duty to decide is whether the applicant being and having been, as above mentioned, habitually and effectively engaged in agriculture and in labor essential to the carrying on of agricultural production, ought to be exempted under the provisions of the Military Service Act.

"These two propositions are indisputable:

"(1) In order that the military power of the allies may be adequately sustained, it is essential that in this country and under the present conditions, there should be no diminution in agricultural production.

"(2) The supply of competent labor available for the purpose of agricultural production is not abundant, but actually is deficient.

"The proper conclusion appears to be that the applicant, a competent person, who had been habitually and effectively engaged in labor essential to such production, ought not to be withdrawn from it.

"It is perhaps unnecessary to say that such exemptions are not granted as concessions on account of personal hardship, still less as a favor to a class. The sole ground of them is that the national interest is the better served by keeping these men at home. The supreme necessity (upon the existence of which, as its preamble shows, this policy of the Military Service Act is founded) that leads the State to take men by compulsion and put them in the fighting line requires that men shall be kept at home who are engaged in work essential to enable the State to maintain the full efficiency of the combatant forces, and whose places cannot be taken by others not within the class called out."
